CHALYBEATE LEMONADE

AND

CHALYBEATE SALINE LEMONADE.

"Messrs. A. MAY-DAVIS & Co., Esher Street, Westminster, have introduced a really admirable chalybeate lemonade, which will be likely to be largely used in private practice. The one objection to chalybeates is the strong flavour of 'flat-irons.' Not only is this entirely overcome in the very agreeable lemonade which they have produced, but the beverage is most enticingly pleasant. Each bottle is warranted to contain five grains of citrate of iron; and of the chalybeate saline lemonade each bottle contains also twenty grains of citrate of potash. Medicine is here not merely disguised, but transformed. We think many a prescriber will be glad to know of a preparation which is an undoubted boon to patients. The lemonade sells at 4s. a dozen, or 3s. 6d. in larger quantities. This gives an average price of 3d. to 4d. a bottle. An ordinary six-ounce mixture, with citrate of iron and syrup of orange-peel costs about 1s. 8d., or 3d. a dose. The money balance, therefore, is not much in favour of the mixture, and the point of flavour is largely in favour of the lemonade."—British Medical Journal, March 4, 1871.

Chalybeate Lemonade may be obtained from Chemists, &c., at 4s. per doz., direct and wholesale from the Proprietors and sole Manufacturers, A. MAY-DAVIS and CO., Esher-street, Westminster, S.W., who will be happy to forward Samples free of charge to any member of the Medical Profession.
