ANOTHER RICH HARVEST

Since MILTOWN meprobamate was introduced in 1956, each successive year has yielded its crop of published reports on the outstanding calmative and muscle relaxant properties of the drug. Last year was no exception. The 1960 'harvest' shows the unabated interest of doctors everywhere in the value of MILTOWN in anxiety and tension states, and throws light on yet newer applications of the drug. These include the use of MILTOWN in controlling the syncopal attacks of heart block, in improving sedation and comfort during labour and delivery and in the management of habit spasm, enuresis and sleep disorders in children. A fruitful harvest indeed and one that clearly demonstrates the remarkable versatility of MILTOWN.

Anabolex

the protein anabolizing, non-virilizing steroid promotes —a return to appetite—an increase in weight—a sense of well-being

PATIENTS who are run down or who are recovering from illness frequently suffer from faulty protein metabolism. They are in negative nitrogen balance. Protein, in effect, is being broken down and lost faster than it is being built up.

Anabolex (androstanolone) restores the physiological balance. Many clinical trials have shown that, following the administration of Anabolex, there is an immediate return of the body's capacity to build up protein. The patient feels better, eats better and gains weight.

Here, then, is a physiological "tonic" with a wide therapeutic range. The weakness, lassitude, lack of energy and interest associated with many pathological states may be rapidly overcome by the administration of Anabolex.

Anabolex can be safely given to patients of all ages and both sexes; in therapeutic doses, its virilizing properties are almost negligible. The only known contra-indication is prostatic carcinoma.

INTRA-ABDOMINAL CRISES

by K. D. Keele and N. M. Matheson

price 50s.

One of the commonest anxieties of the doctor in general practice and the hospital physician is that caused by the patient with abdominal pain and vomiting. Such symptoms carry no diagnostic label—often they are emergencies, sometimes mere trivialities—and the customary loose classification of such crises into “medical” and “surgical” is, in fact, conducive to a recognized brand of dangerous misdiagnosis. The authors have called acute cases of the condition intra-abdominal crises. Firstly they analyse the problem of the abdominal emergency, indicate the lines of early management, and stress the importance of diagnostic exclusion.

price 60s.

A great effort is being expended throughout the world in cancer research, and progress is being made. This is described in Cancer Progress 1960. To achieve as full a coverage as possible of this world effort the Editor has elicited the help of Advisory Editors in different countries who are authorities in specific subjects and have been entrusted with the task of advising on these advances in cancer knowledge. They have also helped in selecting the new authors; in certain instances they have written particular sections themselves. This is a valuable method of presenting up-to-date knowledge concerning the whole cancer problem to workers throughout the world who can thereby quickly learn about any new work which is done, not only in his or her particular field but in related and diverse subjects. This book, therefore, will satisfy a great need which has long been apparent.

MODERN TRENDS IN CARDIOLOGY

Edited by A. Morgan Jones

price 70s.

The contributions to this volume will introduce the reader to the thoughts, ideas and hopes of some leading European and American investigators actively working in the field. The papers cover many aspects of cardiology in which progress has been striking in recent years. Some fields on the borders of cardiology have been included because their importance in heart disease has recently become apparent; for instance, assessment of pulmonary function, and the role of the kidney and electrolyte changes in heart disease. In general, accounts of the development and use of technical methods are kept in a subsidiary place, for ideas have been regarded as more important (and more interesting) than techniques.

New literature on family planning

A recent survey has shown that over 70% of married women under 45 years of age are in favour of Family Planning, which explains why Doctors are receiving more and more requests for information.

These new booklets and leaflets give the latest information on conception control and will save Doctors' time when dealing with these enquiries.

The Condom as a Contraceptive. Written by the Director of Research at the National Committee on Maternal Health Inc., New York. This authority on the statistical evaluation of family planning analyses the effectiveness and acceptability of the condom in detail.

Modern Family Planning. A new booklet discussing the various methods of family planning written in simple language suitable for distribution to interested patients.

Diaphragm or Protective

A comparison of the two leading methods of conception control.

The case against Coitus Interruptus

An indictment of this method of conception control—its failure rate and its physical and mental effects.

The married woman's views on contraception. A survey based on facts revealed by a recent investigation of the opinions of married women about family planning.

Contraception—the facts about recent developments. An enquiry into the stage reached in the development of oral contraception—the advances to date, the interest of the general public, the known disadvantages and the long-term dangers.

Some criticism has, in the past, been levelled at Protectives on the grounds that they reduce sensitivity. A recent development by the London Rubber Company almost entirely overcomes such objections.

Visitors to the recent R.S.H. Health Exhibition, Blackpool, were able to obtain details of Granary Bread, Yestamin and Barmene on this stand

Granary BREAD

Granary bread is baked from a complete meal which is a proprietary of the English Grains Company. The meal contains whole malted wheat and rye grain, which is flaked and blended with high quality stoneground wheatmeal flours. Granary retains the full nutritive value of the whole malted wheat and rye, and avoids the loss of goodness which occurs with heavily refined white flour.

