Palatability Having an absence of chalkiness and an agreeable flavour, Alcin is non-nauseating.

Buffering Activity Alcin not only rapidly neutralises excess acid, but at the same time its sustained buffering activity maintains the level of acidity of the gastric contents within the desired range.

Safety Alcin is safe for prolonged administration. There is no risk from overdosage as Alcin cannot cause either alkalosis or acid rebound.

No Digestive tract ill-effects Alcin has no known laxative or constipating effects.

Economy Alcin is economical in use. The basic N.H.S. cost of 50 tablets is 1/9½d.

Composition: Each tablet contains 360 mg. anhydrous co-prepared sodium magnesium aluminium silicate and basic magnesium aluminate.

"Doctor, I feel awful"

Once she might have been diagnosed as "anxiety state". Today, you know she might be a depressive, but it doesn't seem as simple as all that. The truth of the matter is that patients don't always fit neatly into diagnostic categories. They may suffer from such diverse symptoms as depression, agitation, loss of appetite and tension-fatigue at the same time.

The great strength of 'Aventyl' is that its beneficial actions range widely over the symptoms which plague these problem patients. 'Aventyl' is not merely an anti-depressant, nor is it a combination of drugs. It is a single substance which relieves a constellation of mental and emotional symptoms embracing depression, anxiety and their effects on awareness and mood. 'Aventyl' is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor, and no serious side-effects have been reported at the recommended dosage.

'AVENTYL'™ lightens the troubled mind

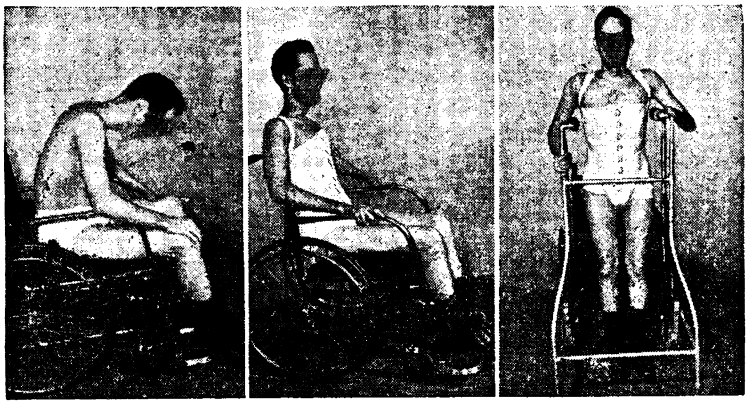
A SPENCER support for the Paraplegic Patient



This paraplegic patient at the age of 25 developed symptoms in 1943 of stiffness in the neck and pain in the right hip. Condition was diagnosed as a tumour inside the spinal cord (glioblastoma multiforme). The site of the tumour: C4, 5, and 6.

Two operations were performed and X-ray therapy given.

A Spencer Dorso-Lumbar Support with rigid bracing at back and front was applied which enabled the patient to use his special walker for exercise.

Abdominal muscles are paralysed and a special Spencer Abdominal Spring Pad incorporated in his support has been helpful in assisting respiration and relieving symptoms of constipation and indigestion.

Prognosis is poor but patient is comfortable so long as he wears the support and does not attempt to be too active. Because he is unable to sit erect without high support to his back and uplift for his diaphragm and chest, Spencer Designers created the support (as shown) to come up well over the chest to enable the patient to sit up with more comfort. Elastic gores at top sides assist in respiration. Special hip pads protect the prominent hip bones.

is a metered dose

An accurately metered dose of Nomaze AH ensures immediate and prolonged relief from nasal congestion. Nomaze AH is a unique presentation delivering, in micro-aerosol form, a precisely metered dose of 0.5 mg. ephedrine hydrochloride, 0.05 mg. naphazoline nitrate and 0.5 mg. antazoline from a handy pressurized container. The accurately metered dose is delivered precisely to the site of the trouble. The result: immediate and prolonged nasal decongestion, even in cases of acute allergic rhinitis. This precision dosage, possible only with the micro-aerosol presentation of Nomaze AH, overcomes the danger of stimulating the central nervous system—a common disadvantage with decongestant drugs given in indeterminate dosage by drops and sprays. Easy to carry and convenient to use, Nomaze AH is a complete unit, independent of nasal applicators and refills. Basic NHS price 9/4d. One unit delivers 180 metered doses—and brings relief the summer through.

