Prescribing a Laxative

When the Physician is called upon to prescribe a laxative for prolonged or occasional use, Andrews merits special consideration. Andrews is pleasant tasting. Its effervescence has a refreshing quality that makes it an acceptable draught. Andrews causes no griping or discomfort. Its laxative action is due to the presence of magnesium sulphate and other salts in balanced proportion, which, acting by osmosis, induce easy, painless evacuation.

Andrews is particularly suitable for patients liable to digestive upsets. It allays gastric discomfort and nausea. It also improves the flow of bile, and helps to check biliousness and sick headaches. No costive reaction results when Andrews is discontinued.

A patient on an Intalok mattress can relax completely. With this unique spring system great comfort is combined with correct support. Intalok springs are much finer than those usually used in mattresses—giving a softer 'local' resilience. Yet, because there are hundreds of them, interlinked spring into spring, the overall support is even and firm. The complete rest Intalok brings makes a real contribution to the patient's recovery.

Here are other good reasons why Intalok is the ideal hospital mattress:

- 1 All metal parts are rustless—can be sterilized repeatedly.
- 2 The spring centre gains by repeated stoving.
- 3 The special Intalok spring system makes the mattress unusually light and easy to handle.
- 4 Intalok mattresses can be made to special thicknesses or sizes, or in segments to suit special cases.
- 5 Existing hair mattresses can be converted to Intalok. This cuts costs.
- 6 Every Intalok springing unit is guaranteed for ten years.

Question No. 1

What is a Unit Trust?

It is a method of enabling the investor, large or small, to stake a claim over a wide range of carefully selected securities quoted on the Stock Exchange. The trust is managed in accordance with a Trust Deed for the benefit of its investor-members, or unit-holders as they are called. Usually, a bank acts as trustee, holding the underlying securities on behalf of the unit-holder. A company specialising in these matters acts as manager.

The trust fund expands or contracts according to the number of units bought or sold by investors. The term of the trust is usually twenty-one years; but it is usual for the managers to offer facilities for renewal.

81 to 87 per cent of all cases of seborrhoeic dermatitis of the scalp—as well as 92 to 95 per cent of cases of common dandruff—were completely controlled with SELSUN during clinical trials with more than 400 patients. SELSUN quickly restores the scalp to a healthy condition and, after the initial period of treatment, keeps it completely free of scales and the secondary symptoms of itching and burning for one to four weeks with each application. This product is frequently effective in cases where the usual sulphur-formula products fail to bring satisfactory results. Yet SELSUN is much simpler to use . . . being quickly and easily applied while washing the hair, and then rinsed out completely. SELSUN thus leaves the hair clean and odorless, with no problems of linen staining or hair discoloration. Toxicity studies showed that no ill effects resulted from the external use of SELSUN in the manner recommended, even in cases where the scalp was abraded. SELSUN is supplied in 2 and 4 fluid ounce bottles.

Two all-important qualities have placed aureomycin in the outstanding position it holds today—its universally recognised effectiveness and its extremely wide range of action. A host of pathological conditions arising from bacterial, rickettsial, large viral and protozoal invasions have been found to respond to aureomycin. A dosage of 1 Gm. daily is usually curative and the total dose required is lower than with other antibiotics. The abbreviation of hospital stay and convalescence thus made possible by aureomycin saves many times its cost.

THEODROX

ADEQUATE ORAL AMINOPHYLLINE

The tables below show blood levels obtained after a single dose of aminophylline parenterally and a single dose of oral Theodrox. The blood levels produced by oral Theodrox compare favourably with those produced by parenteral administration of aminophylline.

Prior to the introduction of Theodrox the usefulness of oral aminophylline has been limited by failure to obtain adequate blood levels because of gastric intolerance. With Theodrox this difficulty is overcome and effective oral dosage is entirely feasible. Each tablet of Theodrox contains 3 gr. of aminophylline B.P. with 4 gr. of dried aluminium hydroxide gel, B.P.C.

In the form of Theodrox, aminophylline can be administered orally to produce results comparable with intravenous or intramuscular dosage, yet without the inconvenience and danger of parenteral administration.

Theodrox is supplied in containers of 25, 100 and 1,000 tablets.

Theodrox is also available as Theodrox with Phenobarbitone, each tablet containing in addition $\frac{1}{8}$ gr. of Phenobarbitone B.P.

The discovery of a new penicillin salt . . . DBED Dipenicillin G has resulted in the preparation of 'PENIDURAL' Oral Suspension. A stable fluid penicillin that retains its full potency in aqueous suspension for two years at normal room temperature without refrigeration, it is thus ideal for treatment in the patient's home.

'Penidural' is supplied ready for immediate use; THE PATIENT SIMPLY POURS THE SPECIFIED DOSE after shaking the bottle. The palatable aqueous syrup is readily accepted by children and adults, and provides substantial therapeutic blood levels in the systemic treatment of mild and moderately severe infections due to penicillin-sensitive organisms.

Mummy, this isn't medicine — it's nice!

When medicine is "nice to take" the doctor's work is considerably lightened. This is the secret of the success of Suspension Chloromycetin Palmitate. A pleasantly-flavoured preparation containing a tasteless derivative of Chloromycetin, each 4c.c. (teaspoonful) is therapeutically equivalent to 125mg. Chloromycetin. It hydrolyses readily in the gastrointestinal tract, yielding the pure antibiotic. It can thus be easily administered both to infants and children and to those unable to take capsules, for the successful treatment of bacterial, viral or rickettsial infection.

