Less potassium loss

produces only half the potassium loss of the thiazides for the same volume of water excreted; conversely, doubles water and sodium excretion for the same potassium loss as the thiazides

Starts to act where thiazides stop effective where thiazides fail: when thiazides give no further response Lasix gives an immediate increase in diuresis

Precise control of response

diuresis lasts about four hours, can be adjusted to suit patient's convenience—taken at teatime diuresis is over by bedtime: response is directly proportional to dosage

Clinical findings

“the Na/K ratio for [Lasix] (2.53) was considerably better than that for hydrochlorothiazide (1.64). The same difference was apparent in urinary potassium concentration, which was 34.8 milliequivalents/litre when [Lasix] was given, as opposed to 67.7 milliequivalents/litre during hydrochlorothiazide therapy.”

Lasix “is distinctly superior in diuretic action, fluid output being 200% greater and sodium excretion 167% greater than the levels achieved by hydrochlorothiazide.”

“The danger of hypokalaemia appears to be less during [Lasix] treatment than during treatment with other diuretics at present in use. No other significant side-effects have so far been observed.”

Experimental Investigations and Clinical Trials of Lasix

Dtsch. med. Wschr., 1963, 88, 1695

Some facts about Lasix

Lasix belongs to a new group of compounds with diuretic activity that is valuable whenever the risk of hypokalaemia has to be minimized, and it obviates the concurrent administration of potassium salts. It has a powerful effect on sodium and water excretion, and works even in severe sodium retention when thiazides have failed Lasix has a superior action to other diuretics and it has an exceptionally high therapeutic reserve in comparison with them, so that it is possible to increase the dosage with safety up to 500 mg. daily until the desired therapeutic effect is obtained. The usual dosage range is 40-120 mg.

Lasix is also one of the very few diuretics that can be administered intravenously. Onset is immediate and lasts for up to two hours. This makes Lasix particularly valuable in emergency treatment.

Lasix acts by inhibiting tubular reabsorption of sodium. It is indicated in cardiac, hepatic and renal oedema. Lasix is very well tolerated: few side-effects have been reported, none serious Lasix is one of the safest and most potent diuretics to be introduced to the medical profession this decade.

Presentation and Price: Lasix is presented as tablets of 40 mg. in containers of 50 and 250 at basic NHS prices of 32/6d and 154/4d; and in ampoules containing 20 mg. in 2 ml. in packages of 5 and 25 at 17/9d and 84/4d. These prices are subject to P.T.

THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE BRITISH ARMY

*What are your thoughts in your pre-registration year? Have you decided to go direct into general practice?
To take up a hospital appointment? Or have you other ideas?*

You may well consider a 3 or 5 year Short Service Commission in the ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS. You will have great scope for a well-paid job in general practice, or a chance to specialise.

At the end of the period of your Short Service Commission there is a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1500 or £3000. Rank during pre-registration is Lieutenant with promotion to Captain on full registration.

SCOPE OF THE WORK

Professional standards are high. The R.A.M.C. is responsible for the welfare not only of serving officers and men but also of their families, the Women's Services and some of the civilians working with the Army. Thus there is ample scope for good general practice. There are thirty well equipped hospitals at home and overseas, as well as field medical units to provide medical care for the Army in its active role. Research is an increasingly important aspect of work in the R.A.M.C.

PAY, ALLOWANCES AND LEAVE

The range of pay varies from not less than £2000 for the young married Captain up to £5000 for the senior consultant. Annual allowances may be paid to assist in the education of your children.

Six weeks leave may be taken each year and you are not responsible for finding and paying your relief.

LIVING ACCOMMODATION

If you are single you would live in a well appointed Officers' Mess, at very small cost from your pocket. If you are married you are usually provided with a fully furnished house for which the rent would be less than £200 a year.

YOUR FAMILY

For the married man the attitude of his wife to the Service is of the greatest importance. The community spirit of Army life, especially overseas, embraces an officer's family as much as himself. In addition to having your family with you at home and with opportunities to take them with you overseas, such allowances as Marriage Allowance, Education Allowance, Disturbance Allowance and Local Overseas Allowance show the importance attached by the Army to your family life.

FUTURE PROSPECTS

If you decide to return to civil life at the end of your Short Service Commission you will have gained considerable experience and have a substantial sum behind you to get started.

If you decide to make a career in the Service you may apply for a permanent commission and serve up to the age of 60. Promotion to Major is after 5 years reckonable service, and to Lieut-Colonel after 13.

