A C E T A Z O L A M I D E

Of all the applications of DIAMOX acetazolamide, few are more welcomed in clinical practice than is its value in epilepsy. Freedom from epileptic seizures has been observed in numerous cases of grand and petit mal following treatment with DIAMOX. The drug has shown an unusually beneficial effect on resistant cases of petit mal. It is effective when used alone and of particular value when used in combination with the usual anticonvulsants. Highly versatile, DIAMOX has long been recognised for its value in other conditions including cardiac oedema, glaucoma, premenstrual tension, toxæmias and oedema of pregnancy, drug-induced oedema, etc.

the HIGH PEAK oral penicillin

BROXIL produces a greater concentration of antibiotic in the blood after oral administration than any other oral penicillin. It produces blood level peaks two to three times as high as those following oral potassium penicillin V, and at least equal to those following intramuscular injections of penicillin G.

BROXIL has an antibiotic spectrum similar to other forms of penicillin.

BROXIL is the first of the new antibiotics prepared from the penicillin "nucleus" — 6-aminopenicillanic acid — isolated in the Beecham Research Laboratories.

LEDERLE LABORATORIES a division of CYANAMID OF GREAT BRITAIN LTD. London W.C.2

LEDERMYCIN Demethylchlortetracycline is an "extra active" high-ratio antibiotic derived from a strain of Streptomyces aureofaciens (the organism from which AUREOMYCIN †Chlortetracycline and ACHROMYCINTetracycline originate) but with properties which set it way above other tetracyclines. As well as exerting the unsurpassed broad-spectrum action of tetracycline, LEDERMYCIN Demethylchlortetracycline achieves far more intensive, far more prolonged activity, with far less antibiotic. Its markedly lower renal clearance rate, together with its higher stability, has the effect of prolonging its powerful antibacterial action for 24-48 hours after the drug is withdrawn.

HIGHEST RATIO of peak activity to daily intake of any known broad-spectrum antibiotic.

HIGHEST RATIO of sustained activity to dosage—giving "extra day" activity and protection against resurgence of primary infection or relapse with secondary invasion, after withdrawal.

HIGHEST RATIO of stability in body media to dosage bringing an even higher standard of consistency to the therapy.

Deep skin penetration in Arthritis and Rheumatism

NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC AND
p-AMINO BENZOIC ACIDS in Ester form

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

cachet taking made easy

why the cachet

The TB patient does not like taking PAS. He will take his INAH conscientiously, but is likely to 'forget' to take the uncomfortably large and unpleasant quantities of PAS necessary. To overcome this problem, the two drugs are often presented together in one cachet or packet.

At first sight the cachet seems a formidable thing to swallow. It is about an inch across and appears to be rigid. But soak it in water for 20 seconds; it becomes soft and is easily swallowed like an oyster. Many patients have difficulty with their cachets because they do not soak the cachet long enough.

how to swallow cachets

The method usually suggested is to hold the cachet between the fingers, dip it into water and place it on the back of the tongue. Wash it down with a drink of water or milk.

An improvement of this technique is to drop the full dose of cachets into two-thirds of a glass of water, milk, fruit-juice, etc. Leave them for a few seconds to soften, and then lift out on a spoon one by one with some of the liquid and swallow. The cachets should be taken preferably immediately after food.

PYCAMISAN B.D. is the special new presentation of cachets of PAS and INAH in tubes of 8 for one day's supply. It is specially designed for twice-daily dosage eliminating the awkward mid-day dose, and the tube is marked 'morning' and 'evening' to help the patient remember his doses. The total daily dose is 12 grammes PAS and 300 mg. INAH.

an improved

antacid preparation

'ALMACARB' tablets are prepared from an aluminium hydroxide-magnesium carbonate co-dried gel manufactured by an entirely new process (Brit. Pat. 812503). The result is a product of exceptional stability with a more rapid and prolonged acid-neutralising action than that of dried aluminium hydroxide gel either alone or in mechanical admixture with magnesium carbonate. 'ALMACARB' tablets sucked at regular intervals will ensure effective control of gastric acidity. Used in this way they are preferable to liquid antacids both for effectiveness and convenience. 'ALMACARB' tablets are unique because there is no loss of neutralising action either on processing or tableting.

DOSAGE

One tablet to be chewed as an initial dose and thereafter one tablet to be sucked slowly at regular intervals.

without causing gastric upset*

The best drug to relieve arthritic pain is undoubtedly aspirin. But it causes gastric upset in as many as 42% of arthritic patients. (British Medical Journal 1954, 1 : 1223.) Hence the need for BUFFERIN.

BUFFERIN has two antacid ingredients, aluminium glycinate and magnesium carbonate, which prevent gastric distress, even when taken in massive doses as for arthritis. A clinical investigation carried out at the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in Boston, showed that 70% of arthritics who had a proved intolerance to straight aspirin were able to take BUFFERIN without gastric distress. *(Bufferin in the Management of Rheumatoid Arthritis, J.A.M.A. 158 : 386 (June 4), 1955.)

BUFFERIN has no equivalent in the B.P. or National Formulary and is prescribable on E.C.10's.

The modern surgical dressing OCTAFLEX

Antiseptic—Waterproof—Vapour-Permeable—Flexible

a plasticised acrylic resin dissolved in ethyl acetate and alcohol, antiseptic— β -p-tert.-octylphenoxyethyl diethylbenzyl ammonium chloride (Octaphen)—1% in dried film.

