ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria<sup>1 2</sup> and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight<sup>3 4</sup> and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.<sup>5</sup>

for ageing arteries

Cyclospasmol (cyclandelate) has been shown valuable in the treatment of the elderly and delicate patient with chilblains, cold hands and feet, intermittent claudication and leg-cramps.

Concomitant cerebrovascular disorders such as mental confusion, passing strokes and memory loss also benefit from Cyclospasmol therapy.

Cyclospasmol is an accepted, safe and effective vasodilator, it produces no variation in bloodpressure or heart rate and may be given even in the presence of coronary vascular disorders.

The dosage is usually 4 x 200 mg. daily, but may be raised to 1600 mg. with safety. Maintenance dosage is 400 mg. daily.

A dense, chaotic collage of the word "HydroSaluric" in various fonts, sizes, and orientations. The text is layered and overlapping, creating a complex, almost abstract visual effect. The word is written in a mix of bold, italicized, and standard fonts, with some letters appearing in different colors (like red or blue) or with decorative flourishes. The overall composition is highly textured and visually busy, with the word "HydroSaluric" repeated many times in different ways throughout the image.

5000 times a day

'HydroSaluric'-K is endorsed 5,000 times a day

Every day, over 5,000 patients leave their doctors' surgeries with prescriptions for 'HydroSaluric'-K. Since its introduction in 1960, 'HydroSaluric'-K has been prescribed more than five million times.

the most widely prescribed diuretic agent

Why 'HydroSaluric'-K is prescribed more than any other diuretic:

- Because during the past five years, 'HydroSaluric'-K has proved its value in the long-term management of oedema.
- Because 'HydroSaluric'-K produces a smooth and predictable diuresis in most cases of oedema.
- Because 'HydroSaluric'-K provides a measure of protection against potassium depletion in patients where dietary intake may be inadequate.

For young doctors: clinical freedom, modern equipment and complete medical responsibility. Where?

On land and sea. At home and overseas. As a Medical Officer in the Royal Navy.

Here is a medical career that can give you more scope and responsibility than most doctors in civilian life have—while still in your mid-twenties.

You will have the most modern equipment; clinical freedom; the opportunity to gain wide experience, both in the traditional fields of medicine and in the new sciences of nuclear, underwater and aviation medicine. And you could study for higher degrees, specialise in one of many medical subjects and even aim for consultant status—all at the expense of the Royal Navy.

But you're more than a doctor. You're a Naval Officer, too. You lead an active, varied life; have a very special status; exceptional opportunities for sport, travel and the outdoor life. And your pay and prospects are excellent. For example, your starting salary would be considerably higher than that of a civilian hospital registrar. And marriage and other allowances can add considerably to your income. You enter initially for a Short Service Commission—with the opportunity of a Permanent Commission after 1 year.

3 Ways of Entry

1 As a fully registered doctor; any civilian experience counts towards your seniority.

2 During your pre-registration year.

3 As a student any time after passing 2nd M.B. For fully registered women doctors there is a special Short Service Commission.

If you would like more information, write to the address below, giving details of your age and qualifications. A personal interview can be arranged if desired.

fewer treatment problems
encourage greater patient acceptance

'Sequens', the first of the "second-generation" oral contraceptives to achieve world-wide acceptance, inhibits ovulation without appreciable alteration of the normal menstrual pattern.

Mestranol, an oestrogen, is introduced early in the cycle, followed later by a combination of the oestrogen and chlormadinone acetate, a progestogen. With 'Sequens', the menstrual pattern is altered only in that the proliferative phase is extended and the secretory phase is shortened by approximately five days.

The more physiological approach with 'Sequens' explains why there are fewer side-effects than with the earlier agents which combine oestrogenic and progestational activity throughout the cycle and produce a "false-pregnancy" effect.

PAYNOCIL*

in the short term treatment of Influenza and the Common Cold

Some analgesics are more effective than others. Some are more palatable. Some produce a faster action. PAYNOCIL has these advantages, combining the effectiveness of aspirin with palatability and giving rapid relief of symptoms.

Each Paynocil tablet contains ten grains of acetylsalicylic acid—double the usual amount—in a glycine base, thus halving the number of tablets needed daily.