You may continue if you wish in general practice where great importance is attached to post-graduate study for such diplomas as D.Obst. R.C.O.G., and D.C.H. Refresher courses are arranged at the Royal Army Medical College and other post-graduate centres. Officers granted permanent commissions may apply for training in any of fourteen specialties and those selected are given ample time and opportunity for obtaining their higher qualifications. Senior specialists may be awarded consultant grading directly comparable with civilian standards and extra pay for specialist and consultants ranges between £109 and £584 a year.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

Please write giving your age and qualifications to:

Colonel A. D. Young, D.S.O., M.B., Army Medical Directorate, Dept. 295, Lansdowne House, Berkeley Square, London, W.1. or you may care to come and discuss your application personally.

The corticosteroid with one starting dose for all three Uniform initial dosage schedule for LEDERCORT triamcinolone facilitates management of most commonly encountered corticosteroid responsive disorders—often provides higher, more uniform potency and efficacy than other analogues. ONCE-A-DAY DOSAGE, for arthritis—asthma—dermatoses provides 24-hour suppressive effect, minimises "missed dose" problems, further facilitates administration and management.

the corticosteroid more patients can start on and stay on LEDERCORT triamcinolone shows a remarkable ability to obtain and maintain desirable results with, in many cases, fewer collateral limitations than hydrocortisone, dexamethasone, betamethasone or other corticosteroids. Patients unresponsive or unable to tolerate other corticosteroids frequently do well on LEDERCORT triamcinolone. Cardiac disease, hypertension, emotional disturbance and obesity are not considered contraindications for LEDERCORT. Patients have stayed on this modern corticosteroid for many years... with notable freedom from side effects.

1 Routine Dosage

Doses of 250mg. q.i.d. of Penbritin will usually suppress H. influenzae, the most important pathogenic organism in Chronic Bronchitis, with consequent relief of exacerbations. In the majority of cases, this method, repeated whenever an exacerbation occurs, is all that is required to keep the patient ambulant.

2 Prophylaxis

When continuous daily treatment is considered desirable, one capsule (250mg.) is recommended every twelve hours.

3 High Dosage Therapy*

This technique offers great promise in the treatment of winter-long purulent cases, particularly those which fail to respond to other antibiotic regimens² or who have previously required continuous antibiotic cover². Moreover, many of the patients remained free from exacerbations for long periods after treatment was stopped. These high doses have been given without side-effects^{1,2}.

A likely explanation for these clinical results is that a concentration of Penbritin bactericidal to H. influenzae has been attained in the sputum^{1,2,3}, and estimations of sputum level of the antibiotic give support to this probability². A bactericidal concentration of the tetracyclines is unattainable in any practical dosage². One of the authors² commented:

'Such a response to other antibiotics is, in our experience, extremely rare in patients of the type taking part in this trial'.

An analysis of the nutritional properties of Mackeson

Of course, dark beers have long been regarded as a valuable aid in building up strength after illness. But Mackeson has the important advantage of being more acceptable to invalids and convalescents because of its taste.

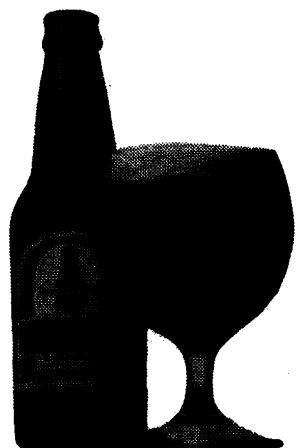

Instead of having a bitter taste it is smooth and mild in flavour and consequently goes down' much better with the patients.

