

a new antacid palatable effective economical

Alcin is a new antacid offering several important advantages. It provides safe and effective treatment of symptoms associated with gastric hyperacidity and peptic ulceration.

Palatability Having an absence of chalkiness and an agreeable flavour, Alcin is non-irritating.

Buffering Activity Alcin not only rapidly neutralises excess acid, but at the same time its sustained buffering activity maintains the level of acidity of the gastric contents within the desired range.

Safety Alcin is safe for prolonged administration. There is no risk from overdosage as Alcin cannot cause either alkalosis or acid rebound.

No Digestive tract ill-effects Alcin has no known laxative or constipating effects.

Economy Alcin is economical in use. The basic N.H.S. cost of 50 tablets is 1/9½d.

Composition: Each tablet contains 360 mg. anhydrous co-prepared sodium magnesium aluminium silicate and basic magnesium aluminate.

ANXIETY IMPAIRS PERFORMANCE—'MILTOWN' DOESN'T!

Working efficiency, both mental and physical is normally unimpaired on the usual dose of 'Miltown'. On the contrary, with the reduction of tension, anxiety and insomnia, an improved efficiency can be expected. Lack of significant effect on the faculties required for efficient performance, plus unusually low toxicity and relative freedom from side effects, combine to make 'Miltown' perhaps the most useful agent for treating anxiety and tension in the ambulatory patient, both at home and at work. INDICATIONS: 'Miltown' (meprobamate*, Wallace) is indicated in anxiety and tension states, and all conditions in which anxiety and tension are symptoms. DOSAGE: The usual dosage of 'Miltown' is one or two 400 mg. tablets 3 times daily. The recommended starting dose with children is one or two 200 mg. tablets 2 or 3 times daily. AVAILABILITY: 400 mg. scored tablets, 200 mg. sugar-coated tablets, bottles of 50 and 250. 'STELADERX'

CAN BE THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Nothing succeeds like success, or fails like failure. That is why success at the first attempt is essential for your dieting patient. After a second and third and fourth effort, the chances of losing weight are slim. Success first time is the answer, and you can give your overweight patients the best chance of success by prescribing 'Steladex'.

For one 'Steladex Spansule' sustained-release capsule curbs the appetite and controls the stress—all day long.

Each 'Steladex Spansule' sustained-release capsule contains 10 mg. 'Dexedrine' (brand of dexamphetamine sulphate) and 2 mg. 'Stelazine' (brand of trifluoperazine).

The convalescent & Mackeson

Dark beers have long been regarded as a valuable aid in building up strength after illness.

Mackeson (or Mackeson Stout, as it was long called) has a high reputation in this tradition. The makers of Mackeson recognise that only the individual practitioner can decide when such a beer can most effectively be used. For the convenience of doctors, therefore, they set out below an analysis of its nutritional properties.

Mackeson differs from other dark beers in one important respect: it is more acceptable to invalids and convalescents because of its taste. Instead of having the bitter taste usually associated with this type of beer, it is smooth and mild in flavour.

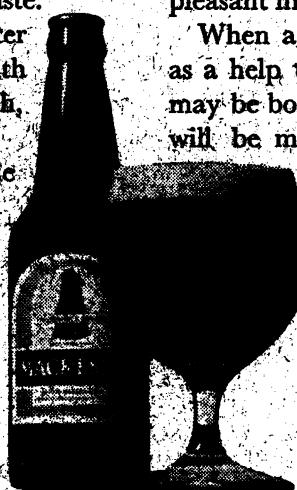

It provides an invaluable source of energy through its calorific value (276 calories per pint, essentially that of three-quarters of a pint of milk). Because its most important ingredient in this respect is Lactose Sugar, Mackeson is easily digested, quickly assimilated—by even a weakened digestive system.

Nitrogenous matter is also present, mainly as protein break-down products, e.g. peptides and amino acids. It also contains valuable water-soluble members of the B groups of vitamins.

In short, Mackeson is a drink rich in energising properties, and at the same time bland, non-bitter and pleasant in flavour.

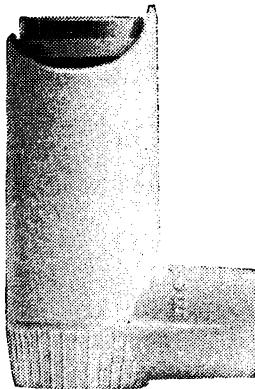

When a dark beer is contemplated as a help to speedy convalescence, it may be borne in mind that Mackeson will be more acceptable to patients who find a slightly bitter drink not to their taste.

