Exports of Medicine

Pharmaceutical companies in Britain exported a record figure of £180.8m. worth of medicines and vaccines in 1972—an increase of £12m. over the previous year and more than twice the amount in 1967. Japan and countries of the E.E.C. were the principal customers. Imports have also increased, trebling in the last five years.

Lord Rosenheim Memorial Fund

In response to many inquiries, University College Hospital Medical School has decided to establish a memorial fund built round Lord Rosenheim's own considerable legacy to the school. This fund is to be used partly for research but mainly for travelling fellowships, particularly for postgraduate study exchanges with developing countries—a subject in which Lord Rosenheim had a very great interest. Contributions to the fund should be addressed to the Secretary, University College Hospital Medical School, University Street, London WC1E 6JJ, and marked "Travelling Fellowship Fund."

Catholic Centre for Medical Ethics

The Catholic Hospitals' Review Committee recommended the creation of a Catholic centre for medical ethics. McKinsey and Co., management consultants, are to look into the objectives, functions, and organization of such a centre, and a liaison committee headed by Bishop Mahon (an auxiliary Bishop of Westminster) has been formed to work with them.