Paynocil disperses easily in the mouth and can be taken anywhere, any time, without water immediately the first symptoms are felt.

---

The aspirin enters the stomach in finely divided particles and acts within minutes of swallowing.

Dosage: One tablet when necessary.

Contra-Indication: Paynocil should not be given when aspirin is contra-indicated.

Cholesterol and Coronary heart disease

Q. Is raised serum cholesterol associated with an increased likelihood of developing coronary heart disease?

A. Yes. Patients with levels higher than 280 mg.% are five-times more likely to develop the disease within 5 years than patients with levels below 220 mg.%.

Q. Once having developed signs of C.H.D., is serum cholesterol level of any value in assessing prognosis?

A. Information on this point is sparse, but the answer seems to be no.

Q. Doesn't this mean that there is no point in trying to lower serum cholesterol once the disease has developed?

A. To reduce serum cholesterol per se, without affecting the disease process itself is probably useless. Cholesterol is probably just one indication that a metabolic disorder is present, as smoke indicates the presence of a fire. If you get rid of the smoke that does not mean that the fire has gone out.

Q. Why should 'Atromid'-S be any good then?

A. 'Atromid'-S is thought to act on the abnormal metabolic process itself, improving all the abnormal parameters in the blood (platelet adhesiveness, and fibrinogen as well as the whole lipoprotein pattern). It could hardly do all this without affecting cholesterol! Nor would one want it to.

Q. If cholesterol per se is not important, is there any point in measuring it in 'Atromid'-treated patients?

A. Serum cholesterol is measured simply to give us an indication that the drug is having an effect. If other parameters such as platelet adhesiveness were easier to measure, theoretically it might be better to measure these.

Q. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, isn't it? What proof have we that 'Atromid'-S is influencing the actual pathology of the disease?

A. Visible lesions associated with disease often get better, as in xanthomatosis and diabetic retinopathy. In uncontrolled trials of 'Atromid'-S in patients with angina pectoris and a history of myocardial infarction, the mortality and recurrence rates are lower than those of other published series of cases. Figures from controlled trials are not available yet, but patients with coronary artery disease cannot afford to wait. It would certainly seem more than justifiable to use 'Atromid'-S selectively at this stage.

To minimise the danger of potassium depletion during long-term diuretic therapy . . .

. . . Glaxo have added a generous potassium supplement to the reliable bendrofluazide diuretic Neo-NaClex. The newer preparation, known as Neo-NaClex-K, is presented in a unique two-tier tablet. The tablet is designed to overcome the problems of gastric disturbance and possible small bowel ulceration which are sometimes associated with a potassium supplement. Shortly after the tablet is swallowed, bendrofluazide is released from one tier; the diuretic dose is therefore promptly available. Thereafter, the potassium supplement is released very slowly from the second tier; this will usually ensure that most of the potassium passes the stomach before dissolving and that no great local concentration of potassium is reached on its passage through the intestine.

When a potassium supplement is unnecessary, plain Neo-NaClex will provide smooth, sustained diuresis on one dose a day.

Betnovate widens the scope of topical steroid therapy

The excellence of Betnovate (betamethasone 17-valerate) in treating psoriasis and eczema of all types has now been firmly established. The evidence from extensive clinical trials—"that a better response is more likely with betamethasone 17-valerate than with any of the other corticosteroids tested"*—has been fully substantiated by the outstanding results obtained with Betnovate in hospital and general practice. Used increasingly for many conditions other than psoriasis and eczema, Betnovate has also been shown to produce a better response throughout the whole range of steroid-responsive dermatoses. The majority of such skin disorders can in fact be treated satisfactorily by simply applying a Betnovate preparation once or twice daily.

Acute phase of seborrhoeic dermatitis, with gross scaling and crusted, weeping ear lesions. Patient affected since childhood.

