A STATEMENT OF POLICY

In his latest report the Chief Medical Officer of the Ministry of Health makes the following comment on present-day blood transfusion.

"Certain surgical operations and techniques of supportive treatment now involve the transfusion of very large amounts of blood, but the number of these seems unlikely to account for more than a part of the increase in the amount of blood used during the past few years. It seems possible that part at least of the increase is caused by a less discriminating use of transfusion, and it is difficult not to conclude that some transfusions are given unnecessarily. It is, for example, doubtful whether a 'one-bottle transfusion' in an adult is often of significant benefit. Likewise the use of transfusion to correct moderate or slight degrees of anaemia which could be overcome as effectively, if more slowly, by other means seems unjustifiable, unless some cogent reason for speed of recovery exists; in some of these instances failure to institute simpler but equally effective treatment soon enough leads to the use of blood transfusion. Transfusion is frequently used to speed convalescence, when simpler measures would attain the same ends. It may be argued that this use of transfusion is justifiable so long as there is a lack of hospital beds or because it enables the patient to begin work again in a shorter time, but it should be remembered that all these patients are thus exposed to a potential hazard. . . ." Moreover, the Chief Medical Officer states: "as consumption mounts the provision of blood tends to become more expensive due to the progressively greater efforts needed to recruit donors."

This Company has, in the past few years, supplied over half a million bottles of Dextraven which have been used by clinicians in more than a dozen countries. This blood volume restorer is, as such, at least as effective as blood or plasma.

The inherent qualities of Dextraven present many advantages, whereas the disadvantages peculiar to blood and plasma are obviated. The criteria of restoring and supporting the circulation without delay in hypovolaemic shock are fulfilled immediately, and more safely by infusion of 500-1,000 ml. of Dextraven than by similar quantities of blood or plasma.

The hazards encountered in giving blood or plasma are such that their use, when small quantities will suffice, is never justified, as simpler, safer and cheaper alternatives are available. When the replacement of red cells is also indicated, immediate infusion of Dextraven may be employed until compatible blood of assured quality is available. In the treatment of burns the hazards of plasma infusions similarly may be avoided.

The anaemia of iron deficiency may be corrected by the timely use of Imferon (iron dextran complex). Its use in British hospitals pre- and postoperatively is increasing yearly. It is safer and more effective than a pint of blood.

The use of Dextraven to spare blood is, however, greater abroad than it is here in the United Kingdom. A major factor, both in the abuse of blood and plasma and in the restricted use of Dextraven, is the present supply arrangement which makes blood and plasma a "free issue" to hospitals, but requires payment for Dextraven. We are convinced that if hospitals were charged with the real cost of their blood or plasma usage, more frequent resort to as efficient but cheaper products would be made. Unlike blood and plasma, the more Dextraven produced the cheaper it is.

If the Ministry, therefore, will make arrangements to charge hospitals with the real cost of their blood and plasma requirements, we are sure that there will be an increase in the proper use of Dextraven. In these circumstances we are prepared to pass on to the Ministry, by lowering prices, the benefit from such cheaper production costs.

It may be of interest that this proposal, if accepted, would enable us to earn yet more foreign currency in the overseas markets, where lowered prices, based on greater home production, would encourage greater use.

a waterproof, yet non-occlusive,

The plastic material consists of a micro-porous extensible filter, air-permeable yet waterproof. Sweat and skin exudates evaporate freely through it.

Elastoplast 'Airstrip' is a new type of first aid dressing. It is made from a specially developed plastic material, through which sweat and skin exudates evaporate at the same rate as they develop on the skin. The material is, in fact, a micro-porous extensible filter, and is not perforated. It provides a barrier to water, grease and infective organisms.

Even after long application, Elastoplast 'Airstrip' does not cause the underlying skin to macerate. The adhesive is specially spread in a lattice pattern so that micro-porosity is retained and firm adhesion not impaired. The surface of the wound and the surrounding skin remain dry beneath an 'Airstrip' dressing, which can be left on until the wound heals.