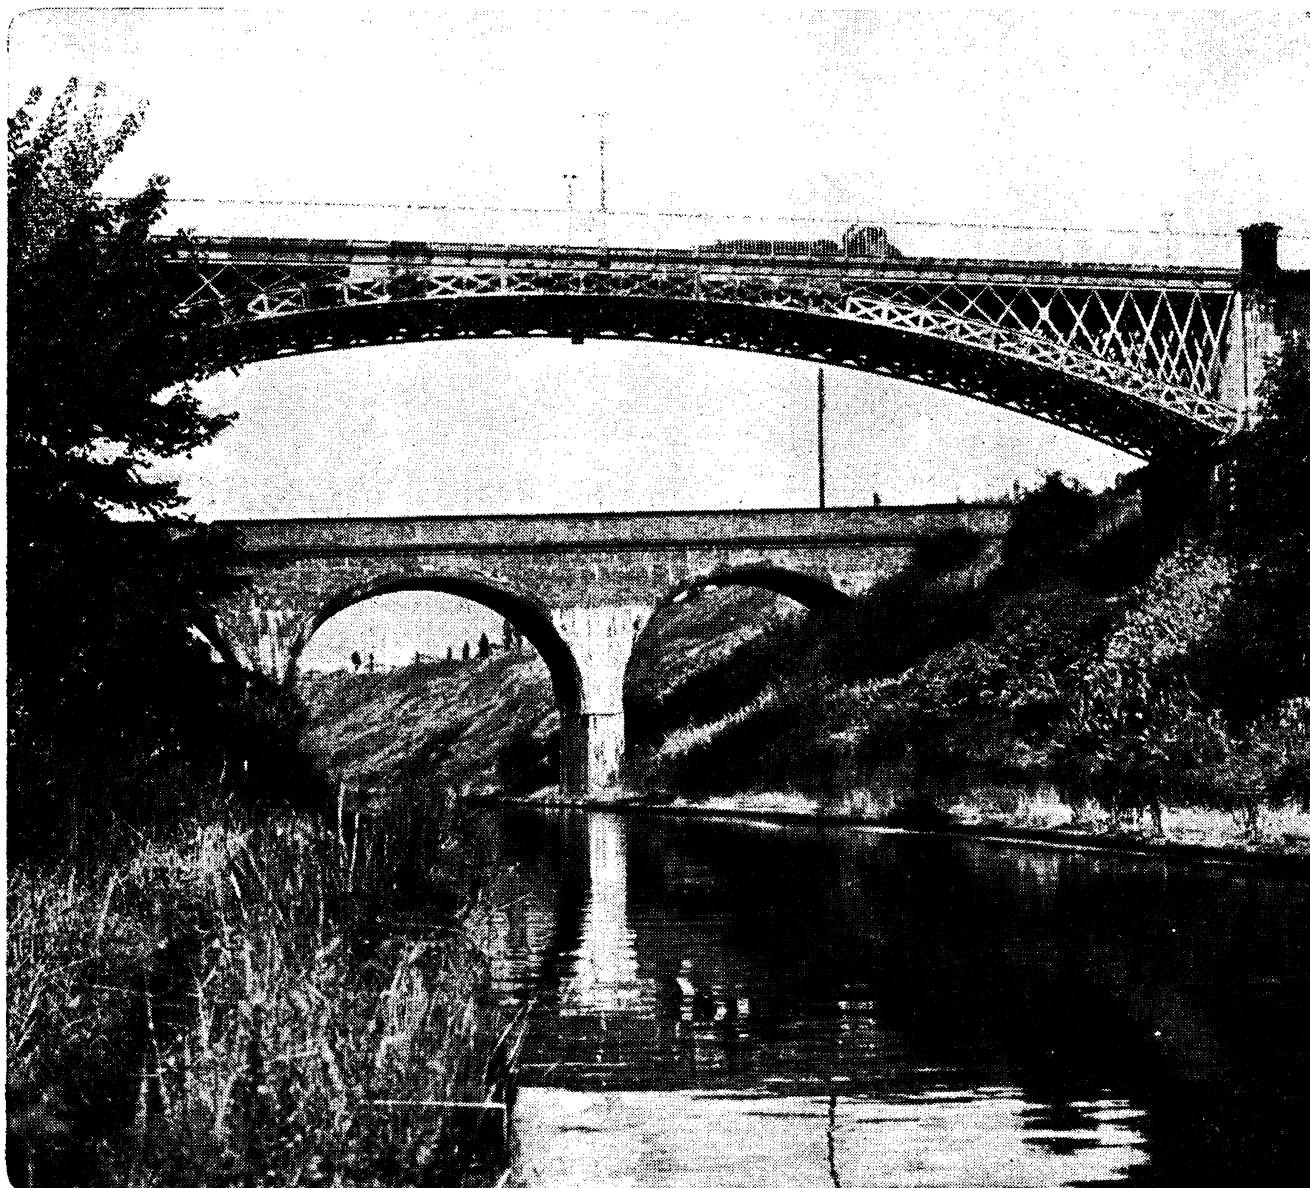

Calorific Value: 276 calories per pint, essentially equal to three quarters of a pint of milk.