Enhancing the benefits of betamethasone: Betnesol—the corticosteroid tablet patients drink

One of the most active steroids available for clinical use, betamethasone is nevertheless designed for safer systemic therapy. Treatment carries virtually no risk of oedema and hypertension—the reduced mineralocorticoid activity of betamethasone produces minimum disturbance of electrolyte balance—and there is no mental depression from the steroid. Betamethasone is also relatively well tolerated by the stomach. However, gastric tolerance—and the general therapeutic efficiency of the steroid—are greatly enhanced when the water-soluble phosphate (Betnesol) is used. Dropped into a glass of water the Betnesol Tablet effervesces quickly to form a clear true solution which is easily administered as a drink, thus achieving consistent absorption. Local irritation of the stomach wall is avoided by having no solid steroid particles and the efficiency of absorption is reflected in a better, more predictable therapeutic response.

As the incidence of strep. throat increases in winter — so does the use of Crystapen

Today, more than ever, penicillin G is the drug of choice for beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections—many of which are now proving to be tetracycline-resistant. Much more economical than the newer penicillin derivatives, it still yields nothing to them in therapeutic effectiveness. For throat infections caused by beta-haemolytic streptococci therefore, the obvious choice is oral penicillin—and that means Crystapen, the Glaxo penicillin (G or V). Glaxo has a background of more than twenty years' penicillin manufacturing experience and Crystapen has proved reliable in the treatment of millions of patients. This is why the use of Crystapen grows as the strep. throat season advances.

a higher degree of iron absorption

D. M. Oxon

Ferrograd® C

New presentation of 'Gradumet'® iron The advantages of Ferro-Gradumet in providing ample amounts of iron in a single daily dose without gastric upset are now widely recognised by the medical profession. Ferrograd C is an extension of the 'Gradumet' presentation, consisting of ferrous sulphate in a slow-release matrix, plus enough vitamin C to produce improvement of absorption when this is a problem.

Iron with enough C Experimental and clinical investigation of the addition of vitamin C to oral iron therapy shows that there is an increase in absorption of iron providing enough vitamin C is given. Ferrograd C contains 500 mg of vitamin C and evidence shows that this amount is sufficient to make the addition worthwhile in terms of more effective absorption and possibly in utilization.

Without gastric upset Steps taken to improve absorption are of no practical value, however, unless the preparation is well tolerated and taken regularly. The 'Gradumet' vehicle virtually eliminates the unpleasant side-effects experienced by many patients on ordinary iron therapy. Instead of exposing the stomach to large quantities of corrosive iron salts, the ferrous sulphate within the 'Gradumet' is slowly leached out, independent of body chemistry, as it passes through the gastro-intestinal tract. Ferrograd C combines the convenience and acceptability of this method of presentation together with an increased level of absorption. It is particularly recommended for those patients in whom absorption of iron is known to be poor, or where parenteral iron is being considered.

PRESENTATION Each red Filmtab® (film-coated tablet, Abbott) contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate BP (in exsiccated form), equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron and 500 mg of vitamin C as sodium ascorbate. DOSAGE One Ferrograd C daily before a meal.

Psoriasis... rapid response to Alphosyl

... even in previously intractable cases. A patient of 48 who had a generalised psoriasis for 20 years was essentially clear in six weeks.<sup>2</sup> A girl of 10 with a strong familial history of psoriasis, cleared almost completely after three weeks' application of Alphosyl Cream.<sup>2</sup> These are just two typical cases from the extensive clinical records underlining Alphosyl's outstanding effectiveness in bringing psoriasis under control.

New Alphosyl lubricating cream. A new water-in-oil dosage form, Alphosyl Lubricating Cream is particularly significant in the treatment of the dry, extremely scaly psoriatic lesion confined to the small site and the intertriginous area. Alphosyl cream is especially helpful in clearing psoriatic plaques exposed to constant friction. By enhancing lubrication of the skin folds, it serves to lessen irritation and facilitate healing. Clearing is prompt, even in previously resistant cases. The effectiveness of Alphosyl in this form is attributable in large measure to its unique cream base. This consists of a combination of saturated and unsaturated free fatty acids, naturally occurring triglycerides and esters that resemble the lipid constituents of normal healthy skin. The vehicle also contains hydrophyllic-lipophilic bipolar substances which enhance the moisture uptake and retention of the amphoteric proteins of the stratum corneum. Significantly, it has been shown that squalane, one of the components of the base, is most effective in dissolving a cement substance in psoriatic scales.

