Anabolex

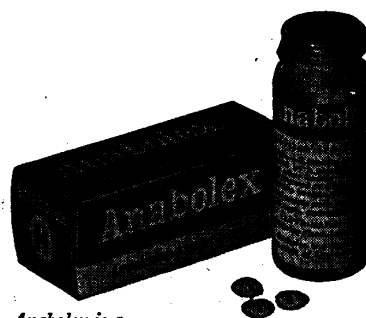

the protein anabolizing, non-virilizing steroid promotes —a return to appetite—an increase in weight—a sense of well-being

PATIENTS who are run down or who are recovering from illness frequently suffer from faulty protein metabolism. They are in negative nitrogen balance. Protein, in effect, is being broken down and lost faster than it is being built up.

Anabolex (androstanolone) restores the physiological balance. Many clinical trials have shown that, following the administration of Anabolex, there is an immediate return of the body's capacity to build up protein. The patient feels better, eats better and gains weight.

Here, then, is a physiological "tonic" with a wide therapeutic range. The weakness, lassitude, lack of energy and interest associated with many pathological states may be rapidly overcome by the administration of Anabolex.

Anabolex can be safely given to patients of all ages and both sexes; in therapeutic doses, its virilizing properties are almost negligible. The only known contra-indication is prostatic carcinoma.

This new presentation of POLYBACTRIN is the result of intensive research into the mechanics of pressure packing antibiotics in powder form. While the formula and potency of POLYBACTRIN remain unchanged, radical modification of the valve mechanism and design of the unit provides several advantages :— positive directional, wide-angle spray gives wider coverage of the area under treatment — all metal container provides additional safety — special valve eliminates impacting of powder and clogging of nozzle.

The use of Polybactrin during surgical procedures is a positive method of inhibiting wound pathogens which may become implanted in the tissues.

a fresh start for the treatment of

ASTHMA

Betnelan
the new anti-inflammatory steroid

The high anti-allergic and anti-inflammatory activity of Betnelan, coupled with its decreased tendency to cause side effects, make it particularly suitable for use with other measures in the treatment of severe asthma. Betnelan is not suggested for milder cases which are adequately controlled by other measures.

PERIODIC ACUTE ATTACK

Betnelan is indicated when the asthma is being kept under reasonable control by conventional treatment but this general state is interrupted by acute attacks. Short-term therapy with Betnelan should control the exacerbation and allow conventional measures to be resumed.

SEVERE ATTACK

In attacks of extreme severity (status asthmaticus) all recognised measures must be taken. Corticosteroid injections (Efcortelan Soluble or Predsol Injection) should be given at least initially, while at the same time oral treatment with Betnelan can be started to maintain control. With no immediate threat to life, Betnelan alone will be found adequate.

SEVERE CHRONIC ASTHMA

When conventional treatment gives only slight relief, the patient's activities being greatly restricted, Betnelan can give considerable benefit. Continuous administration may be necessary and is well justified by enabling a reasonably useful life to be followed. Treatment should begin with a short-term course of Betnelan, using bronchodilators and other measures to help reduce dosage until gradually the minimum level is found which reduces symptoms to tolerable limits. Often this may be no more than half a tablet twice daily.

HAY FEVER

In severe attacks, uncontrollable by normal therapy, the condition is usually controlled rapidly by short-term Betnelan therapy.

BETNELAN is presented as scored tablets containing 0.5 milligrams betamethasone in bottles of 30, 100, and 500.

advantages

ROTER achieves a high cure rate and often gives effective control of even refractory chronic cases which have resisted other treatments.

ROTER in many cases obviates the need for hospitalization or surgical intervention.

ROTER helps patients to keep ambulant and symptom-free with a minimum of medication and with few, if any, dietary restrictions.

ROTER in general practice enables the physician to take adequate care of his gastric cases without frequent or prolonged supervision.

ROTER has no known side effects.

ROTER requires no supplementary medication such as sedatives or anti-spasmodics.

ROTER shows a saving in cost when compared with conventional methods of treatment.

In any comparison of oral penicillins, 'V-Cil-K' is bound to take first place. Its introduction marked a milestone in penicillin therapy—it is still the favourite. 'V-Cil-K' provides the clinical response of parenteral penicillin with the convenience and safety of oral penicillin; blood levels are twice as high as those of penicillin-V acid; action is swift; side effects are few. These are the facts as confirmed by many clinical reports. Performance is the criterion for any drug, and on recorded performance 'V-Cil-K' is unsurpassed among oral penicillins.

Inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary, such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands—particularly with children—should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

(b) For the disinfection and cleaning of dishes, floors, kitchen surfaces, sinks, etc.

(c) For safeguarding against the infection of food by bluebottles, flies and vermin.

(d) For the disinfection of yards, paths, etc.

(e) For the disinfection and cleaning of drains.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless, a vigorous health education programme . . . directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene . . . coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.' (1)

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active disinfectant chemicals.' (2)

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from $\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.' (3)

Wright's Coal Tar Soap has been in continuous use by the Medical Profession for nearly a century. Its world-wide use is largely due to professional approval of its quality, and to the fact that it contains the original 'Liquor Carbonis Detergens'. Even in 1882 this ingredient was described by the B.M.J. as "by no means a new preparation".

To maintain this front-rank position has not been easy. It has called for unremitting effort, continuous improvements in technique, ever higher analytical standards, and a record of service in which we take modest pride.

GREAT ADVANCE IN AEROSOL THERAPY FOR ASTHMA

Pressurised BROVON Inhalant

The 'push button' asthma aerosol possessing three outstanding advantages

1. High Production of utilisable aerosol

By the incorporation of a new and unique device in Pressurised Brovon Inhalant, about 80% of the particles yielded are within the optimum range for penetration into the finest ramifications of the bronchial tree, and absorption there.

2. Pharmacological Soundness

Pressurised Brovon Inhalant combines the rapid action of adrenaline with the slower but prolonged action of atropine, providing an antispasmodic combination with an immediate yet sustained action.

3. Visual check on contents of bottle

The bottle and its tough shatterproof plastic covering are transparent so that the user has full warning when his inhalant is running low. The importance of this will be appreciated by any asthmatic who has experienced panic on discovering at the start of an attack that his container is empty.

These three unique features are coupled with:

- Accurate dosage always ensured by metering device
- Effortless Inhalation—Swift relief
- Complete safety—Non-toxic, non-inflammable
- Compactness—for handbag or pocket

When commencing treatment, a complete unit is required. The Brovon Adaptor, which is included in the complete unit, is robust and should provide efficient service for a long time, consequently only the refill should be necessary on repeat prescriptions and supplies.

The advantage of choice . . .

In family planning for responsible parenthood, the choice of a contraceptive must depend on individual circumstances. Many doctors find that the combination of spermicidal efficiency and aesthetic acceptability both in GYNOMIN TABLETS and ANTEMIN CREAM enables them to recommend either of these modern preparations, with confidence, to their patients.

GYNOMIN

Formula:

Sodium Bicarbonate B.P. 12.7%
Tartaric Acid B.P. 11.1%
Chloramine B.P. 1.1%

ANTEMIN

Formula:

Sodium Dioctyl
sulphosuccinate 0.25%
Ricinoleic Acid B.P. 1.00%
Paraformaldehyde B.P.C. 0.15%

The Family Planning Association advise that for maximum safety, any chemical contraceptive should be used with a mechanical barrier.
