for Lucofen

Nottinghamshire in the Lawrence-Sillitoe era has gained a certain reputation for adultery; but the simple folk-tale of Robin Hood and Maid Marion allows of no such interpretation. Gluttony, however, is another carnal sin that has been immortalised in the person of Friar Tuck, of whom little is known save that he ate too much and too often, but was a loyal friend.

Overweight modern clergy desiring to reduce have another loyal friend—Lucofen. A new drug for the limitation of appetite, Lucofen acts without interfering with normal meal anticipation. It thus helps to gain the active co-operation of the patient, so essential in the treatment of obesity. Eating sensibly, and taking Lucofen, the co-operative patient is more ready to help the doctor and himself.

Lucofen, (chlorphentermine) acts without the frustration and irritability caused by many weight-reducing programmes.

The resultant weight loss is gradual, safe and dependable. Lucofen is free from the disadvantages of the usual amphetamine-like drugs, and thus causes no restlessness, sleeplessness or addiction. It is especially useful in combating the evening hunger felt by many patients. There is evidence of fat mobilization.

Dosage : The recommended dose is one tablet (25 mg.) three times a day before meals. This dosage normally results in an average loss of 1 lb. to 1½ lb. per week.

Presentation : Bottles of 50 and 500 tablets.

* There are 36 extant individual ballads of the Robin Hood story, dating back to the 16th century; but 300 years before that, the "Whitsun pastoral" or "May game", in which the same characters appear, was being denounced by the Church. The Robin Hood—Friar Tuck story that we know refers to the Anglo-Norman century 1150-1250.

Conovid 'The Pill' oral contraceptive

the responsible answer to a universal problem

Safety and effectiveness

The vital question of safety has been thoroughly investigated and clinical trials during the last six years have shown that: (a) subsequent pregnancies have been normal and the children born have been healthy; (b) the course of pregnancy where conception has already occurred has not been affected by Conovid; (c) there has been no evidence of any dangerous long term side effects with Conovid; (d) there is no tendency to abortion nor to androgenic side effects as reported with some progestins.

The effectiveness of Conovid is indisputable. Studies over the last six years involving 30,000 cycles of experience have shown that 'The Pill' provides a degree of contraception never previously achieved.

Conovid is more acceptable.

Conovid has obvious aesthetic advantages and is therefore free from the psychological drawbacks commonly associated with contraception. It is thus more acceptable to the majority of women.

BRONCHITIS

The well established formula for chronic bronchitis is TERCOLIX. This dislodges the habitual mucoid sputum; relieves wheeziness, breathlessness and distressing fits of coughing; makes expectoration easy by liquefying tenacious mucus. Each teaspoonful contains Codein Phosph.  $\frac{1}{2}$  grain combined with Terpin Hydrate, Menthol, Pine and Eucalyptus oils to provide a warm, soothing, sedative effect. Dosage: Two teaspoonfuls in warm water, before retiring—sipped slowly—free the air passages of accumulated mucus and ensure a good night's sleep. Where the critical point has been reached and the bronchial tubes are swollen, soggy and unduly sensitive, daily maintenance doses are strongly recommended. Samples for clinical trial are available on request.

suspicion is half the battle

Many of the less severe depressive disorders are commonly manifested by somatic, rather than psychic complaints. Once bodily illness has been ruled out, ". . . the physician should always consider the diagnosis of depression, especially in middle aged and elderly patients. If he only thinks of it, half the battle is already won."<sup>1</sup>

You may win the rest of the battle by prescribing Monase, a new compound related to natural body amines. Monase cannot replace ECT in most severe depressions, but has proved itself in the treatment of the disguised depressions of everyday medical practice. The success of Drapolene as a preventive and treatment of napkin rash is due to its activity against the urea splitting organisms which are known to be the causative factor of this common skin condition.

Drapolene is quick acting, even where an ulcerated condition has developed. It also assists cleansing of the affected area.

depression and anxiety

Depression may frequently be associated with a strong anxiety component, and vice versa. Thus, in practice, the distinction is frequently blurred, and may escape even the most expert diagnosis. Difficulties in diagnosis have led to the misuse of tranquillisers—particularly their use in depression masked by anxiety. In such cases the underlying depression may be deepened. On the other hand the high failure rate of many antidepressants is due to their inability to control the concurrent anxiety. 'Tryptizol', a single compound, treats the depression and also the anxiety and agitation that commonly accompany it.

FOR THE ANGINA

Peritrate is an established coronary vasodilator, increasing coronary blood flow and maintaining its effect for 4 to 5 hours. Nardil, perhaps by virtue of its MAO inhibitory action, also increases coronary blood flow and cardiac output.

FOR THE PATIENT

Nardil, the exemplar of the newer anti-depressants, relieves the depressive or psychosomatic element seen in many anginal patients.

Both the constituents of Perifenil have just received the cachet of official approval, for it is proposed to include monographs on both substances in the 1963 British Pharmacopoeia.

Each Perifenil tablet contains:—
Peritrate (pentaerythritol tetranitrate) 20 mg.
Nardil (phenelzine) 7.5 mg.