As a postoperative dressing Octaflex prevents bacteria reaching the wound incision. Once applied it is left until the skin has healed. Instead of frequent changes of bulky dressings, occasional applications of more Octaflex, as wear and tear occurs, is all that is needed.

Washing is easy. Patients can bath and the dressing will remain intact, so that any bacteria in the water do not reach the wound.

Although waterproof, Octaflex is vapour-permeable. Thus the underlying skin does not become macerated.

Other uses of Octaflex—as a skin cover before operations on joints; as a protection to the skin around external fistulae and enterostomies; as a dressing for abrasions, burns, bedsores, and chilblains; as a protection against secondary infection of herpes zoster; as dressing for the umbilical stump in the newborn; as a waterproof dressing for chronic perionychia.

IMPORTANT—the skin must be dry and bleeding must have stopped before Octaflex is applied.

—the film must not be touched from the time of application until it is dry.

COGNAC BRANDY AT ITS BEST

From this cartridge are delivered more than 300 million particles of known drugs for topical application
even to the most distal parts of the respiratory tract.

This cartridge

is part of a revolutionary technique of treating respiratory disorders in the most effective way—topically at the site of the disease process.

The technique

The technique depends on manufacturing known drugs as ultra-fine powders and delivering them in this form throughout the respiratory tract.

The principle

For maximum therapeutic effect, the particles must be of a size which ensures that they are deposited evenly per unit area over the entire respiratory tract, as far down as the respiratory bronchioles.

The dose of administered particles is measured by weight. The weight of an individual particle is proportional to the cube of its diameter. Therefore the presence of even a few large particles will account for a much higher proportion of the dose by weight than their numbers would suggest. Very large, heavy particles will not penetrate even to the bronchi and are therapeutically ineffective. Thus, even when a few particles in a dose are above the optimum size the dose will be largely ineffective. Particles must not only be of the correct size, but also uniform within very narrow limits. At least 80% by weight of the particles in these LOMU powders are within the optimum size range of 2-6 μ .

The drugs

The first drugs to which this principle has been applied are isoprenaline sulphate B.P., a proven bronchodilator (LOMUPREN) and pure chymotrypsin, a safe and effective mucolytic (LOMUDASE).

The effect

When Lomupren or Lomudase, in this unique powder form, reaches the site of the disease process, it is deposited on the surface moisture covering the mucous membrane. The particles dissolve instantly on contact. The solution so formed exerts a direct, immediate and powerful therapeutic effect.

Thus, with Lomupren, maximal bronchodilation is obtained with the minute dose of only 0.1 mg. isoprenaline—1/200th the normal sublingual dose—and systemic concentrations at which the usual side-effects might occur are avoided.

Application

One of the obvious applications of these drugs is in chronic bronchitis where bronchospasm and retained viscid mucoid sputum are predominant features. Self administration has been made possible by an ingenious pocket dispenser, the Lomulizer. When the cartridge is placed in the Lomulizer a suitable inspiratory effort ensures that the drug penetrates in a predetermined dose throughout the respiratory tract.

You, the doctor and the Clarks story

Clarks advertising is widespread—in the Press and on Television. Though it is not directed at the medical profession, you have probably seen it in the course of normal reading or viewing. Here we should like to tell you about the thinking which lies behind those advertisements.

Most doctors seem to agree that a large number of the foot ailments suffered by adults are the results of wearing badly fitting shoes in childhood. Clarks have long been concerned with this problem—in fact, we have built up our business in the sincere belief that something ought to be done about it. We have tried to make available well designed and well constructed shoes for growing children. We make these in a choice of widths and in half-sizes, and we try to see to it that they are sold through authorized stockists with fully trained fittings staffs. We feel so strongly about this that we actually train our stockists' staffs in the art of foot-fitting and in the use of the Clarks Foot-gauge. Every Clarks specialist has one of these. This specialised shoe-fitting service is now available in almost every town and city throughout the United Kingdom.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

PROC. ROY. SOC. MED., December, 1958, 51, 1063

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:—

Hastings is one of the nearest places to London that combines a mild climate with complete absence of smog, plus excellent hotels—and the peace and quiet a convalescent needs.

A patient can hardly fail to benefit by (literally) a 'breather' at Hastings. There is, on average, 400 hours more sunshine a year than in London. There are cleverly designed suntrap shelters on the Promenades. And there is a delightfully relaxed feeling about the whole town. As a spot for taking it easy, Hastings is hard to better.

How these stockings
help
the busy Medical
man...

EVERY professional man knows the woman patient who resists advice to take preventive action over leg afflictions... and later, helps to over-crowd his surgery, when her condition becomes painfully serious.

Lastonet Elastic Net Stockings are of great assistance in preventing such occurrences. Their excellent appearance (they are virtually invisible under ordinary nylons)—their exceptional airy-cool comfort, their perfect, made-to-measure individual fit—all recommend them to women who object to wearing ordinary surgical stockings.

New, Light-Resistant Rubber

The recent incorporation of a new, light-resistant rubber in Lastonet lessens perishing, gives longer life and increased retention of fit. A longer lasting stocking reduces frequency of request for prescriptions—and so Lastonet helps reduce your surgery 'queue'—besides economising in N.H.S. prescription costs. Lastonet are available in thigh or knee length.

antihypertensive effect

Ismelin Regd. T.M.

Ismelin is a potent antihypertensive which replaces ganglion blocking agents yet does not produce ganglionic blockade.

Ismelin does not affect the parasympathetic system; constipation, paralytic ileus and dry mouth do not occur.

Please see detailed literature for unique dosage scheme.
