IMFERON IS THE FIRST EFFECTIVE IRON PREPARATION FOR INTRAMUSCULAR INJECTION

IT PROVIDES the rapid, reliable response of an order hitherto only obtainable with intravenous preparations; and it takes much less time to administer.

IMFERON is indicated for the patient who is refractory to, or intolerant of, oral iron; and when a rapid response is required, as in anaemia of pregnancy.

TECHNIQUE

"IT WAS OBVIOUS during this study that the skill and care of the person giving the injection does much to minimise the local discomfort and staining, and it is significant that only two patients failed to attend for further injections."

to the focal point of soft-tissue rheumatism

The esters in Transvasin, a new preparation developed by Hamol S.A., our Swiss associates, readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities and enable an effective concentration of the drugs to be built up where they are needed. Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant, and can be safely used on delicate skins. It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

Nicotinic acid n-hexyl-ester	2%

The need for a safe, potent oral drug for the rapid treatment of oedema has long been felt by doctors in hospital and general practice. This need is now adequately fulfilled by the introduction of DIAMOX Acetazolesamide, a new oral diuretic that is neither a mercurial nor xanthine derivative.

Based on a new concept—the induction of diuresis by inhibiting the enzyme carbonic anhydrase—DIAMOX is rapidly absorbed and excreted largely unchanged by the kidney. It is not a renal irritant, nor is it cumulative. After a single morning dose copious diuresis results. In most cases of left-sided heart failure, DIAMOX alone will maintain the patient oedema-free. Patients with severe right-sided heart failure, involving accumulations of fluid, may require paracentesis or mercurial injections to initiate response, after which dry weight can usually be maintained with DIAMOX alone.

Not a mercurial or xanthine derivative

Single dose induces diuretic response for 6-12 hours

How Sanatogen can help in the treatment of Psychosomatic Disorders

Edward Jenner, when a boy in Gloucestershire, heard that dairy maids who had contracted cowpox did not take smallpox. Later, when studying under John Hunter in London, he told the great man of his idea of vaccination. Hunter replied: "Don't think — try. Be patient. Be accurate." (Yet it is difficult to be patient with all the cases of psychosomatic disorders that flood the surgery!)

WHAT CAN THE BUSY GENERAL PRACTITIONER DO?

Psychosomatic disorders are increasing every year, so the surveys show. The symptoms are diverse — rheumatism, headache, insomnia, dyspepsia, diarrhoea, effort syndrome, etc. — and each patient must be heard, fully examined, and reassured. What then? Is reassurance enough? Here surely is a case where the use of Sanatogen protein nerve tonic is always useful.

THE ROLE OF SANATOGEN

Although Sanatogen is not prescribable owing to its high food value, it has been recommended by the profession for more than 50 years for "nerves" and psychosomatic disorders. It is 95% casein chemically combined with 5% sodium glycerophosphate. Three teaspoonfuls of Sanatogen t.d.s. (the normal dosage) provide the patient with 24 grams of first-class protein free from fat and cholesterol, at a cost of less than a shilling a day; whilst by reason of its glycerophosphate content it has a specific tonic effect on body and nerve tissue. Of course, it is not suggested that Sanatogen is the complete answer to psychosomatic disorders, but the general practitioner will find that it is a most powerful aid. Now we do not ask you to believe this without trial. We ask you to follow John Hunter's advice: "Try it."

ONE MOMENT PLEASE, DOCTOR...

It's SOMETIMES difficult to make the mother of a family look after herself, but once she has sampled Ribena she will usually spare herself the time to take it daily.

First developed on a large scale to prevent Vitamin C deficiency during the war, Ribena is now recommended by doctors for a variety of conditions. Ribena contains pure blackcurrant juice, one of the richest sources of Vitamin C. Its content of glucose and fruit sugar comes from the same natural source, while its added cane sugar makes it acceptable to all palates.

If you would like a sample bottle of Ribena, and a copy of our brochure, "Blackcurrant Juice in Modern Therapy", please write to the Medical Dept. A/9, H. W. Carter & Co. Ltd., The Royal Forest Factory, Coleford, Glos.