DOSAGE

One tablet four times a day before meals.

a better-retained form of B<sub>12</sub> from GLAXO, the B<sub>12</sub> people

In 1948 a Glaxo research team achieved independently the isolation of the active principle of liver now known as vitamin B<sub>12</sub>

Neo-Cytamen

injection of hydroxocobalamin (vitamin B<sub>12b</sub>)

Hydroxocobalamin, (vitamin B<sub>12b</sub>) and cyanocobalamin have approximately equal haemopoietic effect in pernicious anaemia, but hydroxocobalamin (Neo-Cytamen) is believed to be closer to the form in which vitamin B<sub>12</sub> is normally used by the body. Following a substantial dose, it is much more effectively retained than cyanocobalamin, giving consistently higher levels in the blood; dispersal from the injection site is slower, accumulation in the liver is as good or better, and urinary loss of vitamin is considerably less. This more efficient retention may be explained by the increased binding to serum protein characteristic of hydroxocobalamin.

Neo-Cytamen offers particular clinical advantage when a 'depot' preparation is needed to give prolonged B<sub>12</sub> serum levels from a high dose. In such cases, the greater retention of hydroxocobalamin may permit higher serum B<sub>12</sub> levels to be maintained between injections. For this purpose, Neo-Cytamen is to be preferred to depot preparations of cyanocobalamin which contain substances not found in nature.

Neo-Cytamen is issued in strengths containing 250 and 1,000 micrograms hydroxocobalamin per ml in boxes of 6 one ml ampoules.

LOSS IN URINE

following a single 1,000 microgram intramuscular injection of hydroxocobalamin, only 27% is lost in the urine during the first seventy-two hours compared with 69% cyanocobalamin when given in the same dosage.

LEVELS IN THE BLOOD

A 1,000 microgram injection can produce within five hours a 96-fold rise in the B<sub>12</sub> serum level; by the second to fourth week this level may be 2.5 times higher than after administration of an identical dose of cyanocobalamin.

Organidin combines the mucolytic properties of the glyceryl ethers such as glyceryl guaiacolate with those of the iodides, and is far more potent than either the iodides or glyceryl ethers alone. It contains no free iodine or inorganic iodides and gives a negative starch test. Gastric irritation does not occur, and the product is suitable for both children and adults. Taken in milk or water it is almost tasteless, and the liquid can be employed as an ingredient of a cough mixture if so desired.

Diagnosis?—Acute gastritis. What the mother didn't even bother to say was that the only fluid this little boy did keep down was Lucozade. And he wanted it—like so many patients, for the liquid glucose in Lucozade is only one quarter as sweet as sucrose, and one third as sweet as dextrose. Also, as the doctor knows, it supplies needed calories more quickly. That is why Lucozade is such a useful therapeutic aid, and why the doctor too approves of ...

"Nulacin has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer" <sup>II</sup>

Proc. R. Soc. Med., 1958, 51, 1063.

Nulacin tablets, dissolved slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy, obviating the necessity for a tube. Treatment is easy and convenient for the ambulant as well as the bedridden patient. Nulacin may be relied on to provide an effective treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity. No undesirable side effects occur and no cases of alkalosis or acid rebound due to Nulacin have ever been reported. The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by in vivo clinical work carried out in many countries.

Nulacin tablets have no B.P. equivalent. The basic N.H.S. price of the 25-tablet tube is 2/-.

The Medical Research Council invite applications for a further series of Fellowships in Clinical Research, tenable at centres in the United Kingdom during the academic year 1962-63.

These Fellowships are open to suitably qualified medical or dental graduates who desire to prepare themselves for a career in clinical research. In general, it is intended that each Fellow appointed under the scheme should be given an opportunity, as part of his training for clinical research, to study methods of research in the basic subject most relevant to his particular clinical interest, and to broaden his experience by working in other Departments in the United Kingdom. In appropriate cases, arrangements can be made for Fellows to work in the Council's own research establishments, including the National Institute for Medical Research. (8769)

The awards will be made for a period of one year in the first instance and will be renewable annually up to a maximum of three years in all, subject to satisfactory progress. Stipend will be within the range £1,200 by £100 to £1,700 per annum, the point of entry being determined according to age, qualifications and experience, with superannuation provision in addition.

Candidates for these Fellowships, which are ordinarily restricted to British subjects resident in the United Kingdom, must be medically or dentally qualified and clinically experienced, and should preferably have worked for a period in a department in which clinical research was in progress. Applicants will be invited to submit their own proposals as to type and place of work, but the Council will be glad to advise successful candidates on the selection of suitable centres of study and to assist in placing them in departments or laboratories where the desired training and experience can be obtained.

Applications must be sponsored in each case by the head of the appropriate department in the candidate's University Medical or Dental School, and an undertaking will be required that a suitable academic post in a clinical department will be available to the candidate in that institution on satisfactory completion of the period of study under the Fellowship.

Forms of application for these Fellowships may be obtained from the Secretary, Medical Research Council, 20 Park Crescent, London W.1, with whom applications should be lodged as soon as possible, and in any event not later than March 1, 1962.