Psoriasis

Clinical tests confirm Alphosyl's effectiveness

Accumulating evidence increasingly underlines Alphosyl's effectiveness in cases of psoriasis, even in those that have proved intractable to other forms of treatment. Its success is attested by the fact that after only 2 years Alphosyl Lotion became the leading branded preparation for psoriasis in this country.

New Alphosyl Cream Following the success of Alphosyl Lotion, this coal-tar and allantoin combination is now available in Britain as a lubricating cream. The cream base has proved a particularly effective vehicle for Alphosyl as it incorporates a combination of free fatty acids (saturated and unsaturated) naturally occurring in triglycerides, sterols and esters to give the lipid phase of the base a significant resemblance to the lipid array of normal human skin¹.

Clinical Trials The table below gives the results of four different clinical trials which show the effectiveness of Alphosyl in lotion and in cream form.

No. of patients	100% cleared	75%-99% improved	50%-74% improved	25%-49% improved	No improvement
62 ³	29	26	7	0	0
50 ⁴	11	16	17	6	0
96 ²	44	29	15	0	8

Why Alphosyl is so effective In Alphosyl, allantoin and a specially refined coal-tar extract were combined for the first time. Allantoin has been found to be particularly effective in loosening psoriatic scales⁵, while the keratoplastic effect of coal-tar is well known⁶. Alphosyl is non-greasy and non-staining and vanishes on application. It is notably safe,^{5,6} being free from the risks which are found in other forms of treatment such as arsenicals, mercury, corticosteroids, x-ray, etc. It certainly deserves a trial in all cases of psoriasis.

Stafford-Miller Limited, Hatfield, Herts. by arrangement with Reed & Carnick, Kenilworth, New Jersey, USA.

Alphosyl Lotion formula - special coal-tar extract 5% + allantoin 2% in a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

Alphosyl Cream formula - allantoin 2% + 90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5=1) 5% in a vanishing cream type base.

The Pathology and Treatment of Sexual Deviation

Edited by ISMOND ROSEN,

Consultant Psychiatrist, The Camden Clinic

This book gives a comprehensive and up-to-date account of the complex subject of sexual deviation and contains much hitherto unpublished material together with reviews of the literature and full bibliographies. Homosexuality, fetishism, sado-masochism, exhibitionism, scopophilia, voyeurism, transvestitism and sexual murder are all fully discussed with relevant case reports. There are also accounts of cultural differences in sexual deviation, parliamentary and public attitudes and an extremely full and valuable summary on law and the sexual offender.

American Physiological Society :

HANDBOOK OF PHYSIOLOGY

Section 2 · Volume II CIRCULATION

Section Editor: William F. Hamilton, Executive Editor: Philip Dow, both of the Medical College of Georgia, Augusta, Georgia. With 35 Contributors.

The physiology of blood circulation has in recent times been the object of much study. New methods of investigation have uncovered new facts which in turn have led to new concepts, and which often involve complicated mathematical reasoning.

The first volume in this section covered certain background material including the physiology and biophysics of the blood and exchangeable fluids together with the action and control of the heart. This, the second volume in this three-volume section, deals with the functional morphology of the vessels and their co-ordination in supplying blood to the several organs.

Care has been taken by each of the internationally distinguished contributors to make the volumes in this section systematic, comprehensive, authoritative, and lasting. They will become the standard reference for researchers in circulatory physiology, teachers, and students.

'Aventyl'*

BRAND NORTRIPTYLINE

new wide spectrum mood enhancer lends wings to troubled minds

When the patient is overwhelmed by normal everyday stresses, 'Aventyl' often brings prompt relief. Even in the more serious behaviour disturbances—whether marked by depression or anxiety, or both—'Aventyl', with its unusually wide spectrum of action, broadens the doctor's power to relieve the troubled mind swiftly.

'Aventyl' has an inherent beneficial effect on anxiety and hostility—it is not a combination of an anti-depressant with a tranquillizer, but a single entity going beyond mere antidepressant action as such. Four out of five patients with symptoms referable to anxiety and depression (including psychosomatic disturbances) are likely to respond favourably to 'Aventyl', many of them within a week.

'Aventyl' is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor.