YESTAMIN VITAMIN YEAST

Yestamin is made from pure, de-bittered dried brewers' yeast, which is a rich natural source of a wide range of 'B' group vitamins.

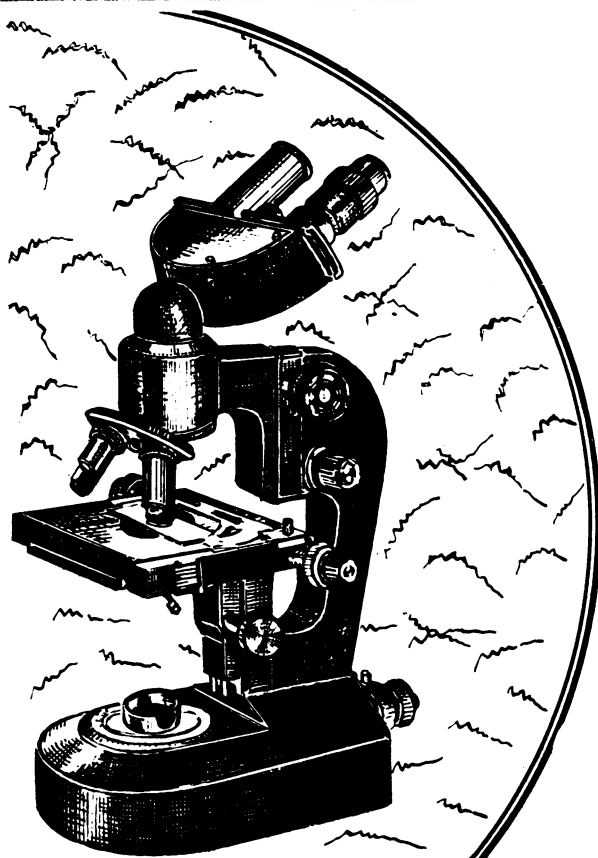

Yestamin overcomes the objection to taking raw brewers' yeast, which is unpalatable, has poor keeping qualities, and can cause digestive upsets.

Barmene COMPOUND YEAST EXTRACT

Barmene is an easily digested compound of yeast extract which contains the juices of celery, parsley, and carrots. These juices are cold pressed to preserve their dietetic qualities, and then blended with the yeast extract, which is produced by autolysis.

Vitamin B<sub>12</sub>, an important supplement to vegetarian diets, is also added. Salt-free Barmene is available for those on salt-free diets.

This is ELASTOPLAST

SUPERIOR REGAIN Elastoplast bandage has exceptional regain power after stretching—the true criterion of elasticity. Yet it is all cotton and has no rubber threads

EVEN POROSITY—minute holes all over its surface allow sweat and exudates to escape, even through more than one layer

EDGES FREE FROM ADHESIVE—prevent sticking to clothing. Fluffed edges avoid cutting the skin

POSITIVE ADHESION—Elastoplast has always been noted for its thick, tacky spread, which adheres immediately on contact

FIRM BUT YIELDING SUPPORT for pressure bandaging, for securing dressings, and for immobilisation without rigidity

No other bandage has all these advantages

why CRYSTAMYCIN

TRADE MARK

Because its two antibiotic components frequently have a synergistic effect, providing an intensive bactericidal attack beyond the scope of either substance used alone. The penicillin in Crystamycin is in the soluble sodium form to exert a swift bactericidal effect. Streptomycin has been selected for its decisive effect on gram-negative organisms. And finally Crystamycin is surprisingly low in cost. Effectiveness plus economy — reasons why Crystamycin . . .

is so often chosen to put a swift end to bacteria

CHIEF PHARMACOLOGIST

Fisons Limited are seeking an outstanding man with a wide background of academic training and research experience in Pharmacology and/or Physiology for appointment as Chief Pharmacologist of one of their main operating companies in the pharmaceutical field.

This is an important appointment and if a suitable applicant is forthcoming it is intended to offer him the dual appointment in this company of Deputy Director of Research.

The essential qualities looked for are leadership, enthusiasm and a genuine interest in the discovery and development of new therapeutic agents for man and animals.

Plans for a new Research Block, in very attractive country surroundings, are in an advanced stage, but the Chief Pharmacologist will have full opportunity for advising on the layout and equipment of the Pharmacology Section and animal facilities.

Every effort to achieve and maintain a high scientific standard, including the publication of original work, will receive full encouragement and support. As Chief Pharmacologist, the person appointed will be primarily responsible for the whole of the pharmacological work carried out by the Research Department. If he is in addition appointed Deputy Director of Research, he will assist in planning, co-ordinating, and executing a research programme, involving Organic Chemists, Biochemists, and Microbiologists, as well as Pharmacologists.

An outstanding salary will be paid to an outstanding man. Contributory pension schemes for retirement pension and for pensions to widows and children in the event of employees dying before retirement, are in operation.

All applications or letters of inquiry will be dealt with in strict confidence, and should be sent to the Managing Director (Ref. C.P.), Fisons Limited, Fison House, 95 Wigmore Street, London W.1. (9798)
