

MUCH IN LITTLE... OR

... multum in parvo. In Latin, English or any other language, this is the phrase which best describes the compact, wide range Victor F3-35 X-ray Unit. Both portable and mobile—whichever and whenever you wish—the F3-35 is useful wherever X-rays are needed.

But there is more to the F3-35 than just its easy mobility and portability. It is powerful, easy to use, safe and silent in its operation. Its wide range of usefulness is readily indicated by the short exposures required with the F-3 for virtually every region of the body. And the radiographs it produces are, of course, routinely brilliant and comprehensive in detail.

Moreover, the F3-35 is moderately priced for so versatile an equipment of such fine quality. Also, it is available on a convenient plan that can be adjusted even to to-day's budgets.

For your copy of the free descriptive booklet that explains the many practical, exclusive features of the F3-35, or for a demonstration that will not involve you in any obligation, simply fill up and post the convenient coupon—to-day.
