The sound reasoning behind
Lederkyn

Consider . . . LEDERKYN sulphamethoxypyridazine is far more than just another sulpha drug. It offers many distinct advantages over earlier sulphas, including effective therapy at one-eighth the dose, a marked reduction in untoward side effects and sensitivity reactions, improved patient tolerance and, with LEDERKYN, crystalluria is not a problem. One, therefore, reaches the conclusion that LEDERKYN is today's premier sulpha drug in urinary infections, upper respiratory infections, skin conditions, and wherever sulpha therapy is called for.

STANDARDIZED SENNA

SOME SPECIAL

For expectant mothers

"For three years, apart from advice on diet, I have found it unnecessary to prescribe any other laxative than standardized senna ('senokot') . . . The pregnant woman, so difficult to please because of nausea, has a choice with regard to this preparation of chocolate granules or tablets. And she can go on taking it nightly without ill effect."

Extract of letter: Brit. med. J., 1957, ii, 1438

For nursing mothers

"The importance of a standardized preparation of senna . . . is that it provides the means of controlled stimulation of peristalsis in a highly physiological manner . . . A laxative must be entirely safe for both mother and baby and should not adversely affect nutrition or lactation performance or be excreted in breast milk. Standardized senna meets these requirements."

Pharm. J., 1958, 181, 337

For infants and young children

"Bowel dysfunction in infants and young children represents a serious threat to the happiness and wellbeing of both mother and child . . . Carefully graded dosage of standardized senna ('senokot') was found to be of considerable value in the establishment of normal habits . . . Its action is educative, it is easy to give and liked, and it is cheap."

Practitioner, 1959, 183, 732

Granules: 2 oz, 6 oz, 2 lb. Tablets: 50, 100, 200, 1000.

Senokot is half the cost of liquid paraffin and is the most widely prescribed stimulant laxative under the N.H.S.

DEEP SKIN PENETRATION IN ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM

NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC AND p-AMINO BENZOIC ACIDS in Ester form

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilatation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

*Recently publishedClinical Neurology*SIR RUSSELL BRAIN, BT.Physician to The London Hospital and the Maida Vale Hospital for Nervous Diseases*

Although this book has much in common with the author's larger work Diseases of the Nervous System it is not an abridged version of it: it is written with a different aim and a different plan. It is intended particularly for those doctors and students who need to know only the essentials of neurology, but know them thoroughly.

The approach is essentially clinical, the basic anatomy and physiology that are essential for a full understanding of the symptoms and signs of each disorder being presented in concise explanatory sections that precede the clinical descriptions.

An innovation in a clinical book is the use of the new anatomical nomenclature (P.N.A.) adopted at the Sixth International Congress of Anatomists in Paris in 1955 and revised at a similar congress in New York in 1960. With very few exceptions this nomenclature has been used throughout the text and a fairly full glossary has been included at the end of the book for those who are not yet familiar with this nomenclature.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

PROC. ROY. SOC. MED., December, 1958, 51, 1063

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:—

Weight gain and a sense of well-being on

Lysinex

*—the essential amino acid
L-lysine plus the anabolic
compound androstanolone*

The addition of lysine to the diets of debilitated patients has been shown to increase to a marked extent the biological value of the dietary protein and its utilization in the body.

Lysine is easily absorbed and enables the body to build protein. Debilitated patients need lysine to produce a positive change in the nitrogen balance.

The androstanolone content of LYSINEX ensures that full use is made of body protein, for it has a protein-anabolizing, tissue-building action, with no virilizing effect.

Thus, lysine and androstanolone have complementary actions, and their administration as LYSINEX results in:

- return of appetite
- marked increase in weight
- sense of well-being
- normal serum protein levels.

LYSINEX is indicated for old people losing weight; during convalescence; and after major surgery. In short, for all patients in negative nitrogen balance.

Presentation and Price. Each tablet contains 300 mg. L-lysine monohydrochloride and 10 mg. androstanolone in bottles of 25 and 100 at a basic NHS cost of 12/- and 38/- respectively.

advantages

ROTER achieves a high cure rate and often gives effective control of even refractory chronic cases which have resisted other treatments.

ROTER in many cases obviates the need for hospitalization or surgical intervention.

ROTER helps patients to keep ambulant and symptom-free with a minimum of medication and with few, if any, dietary restrictions.

ROTER in general practice enables the physician to take adequate care of his gastric cases without frequent or prolonged supervision.

ROTER has no known side effects.

