CLINICAL SOCIETY OF LONDON.

THE meetings of this valuable new Society will be held at 53, Berners Street, by the kind permission of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, until further notice. The first meeting for business will take place on Friday, January 10th, at 8.30 P.M., when the President (Sir Thomas Watson) will deliver an introductory address. The first ballot will then take place for the gentlemen who were nominated as members at the adjourned provisional meeting on December 9th. The Society already numbers over 100, we believe. It is intimated that the Council are of opinion that, as a rule, no communication should be of such a length as to require more than ten minutes for its delivery. In narrating any case, the author is at liberty to abbreviate it by the omission of such details as do not appear to him indispensable for its elucidation. All reports of cases are to be sent in writing to the Secretaries, Dr. Sander-son and Mr. Callender.

ASSOCIATION INTELLIGENCE.

BIRMINGHAM AND MIDLAND COUNTIES BRANCH.

THE next meeting of the above Branch will be held at the Midland Institute, Birmingham, on Thursday, January 9th, 1868, at 3 P.M.

T. H. BARTLETT, Hon. Secretary.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

DUBLIN.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

The College of Surgeons' Fellowship—Dispensary Election—Medical Trials—Prevention of Contagious Diseases.

DURING the last month four gentlemen passed the fellowship examination of the Royal College of Surgeons, namely, Drs. Oliver and M'Sheehy, army assistant-surgeons; Mr. Dillon, naval assistant-surgeon; and Mr. Kilgariff. From the 1st of January the fee for licentiates who reside out of Dublin is to be raised from 10 to 20 guineas. The examination embraces surgical anatomy, physiology and zoology, which are treated by the demonstrative test, operations on the dead body, and written papers on surgery and medicine.

The election to the South London Dispensary, which was postponed owing to an equality of votes, took place on the 17th. Mr. Purcell was chosen by a majority of one over Mr. Meldon. The gentleman who gave the deciding vote was appointed since the first election; and, as it was asserted that elections should only take place at the yearly meeting, and that the gentleman was added without a vacancy, legal proceedings were threatened.

An action, interesting as regards the working of the Sanitary Acts, was tried in the Court of Exchequer. A butcher claimed £500 damages from the Lord Mayor and a police constable for having seized meat which, on examination by the medical officer of health, was proved to be sound. The jury gave one farthing damages, and the Chief Baron declined to give costs, and expressed his opinion that the action should never have been brought, as there was enough to justify the constable in making the seizure. As there seems to be some imperfection in the Act, the Corporation seek an amendment in the Bill now before Parliament, to enable them to erect abattoirs and make other sanitary improvements. The right of appointment of physicians to the city prisons is still the subject of litigation between the corporation and grand jury of the City of Dublin.

Mr. Labatt, member of Council, College of Surgeons, has accepted the secretaryship for Ireland of the Association for extending the Contagious Diseases Act; and an influential committee has been organised, to act in concert with the London Committee, of which Mr. Berkeley Hill is one of the Secretaries, and on behalf of which he is prosecuting the important inquiries of which he last week published the first instalment in our JOURNAL.

LONDON.

THE SALARIES OF POOR-LAW MEDICAL OFFICERS.

The Council of that useful organisation, the Metropolitan Poor-law Medical Officers' Association, have, in a formal communication, called the attention of Poor-law Board to the fact that the existing salaries are not merely inadequate in amount, but that they are also most unequal, having been fixed by the various boards of guardians, without reference to any uniform principle. So long as the salaries were paid out of the local rates, this was, perhaps, to some extent unavoidable; but the Council respectfully submit that so unsatisfactory an arrangement should not be allowed to continue now, when all the salaries are paid out of the Common Poor Fund levied uniformly over the entire metropolis. They earnestly request, therefore, that the Board will be pleased to give effect to the wishes of the Association, as expressed in a resolution passed at the last quarterly meeting, by regulating the amount of the salaries of the medical officers, by virtue of the powers conferred by section 46 of the 4th and 5th William IV, cap. 76. Mr. Sclater Booth, Secretary of the Board, has replied "that the subject will receive the consideration of the Board."

The inequalities and the insufficiency of the salaries of the medical officers of the provinces are at least as striking as those of our brethren in the metropolis, and the whole matter calls urgently for re-adjustment. The subject is one which may with advantage be formally brought forward at Branch meetings by those specially cognisant of the facts, and thoroughly ventilated in the JOURNAL, with a view to its being discussed, on notice of motion, at the General Meeting of the Association, and taken up in the same way that the British Medical Association so effectually took into consideration the grievances of the army medical officers, and procured the intervention of the medical corporations with the Government, and subsequently the appointment of a Government Committee on the Pay and Remuneration of Army and Navy Medical Officers, which led to the most important improvements and the redressal of their main grievances.

