CORTISONE THERAPY:

Mainly applied to the Rheumatic Diseases

By J. H. GLYN, M.D., D. Phys. Med.

With a Foreword by Lord Cohen of Birkenhead.

"In this small book Dr. Glyn has undertaken a very difficult task and it is greatly to his credit that he has achieved a remarkable measure of success. . . . This monograph provides a valuable appraisal of the present position in regard to steroid therapy. It should be welcomed not only by physicians primarily interested in the rheumatic diseases but by general practitioners whose experience in the use of these powerful hormones has of necessity been more limited but who are now free to prescribe them."—Practitioner.

THE PERMANENT WAY

In iron therapy, the permanent way is the intramuscular way. Following Imferon treatment, the perennial anaemic—the patient who even after months or years of treatment with oral iron is constantly on the verge of anaemia and constantly in the surgery—is buffered against relapse. This is because Imferon re-charges the body's 'stores' of iron. Oral iron cannot do this (except possibly after an unacceptably long period of treatment) because it is impeded by the mucosal block. This barrier becomes more and more effective as the Hb level rises—and depleted body iron stores remain depleted.

Imferon, intramuscular iron, by-passes the mucosal block. It is fully absorbed, fully utilised . . . safe and certain.

The esters of NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC and p-AMINO BENZOIC acids bring relief to cases of arthritis and rheumatism

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

with rapid and intensive antibacterial effect

Biotexin (novobiocin sodium Glaxo) is the antibiotic that will deliver an overwhelming knock-out blow even to 'last-ditch' resisters.

Given by mouth, well absorbed and well tolerated, it produces high, sustained and selective antibacterial activity in the blood more rapidly than any other oral antibiotic.

Biotexin can be successfully used in the treatment of septicaemia, staphylococcal enterocolitis, infections of the soft tissues and other conditions that may be caused by staphylococci.

EMERGENCIES IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal
470 Pages (cloth bound), with full index

This book deals with medical emergencies in a wide sense; acute clinical emergencies requiring prompt and skilful treatment; conditions such as faints and fits and giddy turns, the careful elucidation of which may mean the difference to a patient between a life of activity and one of restriction; acute psychiatric states; accidents of treatment, such as dangerous reactions to drugs or collapse during anaesthesia; and emergency calls when the doctor is isolated, as on a ship.

It comprises 57 specially commissioned articles which appeared originally in the British Medical Journal.

The author of each is an acknowledged authority. This collection, now revised by the authors, will be of value not only to general practitioners but also to senior students, house-physicians, house-surgeons, and to those supervising their work in hospitals.

Treatment by Compression

In the treatment of leg ulcers, or for support of varicose veins in those cases where operative procedures or supplementary injections are undesirable, the veins can be assisted in their normal function by the pressure of an Elastoplast elastic adhesive bandage (Porous). It is essential to have firm compression, but the usual crepe bandage or elastic stocking does not afford sufficient support. The remarkable stretch and regain properties of Elastoplast ensure constant and correct compression.

Elastoplast elastic adhesive bandages (Porous) are available in 3-yard lengths, 5 to 6 yards stretched, and 2", 2½", 3" and 4" widths. Prescribable on form E.C.10.

In the compression treatment of leg ulcers, the limb should be covered with strips of Elastoplast, and an Elastoplast bandage applied from toes to knee as shown. To absorb discharge, holes should be cut in the bandage overlying the ulcer. An absorbent pad is held in place on the outside of the bandaged leg, so that it can be changed without disturbing the underlying bandage.

Restoring the balanced gut flora

ENPAC is a new and unique preparation of antibiotic-resistant strains of Lactobacillus acidophilus in a vehicle of the vital growth factors necessary for the strains to become established and multiply in the human gut. When administered during oral antibiotic therapy, these strains replace the intestinal strains of L. acidophilus, and an important part of the bacterial flora is maintained intact. There is substantial evidence which has proved that ENPAC can also be highly beneficial in certain intestinal disorders.

Extract from Lancet article on clinical trials at Bristol :

ENPAC is prescribable on Form E.C.10. Basic N.H.S. Price 14/5 per 60 gramme tin.

"It was found that the staphylococci increased in both groups at the beginning of antibiotic therapy. Staphylococci continued to increase in the patients taking the antibiotic alone, but in those taking Enpac there was a pronounced drop in numbers following the initial rise. Simultaneously, in this latter group the lactobacilli were rapidly established and continued to multiply. This followed the elimination of the normally non-resistant lactobacilli by the antibiotic during the early days of treatment." (Lancet, 1957, i, 899)

provides milk-alkali drip therapy without a tube

Maintains continuous control of gastric acidity

Until a few years ago, maintained continuous control of gastric acidity was impossible without hospitalization and discomfort to the patient.