Renewed hope in hypertension

Hexamethonium was the first of the ganglion-blocking agents to be used widely in the control of hypertension, and its introduction undoubtedly marked a major advance in the drug treatment of this disease syndrome. Now, 'Ansolyzen' brand of pentapyrrolidinium bitartrate has been developed and introduced. This new drug possesses significant advantages over hexamethonium and merits consideration in the treatment of selected hypertensive patients.

* When given by mouth, it reduces blood pressure much more readily, without undue toxicity, and in smaller doses than do hexamethonium salts given orally.

* The duration of the hypotensive effect is more prolonged than with hexamethonium salts, and dosage adjustments are less frequently needed.

* There is less marked development of drug tolerance, and those who have become relatively insensitive to hexamethonium are often fully susceptible to 'Ansolyzen'.

Nulacin for continuous, maintained gastric anacidity

IT has long been recognized that the most rapid relief of the pain and discomfort of peptic ulcer and most rapid healing of the lesion are achieved when a continuous state of gastric anacidity is maintained.

Heretofore, such a state has only been possible with hospitalization and severe discomfort to the patient. Now, NULACIN offers all the advantages of continuous drip therapy without the attendant inconveniences.

NULACIN accomplishes this desirable aim simply and effectively. A NULACIN tablet placed between the cheek and the gum dissolves slowly and releases its contained medications at a rate which achieves the effect of intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy. By maintaining a prolonged influence NULACIN accomplishes its acid-neutralizing effect with considerably less antacid than would be required by any other method employing oral administration.

INDICATIONS: NULACIN tablets are indicated whenever acid neutralization of the gastric contents is required; in active and quiescent peptic ulcer, gastritis, gastric hyperacidity.

Dosage

Beginning half-an-hour after food a NULACIN tablet should be placed in the mouth and allowed to dissolve slowly.

During the stage of ulcer activity up to three tablets an hour may be required. During quiescent periods, for prophylaxis in peptic ulcer and for the relief of discomfort due to gastric hyperacidity, the dose of NULACIN is one or two tablets between meals.

NULACIN tablets are not advertised to the public and have no B.P. equivalent. May be prescribed on E.C.10. The dispensing unit of 25 tablets is free of purchase tax. (Price to pharmacists . . . 2/-.) Also available in tubes of 12.

NULACIN tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrans and maltose, and incorporate:

Magnesium Trisilicate 3.5 grs. Magnesium Oxide 2.0 grs. Calcium Carbonate 2.0 grs.
Magnesium Carbonate 0.5 grs.
Ol. Menth. Pip. q. s.

Superimposed gruel fractional test-meal curves of five cases of duodenal ulcer.

Same patients as in Fig. 1, two days later, showing the striking neutralizing effect of sucking Nulacin tablets (3 an hour). Note the return of acidity when Nulacin is discontinued.

TWO WEEKS' TEST

will tell you why more people are smoking

du MAURIER

THE FILTER TIP CIGARETTE

The purer the smoke the greater the enjoyment. That's the simple principle behind the du Maurier filter. That is why more and more people are smoking du Maurier cigarettes, because they find — just as you will — that the du Maurier filter adds to the pleasure of smoking by allowing nothing to spoil the true flavour of the tobacco. But why not put it to the test? If you will smoke du Maurier and nothing else for two weeks you will discover for yourself the special appeal of these fine filter-tipped cigarettes.

COLONIAL MEDICAL SERVICE

Vacancies occur from time to time in territories covered by the Colonial Medical Service for

MEDICAL OFFICERS

for general duties, including hospital and district work. These appointments offer great scope for the practice of many branches of medicine and surgery with a considerable measure of independence and personal responsibility. Appointments can usually be made on a permanent basis with pension (non-contributory) at age 50 or 55; or on a temporary basis, with gratuity; or by appointment from the National Health Service for periods not exceeding six years, with continuation of National Health Service superannuation contributions and the payment of a resettlement grant of 20 per cent of the aggregate of colonial salary on leaving the colony. Salaries of Medical Officers are varied: for example from £950 to £1,850 per annum in Nigeria; from £865 to £1,590 per annum in Kenya (with a cost-of-living allowance in addition); and from £1,155 to £2,044 per annum in Malaya (with a cost-of-living allowance in addition). Starting salaries depend on age and experience, and officers holding certain higher qualifications are granted four additional increments on the salary scale. There are many specialist and administrative posts yielding higher pensionable salaries than those quoted above to which medical officers would expect to be appointed on promotion in the course of a normal career. Free passages are granted. Income tax is low. Tours of service vary from ten months in parts of West Africa to three or four years in, for example, Kenya. Houses with heavy furniture are provided in most territories at a rental of about 10 per cent of basic salary. Annual local leave is permissible and generous home leave is granted after each tour. Study leave on full pay is granted, subject to the needs of the service, to those who wish to acquire higher qualifications and so equip themselves for promotion to specialist posts. Officers serving in East and Central Africa often prefer to educate their children within that area, where schooling is available, or in South Africa. The short tours in West Africa enable frequent visits to be made to children being educated at home. Many officers have their children with them in West Africa until they reach school age. Application forms can be obtained from the Director of Recruitment (Colonial Service), Colonial Office, Sanctuary Buildings, Great Smith Street, London, S.W.1 (quoting CDE.121/01).