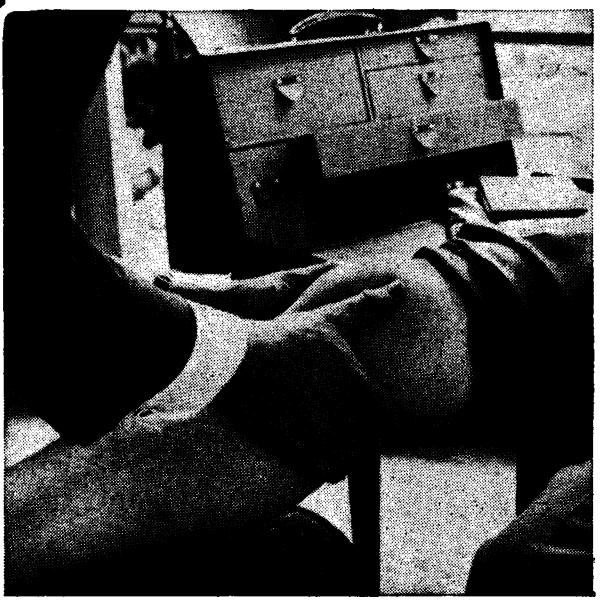
Betamethasone in General Practice



Betnelan (betamethasone) is particularly well suited for low or 'physiological' dose therapy of rheumatoid arthritis. It has high anti-rheumatic activity, but shows improved gastro-intestinal tolerance, has virtually no effect on electrolyte balance, and has no depressive action on mental function. A further development with betamethasone has been the introduction of Betnesol Tablets. They dissolve spontaneously in water to form a palatable, tinted, clear solution, offering rapid and consistent absorption. Betnesol is well tolerated because no solid steroid reaches the stomach. It is the most acceptable and advanced form of oral corticosteroid therapy that you can give your patients.