SINCE we all suffer at some time, many of us all the time, from such culinary curses of the age as harmful food processing—days-old vegetables—an emasculated loaf—Supavite is good for everyone. But over and above that basic truism you will know many categories among your patients for whom a food supplement of the calibre and comprehensiveness of Supavite is more than good—is maybe vital. Old people with inadequate shopping and cooking facilities, women in pregnancy and lactation, men undergoing heavy physical stress, convalescents, patients who have no appetite or must diet, ailing children—Supavite is their manna in the wilderness. Any clinical or sub-clinical state involving (or likely to lead to) mild vitamin deficiency is a cry for Supavite, which contains not only the essential vitamins but also the trace-elements necessary both in themselves and for proper utilization of the vitamins.

BURNS, WOUNDS, ULCERS, BEDSORES

all heal faster with this new dressing

In the case of a child aged 8, who sustained equal burns on both legs, the left leg was treated with Tulle Gras and healed in 40 days; it also required a small skin graft. The right leg was treated with Nu-San dressing and healed in 20 days, without a skin graft. The photograph shows the difference in the stage of healing on the 10th day.

Antibacterial, Non-greasy, Non-adherent

Nu-San gauze is now in continual use in many British and Continental hospitals. Well over 3 million squares have already been used. All reports confirm these special advantages:

1. Nu-San gauze is non-greasy and absorbent, yet it does not stick to raw wound surfaces. It is therefore easy to apply and easy to remove and also keeps the wound surface dry, which is essential for quick healing, but difficult with greasy dressings like Tulle Gras.
2. Nu-San gauze, due to its impregnation with mercury succinimide and aminacrine hydrochloride, is antibacterial against all types of wound contaminating organisms, including Ps. pyocyanea and Proteus vulgaris. The antibacterial action has proved most effective for the prevention, as well as treatment, of sepsis in burns and wounds, etc.
3. Nu-San gauze promotes granulation and epithelialisation. Therefore, burns, wounds, ulcers and bedsores heal much more quickly with Nu-San gauze than with traditional methods. In some hospital reports, special mention is made of varicose and trophic ulcers which had not responded to other methods of treatment, but healed with Nu-San gauze.
4. Nu-San gauze does not cause toxicity, intolerance, sensitisation or bacterial resistance often associated with antibiotics and sulphonamides.
5. Being permanently anti-bacterial, Nu-San gauze is ideal for use in the home and first-aid posts, where facilities for sterilising dressings and aseptic techniques are not available.
6. Quicker healing with fewer dressings saves time and trouble for the medical and nursing staff and minimises economic loss to the patient and industry.

Specially for Varicose Ulcers

Nu-San compression bandage is non-sticky and provides excellent compression, combined with the antibacterial and healing properties of Nu-San gauze. It is ideal for the treatment of varicose ulcers, especially where plaster bandages cannot be tolerated.

Nu-San gauze is prescribed on E.C.10, in cartons of 5 and 10 squares (3½ in. × 3½ in.), and is also available in boxes of 100 squares and rolls of 6 yds. × 6 in.

Restoring the balanced gut flora

ENPAC is a new and unique preparation of antibiotic-resistant strains of Lactobacillus acidophilus in a vehicle of the vital growth factors necessary for the strains to become established and multiply in the human gut. When administered during oral antibiotic therapy, these strains replace the intestinal strains of L. acidophilus, and an important part of the bacterial flora is maintained intact. There is substantial evidence which has proved that ENPAC can also be highly beneficial in certain intestinal disorders.

"It was found that the staphylococci increased in both groups at the beginning of antibiotic therapy. Staphylococci continued to increase in the patients taking the antibiotic alone, but in those taking Enpac there was a pronounced drop in numbers following the initial rise. Simultaneously, in this latter group the lactobacilli were rapidly established and continued to multiply. This followed the elimination of the normally non-resistant lactobacilli by the antibiotic during the early days of treatment." (Lancet, 1957, i, 899)

ADRENOXYL

Reduces the mean bleeding-time

Adrenoxyl reduces the mean bleeding-time by decreasing the permeability and increasing the contractility and resistance of the capillary wall.

A dry field at operation

Adrenoxyl has been successful in diminishing capillary bleeding in a wide range of surgical operations. It has proved particularly useful in ear, nose and throat, ophthalmic and plastic surgery. In plastic surgery of the face it has been reported that, post-operatively, there is less swelling and bruising when Adrenoxyl has been used.

No side effects

Adrenoxyl does not have any side effects or contraindications. It does not affect blood coagulation, blood pressure or pulse rate and does not possess any sympathomimetic properties.