Lactose Sugar: One of the main ingredients, easily digested and quickly assimilated even by weakened digestive systems.

Nitrogenous Matter: as protein break-down products, e.g. peptides and amino acids.

B-Group Vitamins: contains valuable water-soluble members of this group of vitamins.

SIDROS—FOR THE PATIENT DEFICIENT IN IRON

well tolerated iron compound plus reducing agent to aid absorption

In the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia many iron salts can produce the desired increase in haemoglobin level. Some also have a tendency to produce side-effects, and there can be a great deal of wastage through non-absorption.

SIDROS is designed to overcome these disadvantages, and provides a reliable treatment for iron-deficiency anaemia.

Ferrous gluconate Each Sidros tablet contains 300 mg of ferrous gluconate which produces a highly satisfactory clinical response and is very well tolerated.

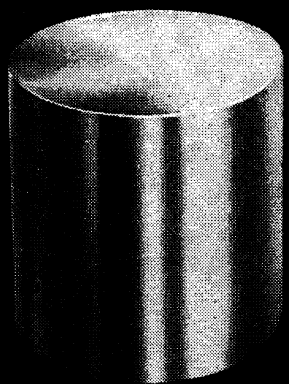

Ascorbic acid Sidros also contains stabilized ascorbic acid (30 mg per tablet) which is known to aid absorption by maintaining iron in the reduced state.

The basic NHS price of 100 Sidros tablets is 2/8 as dispensed from 1000 tablet bottle. Samples of Sidros are available on request.

SIDROS is effective, well absorbed, well tolerated and economical

THE INTERNATIONAL STANDARD OF MASS...

... is this platinum-iridium cylinder kept at the International Bureau of Weights and Measures, Sèvres, near Paris. It was established in 1889, and is known as the International Prototype Kilogramme. Its height is equal to its diameter and it is composed of 90% platinum and 10% iridium. Replicas have been distributed, as national reference copies, to other countries.

If the reference weights have a different composition from the standard, the different buoyances in air must be taken into account. This emphasizes the high degree of accuracy involved.

TRANSVASIN is the standard therapy... for the relief of rheumatic symptoms

Patients suffering from rheumatic lesions obtain rapid relief with Transvasin, the well-proven and economical therapy. The esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids penetrate the skin and are concentrated at the point of injury, producing superficial erythema and deep hyperaemia. Transvasin is a valuable adjuvant in the treatment of osteo and rheumatoid arthritis.

“Doctor,
I feel awful”

Once she might have been diagnosed as “anxiety state”. Today, you know she might be a depressive, but it doesn’t seem as simple as all that. The truth of the matter is that patients don’t always fit neatly into diagnostic categories. They may suffer from such diverse symptoms as depression, agitation, loss of appetite and tension-fatigue at the same time.

The great strength of ‘Aventyl’ is that its beneficial actions range widely over the symptoms which plague these problem patients. ‘Aventyl’ is not merely an anti-depressant, nor is it a combination of drugs. It is a single substance which relieves a constellation of mental and emotional symptoms embracing depression, anxiety and their effects on awareness and mood.

‘Aventyl’ is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor, and no serious side-effects have been reported at the recommended dosage.

AN EVANS MEDICAL PRODUCT

This is no ordinary tetracycline tablet

It has the widest range of activity of the broad-spectrum antibiotics available today, for, in addition to tetracycline, it contains a highly effective antifungal antibiotic, nystatin, which can prevent the monilial superinfection often found when tetracycline alone is given. Thus, the patient receiving this tetracycline tablet is protected against monilial side-effects such as nausea and vomiting; diarrhoea; ano-genital pruritus; and thrush¹

a matter of judgment

To construct a good mortice and tenon joint requires the fine judgment of a craftsman. The hardness and grain of the wood and the size of the joint to be made must all be taken into account in selecting the right tool. Not merely one that would do, but the right one. Comparable situations occur every day in every field—including the doctor's problem of selecting an antibiotic from the array offered him.

After rejecting those of the antibiotics unlikely to be effective, and those which should be used only in special circumstances, Erythrocin (erythromycin, Abbott) will be chosen as the ideal antibiotic for initial therapy in a wide variety of common infections. The tetracyclines and chloramphenicol have narrower clinical indications than their broad bacterial spectra might suggest—unexcelled in certain infections, but often better replaced by less toxic agents. Erythrocin is probably the least toxic of all antibiotics, yet it has similar clinical effectiveness in the more common infections.

