

Important New Books

Introduction to Gastro-enterology

Being the third edition of MECHANICS OF THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

by WALTER C. ALVAREZ, M.D. (Mayo Clinic)

★ The author has completely rewritten and considerably broadened the scope of his MECHANICS OF THE DIGESTIVE TRACT for the third edition. Now thoroughly up to date, with seven new chapters and many new illustrations, the book presents the modern physiologic approach to gastro-enterology, as seen by one of the world's most distinguished clinicians. He provides a complete guide to sound diagnosis and treatment in this field, based on the phenomena met with in every-day practice. Convenient summaries of each chapter are given, and a most extensive bibliography and index.

800 pages, 186 illustrations. 42s.

Nervous Indigestion

by the same author is now available in a new seventh impression, and can be recommended to every practitioner for general reading as well as for expert advice in treatment. 15s.

Acute Infectious Diseases

by J. D. ROLLESTON, M.A., M.D., F.R.C.P., F.S.A., and
G. W. RONALDSON, M.D., D.P.H.

★ For the third edition, this standard work has been entirely re-set and the presentation modernised. The text has been completely revised and two new chapters added, with the collaboration of Dr. G. W. Ronaldson. One of these deals with isolation methods, and includes specimen plans of ward construction in various hospitals, with descriptions of their purpose and mode of operation. The very high reputation of this text will now be enhanced, and its practical value for physicians in private practice, hospital appointments or the Services will be greatly extended.

Prospectus available. 480 pages. 17s. 6d.

Clinical Electrocardiography

by DAVID SCHERF, M.D., and LINN J. BOYD, M.D., F.A.C.P.

★ An exhaustive treatment of the subject, considered as an integral part of the complete clinical picture. Full descriptions of the rare as well as the common disturbances are given, and their mechanisms discussed. There are over 200 figures, mostly tracings, to illustrate the cases considered, and very full bibliographies are given.

Prospectus available. 376 pages. 25s.

Cardiovascular Diseases

by the same authors, is a comprehensive and practical handbook for diagnosis and treatment from the purely clinical point of view, without the use of complicated apparatus and graphic methods. Demy 8vo. 470 pages. 21s. net.

Principles and Practice of Homœopathy

2nd edn.

by CHARLES E. WHEELER, M.D., B.S., B.Sc.

★ The second edition of this most authoritative presentation has been enlarged and revised in collaboration with two well-known physicians of the London and Bristol Homœopathic Hospitals. Precise descriptions of the principal remedies are given, with a valuable therapeutic index for quick reference. "The ideal book for the professional enquirer because it leads him from the already known facts of orthodox pharmacology to a new orientation. Homœopathy should not be divorced from orthodox medicine. Dr. Wheeler most admirably demonstrates that it need not be, and that, indeed, a knowledge of one is essential to a full understanding of the other." W. LEES TEMPLETON, M.D., Ch.B.

Prospectus available. 352 pages. 15s.

Introduction to Biochemistry

2nd edn.

by W. R. FEARON, M.A., Sc.D., M.B., F.I.C., Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin

★ Second edition now ready, greatly enlarged, revised throughout and entirely re-set. Much new material not hitherto available in English, many new diagrams, summaries, descriptions of original tests and analytical methods render this book the most up to date and important in its field. Though produced chiefly for students, and already widely in use, it will claim the attention of all who are interested in the chemical interpretation of the facts of life.

Prospectus available. 475 pages. 17s. 6d.

Havelock Ellis's Autobiography: MY LIFE

★ This "spiritual progress" of a very remarkable man has aroused extraordinary attention by its intimate and intensely expressed recording of his stresses and triumphs. As a human document in the truest sense, and as a background to the work of one who has stamped his name so indelibly upon our era, the book will always hold a special place in the library of the medical man.

2nd large impression. 542 pages, 8 plates. 15s.

In Preparation

The Universe Through Medicine

by J. E. R. McDONAGH, F.R.C.S.

★ The author is one of our most distinguished research workers on the nature of disease, and this book is his magnum opus, clarifying and advancing theories of far-reaching importance. Write for a copy of the special descriptive leaflet which is being prepared.

384 pages. 25s.

WM. HEINEMANN (MEDICAL BOOKS) LTD
99 GREAT RUSSELL STREET LONDON WC1