The search is on for sunny beaches on which to laze or play in relative solitude or mix with the crowd; for luxury hotels or quiet village inns.

Now that the main roads in Britain and on the Continent have been so much improved the temptation to look even further afield becomes greater. Car ferry services by sea and train are being increased each year and motor coaches are turning into mobile first-class saloons with "all mod cons." For a sight-seeing tour on the Continent this is indeed a pleasant and carefree way of spending a holiday. The prices are so reasonable that one wonders how it can be done so successfully.

Many people refuse to go on holiday without a car. It is worth while considering the advantages of travelling to your destination by normal means and hiring a car on your arrival. This does save time and energy and the cost is usually about £3 0 0d. a day.

Sweden is now quite a favourite with motorists and the roads are good along the coast and around the lake resorts. Petrol is 4s. 6d. a gallon. One shipping company will even take your car to Gothenburg and back for nothing providing there are three passengers as well as the driver, or offer a 25% reduction for two passengers and the driver.

The popularity of cruising is as strong as ever. Some cruises have increased itineraries, particularly in the Eastern Mediterranean, to such an extent that they seem to have as many stopping places as a London bus. One difference being, of course, that you can sleep so much more comfortably on a ship, since luxury is the essence of them all.

The attractions of the Costa Brava, Costa Del Sol and the Italian and French Riviéras will be well to the fore again. As also in Greece the choice of resorts is quite considerable and many of them have built new hotels. Some of the tours announced are indeed most attractive and temper the classical sightseeing with ample time for relaxation, whether you prefer to bask in the sun or sit in the shade and sample wines.

Despite the many attractions of holidays abroad there is still a lot to be said in favour of the British Isles, where good hotels can be found everywhere and opportunities for golf and sailing are abundant.

The corticosteroid with one starting dose for all three

Uniform initial dosage schedule for LEDERCORT triamcinolone facilitates management of most commonly encountered corticosteroid responsive disorders—often provides higher, more uniform potency and efficacy than other analogues. ONCE-A-DAY DOSAGE, for arthritis—asthma—dermatoses provides 24-hour suppressive effect, minimises "missed dose" problems, further facilitates administration and management.

the corticosteroid more patients can start on and stay on

LEDERCORT triamcinolone shows a remarkable ability to obtain and maintain desirable results with, in many cases, fewer collateral limitations than hydrocortisone, dexamethasone, betamethasone or other corticosteroids. Patients unresponsive or unable to tolerate other corticosteroids frequently do well on LEDERCORT triamcinolone. Cardiac disease, hypertension, emotional disturbance and obesity are not considered contra-indications for LEDERCORT. Patients have stayed on this modern corticosteroid for many years... with notable freedom from side effects.

THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE IN THE BRITISH ARMY

What are your thoughts in your pre-registration year? Have you decided to go direct into general practice?

To take up a hospital appointment? Or have you other ideas?

You may well consider a 3 or 5 year Short Service Commission in the ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS. You will have great scope for a well-paid job in general practice, or a chance to specialise.

At the end of the period of your Short Service Commission there is a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1500 or £3000. Rank during pre-registration is Lieutenant with promotion to Captain on full registration.

SCOPE OF THE WORK

Professional standards are high. The R.A.M.C. is responsible for the welfare not only of serving officers and men but also of their families, the Women's Services and some of the civilians working with the Army. Thus there is ample scope for good general practice. There are thirty well equipped hospitals at home and overseas, as well as field medical units to provide medical care for the Army in its active role. Research is an increasingly important aspect of work in the R.A.M.C.

PAY, ALLOWANCES AND LEAVE

The range of pay varies from not less than £2000 for the young married Captain up to £5000 for the senior consultant. Annual allowances may be paid to assist in the education of your children.

Six weeks leave may be taken each year and you are not responsible for finding and paying your relief.

LIVING ACCOMMODATION

If you are single you would live in a well appointed Officers' Mess, at very small cost from your pocket. If you are married you are usually provided with a fully furnished house for which the rent would be less than £200 a year.