Penicillin G and V are cheap and often effective, had not so many strains of staphylococci become resistant. Even the synthetic penicillins have not entirely overcome the problem of allergic reactions. Erythrocin is perhaps the least allergenic antibiotic available.

Erythrocin is very active against the cocci and several of the more commonly pathogenic Gram-negative organisms, without upsetting the balance of the commensals. Though it has been in use for more than ten years, relatively few staphylococci have developed resistance. Whereas it was once an expensive antibiotic, with continued increasing use it is now an extremely economical one. Most important, the Erythrocin preparations are perhaps the safest forms of the safest of all antibiotics, for none has been shown to cause liver damage.

RESPIRATORY FUNCTION IN DISEASE

An Introduction to the Integrated Study of the Lung

By David D. Bates, M.D., M.R.C.P., and Ronald V. Christie, M.D., M.Sc., D.Sc., Sc.D., F.A.C.P., F.R.C.P.

A truly excellent application of recently developed knowledge of pulmonary physiology to the understanding and management of respiratory disease. The three opening chapters discuss methods of study of pulmonary function; the modern concept of evaluation of lung disease; and the various components of normal pulmonary function. The remainder of the book is devoted to individual disease entities, with discussions of clinical features, radiological features and pathology—plus an exhaustive explanation of the pathophysiological effects of that particular disorder on overall pulmonary function. Altogether, 54 illustrative clinical case histories are presented, as well as some very useful commentaries on the effects of treatment on the pattern of disordered function.

'Indocid' is chemically unique, unrelated to the corticosteroids, butazones and salicylates.

'Indocid' rapidly relieves pain and inflammation; in osteoarthritis, it is often effective where other agents are inadequate. 'Indocid' is suitable for prolonged and uninterrupted therapy.

'Indocid' has been the subject of long and exhaustive controlled clinical trials. A number of British papers have already been published.

Coughs and Bronchitis

ECONOMY: The cost of Pavacol at the dispensing pack rate to chemists is only 7d. per fluid ounce.

DUAL ACTIVITY: Pavacol relieves Cough by acting in two ways:—

- 1 The pholcodine content exhibits a cough suppressant effect comparable with that of Heroin but without the latter's disadvantages in being addictive and constipating;
- 2 The Papaverine content relaxes plain muscle by direct action and the resultant bronchodilatation makes it easier for the patient to cough up sputum.

DIABETIC SYRUP ALSO AVAILABLE—Pavacol Diabetic contains the same ingredients as ordinary Pavacol Syrup but carbohydrates are omitted: Indications, dosage and price are identical.

The PORTOGEN could make life more tolerable for some of your patients

Many patients suffering from chronic respiratory insufficiency are debarred from normal activities by their dependence on a supply of supplementary oxygen.

THE PORTOGEN has been designed to provide such a supply in extremely portable and handy form. It contains sufficient oxygen to last for 25 minutes at a continuous flow of 4 litres per minute, and yet the complete outfit, including 100 litre cylinder, regulator, control valve, gauge, and neat, ever-ready carrying case weighs little more than 3lbs.