ROTER requires no supplementary medication such as sedatives or anti-spasmodics.

ROTER shows a saving in cost when compared with conventional methods of treatment.

The treatment of the complications of measles with 'Sulmezil' V

The present increase in the incidence of measles amongst schoolchildren brings with it an increased number of cases with complications.

In patients with complications affecting the respiratory system, particularly broncho-pneumonia, and where there is acute otitis media or sinusitis, 'Sulmezil' V can be prescribed with confidence. 'Sulmezil' V Tablets each contain 60 mg. penicillin V together with 0.5 gramme 'Sulphamezathine' (Sulphadimidine B.P.)—undoubtedly the best sulphonamide for routine use. For children, 'Sulmezil' V Suspension is available in bottles of 2 fl. oz. Each teaspoonful of the suspension contains the same dose of the two drugs as each tablet.

The basic N.H.S. cost of 25 tablets of 'Sulmezil' V is 7/6d. and for 2 fl. oz. of 'Sulmezil' V Suspension it is 6/6d.

When the daily timetable of bowel movement becomes too irregular, your prescription of Petrolagar allows your constipated patients to re-establish a regular habit time for motion, safely and naturally.

Petrolagar is specially prepared as an extremely palatable, stable emulsion of mineral oil, with or without phenolphthalein (gr. 1½). It mixes evenly with the intestinal contents making a bulky, moisture-retaining mass which fills out the lumen and gives a natural urge for the bowel muscles to evacuate the contents. ADAPRIN

Tablets for Chilblains

Among predisposing factors to chilblains are assumed to be defective peripheral circulation and diminished coagulability of the blood.

Each Adaprin tablet contains nicotinamide (50 mg.) and acetomenaphthone (10 mg.) as the logical drugs to counteract these defects. Nicotinamide is preferred to nicotinic acid because of the unpleasant symptoms of rapid vasodilatation associated with the latter compound. Adaprin is non-toxic and may safely be given to children and adults for long periods for prevention. Relief from existing chilblains may be expected in a few days. In containers of 25, 100, and 500 tablets.

PAVACOL

Syrup and Pastilles for Coughs

Pavacol Syrup (Improved Formula)—a distinctively flavoured cough remedy containing papaverine and pholcodine. Papaverine relaxes the bronchi by direct action. Pholcodine, the new ingredient, is a central cough suppressant which is as effective as heroin (diamorphine), but without the disadvantages of that dangerous drug. Pholcodine is much less toxic even than codeine, and it does not cause constipation. Pavacol Syrup and Pavacol Diabetic Syrup are supplied in bottles of 4, 16 and 80 ozs.

Pavacol Pastilles—contain the powerful, wide-range, quaternary ammonium antiseptic, Octaphen, together with the antitussive compounds, papaverine and codeine, and the demulcents and volatile oils present in Pavacol Syrup. For the prophylaxis and treatment of bacterial and fungal infections of the mouth and throat—and for symptomatic treatment of cough. In tins of 24 pastilles.

Do you consider the vehicle when you prescribe steroid therapy with hydrocortisone cream?

Some vehicles have been implicated on grounds of sensitisation risk.

Lacto-Calamine, the excipient in Cortoderm and Cortoderm-N, has an unblemished reputation in this respect.

Soothing, bland, cosmetically acceptable, it also contributes its own anti-inflammatory action to successful treatment of infected and non-infected dermatosis.

'Clinical experience in dermatology indicates that the vehicle employed for topical applications may be as important as, or even more important than, the medicaments they contain.'

who

yacht?

You simply won't need a great big yacht (and all that goes with it) while you're holidaying in Malta. You'll go out to sea in a dghajsa with only the sky for a roof—it's the thing to do. Malta is gay, charming, sincere. Malta is a touch of Spain, a touch of France, of Italy and Tangier. Malta is east and west. Malta is living history—5000 years of it come alive in the silver shadows of the grand palaces of the Knights, the cathedrals, churches, neolithic temples. Malta is a museum of culture—cradle of some of the world's finest paintings, tapestries, sculptures, architecture. Malta is the place to relax in—it's really quite unspoilt. The sky is always blue. The sea is always warm. The sunshine is guaranteed all year round. And there's no sky like Malta's night sky—a glittering shower of festa lights.

THE MEDITERRANEAN'S YOUNGEST RESORT

P.S. If you're got to have your great big yacht (and all that goes with it) you can have that too—a yacht marina will be ready soon. Until then, yachtsmen can use the natural safe harbours available around the island.
