

Advice Bureau,
Aston Cross.

My dear Sir,

Delivery.

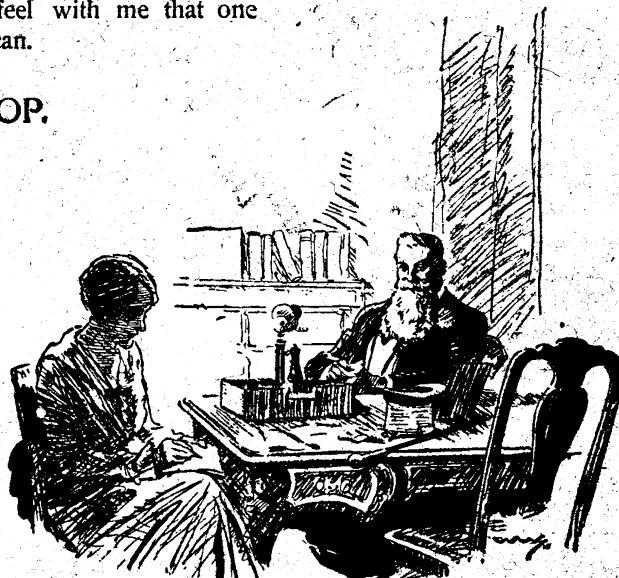

Don't you believe it; there is no shortage of Dunlop tyres; although we were rather pressed some time ago, but that is all over now. If your local agent says he has not got a Dunlop and cannot get one it is more than likely some other firm has pushed a few sets of tyres on to him. I should insist, if I were you, upon having a Dunlop; it will undoubtedly pay you, and I am sure you feel with me that one ought to support British firms just now if one can.

Yours truly,

DUNLOP.
