SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT OF VARICOSE ULCERS

RECENT clinical trials further confirm that Viacutan (1% silver diaphthylmethane disulphonate) is an extremely powerful antibacterial and healing agent in the various types of varicose ulceration.

The bacterial infection of the ulcerated area which leads to enlargement and deepening of the ulcer almost invariably yields to applications of Viacutan.

The success of Viacutan is due to its unique attributes—it is active against both Gram-positive and Gram-negative organisms even in the presence of blood, pus and serum, and penetrates deeply into the tissues without destroying them. On the other hand it actively promotes cell-growth, with healthy granulation.

Tight and firm bandaging of the whole leg is essential in treating ulcers with Viacutan, and the after-care is highly important, but for all cases, suppression of infection and promotion of healing with Viacutan is of paramount value.

Très Secrète INFLATABLE BRASSIERE

For women self-conscious, introspective, or psychologically disturbed as a result of mastectomy, the inflatable brassiere, Très Secrète, is a really important piece of news.

Each bust section of this graceful garment contains a lightweight plastic air-cup. Each breast is independently and permanently inflated with a little tube supplied, and can thus be made to give a completely natural looking figure.

Doctors are enthusiastically recommending the Très Secrète brassiere. It is light, cool and smooth to wear; will cause no irritation to scar tissue; and gives immeasurable help to the mental recovery of post-operative mastectomy cases.

This announcement has the approval of our Medical Adviser.

Spotted Dick.....

The really 'spotty' face can alter the whole life of the adolescent, causing feelings of inadequacy and social maladjustment.

Acne therapy therefore should be assessed not only on the physical manifestations of the patient but also on the psychological repercussions that may persist throughout life. 'Eskamel' aims at relieving both the physical manifestations of acne and their psychological sequelae—it brings about improvement in a matter of days, and because it is delicately flesh-tinted it harmonizes so well with the skin that it provides an imperceptible mask for unsightly lesions. 'Eskamel' therefore provides material physical and psychological relief from disfiguring acne.

THE HEALING SUN-GOD

In Egypt, five thousand years ago, the Eye of Horus symbolised the Sun, recognised in the most ancient of days as the source of life and health. The Children of the Sun penetrated to the furthest parts of the earth, and left behind them evidence of sun-worship that remains to this day in Stonehenge and the ancient ruins of Mexico. Strangest of all, the Eye of Horus persists in every modern physician's prescription, as the "R" with the crossed tail.

Prescribing today is no longer associated with the rites of sun-worship, for modern science has made available potent drugs which have no need of magical adjuvant.

FOR THE CHILD WITH PETIT MAL, the distant hope that he may outgrow his affliction is small comfort to offset frustrating years as a stranger in childhood's normal world. He, and his parents, ask no greater gift from life than that he may be like other children. Now, because of two drugs unknown just a few years ago, a free life unrestricted by frequent seizures is possible for a high percentage of petit mal victims. The drugs TRIDIONE and its homologue PARADIONE are products of Abbott's extensive, continuing search for agents effective in epilepsy. Although the action of both TRIDIONE and PARADIONE is essentially the same—usually a dramatic reduction in number of seizures—one drug may prove beneficial when the other has failed to bring relief. The efficacy of each drug in the control of petit mal, myoclonic jerks and akinetic seizures is well documented in medical reports. Although TRIDIONE or PARADIONE may spell the difference between a normal and seizure-ridden life in one of your patients, please do not administer either drug until you are familiar with the techniques and precautions which must be observed. Detailed literature concerning these points is available on request.

Veriloid-VP

Scored tablets of Veriloid, 2 mg., with Phenobarbitone, 15 mg. Provides mild sedation, and also enables effective hypotensive doses to be given to patients readily nauseated by Veriloid given alone.

Veriloid Intramuscular & Intravenous Solutions

Produce an immediate and pronounced reduction of blood-pressure and find valuable application in the treatment of acute episodes of hypertension, e.g. malignant hypertension, encephalopathy and eclampsia.

An outstanding feature of the hypotensive action of Veriloid is its central action, which effects vaso-relaxation by impulses transmitted to the arteriolar musculature. Ganglionic function is not disturbed, therefore there is no interference with the postural reflexes essential for normal activity.

Veriloid, a unique preparation of the ester alkaloids of Veratrum viride, is specifically indicated in all grades of essential hypertension. Because it is biologically standardized in dogs, its clinical effect is significant and dependable. If dosage is carefully adjusted, control of blood-pressure throughout the whole day is entirely possible.

ORAL IRON THERAPY

Corner of control laboratory

The main disadvantage with the majority of oral iron preparations is that they cause gastro-intestinal disturbance. It is thus often impossible to administer sufficient iron by the oral route fully to restore the hæmoglobin level to normal. Colloidal ferric hydroxide in the form of Colliron overcomes this great disadvantage as the iron is presented in a non-irritant form and is readily tolerated even in large dosage over a prolonged period.

OUTSTANDING ADVANTAGES OF COLLIRON INCLUDE:—

- 1 It is pleasant to take.
- 2 It very rarely causes gastro-intestinal disturbance.

- 3 The iron is present in a non-irritant form.
- 4 It is suitable for prolonged therapy even in young children or infants.
- 5 It does not stain the teeth.

Treatment of the Streptococcal Throat

'PONDETS' Penicillin are a new and ingenious vehicle for local oral penicillin therapy that combine the striking advantages of extreme palatability with prolonged action. Each 'Pondet' contains 5,000 international units of crystalline potassium penicillin-G in a delicious hard, fruit, toffee-like base that completely masks the bitter taste of penicillin.

Because of the nature of their hard base, 'Pondets' dissolve slowly and uniformly, supplying an uninterrupted high concentration of penicillin to infected areas of the oro-pharyngeal mucosa.

INDICATED in minor superficial oral infections due to penicillin sensitive organisms ranging from the 'Streptococcal Throat' to the less common Vincent's infection and recommended for routine prophylactic use following Tonsillectomy.

Individually wrapped in bottles of 20.

Children accept 'Pondets' as readily as a sweet, and they are particularly useful in controlling throat infections in juvenile communities.

The Committees normally allow a fully registered "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour and National Service as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.

The position of provisionally registered "R" practitioners has been made clear in a notice sent to them by the University Joint Recruiting Boards.

Availability of Vitamins in Yeast

Deficiencies of single factors of the Vitamin B Group do not occur. Accordingly, even if a deficiency condition appears to result from the lack of an individual factor of the group and it is considered necessary to give intensive treatment with this factor, the entire Vitamin B complex should always be administered concurrently.

It is, however, extremely important, in view of suggestions in recent publications, that the vehicle selected as a source of the entire B Complex does not withhold its vitamin content from the patient.

Human experiments show that the rich, natural vitamin potency of Aluzyme is totally available to the human system.

- Aluzyme is not advertised to the public and may be prescribed on Form E.C.10