THE WORKHOUSE INFIRMARIES' ASSOCIATION.

A special meeting of the Association for the Improvement of Workhouse Infirmarys was held recently at the residence of Mr. Ernest Hart, Wimpole Street. Mr. A. C. Barclay, M.P., occupied the chair, and there were several members of Parliament and other gentlemen present. It was reported that, in addition to the noblemen and gentlemen, members of the two Houses of Parliament, already inscribed, who had promised to assist the Association, several others had made similar promises. Amongst these are, Mr. W. H. Gladstone, M.P., and Mr. T. Hughes, M.P. The following resolution was proposed by Mr. Hart, seconded by Dr. Carr, and unanimously agreed to: "That this Association learns with great satisfaction that the President of the Poor-law Board is directing his attention to the legislative remedy of the present defective administration of medical relief to the sick poor in country workhouses; that it believes no measure will be efficient which does not recognise the admitted change in the character of the inmates of those houses, whereby they have become mainly receptacles for the infirm and sick; and that it recommends the reconstruction of the executive of the Poor-law Board in such a manner as to provide uniformly skilled and technical inspection of the workhouse infirmaries throughout the country, and the submission of their consequent reports to a medical department of the Poor-law Board." It was moved by Mr. F. Powell, M.P., seconded by Mr. Davenport Bromley, M.P., and carried: "That a copy of this resolution be brought to the notice of the Poor-law Board by the Chairman." It was reported to the meeting that in some places the workhouse doors were being closed against lady visitors and medical reporters; and it was resolved to bring this question before the notice of the Government. The proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.—Times.

B. (Launceston).—The fee allowed to a district medical officer for the treatment of compound fractures of the thigh is £5; but that sum, according to the regulations, "includes the payment for the supply of all kinds of apparatus and splints." At village hospitals, pauper patients should never be admitted except on the understanding that the proper fee shall be paid.

D. S. L.—Dr. Dudfield or Dr. Rogers.

L. S. (Stockton).—The Poor-Law Board are bound by Act of Parliament to require that the medical officers holding appointments in this public service shall be duly registered. This is equally the case with all public services. In the case of the newly elected medical officer of Yarm, it will of course be necessary for him to put himself on the register; and the objection to his election, which is technical but not vexatious, will be removed.

OBITUARY.

T. PRIDGIN TEALE, F.R.C.S., F.R.S., LEEDS.

It is not without a feeling of acute pain, which we feel sure will be widely shared, that we perform the duty of chronicling the death of Mr. T. Pridgin Teale, F.R.S., of Leeds. Mr. Teale has long held a foremost place amongst the representatives of surgery in the provinces. He was a worthy representative of one of those great surgical families which have made Leeds, like Norwich, famous in the annals of British surgery. He was more than an accomplished surgeon; and was distinguished above other men by a combination of great ability and acuteness, with high and generous impulses, an almost feminine sweetness of disposition, and uncommon breadth of view. When Trinity College, Dublin, selected Mr. Teale as a recipient for its highest honours, at the late meeting of our Association, every one felt that the choice was well made; and all who met him there, or who have ever known him, must deplore his death as a personal no less than a public loss. Next week we must attempt a fuller biographical notice of this departed worthy.

NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

All Letters and Communications for the JOURNAL, to be addressed to the EDITOR, 37, Great Queen Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C.

CORRESPONDENTS not answered are requested to look to the Notices to Correspondents of the following week.

Communications as to the transmission of the JOURNAL should be sent to Mr. RICHARDS, 37, Great Queen Street, W.C.

TO PURCHASERS.—To insure attention, it is requested that all orders sent to the Office for extra copies of the JOURNAL, be accompanied with stamps for the amount.

CORRESPONDENTS, who wish notice to be taken of their communications, should authenticate them with their names—of course, not necessarily for publication.

WE shall commence with the least possible delay the publication of four fully illustrated Lectures on the Endoscope, by Dr. Cruise of Dublin; Surgical Notes in America, by Mr. Spencer Wells; Clinical Lectures, by Dr. Handfield Jones, Dr. Wilson Fox, Dr. Fleming of Birmingham, Dr. Newman of Stamford, Dr. Taylor of New York, and Dr. Hardie of Dublin; with other papers which are in type.

