TWO PAINFUL POINTS

One in front and one at a corresponding height in the lumbar region—these are the two painful points that help to distinguish gall-bladder involvement from appendicitis and certain other abdominal diseases. Unless the condition is at an acute stage, medical treatment with Veracolate, by stimulating the flow of bile and clearing out the intestinal tract, may assist in establishing the true diagnosis.

By supplying the combined bile salts, sodium taurocholate and sodium glycocholate, Veracolate favours the solution of cholesterol present in bile, the thickening and precipitation, of which may obstruct the flow of bile and eventually lead to stone formation.

COMPOSITION: Sodium Taurocholate and Sodium Glycocholate—with Cascara, Phenolphthalein and Capsicum.