The 'mano cornuta' and other gestures of a similar nature have been considered potent specifics against the Evil Eye since time out of mind. Just ask anybody south of, say, Naples, and they'll tell you that it's a wise precaution.[†] The Evil Eye may not be a major problem among your patients, but chronic bronchitis surely is. Of course, it can be treated with ordinary tetracycline, but always with the attendant risk of fungal overgrowth with such commonly occurring symptoms as sore mouth, thrush, diarrhoea and pruritus ani due to Candida albicans. For this reason 'it is a wise precaution to administer an antifungal compound with the broad-spectrum antibiotic.'* Costing no more than the ordinary tetracycline and much less than oxytetracycline MYSTECLIN provides this 'wise precaution'.

Time and again you'll have listened to complaints of discomfort and gastric upset from patients undergoing treatment for iron-deficiency anaemia. The reason — iron intolerance; the cause—the action of the usual ferrous sulphate tablets resulting in unpleasant side effects. But ferrous sulphate is probably the most efficient form of iron; and as you know, it should be taken on an empty stomach for maximum effect. How then to reduce or prevent discomfort in anti-anaemia therapy?

IRON IN TIMED RELEASE

From Abbott comes the answer—the Ferro-Gradumet, the one-a-day oral haematinic in a plastic matrix that slowly leaches out its full day's dose of ferrous sulphate (525 mg, equivalent to 105 mg of elemental iron) in a predetermined pattern over a number of hours; and, thanks to its unique GRADUMET presentation, does not disintegrate in the stomach, where ferrous sulphate is most irritant and least well absorbed. Here at last is an efficient treatment for iron-deficiency anaemia that permits a day's requirements of iron to be taken in a single tablet, pleasantly and with a minimum of side effects.

FERRO-GRADUMETS are supplied in bottles of 30 or 100 tablets each containing 525 mg ferrous sulphate (in exsiccated form), equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron.

ergotamine alone is not enough

To combat an incipient attack of migraine, oral ergotamine alone is inadequate. It needs the potentiating effect of caffeine. Above all, it needs a rapidly acting anti-emetic to counter its main defect as well as the vomiting resulting from migraine itself.

'Migril' contains every one of the necessary ingredients—ergotamine tartrate, caffeine, and the proven anti-emetic cyclizine hydrochloride. 'Migril', the ever-present companion of thousands of migraine sufferers, is their reliable insurance against an attack.

A Combined Effort

The Russian troika, pulled by the combined effort of three horses, was a popular and safe means of transport. In antibacterial therapy, too, the combined effort of three sulphonamides is more effective and safe than that of a single sulphonamide, which accounts for the popularity of 'Sulphatriad' over the past fifteen years.

In 'Penitriad', the combined effort of three sulphonamides is enhanced by that of penicillin V-K, 'Penitriad' being effective against infections caused by both sulphonamide- and penicillin-susceptible organisms.

(WHO Non-proprietary name—meclofenoxane)

SOME FACTS ABOUT ANP 235

1. ANP 235 (meclofenoxane) was developed in the French National Research Laboratories. It belongs to a new class of substances best described as neuro-regulators.
2. The pharmacological properties of ANP 235 are to regulate the metabolism of the nerve cell, to facilitate the utilization of glucose and to combat anoxia in the cell.
3. ANP 235 does not belong to any known group of psychotropic drugs such as amphetamines or monoamine oxidase inhibitors.
4. The toxicity of ANP 235 is extremely low. Side effects so far observed are minimal.
5. The pharmacological properties of the drug suggest many uses. The main indications are confusional states in the elderly (senile, post-apoplectic, cerebral ischaemic); psychomotor retardation in children; neonatal anoxia; intoxication by alcohol or carbon monoxide; post anaesthetic confusion.
6. Clinical trials on an extensive scale, including double blind trials, have taken place in many countries. The reference list now exceeds 150 publications.
7. ANP 235, marketed abroad under other names, is now available, for clinical use in this country.
8. Literature giving full details on ANP 235 will be sent on request.

you find it as a
MEDICAL OFFICER

As a Medical Officer, you have complete clinical freedom and a widely varied medical experience. Your practice is among 100,000 Naval men and women. Ashore or afloat, it can take you anywhere in the world from Malta to Singapore: and, when you have a shore appointment abroad, your family can be with you. Go-ahead, too, is your opportunity to specialize: not only in traditional categories, but in the modern sciences of aviation and nuclear medicine.

