the HIGH PEAK oral penicillin

BROXIL produces a greater concentration of antibiotic in the blood after oral administration than any other oral penicillin. It produces blood level peaks two to three times as high as those following oral potassium penicillin V, and at least equal to those following intramuscular injections of penicillin G.

BROXIL has an antibiotic spectrum similar to other forms of penicillin.

BROXIL is the first of the new antibiotics prepared from the penicillin "nucleus" — 6-aminopenicillanic acid — isolated in the Beecham Research Laboratories.

Tofranil® Geigy Thymoleptic
A major breakthrough in the treatment of depression

Thymoleptic

The mode of action of Tofranil differs from that of all previous drugs used in the treatment of depression. To describe the specific action that Tofranil exerts on the depressive syndrome a new classification has been introduced—thymoleptic or "mood-regulating" drugs. Tofranil is neither a stimulant nor a tranquillizer but modifies the basic processes of the depressive illness.

Tofranil

Tofranil, the first thymoleptic, is the result of many years experimental research and clinical investigation. Tofranil is capable of replacing E.C.T., affording a basic advantage for the "intellectual" patient where possible loss of memory or confusion would be particularly undesirable.¹

Melancholia

Tofranil is specific for endogenous depression; reactive depression, and depression associated with other psychiatric states have also shown a high degree of therapeutic response. The main features of the depressive syndrome are characterized by: Tiredness; Heaviness of the limbs; Feeling of oppression; Retardation; Inhibition; all these features together being worse in the morning and slightly better at night.

Clinical results

In this country clinical evaluation of Tofranil and widespread practical experience resulting from the treatment of over 100,000 individual diagnosed depressive patients have confirmed the 60–70% success rate reported by earlier workers.

A controlled trial¹ found Tofranil to be therapeutically effective in 74% of patients suffering from endogenous depression and in 59% of patients with reactive depression.

DOSAGE

Average adult dose:
for insomnia—2 tablets;
up to 4 tablets may be taken in severe cases.
For general sedation—
1 tablet every 6 to 8 hours.

Nebrinal is a balanced combination of muscle-relaxant mephensin and intermediate-acting pentobarbitone, presented in the form of specially designed 'timed-release' tablets to provide 'tapered' dosage.

The outer layer of the tablet rapidly releases about two-thirds of the two drugs to induce relaxation and sleep; the balance of the drugs is released from the inner core 3 to 4 hours later to sustain relaxed sleep on a reduced dosage.

The amount of barbiturate to be in-activated at any one time is thus kept low.

Nebrinal provides:

"BARBITURATE DEATHS INCREASING"

Under this warning headline the British Medical Journal, in an editorial of October 17th 1959, draws attention to the increasing number of deaths by poisoning, once again emphasising "that barbiturates are the most prominent group of drugs causing these deaths." How great the increase has been in recent years can be seen from the latest available figures, which show that 75% of suicidal deaths due to drugs and 80% of all accidental deaths by poisoning are caused by barbiturates. From these facts it is evident, the article concludes, that the barbiturates present a hazard that the existing precautions against overdosing have not overcome and that "the increasing number of these deaths would suggest that something more is needed."

A SAFE ALTERNATIVE

A letter to the British Medical Journal (October 3rd 1959) from a General Practitioner, suggests that the new non-barbituric drug 'Distaval' seems to be "a satisfactory sedative and hypnotic in many patients" and that its use "might go a long way towards reducing the present annual mortality from overdoses of the central nervous system depressants currently prescribed." In support of this view the writer gives the following case history:

A 70-year-old man, suffering from insomnia associated with mild senile dementia, took twenty-one 100 mg. tablets by mistake. No specific treatment was given, there was no vomiting or evidence of respiratory or cardiac depression. After 12 hours apparently normal sleep the patient woke up, remaining a little drowsy for a further 24 hours.

Since the introduction of 'Distaval' two years ago a number of reports have been received of cases of gross overdosing with similarly harmless results. On the other hand, no severe toxic effects of any kind have been reported.

... it’s quite important to remember the difference between the two. Globin insulin contains a foreign protein, globin, to modify the action of the insulin, whereas I.Z.S. contains no protein or peptide, other than the insulin itself. Let me stress once again, gentlemen, that the prolonged effect of I.Z.S. depends entirely on the appropriate adjustment of the particle size of the zinc insulin compound. It is because the effect of I.Z.S. is independent of any modifying protein, that allergic reactions following its use are practically unknown. That is precisely why I.Z.S. is so suitable as the single daily injection of insulin in about 90 per cent. of diabetic patients. Any other questions ?”

natural sleep

MELSEDIN—methaqualone hydrochloride—is a new non-barbiturate hypnotic which produces natural sleep and is often effective where other hypnotics have failed. Melsedin is of low toxicity, quick-acting—within 15-30 minutes—and its effect lasts for 6-8 hours. Side-effects are negligible; rapid excretion obviates cumulative effects, and neither tolerance nor addiction has been demonstrated in Melsedin therapy.