In medical conditions

Adrenoxyl has been used with success in those medical conditions associated with capillary fragility.

In the British Medical Journal (April 21st, 1956) a correspondent confirmed the value of Adrenoxyl in providing a dry field for the surgeon and in shortening the duration of the operation.

INTRODUCING

In the treatment of OTITIS

The persistently discharging ear is a common problem and one which poses many difficulties in effective treatment. In many cases of chronic ear infection, bacteria and fungi can be isolated and treatment should, therefore, be aimed at eliminating both types of infection. 'Otamidyl' contains dibromopropamidine isethionate 0.15% w/v and diamidinodiphenylamine dihydrochloride 0.5% w/v in propylene glycol and is intended for topical application in the treatment of otitis externa and of chronic suppurative otitis media. The antibacterial and antifungal properties of these compounds are retained in the presence of pus, blood, and tissue debris.

Treatment of DIABETES MELLITUS without injections

Rastinon »Hoechst« tablets provide an oral treatment for certain diabetic patients.

EFFECTIVE A number of patients on small regular doses of insulin have been found to be suitable for treatment with Rastinon »Hoechst« tablets. Clinical work throughout the world has shown that approximately a quarter of all diabetics can be stabilized on Rastinon »Hoechst« tablets. A few of the more recent references to the literature are given opposite.

SAFE The selection and stabilization of diabetic patients should be carried out under strict medical supervision. For those patients found to be suitable, Rastinon »Hoechst« tablets provide a safe form of therapy and many have now been on oral treatment for two years. No cases of proven dyshaemopoiesis or other serious side-effects due to the drug have been reported.

SIMPLE From 2 to 4 tablets a day are normally all that is required to replace the insulin with its concomitant syringe, needles, swabs, and often nursing assistance as well. The normal regime of urine examination and dietary control remains necessary.

Packs: bottles of 100 and 500 tablets.

The basic price to the National Health Service as dispensed from a 500 tablet bottle is 2.97d per tablet and the total cost to the National Health Service, with all allowances, is less than 4d per tablet.

Each tablet contains 0.5 G. of N-Butyl-N<sup>1</sup>-toluene-p-sulphonylurea; (Tolbutamide).

Steadier in his hands and brighter in his mind, the patient takes on a new lease of life. This has been so frequently observed in patients suffering from Parkinsonism following treatment with ARTANE trihexyphenidyl. This classic parasympatholytic has now become a standard treatment for controlling the symptoms of Parkinsonism. It relaxes spasm, reduces tremor and overcomes mental inertia, resulting not only in a marked improvement in the patient's physical condition but also in his entire mental outlook.

Nutritional Value of Proteins

The nutritional value of proteins depends on their amino-acid composition. If all essential amino-acids are present, the protein will support growth and is described as a first-class protein. Not all proteins belong to this group, and the vegetable proteins in particular tend to be low in one or more amino-acids. If these constituents are provided from some other source, however, the value of the deficient protein is improved.

Marmite provides a mixture of amino-acids and polypeptides, obtained by autolysis from the yeast cell. Within the limits of the amount consumed, the addition of Marmite to the diet thus increases its amino-acid content, and upgrades the nutritional value of the available proteins. Moreover Marmite, being a yeast extract, supplies all the known factors of the vitamin B complex, some of which may be short in predominantly vegetarian or otherwise restricted diets.

Better relief for Arthritics—minimum side effects

In salicylate therapy BUFFERIN (Antacid Analgesic) has these two special advantages. It is faster-acting—twice as fast as ordinary aspirin. It is better-tolerated—even in large doses, as for arthritis.

According to a British survey, as many as 42% of arthritics are intolerant to aspirin. And in a blind trial among arthritics with a proved intolerance to aspirin, 70% had no gastric symptoms after taking large doses of BUFFERIN over periods of 4 to 16 months. (1)

In clinical tests, it was shown that BUFFERIN raises the salicylate blood level of humans more than 20% higher in ten minutes than ordinary aspirin does in twenty minutes.

Hence the importance of BUFFERIN in all salicylate therapy. Only BUFFERIN contains the antacid agents which:—

- ★reduce gastric upset to a negligible minimum (2) (3);
- ★actually speed the pain-relieving ingredient into the bloodstream (4) (5).

It acts faster. It is better tolerated. It contains no sodium.