THE SOLICITOR'S JOURNAL has a very able and interesting article on Dr. MacSwiney's recent paper in the BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL.

DR. HOIMAN (Reigate) is thanked for his letter. We had already taken measures in accordance with his suggestion. The names in the notice regarding new members are those of gentlemen already members of the Association, who have forwarded the names of candidates.

FREE ADMISSION TO HOSPITALS.—Dr. Heslop's second and final letter on "Free Admission to Hospitals", in reply to Dr. Anderson, is unavoidably delayed, owing to the receipt of important communications bearing upon the subject, which have been forwarded to Dr. Heslop by members of the Association. It has been suggested by Mr. Napper of Cranley that this important correspondence should be reprinted in a separate form, when complete.

WE are indebted to correspondents for the following periodicals, containing news reports and other matters of medical interest:—The Belfast News-Letter, December 24th, 1867; The Brighton Gazette, December 26th, 1867; The Birmingham Daily Post, December 23rd, 1867; The Manchester Guardian, December 26th, 1867; The Bristol Daily Post, December 26th, 1867; The Alloa Journal and Clackmannanshire Advertiser, December 28th, 1867.

NOTICES of Births, Marriages, Deaths, and Appointments, intended for insertion in the JOURNAL, should arrive at the Office not later than 10 A.M. on Thursday.

TESTIMONIAL TO THE REV. DR. JELF.—It has been suggested that a Testimonial should be presented to Dr. Jelf, by the past and present students of King's College, London, on the occasion of his retiring from the post of Principal, which he has so ably filled for nearly a quarter of a century. Students who are willing to join a Committee to carry out this object are requested to write to Henry Worms, Esq., Hon. Fellow of King's College, London, No. 15, St. George's Place, Hyde Park Corner, S.W.

NEW MEMBERS.

NAMES of candidates for membership have been forwarded by Mr. G. COWELL, London (two); Dr. E. LANKESTER, London; Dr. DOBELL, London; DR. ALFRED WILTSHIRE, London (four); Dr. G. C. DALE, London (two); Mr. ROYSTON, Whitwell; Dr. NEWMAN, Stamford; Dr. BRIGHT, Sydenham; Dr. SAMELSON, Manchester; Mr. HUBBARD; Dr. MURCHISON, London; Dr. H. B. DEW, Bristol; Mr. J. WALSH, Manchester; Dr. JOHN MURRAY, London (two). The names of the new members sent shall be forwarded for election, and the JOURNALS will be furnished from the present date. We may take this opportunity of reminding our readers that this is the best time for introducing new members, as the subscription dates from the commencement of the year. As this JOURNAL now confessedly occupies the front rank amongst medical periodicals, and is admittedly at least equal in scientific and literary value and interest with any of its weekly contemporaries, there seems every reason to believe that a large accession of members may be expected by making extensively known at this season the fact that the annual subscription—including the professional advantages of membership of the Association and possession of the JOURNAL free by post—is only one guinea annually; that is, one-third less than the subscription to the other journals of like repute. At the stage of prosperity which has now been reached, any further considerable accession of members will not only bring the JOURNAL far into the van of medical periodical literature, and so give to it an unquestionable preeminence in circulation and influence, such as the organ of our greatest professional Association ought to possess, but it will place in the hands of the Association that which has always been an object of desire—surplus funds; which may be used for the advancement of medical science and the protection of professional interests throughout the country. We hope that we may be permitted to appeal to our members individually to aid us in this matter, and to remind them that each one who proposes a new member, renders a service to the Association; while, by widening the bonds of union and strengthening an organisation which aims at the elevation of the whole body medical and the support of its best scientific and social interests, he is doing well for the profession at large.

THERE is this week great pressure on our space, and we are unavoidably compelled to postpone the publication of many articles and letters of which insertion was promised. We claim the indulgence of our correspondents.

RECTIFICATIONS OF FACT.

THE Lancet recently allowed one of its writers to attack the Council of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, and to vent silly threats against it, on the ground that it had refused to confer certain privileges on the army and navy medical officers. We stated, on the following week, that the attack was utterly groundless, and as malicious as it was without foundation. It now finds this to be true, and, digesting its humiliation, grumblingly asks how we knew it. Simply by asking for the facts, which were, of course, known to all the Council. We recommend our contemporary in future to follow the example.—The same journal repeated last week its assurance that Mr. Hardy has undertaken to amend the Medical Bill. This statement is entirely without foundation. As we last week stated, Mr. Hardy has declined even to receive a deputation, or to entertain the subject, on the plea of press of business.
