

"oblivon" capsules to a person not known as a fit and proper person, its sale without a proper entry in a register and without the customer's signature, and its sale in a container not properly labelled with the name and address of the seller. The firm was fined £15 and ordered to pay three guineas costs. The sale was conceded by the prosecution to be "obviously accidental," and the defence said that during the holidays a girl assistant had not been informed of the regulations.