As a Medical Officer, your pay, allowances, and gratuity—or permanent commission pension—are very good: for example, your initial pay is considerably higher than that of a civilian hospital registrar.

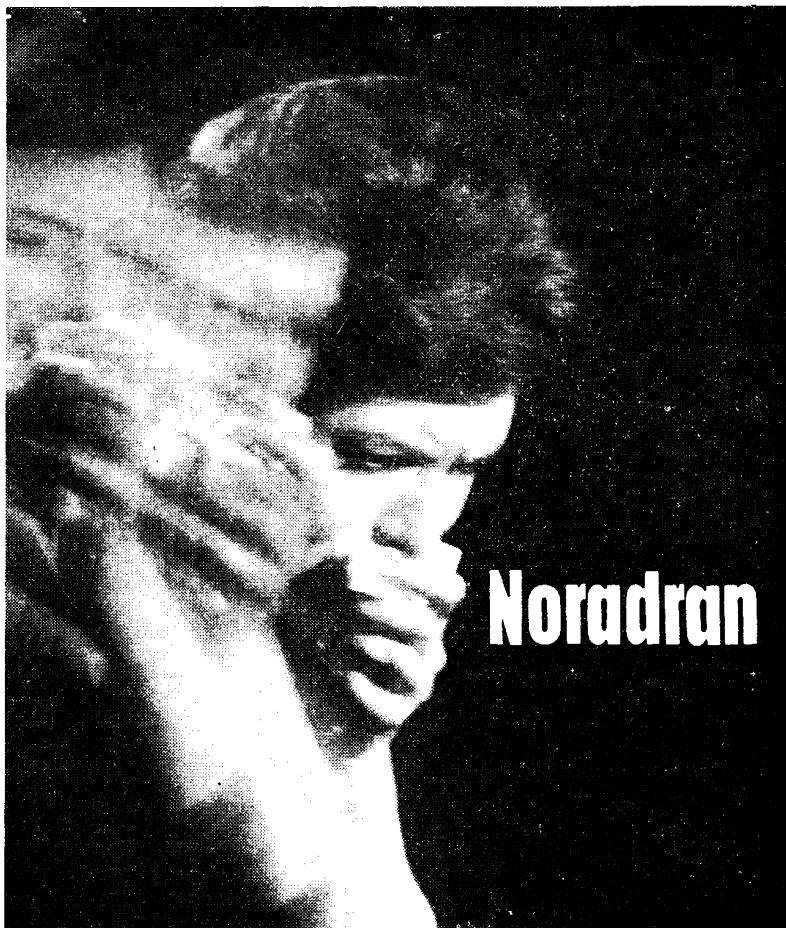

You can enter by one of three ways: as a Registered Medical Practitioner—your civilian experience back-dating seniority—or as a qualified doctor doing your pre-registration year, or as a student with a 2nd M.B. For qualified women doctors, there is a special short service commission.

For fullest details of your Royal Navy life as a Medical Officer, write, mentioning your own qualifications and age to:

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE AN ARMY DOCTOR

Extracts from an article by Major K.N. Murray, RAMC

WHEN SERVING WITH THE BRITISH ARMY OF THE RHINE

If a soldier knows that no matter where he may be posted on duty, his wife and children will soon join him, or indeed travel with him, he is a happy man. The British, however, have an inborn distrust of 'natives,' be they Germans, Indians, Malayans or Chinese, so that it can be a great source of confidence to a travelling family to know that anywhere in the world they will have the backing of typical British services, not least of all doctors, nurses and hospitals.

A TYPICAL DAY

My day began with what has long been termed the sick parade. This is, in fact, not a parade of any kind, but a normal surgery, in this case at 8.30 in the morning with the patients all men. The soldiers sit comfortably in the waiting room, reading magazines, until the sign goes on and it is their turn to see the doctor in the privacy of his consulting room.

Following this, there were usually three or four men to see each day for brief general medical examinations. In this way, the overall health of a regiment is under constant review, and men are given a chance to live the type of Army life for which they are most physically suited. The Army institution of injections still exists; but, after all, the modern soldier may travel anywhere in the world at very short notice, and it is greatly to the benefit of him and his family, that we should be able to give them protection against so many diseases which used to be fearful scourges.

Half an hour on one or two mornings a week are often set aside for this, when the protection of a few men would be brought up to date and so, in this way, the whole regiment is kept as immune as possible to disease. As in all good professions, there was then a suitable break for coffee and biscuits.