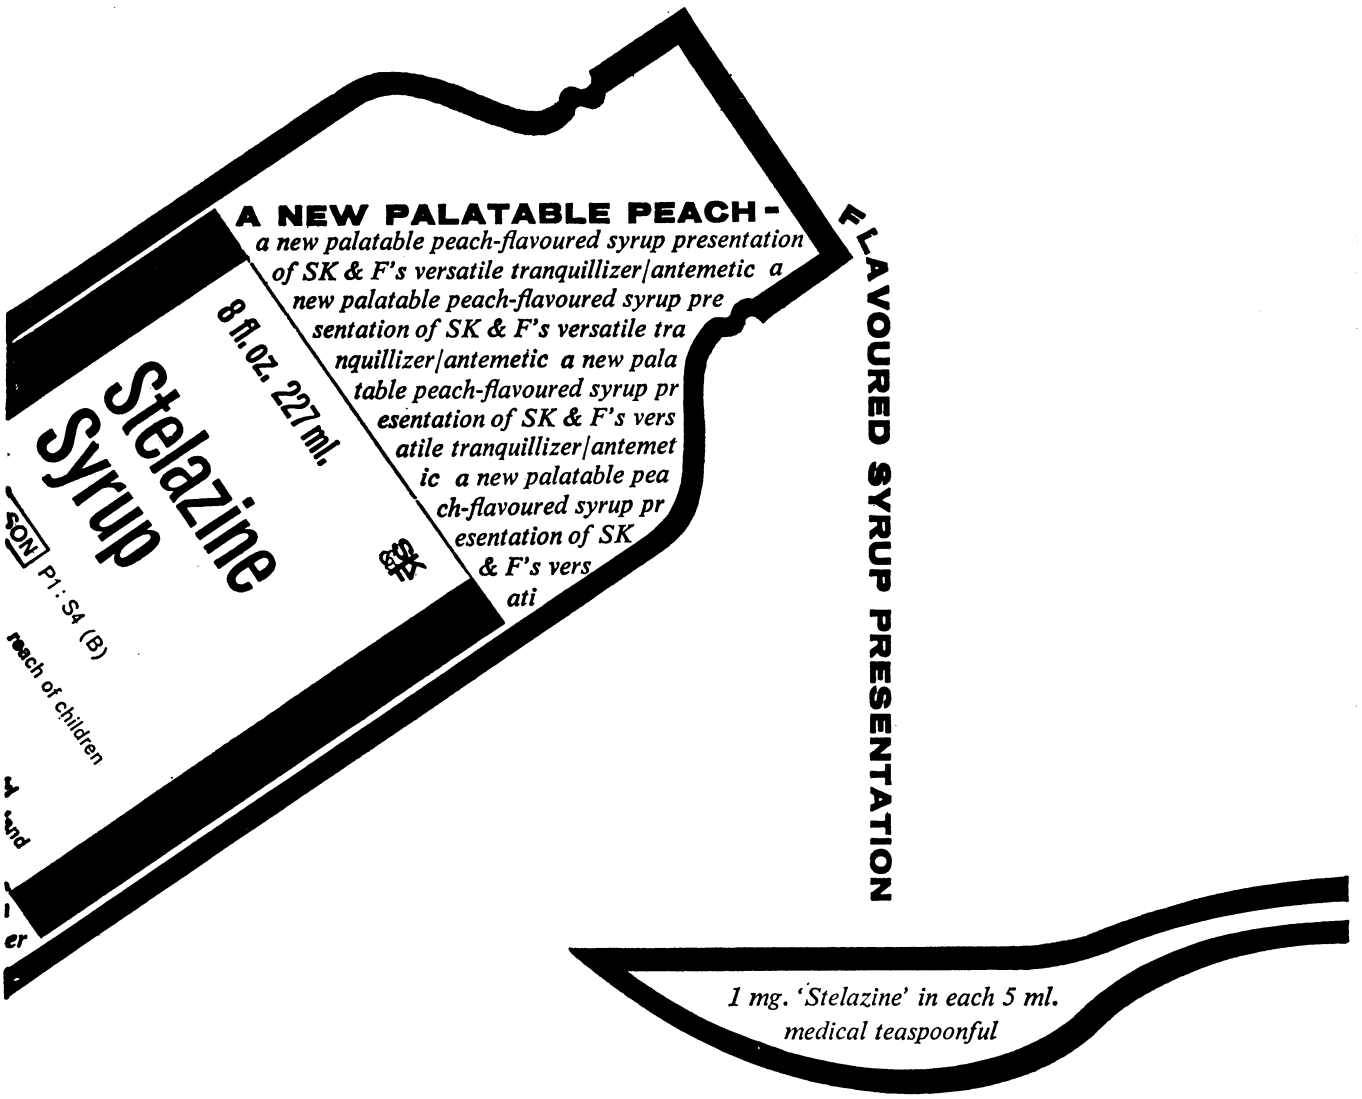
INTRODUCING



'STELAZINE' SYRUP

The wide-spread use of 'Stelazine' in anxiety, tension, nausea and vomiting, and behaviour disorders in children, calls for every form of presentation, including a palatable syrup. The practitioner frequently faces situations where it may be necessary, or considered preferable, to prescribe liquid medication.

He may, for example, need—

- to treat patients—particularly children—who will not, or cannot, take tablets or capsules
- to prescribe doses of less than 1 mg. for young children
- to minimize the risk of 'cheeking' and ensure that the prescribed dose is really taken.

To meet the need in every situation where tablets cause trouble, 'Stelazine' is now available as a palatable peach-flavoured syrup.

Literature containing prescribing information is available on request.

'Stelazine' Syrup contains 1 mg. trifluoperazine in each medical teaspoonful (5 ml.); also 'Stelazine' Tablets 1 mg., and 'Stelazine Spansule' 2 mg. sustained-release capsules.