Then a unique treatment in the form of Nulacin tablets was evolved to achieve this desirable state—simply, effectively and without attendant disadvantages. In the ensuing period Nulacin therapy has been amply tried and proved by numerous clinical studies and by therapeutic use in many countries.

A Nulacin tablet placed in the mouth between the cheek and the gum dissolves slowly and releases its contained medicaments at a rate that gives continuous neutralization of the acid gastric juice. Nulacin accomplishes this without any danger of causing alkalosis or other side-effects. The results are comparable with those of intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy.

INDICATIONS: NULACIN tablets are indicated whenever neutralization of the acid gastric contents is required: in active and quiescent peptic ulcer, gastritis and other conditions of gastric hyperacidity.

Dosage: Beginning half-an-hour after food, a Nulacin tablet should be placed in the mouth between the cheek and the gum and allowed to dissolve.

During the stage of ulcer activity, up to three tablets an hour may be required. During quiescent periods, for prophylaxis in peptic ulcer and for the relief of discomfort due to gastric hyperacidity, the dose of Nulacin is one or two tablets between meals.

NULACIN tablets are not advertised to the public and have no B.P. equivalent. They may be prescribed on E.C.10. The dispensing unit of 25 tablets is free of purchase tax. (Basic price to N.H.S. . . . 2/-). Also available in tubes of 12.

NULACIN tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrans and maltose, and incorporate magnesium trisilicate 3.5 grs.; magnesium oxide 2.0 grs.; calcium carbonate 2.0 grs.; magnesium carbonate 0.5 grs.; Ol. Menth. Pip. q.s.

GASTRIC ANALYSIS Superimposed gruel fractional test-meal curves of five cases of duodenal ulcer.

TRIAMCINOLONE (9 ALPHA-FLUORO-16 ALPHA-HYDROXYPREDNISOLONE)

a new, superior corticosteroid of great promise

LEDERCORT is an achievement of Lederle corticosteroid research—created to minimise the major deterrents to all previous steroid therapy. It offers increased potency for greater clinical effectiveness; reduced dosage and the distinct advantage of fewer side effects.

LEDERCORT represents a new HIGH in anti-inflammatory effects with a lower dosage that averages $\frac{1}{3}$ less than prednisone. LEDERCORT offers a new LOW in the collateral hormonal effects associated with all previous corticosteroids since it causes: no oedema, no hypertension, no psychosis, no weight gain or potassium depletion.

Because of its reduced dosage, there is a lower incidence of other side effects such as peptic ulcer, osteoporosis, epigastric distress, diabetic state, Cushingoid "obesity".

LEDERCORT provides prolonged therapy at less cost with easier patient management.

Today, more and more Hospital Milk Kitchens are using Carnation for preparing babies' feeds. This significant development is directly related to the outstanding success Carnation has achieved over the whole range of infant feeding. You can trust Carnation absolutely because every tin is sterilised after it has been filled and sealed.

"IMPROVED THERAPY FOR PEPTIC ULCER"

Extract from the American Journal of Gastroenterology, (1957) 28, 439.

"The medication investigated is known as Roter tablets . . . The dosage employed in the treatment of gastric or duodenal ulcer was 2 tablets, taken three times a day with tepid water immediately after meals . . . this therapy is applicable to ambulatory patients."

SUMMARY

"In a series of 155 cases of peptic ulcer treated with . . . (Roter) tablets for three to six weeks, there was immediate relief of pain in 92 per cent of cases and roentgenological healing of the ulcer in 81 per cent. The average weight gain was 7.9 lbs. and occult blood disappeared from the stools in all of the six cases in which it was found.

"The benefit provided by the medication is attributed to the minute particulation of the bismuth subnitrate, produced by a special process of trituration in association with a synergistic antacid combination.

"The special features of this medication are immediate and prolonged relief of pain, correction of gastric hyperacidity, absence of side reactions, effectiveness for ambulatory patients, and early healing of the ulcer in most cases.

Timothy can be a terror. Even his parents admit there are occasions when he can be difficult. They fully expected trouble over taking his medicine, for example, that last time he had tonsillitis. But they needn't have worried for, as their doctor had assured them, Tim didn't mind taking a teaspoonful of Penidural Oral Suspension every six hours for a week. Palatability is one reason why their doctor prescribes Penidural for such patients, but what he doesn't tell them is that he prescribes Penidural mainly because it is a reliable, long-lasting oral penicillin which has been clinically proven in over a million cases.

HIVE OF ACTIVITY?