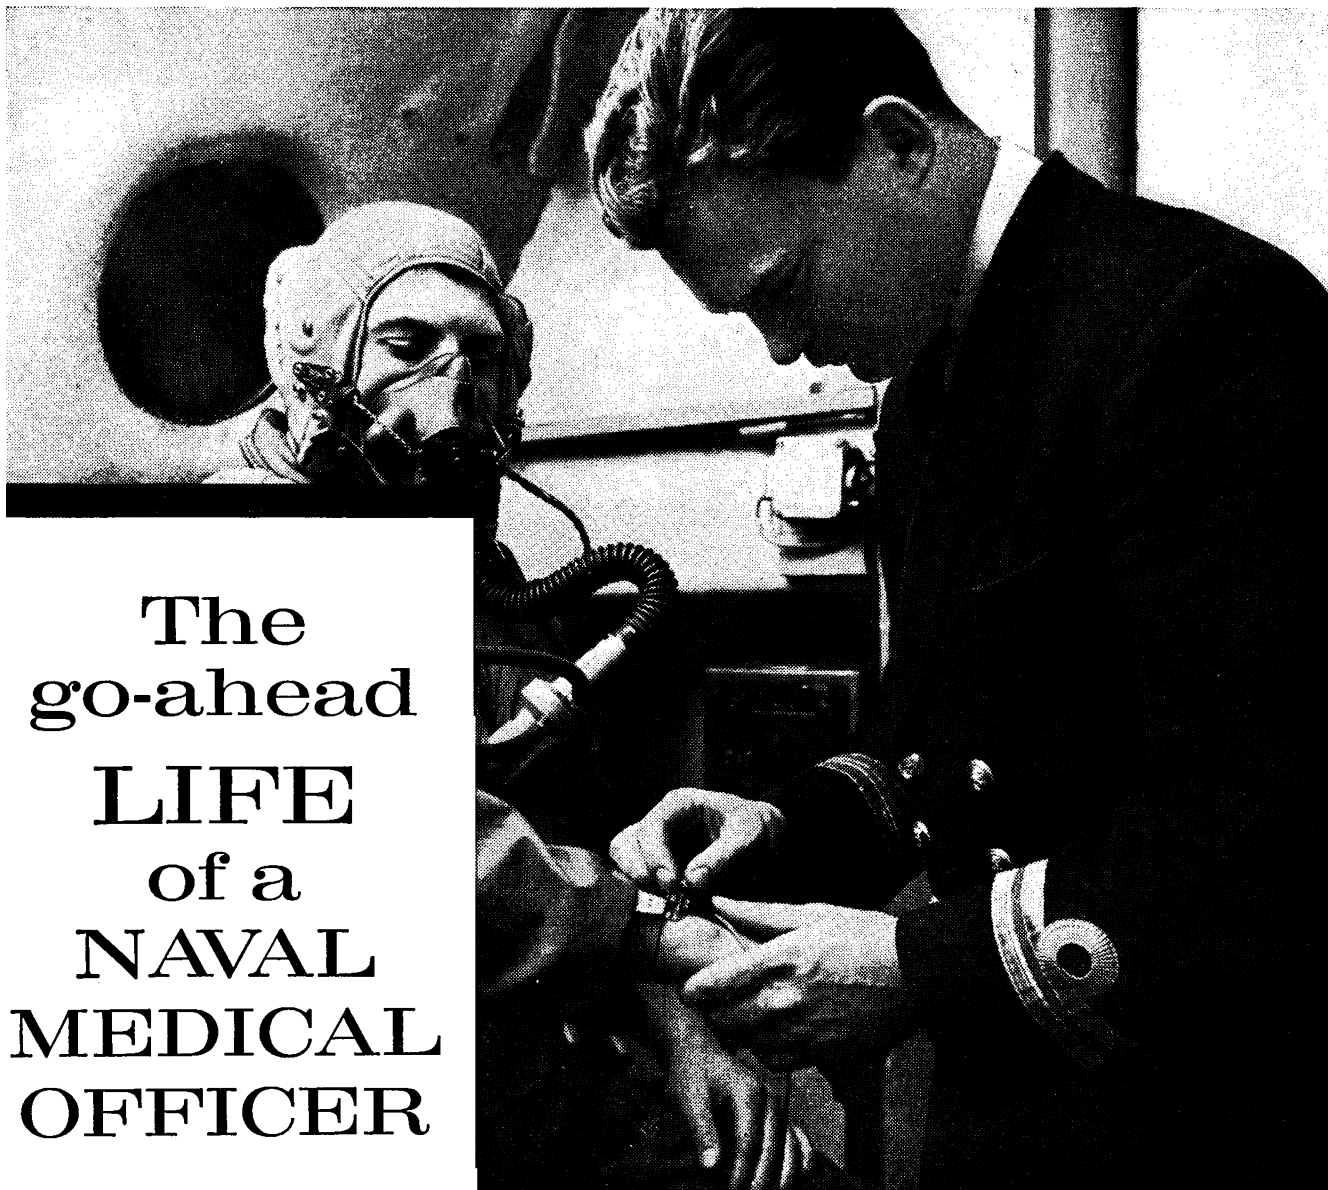

THE PORTOGEN also constitutes a readily available source of oxygen for use in all kinds of respiratory emergencies, and is therefore eminently suitable for your surgery and your car.

THE PORTOGEN is simple and safe. Very little instruction is needed in its use, and cylinders may either be exchanged through a chemist, or recharged by the patient from a standard 48 cu. ft. cylinder in his home.

For further information, get in touch with your nearest Branch of British Oxygen. Our representative will be glad to call on you by arrangement.