Melsedin is an entirely new product chemically unrelated to all other hypnotics. It is the ideal alternative to barbiturates in the treatment of insomnia.

DOSEAGE: A dose of 150 mg. 15-30 minutes before retiring will usually be sufficient. In some cases, a dose of 300 mg. may be necessary at first, reducing later as the condition responds.

● FREE FROM THE DISADVANTAGES OF

High tolerance is the most important factor in the replacement of iron in the anaemic patient. By prescribing FERROMYN (Ferrous Succinate) the physician is well insured against risks of nausea and other symptoms of intolerance to iron.

The mild atoxic action of FERROMYN permits maximum absorption and utilisation of the readily available iron, and produces a haemoglobin response which quickly becomes evident in the clinical improvement of the patient.

Whether the physician prefers to administer iron in tablet, capsule, or liquid form, all three are available in the FERROMYN range.

Providing these outstanding advantages :

(i) disintegration is rapid (ii) intolerance is low (iii) haemoglobin response is 1%–2% per day.

Patients' preference ...

Why has Lucozade a very special attraction for the patient? The answer lies in its remarkably refreshing flavour and fragrance, qualities that baffle precise description. The colour, the sparkle and the glucose content ensure equally its recommendation by the doctor and its ready acceptance by the patient.

Lucozade is lightly carbonated with an attractive golden colour and a pleasant citrus flavour. It contains 23.5% w/v Liquid Glucose and its energy value is 21 Calories per fluid ounce. It is supplied in 6 oz. and 26 oz. bottles.

LUCOZADE

Rapid relief this winter for CHILBLAINS & COUGHS

ADAPRIN

Tablets for Chilblains

Among predisposing factors to chilblains are assumed to be defective peripheral circulation and diminished coagulability of the blood.

Each Adaprin tablet contains nicotinamide (50 mg.) and acetomenaphthone (10 mg.) as the logical drugs to counteract these defects. Nicotinamide is preferred to nicotinic acid because of the unpleasant symptoms of rapid vasodilatation associated with the latter compound. Adaprin is non-toxic and may safely be given to children and adults for long periods for prevention. Relief from existing chilblains may be expected in a few days. In containers of 25, 100 and 500 tablets.

PAVACOL

Syrup & Pastilles for Coughs

Pavacol Syrup. In the improved formula, each 100 ml. contains: Papaverine hydrochloride, 0.02 g. Pholcodine, 0.1 g. B.P.C. Balsam of Tolu, 0.045 g. Oil of clove, 0.02 g. Tincture of ginger, 0.10 ml. Oil of aniseed, 0.007 g. Tincture of capsicum, 0.40 ml. Oil of peppermint, 0.02 g. Glycerine, 10.00 ml. Alcohol, 1.10 ml. Chloroform, 0.25 ml. Theriaca, 45.00 g. Papaverine relaxes the bronchi by direct action. Pholcodine—the new ingredient—is a central cough suppressant, as effective as heroin (diamorphine) but with none of its disadvantages, and much less toxic even than codeine. In bottles of 4, 16 and 80 ounces. Pavacol Diabetic Syrup also available.

Pavacol Pastilles—contain the powerful, wide-range, quaternary ammonium antiseptic, Octaphen, together with the antitussive compounds, papaverine and codeine, and the demulcents and volatile oils present in Pavacol Syrup. For the prophylaxis and treatment of bacterial and fungal infections of the mouth and throat—and for symptomatic treatment of cough. In tins of 24 pastilles.

RASTINON

PROVIDES COMPLETE ORAL CONTROL
—self-administration is no problem

THE ELDERLY DIABETIC PATIENT with a tremor may experience difficulty with self-administered injections of insulin.

It is reassuring to know that a large number of these patients* can now be controlled orally with RASTINON (tolbutamide)—without problems of self-administration, and without risk of hypoglycaemia.

In patients in whom maintenance dosage has been established, RASTINON lowers the blood sugar to normal levels but almost never beyond that point, regardless of dosage. RASTINON is a true euglycaemic agent.

In many cases, one tablet by mouth once or twice a day is all that is necessary for maintenance. Rapid excretion precludes cumulative effects. No cases of dyshaemopoiesis, jaundice, or other serious side-effects have been reported.

* Over 1,250,000 diabetics all over the world owe their well-being to RASTINON.
The rate of response increases steeply with advancing age.

FOR GERIATRIC PATIENTS safe, comfortable, effective HERNIAL SUPPORT

Because each Spencer Support is designed to order to meet the patient's individual needs, results are demonstrably superior.

The patient shown on left, aged 74, developed a left ventral hernia following surgery fourteen years previously. A left inguinal hernia resulted from the long wearing of a cast following a hip injury 3 years ago. "Stock" supports proved ineffective. A Spencer Support as shown was prescribed with excellent results. Her Spencer gives safe, comfortable and effective control of the hernias—improves and maintains posture—protects and supports the weak muscles of old age. With the aid of her Spencer, the patient runs her household, does all her own work, and—as she says—still has time "to enjoy life."