An impressive array of equipment on every hand—yet scarcely a man in sight! Such is the first impression of many a visitor to the British production plant of the Roussel Group; and it is here that every stage in the synthesis of cortisone is carried through. Yet behind the scenes—in the pre-production departments, the control laboratories and the service units—the human element has a vital part to play. For only with a wealth of planning

... with rigid analytical control ... with skilful co-ordination of the team's productive resources, can the many complex processes involved in the manufacture of cortisone be brought to a successful conclusion. Week by week, month by month, production of the corticosteroid drugs continues to mount—keeping pace with fast-growing demand in Britain and overseas for Cortisyl, HydroCortisyl, DeCortisyl and PreCortisyl.

Why suspension Chloromycetin Palmitate?

Because the use of an insoluble Palmitate ester of Chloromycetin* overcomes the problem of administering the bitter-tasting parent antibiotic to children who cannot swallow capsules. The palatable suspension evolved provides easy and flexible dosage and readily permits hydrolysis in the alimentary tract to release pure Chloromycetin. With these advantages Suspension Chloromycetin Palmitate is of exceptional value in the treatment of many serious respiratory and gastro-intestinal infections.

Effective Penetration of the Intact Skin

Vascutonex Cream

A TOPICAL SALICYLATE THERAPY WHICH INCORPORATES TWO ESSENTIAL FACTORS

Effective skin penetration

Effective absorption into lipid tissue

The first factor is provided by diethylamine salicylate which has been shown to have an absorption rate 300-500 times greater than methyl salicylate.*

The second factor is Glycol salicylate which has been shown to have a remarkable affinity for lipid tissue ensuring a deposit of salicylate ions, the slow release of which prolongs the action of the quicker acting diethylamine salicylate.

The local effect of these salicylates is to begin their therapeutic action at the site of the lesion. By plain incunction, about 80% of the salicylate content of the cream is taken up into the body and about 60% is excreted in the urine.

VASCUTONEX is non-staining, odourless, and contains no counter-irritants—its therapeutic action depending entirely on the effective absorption and anti-rheumatic action of the salicylates in the formula.

INDICATIONS: Fibrositis and pain associated with muscular and articular rheumatism and all soft tissue pain.

Treatment of DIABETES MELLITUS without injections

Rastinon «Hoechst» tablets provide an oral treatment for certain diabetic patients.

EFFECTIVE A number of patients on small regular doses of insulin have been found to be suitable for treatment with Rastinon «Hoechst» tablets. Clinical work throughout the world has shown that approximately a quarter of all diabetics can be stabilized on Rastinon «Hoechst» tablets. A few of the more recent references to the literature are given opposite.

SAFE The selection and stabilization of diabetic patients should be carried out under strict medical supervision. For those patients found to be suitable, Rastinon «Hoechst» tablets provide a safe form of therapy and many have now been on oral treatment for two years. No cases of proven dyshaemopoiesis or other serious side-effects due to the drug have been reported.

SIMPLE From 2 to 4 tablets a day are normally all that is required to replace the insulin with its concomitant syringe, needles, swabs, and often nursing assistance as well. The normal regime of urine examination and dietary control remains necessary.

Packs: bottles of 100 and 500 tablets.

The basic price to the National Health Service as dispensed from a 500 tablet bottle is 2.97d per tablet and the total cost to the National Health Service, with all allowances, is less than 4d per tablet.

Each tablet contains 0.5 G. of N-Butyl-N'-toluene-p-sulphonylurea; (Tolbutamide).

'RAUWILOID'

is essential for Hypertension

'Rauwiloid', a purified and standardised fraction of Rauwolfia serpentina alkaloids, can be considered a basic treatment for hypertension. It lowers blood pressure more effectively than phenobarbitone or its combinations with theobromine and is less likely to cause depression than reserpine.

IMPORTANT

'Rauwiloid' may require more than a week for a significant anti-hypertensive effect to develop. Any previous treatment, particularly barbiturate, should be gradually reduced over this period.

In Mild to Moderate Hypertension

In most cases 'Rauwiloid' will provide adequate control by itself. Combination therapy is not necessary.

In Moderate to Severe Hypertension

When a greater hypotensive effect is required, 'Rauwiloid' should be combined with veratrum in the form of 'Rauwiloid + Veriloid'. 'Veriloid' is a biologically standardised alkaloidal extract of Veratrum viride. Such a combination with 'Rauwiloid' enables adequate doses of veratrum to be given for a satisfactory hypotensive response.
(See detailed literature).

In Severe or Malignant Hypertension

'Rauwiloid' used in conjunction with ganglionic blocking agents enables a smaller dose of the more potent medicament to be used, thereby minimising side-effects and decreasing the tendency for tolerance to develop.