YOUR FAMILY

For the married man the attitude of his wife to the Service is of the greatest importance. The community spirit of Army life, especially overseas, embraces an officer's family as much as himself. In addition to having your family with you at home and with opportunities to take them with you overseas, such allowances as Marriage Allowance, Education Allowance, Disturbance Allowance and Local Overseas Allowance show the importance attached by the Army to your family life.

FUTURE PROSPECTS

If you decide to return to civil life at the end of your Short Service Commission you will have gained considerable experience and have a substantial sum behind you to get started.

If you decide to make a career in the Service you may apply for a permanent commission and serve up to the age of 60. Promotion to Major is after 5 years reckonable service, and to Lieut-Colonel after 13.

You may continue if you wish in general practice where great importance is attached to post-graduate study for such diplomas as D.Obst. R.C.O.G., and D.C.H. Refresher courses are arranged at the Royal Army Medical College and other post-graduate centres. Officers granted permanent commissions may apply for training in any of fourteen specialties and those selected are given ample time and opportunity for obtaining their higher qualifications. Senior specialists may be awarded consultant grading directly comparable with civilian standards and extra pay for specialists and consultants ranges between £109 and £584 a year.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

Please write giving your age and qualifications to:

Colonel A. D. Young, D.S.O., M.B., Army Medical Directorate, Dept. 300, Lansdowne House, Berkeley Square, London, W.1. or you may care to come and discuss your application personally.

the whole pain

the pain Distalgesic kills pain in a wide range of conditions from toothache to malignancy. It contains dextropropoxyphene*, a potent non-narcotic analgesic which mg. for mg. is as effective as codeine and comparable with oral pethidine. Dextropropoxyphene maintains effectiveness over long periods without tolerance developing in the patient.

the whole pain Distalgesic tablets contain 32.5 mg. dextropropoxyphene with the addition of 325 mg. paracetamol to broaden the scope of analgesia and add a useful antipyretic action.

nothing but the pain Distalgesic is free from the side-effects associated with aspirin, phenacetin and codeine; it causes neither gastric irritation, nor constipation, nor smooth muscle spasm. Dextropropoxyphene, classified by the W.H.O. as non-narcotic, does not produce euphoria or physical dependence. Adverse reactions to paracetamol are rare.

usual adult dosage two tablets three or four times a day.

*Dextropropoxyphene has been the subject of several well-controlled clinical trials and described as the most promising alternative to codeine. (Brit. med. J., 1963, 1, 318.)

1 Routine Dosage

Doses of 250mg. q.i.d. of Penbritin will usually suppress H. influenzae, the most important pathogenic organism in Chronic Bronchitis, with consequent relief of exacerbations. In the majority of cases, this method, repeated whenever an exacerbation occurs, is all that is required to keep the patient ambulant.

When continuous daily treatment is considered desirable, one capsule (250mg.) is recommended every twelve hours.

3 High Dosage Therapy*

This technique offers great promise in the treatment of winter-long purulent cases, particularly those which fail to respond to other antibiotic regimens<sup>1</sup> or who have previously required continuous antibiotic cover<sup>2</sup>. Moreover, many of the patients remained free from exacerbations for long periods after treatment was stopped. These high doses have been given without side-effects<sup>1,2</sup>. A likely explanation for these clinical results is that a concentration of Penbritin bactericidal to H. influenzae has been attained in the sputum<sup>1,2,3</sup>, and estimations of sputum level of the antibiotic give support to this probability<sup>2</sup>. A bactericidal concentration of the tetracyclines is unattainable in any practical dosage<sup>2</sup>.

'Such a response to other antibiotics is, in our experience, extremely rare in patients of the type taking part in this trial'.

INDOCID

REGD

'Indocid' is a new, non-steroid anti-inflammatory agent with analgesic and antipyretic properties, for oral administration in rheumatoid arthritis, osteoarthritis, ankylosing spondylitis, gout, and certain soft-tissue disorders. 'Indocid' is chemically unique, unrelated to the corticosteroids, butazones and salicylates.

'Indocid' rapidly relieves pain and inflammation; in osteoarthritis, it is often effective where other agents are inadequate. 'Indocid' is suitable for prolonged and uninterrupted therapy.

'Indocid' has been the subject of long and exhaustive controlled clinical trials. A number of British papers have already been published.

