TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Communications have been received from Mr. Leach; Æsculapius; Dr. Butler Lane; Diogenes; Dr. Buller; Dr. Ballard.

We have received a communication from Mr. Skevington of Ashbourne, Derbyshire, with a notice of an inquest on Henry Vernon, of Brailsford, in the same county, who died from injuries received in a public-house brawl. It appears that Mr. Skevington, who did not see the deceased during life, attended the inquest and was subsequently refused a fee by the Coroner. He was neither examined nor summoned in the official manner, although informed by the father that he would be wanted. Under these circumstances we cannot see that there is any blame attached to any party, for although Mr. Skevington may naturally enough feel annoyed at his loss of time, still the error arose from his attending to the request of the father of the deceased, without waiting for an order from the coroner himself. We believe it is almost universally the custom for the coroner to select the medical opinion, when, as in the case before us, there had been no medical attendance during life.

In consequence of the lamented death of Dr. Streeten, it is requested that all letters and communications be sent to J. H. Walsh, Esq., Foregate Street, Worcester. Parcels and books for review may be addressed to the care of Mr. Churchill, Princes Street, Soho.