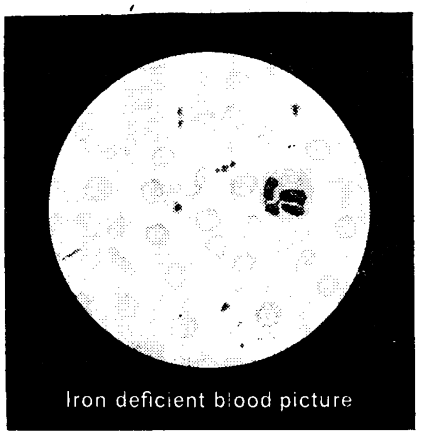
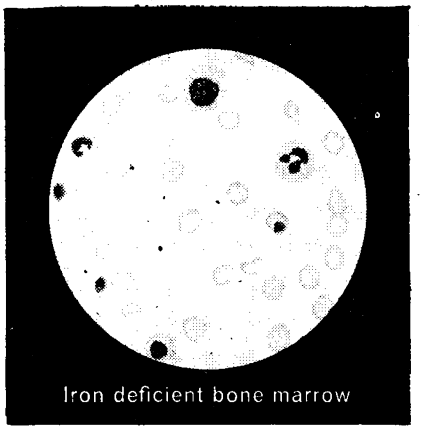
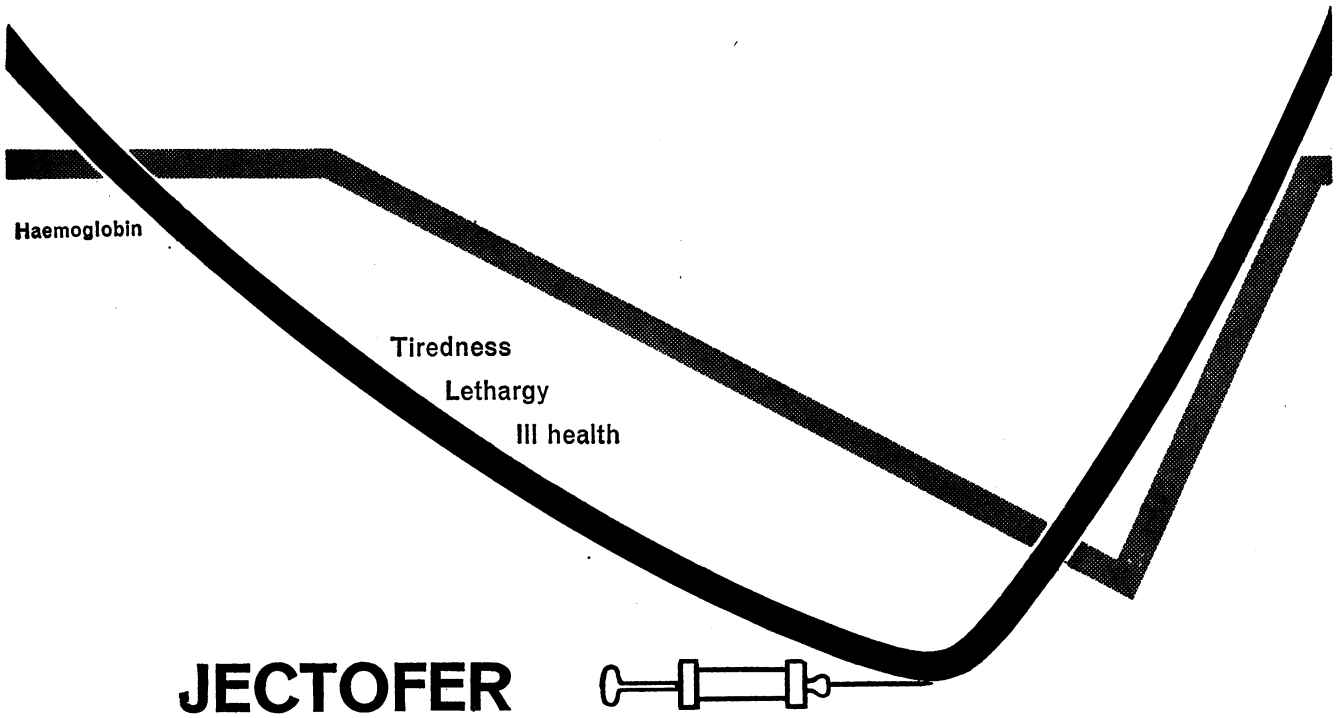
Iron deficiency starts long before detectable anaemia