The rest of my morning was then normally taken up with calls to visit families in their quarters. All the normal childhood ailments were there in abundance, and with a close-living community there were seasons of spots. While there is nothing like the same proportion of old people, who tend to take up so much of a civilian doctor's time in Britain, families often have older friends or parents staying with them on holiday, who present the doctor with a medical surprise in the way of a complicated or interesting diagnosis.

With the visits finished, I could then have a peaceful hour and a half at home for lunch with my wife and children, though it wasn't unheard of for the phone to go in the middle of it and to be told, 'come quick, Trooper Jones has dropped a tank on his fingers.' But this is a doctor's lot, or privilege, in all walks of life, and I soon became quite an expert at the minor surgery of everyday cuts and bruises.

FAMILY CLINICS

Four afternoons a week I had a family clinic in the Medical Centre from two to four o'clock. For this we had a separate consulting room and waiting room for families only. Assisting at those clinics were a SSAFA sister, who is a combination of sister, midwife and health visitor, and a German qualified sister.

One of those afternoon clinics was usually set aside for babies only, and in this it was rather I who assisted the SSAFA sister, and a vast number of infants were duly weighed and filled up with their triple antigens, polio inoculations and vaccinations, according to age.

This particular clinic always seems to be the greatest attraction abroad, and the mothers find a great moral boost in Sister's encouraging words as the infants go off until next time. One morning each week a gynaecologist visited the Medical Centre from the nearby Military Hospital to hold an antenatal clinic, where an expert eye was kept on the well-being of all expectant mothers.

The tie-up with the Army Hospital Services is indeed close in all aspects. The hospitals have staffs of physicians and gynaecologists, specialists in skin diseases, eyes and ENT, and even psychiatrists, all RAMC personnel. When I wished to make a specialist appointment for a patient, a letter quickly arranged it, and when the day came around, the journey to hospital was made free by army car or bus.

Drugs, too, are free. Each medical centre contains a completely stocked dispensary—the old joke of the number 9 is dead now; in fact, I've never been quite sure what it was. The doctor has available the drugs of his choice, and presentation of his prescriptions to the dispensary brings them to the patient free of charge.

ARMY LIFE ABROAD

Beyond my medical duties, I have found great attraction in the Army life out here. In any unit or regiment, the doctor is a valued and honoured citizen and attempts are always made to keep him a happy one. Most important is a good house and garden to live in, and I may say that never in civilian life could I hope to live in a house so good and so well equipped as that provided for me by the Army. You may gather I like it, both the work and the play. I like to travel abroad, not just to see a place, but to live there and find out what it is really like.

If you wish to know more about service as an Army Doctor, a booklet, 'A Career for Doctors in the RAMC,' may be obtained from the Director-General, Army Medical Services, The War Office, (HNR/35/G), London S.W.1. Tel: GRO 8040, Ext. 602. Or you may care to come in and discuss your particular case with us personally; if so, please write or telephone for an appointment.

ADMINISTRATIVE

CHELSEA POSTGRADUATE MEDICAL CENTRE

Applications are invited from suitably qualified medical practitioners for the post of Medical Planning Officer to be responsible for co-ordinating the medical aspects of the planning and building of the proposed new grouping of Postgraduate Teaching Hospitals and Institutes of the University of London in Chelsea.

He will be the medical member on a Project Team to which an administrative Project Officer has already been appointed. The Team is responsible to the Planning Committee which represents:

The Brampton Hospital and the Institute for Diseases of the Chest.
The National Heart Hospital and the Institute of Cardiology.
The Royal Marsden Hospital and the Institute of Cancer Research.

St. John's Hospital for Diseases of the Skin and the Institute of Dermatology.
St. Mark's Hospital.
St. Peter's, St. Paul's and St. Philip's Hospitals and the Institute of Urology.

The development will extend over several years. In the first phase three hospitals and the associated institutes are to be built. In the second phase the two hospitals already in Chelsea will be rebuilt with their institutes and thereafter the sixth hospital and institute will be added to the group. The functional relation of the whole group has to be planned at the outset and the first phase of building is expected to start in 1967/68.

The salary scale for a full-time appointment would be £2,680 to £3,400, the starting figure to be determined on previous experience. Alternatively, a part-time appointment, at a part-time salary, might be considered provided that the successful candidate is prepared to devote a substantial part of his time to this work. The appointment will be for five years in the first instance.

