NEPENTHE.

The Safest and Best Preparation of Opium.

PRODUCES NEITHER HEADACHE, SICKNESS, NOR CONSTIPATION.

PREPARED EXCLUSIVELY FROM OPIUM.

THE BEST
FIFTY YEARS AGO.

"7, GROSVENOR STREET,
"GROVESNOR SQUARE,
"October, 1847.

"Sir,—

"Having for the last eight or nine years prescribed your 'Anodyne Tincture' in all cases requiring such a remedy, I am induced to speak of its effects both as a Sedative and an Anodyne in the highest terms. The sleep produced by it is more refreshing and more allied to natural sleep than that arising from the use of any other narcotic with which I am acquainted.

"One of its greatest advantages, however, is that it does not act as an astringent according to my experience, nor does it produce any of the unpleasant effects which usually accompany the use of this class of medicine.

"I remain, Sir,
"Your obedient servant,
"S. M.—, M.R.C.S."

[CERTIFICATE.]

"Nepenthe, or Anodyne Tincture.

"I have had many opportunities of witnessing the very excellent effects of 'Anodyne Tincture' in the numerous affections where an opiate is deemed advisable. It gives no headache, does not interfere with the proper action of the bowels, it rather promotes than diminishes appetite, and gives tranquilising and refreshing sleep in many very painful nervous affections.

"With such strong recommendations I consider it an invaluable preparation of opium.

THE BEST TO-DAY.

"17th June, 1895

"DEAR SIRS,—

"I have used your preparation 'Nepenthe' for a number of years in cases of insomnia connected with insanity, and have always found it above all other anodynes the 'King of Narcotics.' I don't think I should be doing you justice if I did not report to you on its marvellous efficacy. I have found it always produce hours of peaceful sleep, and to be unattended by any bad results. Patients suffering from melancholia with accompanying insomnia under my care have taken it every night for years without one bad symptom. I never find thirst, dryness of the tongue, or constipation result from its use, and I view it as the most valuable remedy we possess for allaying brain irritation, and producing peaceful and healthy sleep. I have thoroughly tested all the various remedies usually given for the relief of some of the troublesome phases of mental disease, and can safely say that none are so good or reliable as 'Nepenthe.' It has all the good properties of opium without any of its drawbacks.

"I am, dear Sirs,

"Yours truly,