'... the first non-corticosteroid agent which produced a predictable and measurable reduction in joint-swelling in most cases of active rheumatoid arthritis.'

Brit. med. J., 1963, 2, 965 (19 Oct)

NOW AVAILABLE FOR HOSPITAL USE

'Indocid' is supplied as 25 mg capsules. Detailed information is available to physicians on request.

'Indocid' was discovered and developed by the Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories and is made in England by MERCK SHARP & DOHME LIMITED, HODDESDON, HERTFORDSHIRE

The illustration (circa 1400 A.D.) depicts the stage of life of an Aztec of ancient Mexico where he suffers from the "pains of middle age". The position of the spear heads indicate the various parts of the body which were particularly afflicted, e.g., his eyes begin to fail, his heart becomes weak and his muscles begin to ache. The Aztecs found that these grumbling pains began rather earlier in their life span than we find in ours. Today, of course, much can be done to relieve the querulousness of old age and the use of drugs such as is helping considerably to make this stage of life happier and more useful.

The EUTONYL® perspective on hypertension

Eutonyl (pargyline hydrochloride, Abbott) possesses a unique combination of properties for the treatment of severe hypertension. Not only is it a potent antihypertensive, but it also has the advantage of being an MAO (monoamine oxidase) inhibitor.

Reduction of the blood pressure—obviously the first requirement—fills the picture with other antihypertensives. With Eutonyl it occupies only the foreground. Eutonyl brings down the blood pressure in even the most severe and stubborn cases: it has been shown to produce an antihypertensive response in some 80-85% of patients, with the diastolic reduction usually similar in all body positions.

MAO inhibition—a unique plus There is a good case for the use of Eutonyl on grounds of antihypertensive potency alone: but dominating the background of the Eutonyl picture is a property which is unique amongst antihypertensives. Eutonyl is an MAO inhibitor. Whereas some other antihypertensives themselves cause depression, any effect on the patient's mood due to Eutonyl will almost certainly be for the better. MAO inhibitors must, of course, be looked at in perspective. The so-called 'cheese reaction' was serious; but it need no longer be so, for with the identification of the foods and drugs responsible such reactions are avoidable. In any case, it is thought that they are likely to be less severe than with tranlylcypromine (which is chemically related to the amphetamines). As regards organic toxicities, there is no evidence that Eutonyl, a non-hydrazine, shares these toxicities of the hydrazine MAO inhibitors.

Side effects not troublesome Eutonyl would be not merely unique but incredible among potent drugs if it had no undesirable side effects. Of course it has; but they compare favourably with those of alternative drugs for the treatment of severe hypertension. If side effects are troublesome, the dosage of Eutonyl should be reduced: its combination with Enduron® (methyclothiazide, Abbott) maintains therapeutic effect and further reduces the level of side effects.

Eutonyl a drug of choice Thus if one stands back to view the details of antihypertensive therapy in perspective, Eutonyl stands out in a third dimension as an undoubted drug of choice in the patient depressed by previous therapy, and as a most valuable alternative to other drugs for the treatment of any patient (subject to contra-indications) suffering from severe hypertension.

Eutonyl (pargyline hydrochloride, Abbott) is supplied in Filmtab® tablets under the names Eutonyl (25 mg, orange) and Eutonyl-Ten (10 mg, pink). Enduron (methyclothiazide, Abbott) is supplied in square grooved tablets of 5 mg. Detailed reference literature available on request.

Calcium-SANDOZ Effervescent Tablets

the most acceptable
high-dose calcium treatment in postmenopausal and senile
osteoporosis

Calcium-Sandoz Effervescent Tablets (orange flavoured):

calcium gluconogalactogluconate
(0.38 g. Ca equivalent to 4 g. calcium gluconate) and 20 mg. ascorbic acid

2 to 5 effervescent tablets daily

"Studies are reported here which suggest that calcium deficiency is an important factor in many cases of postmenopausal and senile osteoporosis. Many patients with these forms of osteoporosis absorb and retain calcium abnormally avidly when on a high calcium intake in the form of supplements (calcium gluconate Sandoz), and moreover may continue to retain it avidly for at least three and a half years. Symptoms of the disease are relieved and no further fractures take place."
