

Invalid Bovril is a highly concentrated form of Bovril for use in the sick-room. Prepared without seasoning, it provides the maximum concentration in the most easily assimilated form. Many doctors recommend it in cases where the patient needs "building-up" after illness. Perhaps there is a patient of yours who would benefit from a course of Invalid Bovril?

In the treatment of the common cold

'SULFEX' provides

... relief from nasal congestion

... prophylaxis against secondary bacterial infection ...

The common cold is frequently the precursor of bacterial infections of the upper respiratory tract, and the primary virus often deprives its victims of the power to withstand secondary bacterial invasion.

'Sulfex' is a valuable ally in controlling or averting secondary infection. It promptly and effectively relieves nasal congestion, without giving rise to secondary reactions, and ensures adequate ventilation and drainage. The bacteriostatic action of the 'Mickraform' crystals of free sulphathiazole often aborts secondary bacterial infection and thus tends to avert the onset of dangerous complications.

Issued in 1-oz. bottles with dropper

'SULFEX'

- Vasoconstriction in minutes
- bacteriostasis for hours

An aqueous suspension of micro-crystalline ('Mickraform') sulphathiazole, 5%, in an isotonic solution of 'Paredrinex' 1% (ph 5.5 to 6.5).

THE GILLIES MARK III anæsthesia apparatus

After extensive clinical trials, here is the latest Gillies equipment—compact as ever and readily adaptable to all conditions and all types of gas cylinder.

The Gillies III combines three different circuits in one. It provides for circle-type closed circuit anaesthesia, continuous flow, and atmospheric air with the volatile agents. As with the Boyles Apparatus a Waters Absorber (not included) may be used for "to and fro" closed circuit administration. Incorporating a carbon dioxide absorber the Gillies Mark III is in fact the smallest complete apparatus that combines all these functions. In hospitals it is equally convenient on a stand or a table; for Service use it will fit in with emergency arrangements.

New Peptic Ulcer Treatment Comparable to Drip Therapy

Whole milk and alkaline constituents combine to produce increased buffering action

NULACIN TABLETS have been evolved to meet a very real need in the treatment of gastric and duodenal ulcers.

All the literature on the treatment of peptic ulcers emphasizes the proven value of diminishing the acidity of the gastric juice. Many large and otherwise intractable ulcers can be healed by a continuous, intra-gastric drip of milk or alkali.

Drip therapy is, however, not always available or practicable to use in many instances. Nulacin offers a satisfactory alternative.

CONTINUOUS NEUTRALIZATION

NULACIN TABLETS, allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, have been shown clinically to provide a continuous neutralization comparable with that of drip therapy. (B.M.J., 1952, 2, 180.)

NULACIN TABLETS contain nutrient in a most acceptable form to the peptic ulcer patient. They obviate the necessity of taking frequent feeds, and so lessen the tendency to obesity in those following a dietary regime of food at frequent intervals.

During ulcer activity the suggested dosage is 3 tablets to be sucked each hour, and for follow-up treatment 2 tablets should be sucked between meals, beginning half an hour after a meal.

The tablet is of a suitable size, and of a consistency and hardness, so that, when it is sucked, the result is a constant and prolonged neutralization of the gastric juice.

NULACIN TABLETS during extensive clinical tests proved palatable and acceptable to patients.

The patient should be instructed to place the tablet between the gum of the upper jaw and the cheek. Here it will be comfortable, and slowly dissolve. The efficacy of the tablet is greatly diminished if it is chewed and swallowed.

NULACIN TABLETS are not advertised to the public. There is no B.P. equivalent to this tablet.

NULACIN TABLETS are available in dispensing units of 25, free of purchase tax.

For suppression of severe cough

'Physeptone' depresses the cough reflex in a manner comparable with that of diamorphine. It may therefore be prescribed with advantage for those cases of persistent cough which would normally be given diamorphine.

For this purpose, 'Physeptone' Linctus is issued containing 2 mgm. of Amidone Hydrochloride in each fluid drachm. The average adult dose is one teaspoonful (2 mgm.) every three or four hours, and this will control nearly every cough.

For children 'Physeptone' Linctus should be diluted with simple syrup in the proportion of one part linctus and seven parts syrup. One to two teaspoonfuls (0.25 - 0.5 mgm.) of this diluted linctus to be given according to the age of the child.

Soothing the cough that causes insomnia

IN TRACHEITIS and bronchitis the sleeplessness caused by a persistent, unproductive cough can be very exhausting. Tusana Cocillana Cough Linctus is very valuable in such cases. It provides a blend of expectorants to loosen the tenacious mucus in the upper air passages and the central sedative, codeine, to depress the cough reflex.

By breaking the vicious circle of coughing and irritation, Tusana allows the patient to sleep and gather strength for recovery. The tendency of codeine to cause constipation is offset by the inclusion of a little extract of senna in the formula.

