A SURGEON-MAJOR, likely to proceed to India early in the trooping season, wishes to exchange with an officer recently home.—Address No. 2203, BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL Office, 429, Strand, W.C.

SIR WALTER FOSTER AND THE ARMY MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

LEX writes: In the BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL of July 25th your correspondent "Fiat Justitia" draws attention to the services rendered to army medical officers by Sir Walter Foster, M.P., in relation to the case of Surgeon-Captain Fowler, but it does not appear to be generally known that it is to the untiring exertions of this true friend of the Service that medical officers no longer suffer the gross injustice of being passed over for promotion and their future prospects ruined merely because in the execution of their military duties in tropical countries they contracted disease which as non-combatants the regulations compelled them to recover from in half the time allowed to combatants, and which regulations laid down that if they did not recover in that half time they were to be sentenced to loss of seniority, loss of promotion, and consequent loss of all increased pay and allowances till they recovered, with entire loss of the enforced half-pay service to which the combatant officer was entitled on retirement. A glance at Article 328 of the Pay Warrant, 1895, will also show that this time on half pay shall reckon for promotion in the case of all departmental officers, so that not only medical but all departmental officers are indebted to Sir Walter Foster for the removal of a great injustice from which the combatant officer was emancipated very many years ago. Sir Walter was a member of the Government, and used his influence with the then War Minister to remove these unjust distinctions between combatants and so-called non-combatants. His success was complete; and though I public vaccinators are, as a body of men, capable and painstaking officials. It would be well if vaccination in our country were all of the grade performed at our public stations. We must certainly adhere to our previously expressed conviction that the health bodies of the country are those to whom the Vaccination Acts should be entrusted, just as all other laws bearing on public health are entrusted to them.

THE RESULTS OF LONG DELAY.

THE present experience of the Sedgley district in the matter of enteric fever prevalence once more brings into prominence the long-debated question of a water supply for that area. There have quite recently been a score of fever cases, with several deaths, the most of the attacks being traced to the use of water from the Summer Lane well, Lower Gornal. An examination of the immediate vicinity of the well has disclosed a mass of filth, and within 15 feet the contents of a night-soil tank have been deposited, as well as other decomposing matter. Nearly a quarter of a century back the attention of the sanitary authority was drawn to the unsafe condition of the wells by a Government medical inspector, none other than Dr. Thorne Thorne; and later still his colleague, Dr. Ballard, had something to say on the subject. Still later another officer of the medical department at Whitehall had some hard things to say of the state of the water supply at the time of the cholera sanitary survey. At that period there were some 1,700 houses in the district still without any supply of water other than from wells, and the gross pollutions to which the subsoil of the district has been subjected during many years is such as to make any wells sources of great suspicion for domestic water supplies. Nor has the advice tendered to the health body been all of an extraneous nature, for their own health adviser has time and again laid before them the seriousness of the question of the well water supply. Meanwhile enteric fever has been endemic, and has for many months in succession in some years persisted in the locality. The only satisfaction is that matters seem tending now at last to betterment, and with some stringent endeavour on the part of the County Council and push on the part of the water company having powers in the neighbourhood, happier times may yet be in store for the inhabitants, who have suffered all the miseries of delay in relation to a matter of vital importance, and one aiming at the health and life of the community.

TEMPORARY HOSPITALS.

As a specimen of the light-hearted manner in which public bodies are criticised by ignorant writers, the following is of interest, for it undoubtedly expresses the vague sort of idea which is as near as many people ever get to an opinion on the subject.

The question what to do now that the fever hospitals are full seems to this writer a matter of the utmost simplicity. What, says he, is needed to erect a temporary hospital? A few carpenters, a few matchboards, a little canvas, and a few wire bedsteads, which are cheap enough, and the whole thing could be done in a few hours. People who talk and think in this strain should seek for concrete examples and look at places where temporary hospitals have actually been set up.

The Tottenham Fever Hospital is a wooden affair, with all the drawbacks of constant liability to fire, put up in a hurry as fast as it possibly could be done, yet it took six weeks of steady work to build it, costing £95,000, and after all it only accommodates 416 patients.

When people cry out for temporary hospitals they do not always understand what they are asking for. It is not "a few" carpenters and "a few" beds that are wanted. Last year 15,000 cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria were treated in their own homes, practically half of the whole numbers, and to provide hospital accommodation for all these patients would be a colossal affair.

INDIA AND THE COLONIES.

FIJI.

BERI-BERI.—In an interesting paper presented to the Legislative Council of Fiji on February 7th of this year, Drs. Corney, Hirsch, and Joynt give an account of an epidemic of beri-beri which broke out amongst certain Japanese labourers on the sugar plantations. These labourers—255 males ranging from 18 to 30 years of age—were shipped in Japan in good health. After a voyage of twenty-one days they landed in Fiji on April 27th, 1894. Fifty of them were immediately sent to the Rewa district, and the remaining 205 to the Labasa district, low-lying, damp, hot, localities. Both gangs were attacked with beri-beri, a disease hitherto, apparently, unknown in Fiji. The first case was recognised on May 30th, and between that date and February 4th, 1895, when the survivors—181 in number—were sent back to Japan, altogether 226 were attacked by and 65 died of beri-beri, the other 9 not accounted for having succumbed, apparently, to some other affection. The disease did not spread, either at the time or subsequently, to the natives or to the Indian labourers with whom the Japanese associated.

CEYLON.

GRIEVANCES IN THE COLONIAL MEDICAL SERVICE.—"Gagging Minute" writes to us from Ceylon, complaining bitterly of hardships that press heavily on the Government Medical Service. He says: "There is great dissatisfaction among the medical faculty in Ceylon (1) owing to the very paltry salaries, (2) the hardship in the matter of obtaining leave." It would appear there are two grades of medical officers which suffer most severely—namely, the Deputy British Colonial Surgeons, who are paid £710s. a month, and the Sub-Deputy British Colonial Surgeons, who receive no more than £410s. a month. Lately some little extra payment has been allowed to the former as a travelling allowance. There seem also to be great hardships with regard to getting necessary leave of absence on account of health. It is greatly to be deplored that there is no provision made for allowing leave in suitable cases to prevent the breakdown of a medical officer; and it is unreasonable in the extreme to expect the latter to be able to pay a substitute, considering the inadequate scale of his remuneration. The complaints deserve the serious consideration of the authorities.

MEDICAL NEWS.

THE Committee of St. Thomas's Hospital have received four sums of £1,000 each for the purpose of naming beds at the hospital in perpetuity, namely: From an Anonymous Friend, in memory of Sir Bartle Frere; from Mr. George Richmond, in memory of James Richmond; from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gassiat; and from the executrix of the late Mr. W. H. M'Alpine, of Brighton.

NOTTINGHAM MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this Society was held on Wednesday, July 22nd; Dr. F. R. Mutch, President, in the chair. Cattle for the indefatigable manner in which he has carried out the duties of the post of Secretary for a period of six years." It was further agreed that a subscription list should be opened for the purpose of presenting Dr. C. H. Cattle with a suitable testimonial on the occasion of his resignation of the post of Secretary.