As a Medical Officer, your pay, allowances, and gratuity—or permanent commission pension—are very good: for example, your initial pay is considerably higher than that of a civilian hospital registrar.

You can enter in one of three ways: as a registered Medical Practitioner—your civilian experience back-dating seniority—or as a qualified doctor doing your pre-registration year, or as a student with a 2nd M.B. Pathology—contd. on p. xlii.

He plans a career in public health

Flt. Lt. Anthony Finnigan qualified at Leeds, and, to begin with, joined the R.A.F. for three years in lieu of National Service. Then (rather to his surprise, because he'd expected a lot of regimentation) he found himself liking the life, and signed on for another 2: five in all. His job is Unit M.O. at the R.A.F. Station at Abingdon, in Berkshire, where he helps to run the self-contained 'cottage hospital' which you find at most R.A.F. Stations. Apart from wards, this one has its own dispensary, laboratory, theatre and a fully equipped physiotherapy department. Many of the patients, of course, are men; but most of the work is, as in civilian practice, with women and children. But Finnigan doubts whether, as a civilian GP, he would be able to keep his patients so well under his eye. For instance, at Abingdon he can refer cases for physiotherapy or perform minor operations in his own 'hospital', on his own premises. Finnigan has enjoyed his time in the R.A.F. and is sure the experience has made a better doctor of him. But now, he says, he is ready to settle down. He plans to work in Public Health—and is planning, too, the best use for £3,000 gratuity. £1,500 will go down on a house. And the other £1,500? "I'm not sure yet," he says. But he looks pleased, nonetheless. Wouldn't you?

IS THIS YOUR PRE-REGISTRATION YEAR?

Before you commit yourself to a practice work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

When is the right time for you to make the big, once-and-for-always decisions about the way it's best for you to work and live your life? Straight away, now, at once? Or when you have had the chance to do a little out-of-hospital doctoring 'on your own', seen some common ailments and got a bit of capital together? Many people feel that it is only prudent not to be in too much of a hurry. If you are one of them, here is a thought for you:

You don't, now, have to choose either an R.A.F. career or a civilian one. You can have both. And there are good reasons why you should—not only for your own sake and your family's, but in the interests of the profession and the public generally.

Interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine

Your first job in the R.A.F. (which you'll get three months after you join) will probably be Junior M.O. at a Station—rather like being an "Assistant with a view". In a typical case, you'd be one of two doctors, with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of. These would be the officers and men serving with you on the Station, and their families, plus any civilians who might be working there.

You'd have a much shorter list than you would as a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F., you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion, you do less curative work, and more preventive work than most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised: with the closest possible intermingling of the doctor and his patients.

You see a bit of the world

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went from hospital into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived—and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years, and visited 7 countries on leave or duty, two European, three Asian, and two Australasian. All this, of course, was some time ago—he's been in civilian practice 10 years now; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems much more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. The two communities have much more in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose about what they do. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School when you leave it, think about going into the R.A.F.: Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

'Retire' with up to £3,000, tax-free

Next year, if you were in the R.A.F. as a married officer, your pay and allowances could be over £2,000. You would get regular 'rises' and regular promotion. In hard cash terms you would be literally hundreds of pounds better off than your civilian opposite-numbers. Besides which, your cost-of-living would be lower: if you were single, living in the Mess, you would get the equivalent of first-class hotel accommodation for, perhaps, 2/- a day out of your pay; if you were married, and the R.A.F. provided you with a house furnished right down to the last coffee cup, and they probably would—the rent would be £192 p.a.

Leave the Service after 3 years, and you get a gratuity of £1,500, tax-free; stay on for 5, and you get £3,000. With this, you could put down a deposit on a house and furnish it very well indeed, attic to cellar.

Five years from now. You'd probably still be the right side of thirty. What a start to a career!

In all your life, when will you have a chance like this again?

Today, because you are young and at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be.

At this stage in life, you have none of the commitments that might make an older man hold back; things like a practice that has your name on it; obligations to a community that you have become a part of; the ownership of property . . . and suchlike hostages to fortune.

All these things will, quite properly, come along in due time.

Meanwhile, you have this chance and now is the time to find out about it. If you can't write off straight away, tear this advertisement out and put it in your pocket to remind you.

Do not let this chance go by default

For full information, please write giving your age and qualifications to Wing Commander D. G. M. HILLS, M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (MAI/HN 171G), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London WC1.