THERE'S STRENGTH IN COMBINED ACTION

The answer to many a problem lies in combined action. Witness the higher blood levels and the greater clinical efficacy that have been reported from the oral administration of penicillin and the sulphonamides simultaneously in cases when the oral administration of the antibiotic or chemotherapeutic agent alone has been ineffective. A convenient means of applying this combined antibacterial therapy is Sulpenin. Containing penicillin, sulphadiazine and sulphamerazine in balanced dosage, it provides a valuable treatment for many infections due to susceptible micro-organisms. By utilising the synergistic action between penicillin and the sulphonamides the antibacterial range is increased, the likelihood of kidney damage is lessened and the tendency for the bacteria to develop mutant strains resistant to one or other of the component drugs is reduced.

THIS CHILD IS A CHALLENGE

Today's formidable incidence of whooping cough almost belies the progress made in preparing efficient pertussis vaccines. Even as long ago as 1946, Glaxo produced a vaccine that was observed, in M.R.C. Trials, to give 70 per cent protection. Since then, Glaxo research has revealed many ways of perfecting pertussis vaccines. Laboratory tests, too, have improved and now indicate much more clearly the potential performance of vaccines in the field. Results suggest, indeed, that the new Suspended Whooping Cough Vaccine Glaxo noticeably lessens the striking power of this childhood enemy.

TREATMENT OF BURNS

Anorexia after Shock

With burned patients, loss of appetite after the shock stage is common experience, and it is often difficult to get the patient to take food. If enough protein can be given at this stage, appetite can be restored and the patient will begin to take ordinary meals once again. To balance the gross wasting associated with burns the amount of protein given must be high. For instance, a severely burned patient may need up to five times as much daily protein as a healthy man or woman. The difficulty of providing these large amounts of protein within the limitations of today's diet is well known. How then can such a high-protein diet best be maintained today?

The Value of the Sanatogen Method

One of the best and simplest solutions for the practitioner is to use Sanatogen concentrated protein supplement to provide the required high-protein diet. Sanatogen contains 95% casein combined with 5% sodium glycerophosphate. The normal dosage provides the patient with at least 24 grams a day of first-class protein of high biological value. By increasing this dosage the physician can adjust the daily protein intake to whatever level he thinks advisable, to combat gross wasting in the burned patient. In addition, the glycerophosphate content of Sanatogen has a helpful tonic effect on the appetite.

Simple to Administer — Easily Digested

Sanatogen is simple to administer, bland, easily digested and readily absorbed by patients whose digestive faculties have been impaired by shock. It may be mixed as a hot or cold drink, sprinkled on food or mixed in cooked dishes.

Practitioners who wish to carry out their own clinical tests with Sanatogen will be given every help. Please write to the Medical Department, Genatosan Ltd., Loughborough, Leicestershire, for further information and medical samples.

New porous Elastoplast

THIS IMPROVED ELASTOPLAST IS NOW BEING SUPPLIED TO HOSPITALS

T. J. Smith & Nephew announce that they have now completed two years of extensive clinical trials of their new Porous Adhesive Elastoplast bandages and extension plasters. Results confirm that this new porous adhesive largely overcomes skin reaction to occlusion, which some patients experience beneath fully spread adhesive bandages, by permitting free evaporation of sweat and minimizing epidermal keratinisation produced by the stimulating effect of the adhesive.

Porous Elastoplast bandages and extension plasters are now being supplied to hospitals and, as production increases, will be available to the medical profession as a whole. Prices are the same as the normal spread Elastoplast bandages.

Points about Porous Elastoplast

- 1 Porous throughout whole surface of the bandage, allowing free evaporation of sweat and minimizing blockage of sweat-duct ostia.
- 2 The ideal compression and grip of Elastoplast is wholly maintained because there is no loss of stretch, regain or adhesive qualities.
- 3 Adhesive not spread to edges of bandage—minimizes rucking and soiling of clothes.
- 4 Fluffy edges eliminate localised 'hard' compression—preventing trauma to devitalized skin.
- 5 The name of the improved Elastoplast is 'Porous Adhesive Elastoplast'.

Some cars lead a tougher life than others. A doctor's car for instance. Perhaps dozens of journeys each day . . . constant stops and starts . . . it spends far more time out of the garage than it does in. And all this hard work puts a lot more strain on a car's engine.

Prescription

Shell X-100 Motor Oil neutralises the corrosive acids that eat into exposed metal surfaces—and keeps them covered with a tenacious protective oil film—safeguarding your car on the road and in your garage.

Treatment

Whatever the make of your car, Shell X-100 provides perfect lubrication and protection. Here are the four grades :—

Shell X-100 Grade 20/20W

Shell X-100 Grade 40

Shell X-100 Grade 30

Shell X-100 Grade 50

Your garage will gladly give you full information on Shell X-100 Motor Oil and will advise you on the correct grade for your car.

Deferment of recruitment for fully registered "R" practitioners (i.e., fully registered practitioners liable for call-up under the National Service Acts) is granted at the discretion of the Central Medical Recruitment Committee and (in Scotland) the Scottish Central Medical Recruitment Committee. The Committees normally allow a fully registered "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour and National Service as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.

The position of provisionally registered "R" practitioners has been made clear in a notice sent to them by the University Joint Recruiting Boards.
