

Ship-board Secretarial Service offered by Cunard is a boon to the businessman travelling to and from U.S.A. and Canada. It is a time-saver enabling him to prepare reports or memoranda during the voyage, and a return to his desk with a free mind to tackle current work.

The services of public stenographers are available. Dictaphone machines are also available; the memobelts can be transcribed on board by the ship's stenographers or air-mailed to your office for transcription, all at moderate cost. For those who wish to do some typing themselves, portables are carried in all Cunarders for passengers' use.

And when you've finished you have time to relax on board ship.

In a trial of 'Stelazine' conducted in sixty chronic schizophrenics who had been ill for 1—32 years, 'improvement became noticeable approximately ten days after commencement of treatment. # balanced progress

in underweight infants

Individual case histories are underlining the findings of the British investigators whose work has given such impetus to the acceptance of evaporated milk for infant feeding <sup>1-4</sup>. Of particular interest are such cases as the one detailed here, where a seriously underweight six-weeks' baby needed, above all else, a formula that would promote sensibly balanced progress to a weight/age ratio within normal limits.

The debilitated patient, whether recovering from severe illness or operation or suffering from a chronic disease, is greatly benefited by the addition of nutritionally generous supplements of vitamins of the B complex and ascorbic acid. Such patients often need also mild sedation.

A combination of the necessary vitamins with a relatively low dose of phenobarbitone is now available as Tropenol.

INDICATIONS

- (1) Anxiety states with restlessness, especially associated with hypertension, alcoholic withdrawal or peptic ulcer.
- (2) Progressive illness in which insomnia is associated with a need for the greatest nutritional support—e.g. congestive heart disease, cachectic states.
- (3) During convalescence, to speed recovery by promoting good appetite and a quiet frame of mind associated with nutritional adequacy.
- (4) Insomnia not induced by pain.

In designing the formula, it was necessary to bear in mind the known antagonism between barbiturates and the vitamins of the B complex, together with the theoretical possibility that the effects might cancel each other out. But preliminary trials have shown that on account of the varying speeds of action and other factors not fully understood, the combination is clinically effective.

The esters of NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC and p-AMINO BENZOIC acids bring relief to cases of arthritis and rheumatism

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

EMERGENCIES IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal

470 Pages, cloth bound,
with full index

PRICE 25s. net

by post : inland and overseas 26s. 9d.

This book deals with medical emergencies in a wide sense : acute clinical emergencies requiring prompt and skilful treatment ; conditions such as faints and fits and giddy turns, the careful elucidation of which may mean the difference to a patient between a life of activity and one of restriction ; acute psychiatric states ; accidents of treatment, such as dangerous reactions to drugs or collapse during anaesthesia ; and emergency calls when the doctor is isolated, as on a ship.

It comprises 57 specially commissioned articles which appeared originally in the British Medical Journal.

The author of each is an acknowledged authority. This collection, now revised by the authors, will be of value not only to general practitioners but also to senior students, house-physicians, house-surgeons, and to those supervising their work in hospitals.

An effective pattern of protection . .

The increasing use of inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary—such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless carriers—a vigorous health education programme . . . directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene . . . coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.'<sup>1</sup>

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active chemical disinfectants.'<sup>2</sup>

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.'<sup>3</sup>

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands of children, should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

(b) For the disinfection and cleaning of dishes, floors, kitchen surfaces, sinks, etc.

(c) For safeguarding against the infection of food by bluebottles, flies, vermin.

(d) For the disinfection of yards, paths, etc.

(e) For the disinfection and cleaning of clogged drains.

Successful candidates may be posted to any station in Uganda to carry out general medical and surgical duties, including a varying amount of public health administration, prevention of communicable diseases, maternity and child welfare, school medical work and training of subordinate African medical staff. In most stations, even if remote from larger towns, it is possible to maintain interest in any particular branch of medicine or surgery to which officer is attracted. Work is usually based on a district hospital which may vary in size from a comparatively small hospital meeting the needs of a backward community to a large hospital with modern facilities where specialization in the different branches of medicine, surgery, and obstetrics is possible. "R" practitioners—i.e., practitioners liable for call-up under the National Service Acts—may apply to be considered and, if appointed, will be granted indefinite deferment of call-up on completion of a minimum tour of two years.

MEDICAL OFFICERS

(Special Grade) for duties in one of the larger hospitals. Candidates must possess either F.R.C.S., F.F.A., M.R.C.P., or equivalent approved higher qualification. The selected officers' duties will be primarily in their speciality, but they must be prepared to teach students or junior members of the staff and to accept certain general and administrative duties should circumstances require it.

Appointments can be on permanent basis, subject to two years' probation, with pension (non-contributory) at rate of 1/600th of the final pensionable emoluments for each month of reckonable service, or on contract with gratuity (taxable) of 13½% of total salary drawn (not including allowances), payable on satisfactory completion of service. Candidates from National Health Service may retain superannuation rights up to six years and receive gratuity (taxable) of 20% of their salary after engagements.

Salary for Medical Officers ranges from £1,284 to £2,115 a year, and Medical Officers (Special Grade) from £1,503 to £2,115 a year, starting points in both scales determined by experience. Four increments are granted to officers appointed on contract terms.

Quarters usually available at rental varying from £21 to £78: hard furniture at a rate of £12 to £24.

Free return passages up to four adult tourist class air fares (or three sea passages) in any one tour of 30-36 months. Taxation at local rates. Local leave permissible: generous home leave after each tour. Primary educational facilities available in all the larger stations. Education subsidies are payable to officers, which vary from £90 a year (or half the school fees, whichever is less), for primary education for first child, to £140 a year (or three-fifths of school fees, whichever is less) for secondary education for each of second and subsequent children.