Applications, stating age, qualifications and full particulars of experience, together with names of three referees, should be forwarded to reach the following not later than March 20, 1964.—The Secretary, Chelsea Postgraduate Medical Centre, Planning Co-ordination Committee, 34 Summer Place, London S.W.7. Applications are invited for a graduate training programme in psychiatry leading to Master'ship in Medical Science or specialist qualifications of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. This programme may be combined with residency appointments at the Kingston General Hospital.

Candidates must be graduates of an approved university and have completed one year of hospital appointment (internship) subsequent to medical graduation. No previous experience in psychiatry is necessary for junior positions. Available appointments span the range of senior house officer to senior registrar with a salary range of $3,280 to $4,480 per annum. Additional mental health bursaries may be available to suitably qualified candidates.

Apply to Professor R. B. Sloane, Department of Psychiatry, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada. (7598)

CLINICAL PSYCHIATRY WITH RESEARCH OPPORTUNITY

A comprehensive Community Psychiatric Service with an active research programme is being developed in the new reorganization of the Psychiatric Service of this general hospital. In view of current doubling of the number of psychiatric beds and the establishment of an association with the Research Facility of Rockland State Hospital, candidates for Residency positions will be considered. The new training programme will include in-and-out-patient work with adults and an opportunity to work with children.

Residents will participate in research projects.

Previous psychiatric experience is not required for the first year residency. E.C.F.M.G. is required. GOVERNMENT OF BECHUANALAND

MALE MEDICAL OFFICERS with qualifications registrable in Britain required for general duties.

Appointment on contract for one tour of three years. Salary in the scale £1,617 to £2,541 a year, entry point determined by age and experience. Gratuity of 12½% of total salary on satisfactory completion of contract. Education allowances for children being educated outside the territory at varying rates.

Private practice is permitted, provided it does not interfere with Officer's Government duties.

Free passages for Officer, wife and up to three children on first appointment and on satisfactory completion of contract. Quarters will be available at a rent not exceeding 18% of salary. Income tax at local rates.

Application forms and further particulars from Department of Technical Co-operation, Room 404, Eland House, Stag Place, Victoria, London S.W.1. Please quote RC.205/11/01, and state full name.

GOVERNMENT OF KENYA

Applications are invited for ten posts in the Grade of Medical Officer. Candidates must possess qualifications registrable in the United Kingdom, and should be nationals of and permanently resident in the United Kingdom or the Republic of Ireland. Possession of a D.P.H. is desirable but not essential.

The duties on which officers will be employed include Public Health, Clinical Medicine and Hospital Administration. Kenya is a country at present in a dynamic state of evolution and the opportunities for doctors displaying initiative and imagination are considerable.

Appointments will be on contract for two tours each of 21 to 27 months, in the salary scale £1,617 to £2,664 a year. Initial salary will be determined by qualifications and approved experience. On satisfactory completion of service the officer will be eligible for a gratuity (taxable) of 25% of salary. Free passages for the officer, his wife and dependent children on appointment and on leave after each tour. Government quarters with heavy furniture usually available at a rental varying from £60 to £115 a year. Approximately fourteen weeks home leave on full pay after each tour; local leave of sixteen days in each tour also granted. N.H.S. Superannuation rights may be safeguarded.

It is considered that doctors contemplating such an appointment have an opportunity for gaining valuable experience in a developing field of public health where the problems are thrown into sharper relief than in a more developed community.

Application should be made (giving full name) to Department of Technical Co-operation, Room 404, Eland House, Stag Place, Victoria, London S.W.1. Please quote RC.205/80/03.

OUT?

IN!

In painful muscular conditions, Norgesic restores normal activity . . . quickly

Because Norgesic goes to work in two ways it can dramatically reduce the period of incapacity resulting from acute or chronic painful muscular conditions. Norgesic provides the complementary actions of the highly effective skeletal muscle relaxant, orphenadrine citrate, and the analgesic, paracetamol, to relieve both the local pain and the pain and stiffness of muscle spasm. Norgesic quickly restores mobility and speeds recovery.

Each tablet contains : orphenadrine citrate 35mg. and paracetamol 450mg. Basic N.H.S. prices: 100 tablets 14/4 + PT
Dosage is two tablets three times daily. 500 tablets 70/- + PT