'Rauwiloid' is available in 2 mg. tablets in bottles of 60 and 500.
Dosage, two tablets at night.

'Rauwiloid' and 'Veriloid' are registered trade marks

Since its introduction over two years ago, 'DAPTAZOLE' Brand of Amiphenazole has become firmly established as an adjunct to morphine in the treatment of intractable pain.

'DAPTAZOLE' does not appreciably diminish the analgesic action of morphine, but shows a marked and lasting antagonism to the respiratory and narcotic depression.

A report on 'DAPTAZOLE' concerns the treatment of 127 cases of the terminal stages of carcinoma with severely painful lesions. Large doses of morphine were given with 'DAPTAZOLE' and total relief of the pain was achieved in almost all cases.

'DAPTAZOLE' for concurrent use with morphine is available in the following packs :

'DAPTAZOLE' for Injection

'Mysoline' is convincingly effective in the treatment of grand mal and psychomotor types of epilepsy. It is also frequently of help to patients with petit mal. 'Mysoline' not only reduces the frequency and severity of attacks, but it also produces a marked sense of well-being. For these reasons it is often advantageous to use 'Mysoline' in cases already controlled by other drugs, but in which a heightened interest and improvement in performance is desirable. The drug can be used alone or in conjunction with other anticonvulsants.

Children usually tolerate 'Mysoline' well. To facilitate its administration in children, the drug is available as a pleasantly flavoured Oral Suspension in addition to 0.25 G. Tablets.

The Oral Suspension contains 0.25 gramme 'Mysoline' in each fluid drachm (3.5 ml.) and is available in bottles of 100 ml. and 500 ml.

Better relief for Arthritics—minimum side effects

In salicylate therapy BUFFERIN (Antacid Analgesic) has these two special advantages. It is faster-acting—twice as fast as ordinary aspirin. It is better-tolerated—even in large doses, as for arthritis.

According to a British survey, as many as 42% of arthritics are intolerant to aspirin. And in a blind trial among arthritics with a proved intolerance to aspirin, 70% had no gastric symptoms after taking large doses of BUFFERIN over periods of 4 to 16 months. (1)

In clinical tests, it was shown that BUFFERIN raises the salicylate blood level of humans more than 20% higher in ten minutes than ordinary aspirin does in twenty minutes.

Hence the importance of BUFFERIN in all salicylate therapy. Only BUFFERIN contains the antacid agents which:—

- ★reduce gastric upset to a negligible minimum (2) (3);
- ★actually speed the pain-relieving ingredient into the bloodstream (4) (5).

It acts faster. It is better tolerated. It contains no sodium.

Gratifying results are obtained in the management of congestive heart failure by the use of Mersalyl B.D.H. The symptoms due to the increase of extracellular fluid are relieved, the patient becomes ambulatory and the duration of decompensation crises is shortened.

MERSALYL B.D.H. is indicated not only for its curative action but also as a prophylactic as soon as there is any sign of extracellular fluid, increase of weight, 'cardiac asthma' or pulmonary congestion in order to prevent the onset of severe pulmonary oedema. This prophylactic use of Mersalyl B.D.H. ensures that nocturnal rest is obtained and considerably reduces the risk of the development of a decompensation crisis with general oedema.

have pronounced advantages over either medicament alone.

The established germicidal, stimulating and anti-pruritic properties of tar, in the treatment of sub-acute and refractory skin affections, can now be considerably enhanced by its incorporation with hydrocortisone.

Clinical trials have shown that the two medicaments together exert a powerful synergistic action that is far more rapid, more pronounced and complete than the action of either alone. These two valuable therapeutic agents are presented in a non-greasy, stainless, hydrophilic cream, known as TARCORTIN.

TARCORTIN CREAM is supplied in 7 gm. and 15 gm. tubes, containing 0.5% Hydrocortisone in a special coal-tar extract. ★ Literature available on request.

yeast extract

contains

Riboflavin (vitamin B₂) 1.5 mg. per oz.
Niacin (nicotinic acid) 16.5 mg. per oz.

in Restricted Diets

In the dietary control of obesity, diabetes or other conditions a reduced intake of vitamins may lead to complications. Addition of Marmite to these restricted diets supplements their content of B vitamins and adds flavour to meals which are apt to be dull and uninteresting.

in Preventive Medicine

The prominent part played by diet in preventive medicine is now fully recognised. A well-balanced diet can contribute markedly to general good health and, conversely, a faulty diet can precipitate illness and hinder recovery. Marmite is a useful protective food providing the important B vitamins in a convenient and appetising form.