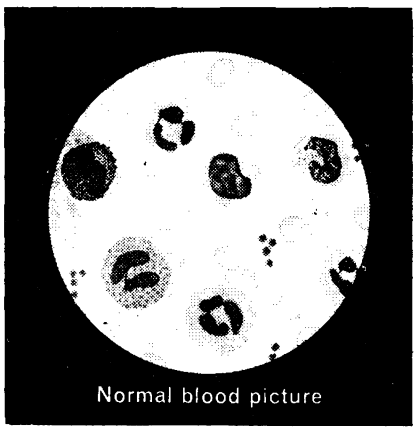
JECTOFER

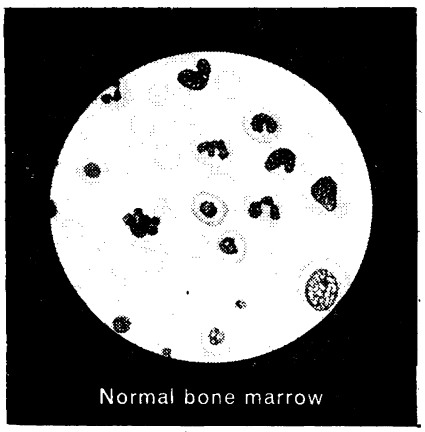
...and ends with a course of JECTOFER®

i.m.

...quick-efficient convenient

–the foremost parenteral iron





JECTOFER IS AN ASTRA-HEWLETT PRODUCT

Librium is the registered trade mark for preparations containing chlordiazepoxide

Too much iron delivered in any one place at any one time is difficult to deal with, to say the least. In the stomach, excessive ferrous sulphate causes irritation and unpleasant side effects, often leading to the patient's abandoning therapy.

The FERRO-GRADUMET® is a unique approach to the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia; for just one tablet daily gives steady, trouble-free assimilation of ample amounts of iron. Instead of releasing a corrosively large dose of ferrous sulphate in the stomach, the Gradumet slowly leaches out its contents over a period of hours throughout the gastro-intestinal tract until, finally, the empty matrix is excreted.

This once-daily haematinic is made to be taken on an empty stomach. The predetermined release pattern, which is independent of body chemistry, retains the greater part of the ferrous sulphate until the tablet has passed into the small intestine, where it is better absorbed with less irritation.

The secret of the Gradumet lies in an inert spongelike matrix, the pores of which are permeated with ferrous sulphate and a soluble 'channelling agent'. Each Ferro-GRADUMET tablet contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate, equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron—a sufficient daily dose in all but the most severe cases of iron-deficiency anaemia.

In pregnancy and other conditions where gastro-intestinal side effects are particularly to be avoided, a course of Ferro-GRADUMET tablets makes an ideal oral iron treatment—so sure that it may often obviate the need for parenteral administration, and more acceptable than the needle.

PRESENTATION Each red Filmtab ® (film-coated tablet, Abbott) contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate (in exsiccated form), equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron. A complete month's treatment (30 Ferro-Gradumet tablets) has a basic NHS cost of 5/5 from largest pack.

® GRADUMET and FILMTAB are Registered Trade Marks.

The soap that knows when to stop

NEUTROGENA is a tablet of soap—not a tablet of magic. It offers no medical panacea. But it does do what Nature wants a soap to do: It simply cleans. Recommended for soap and/or detergent sensitivity. Much less irritating than normal soaps: leaves acid barrier intact; has less skin penetration, hence less irritation.

folaemin provides sounder protection against anaemia of pregnancy than oral iron alone

Recent investigations* indicate that folic acid added to iron provides a sounder prophylactic approach to anaemia of pregnancy than oral iron alone. Folaemin has been formulated with this in mind and is significantly different from other haematinic preparations in one major respect. In addition to iron, Folaemin contains a microdose of folic acid (50 micrograms). Microgram doses of folic acid routinely administered from the early months of pregnancy not only ensure increased response to oral iron but can prevent folic acid deficiency and the emergence of a frank megaloblastic anaemia, without masking a true pernicious anaemia.

IRON with all its advantages and few of its drawbacks

In the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia by the oral route in adults or children, PLESMET—chelated iron in tablet or syrup form has been suggested as a most effective preparation because of a low incidence of gastro-intestinal symptoms.

The Practitioner, 1960, 184, 792.

FOR COMPLETE AVAILABILITY OF THE B VITAMINS

Deficiencies of single factors of the Vitamin B Complex do not occur. Thus, even when a deficiency condition seems to result from the lack of a single factor of the Complex, and it is considered necessary to give intensive treatment with this factor, the other members of the Complex should be administered concurrently. It is therefore essential that the source of the Vitamin B Complex selected for this purpose should release its full vitamin content to the body. Human experiments show that the rich, natural vitamin potency of Aluzyme is completely available to the human system. Basic N.H.S. Cost: Tablets 500 4/-, 1000 7/2d. Literature and samples available on request.