Availability of Vitamins in Yeast

Deficiencies of single factors of the Vitamin B Group do not occur. Accordingly, even if a deficiency condition appears to result from the lack of an individual factor of the group and it is considered necessary to give intensive treatment with this factor, the entire Vitamin B complex should always be administered concurrently.

It is, however, extremely important, in view of suggestions in recent publications, that the vehicle selected as a source of the entire B Complex does not withhold its vitamin content from the patient.

Human experiments show that the rich, natural vitamin potency of Aluzyme is totally available to the human system.

CAMP-VARCO PELVIC TRACTION

Pelvic Traction in Low Back Injuries

This pelvic traction system is designed to avoid the complications of thrombophlebitis, swollen ankles and knees, and the risk of dermatitis which may result from ordinary skin traction.

The apparatus is easy to apply, the fitting being similar to that of any sacro-iliac or back support. It is constructed on the principle of a body belt to which are attached two adjustable traction straps; these are attached to a spreader board from which is suspended the appropriate weight.

The traction operates through the sacro-iliac region and along the spine and avoids the hips, knees and ankle joints; one of the advantages of the pelvic traction system is that the patient has freedom of movement of the lower limbs.

The method is extremely simple and can if required be used at home under medical direction. It is well-tolerated by the patient and makes for greater comfort and easier nursing attention.

Manufacturers of Land-Rovers
The Rover Co. Ltd.

It's revealing to drive a ROVER . . .

You'll be astonished at the way the car takes rough surfaces smoothly in its stride. Ruts and potholes seem almost non-existent as the car glides over them.

You'll enjoy having both pace and quiet at your command. Even at high speeds, engine and transmission noise has been reduced almost to vanishing point.

You'll appreciate the infinite care and thought that has been paid to the comfort of driver and passengers.

You'll feel confident even in the thickest and trickiest traffic, because a Rover is such a well-bred, obedient car to handle.

The Rover co-ordinated suspension system allows plenty of vertical road wheel movement, while spring tensions and shock absorber settings ensure a smooth ride. The central bearing to the propeller shaft checks 'whip' and vibration.

The special cylinder head design of Rover engines sets the Rover pace, whilst the extensive use of rubber pads and mountings, spraying with sound-absorbing material and heavy carpeting make the naturally quiet engine almost inaudible.

All passengers sit well within the wheelbase, with front seat adjustable for height and rake and wide centre arm rests front and rear. Heating, demisting, ventilating and draught-proofing are exceptionally efficient.

Direct central gear change with synchromesh on 2nd, 3rd and top, controlled free wheel for clutchless changes and well-planned dashboard layout make clumsy handling of a Rover practically impossible.

ROVER

Sixty · Seventy-Five · Ninety

Body and chassis are identical throughout the Rover range. However, three different engine sizes give motorists a made-to-measure service in which design and workmanship are uniformly high. New features common to all 1955 models include re-shaped luggage boot, larger rear window and flashing type direction indicators.

Perfect Cast—after 3 weeks' hard wear!

THE BANK MANAGER of a small Essex town, fell and suffered a Colles fracture. Here is the Gypsona cast which was removed three weeks later. The thin, even formation is a characteristic of a Gypsona cast. This thin, light cast is made possible by the high plaster content of Gypsona which gives exceptional strength and makes it the most economical plaster of Paris bandage.

The clean, porcelain-like appearance of the cast, still intact after three weeks' wear, is further evidence of the quality of the fine ground Gypsum and the high plaster content of this remarkable bandage.

THEODROX^{Regd.}

The only oral aminophylline preparation which ensures full therapeutic response

Clinical evidence shows that when, as in "THEODROX", aminophylline is combined with specially prepared aluminium hydroxide, gastric irritation is minimised. Large ORAL doses of aminophylline can, therefore, be tolerated to produce consistent, high blood levels of theophylline.

Each tablet of "THEODROX" contains 3 gr. of aminophylline and 4 gr. of dried aluminium hydroxide gel.

INDICATIONS—Congestive heart failure, bronchial or cardiac asthma and angina pectoris.

"THEODROX" with PHENOBARBITONE tablets contain in addition $\frac{1}{2}$ gr. phenobarbitone and are indicated in conditions where a degree of sedation is also required.

Both forms are available in bottles of 25, 100 and 1,000 tablets.

Detailed literature supplied on request.