Formula: Allantoin 2% + 90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5-1) 5% in a vanishing type cream base or a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

TURKISH DELIGHT

A BRAHAM Biwas was court dentist to Sultan Mahmoud II (1808-1839). The Hero of Creation was afraid of having an aching tooth pulled. Walking in the garden one day Biwas offered to inspect the offending molar. Cunningly concealing an instrument in his hand, he suddenly pulled the tooth out. At once Biwas jumped into the river and yelled for aid, to distract the Sultan from his woes. Forgetting his aches the Sultan rushed for help. Later he commended the dentist for his enterprise and rewarded him.

Modern dentists generally don't have these post-extraction problems. Today, thanks to modern methods, tooth-pulling is a simple, and relatively painless matter. And we can lessen the need for extraction if every day we follow the C D E F rule for healthy teeth.

C CLEANING Often and thorough, to remove food particles that can cause decay. After each meal if possible, and always with a brush at bedtime.

D DENTIST Regular visits to catch any trouble early.

E EXERCISE Lots of chewing exercise—apples, celery, chewing gum, raw vegetables. Chewing helps to clean teeth, promotes flow of saliva (nature's mouth-wash); stimulates gums, aids proper jaw development.

F FOOD Plenty of milk, butter, cheese and eggs: rich in minerals and vitamins for strong teeth and healthy gums.

Every Winter PENBRITIN brings renewed hope to the Chronic Bronchitic...

...whatever the severity of the condition

One Penbritin capsule four times a day for a week or more brings an excellent response in the majority of patients, reducing the volume of sputum and the severity of exacerbations. When other antibiotics fail, four Penbritin capsules four times a day for a week or more usually provide effective treatment for advanced bronchitic patients, including those with extensive bronchiectasis. Used in this way, Penbritin is also successful in clearing the sputum of those winter-long purulent cases which would otherwise require continuous antibiotic cover. Early relapse is uncommon and many patients remain free from further infection for as long as two to three months after treatment.

The "Battle of Britain" that's still being fought

The presence of winter once again underlines the disturbing fact that 15-20,000 people with respiratory symptoms will die during the next 6 months. The unceasing war against diseases of the bronchitis-asthma-emphysema group has plainly not yet been won.

About 30,000 deaths occur annually in Britain from bronchitis alone and the number shows no sign of decreasing. Deaths attributable to chronic bronchitis amount to nearly 10% of all deaths of men aged 45-64—more than from any other respiratory disease.

In another category—but none the less important—is the fact that bronchitis currently accounts for more working days off than any other illness.

Into combat—with tetracycline

In the treatment of chronic bronchitis, current opinion advocates the employment of a drug capable of suppressing both the Pneumococcus and the Haemophilus influenzae. The one capable of doing this with safety is tetracycline. 1.

The most effective weapon— demethylchlortetracycline Lederle

The modern tetracycline—Ledermycin demethylchlortetracycline Lederle—has been shown to provide higher and more sustained antibacterial activity levels in the serum than other tetracyclines. Broad-spectrum coverage persists up to 48 hours after the final dose—a safeguard against stopping treatment too early. "Most clinicians are agreed that tetracycline is preferable to the oxy- and chlor- derivatives . . . demethylchlortetracycline may possibly become the treatment of choice." 2.

Dieting for arterial disease. The case for corn oil:

There are grounds for believing that solid animal fat in the diet contributes to high serum cholesterol levels and so the danger of arterial disease and coronary heart disease.

From this suspicion corn oil is entirely free. Indeed studies both in this country and in the U.S.A. indicate that the use of corn oil combined with a low animal fat diet actually reduces high serum cholesterol levels.

An article in the British Medical Journal* said: 'It is concluded that corn oil, together with a diet low in animal fat, is feasible as a long-term measure for the lowering of serum cholesterol, being safe, acceptable to the great majority of patients, and having virtually no clinical contra-indications'.

The oil used in the study, corn oil, linoleic acid content 56%—was added to diets of 1,630 and 2,080 calories, and comprised 41.5% of the total fat in the former, 40% in the latter. The quantity of oil added to each diet was 57 grams, just four tablespoonfuls of corn oil a day.

Mazola Pure Corn Oil which any patient can obtain from almost any chemist or grocer has a fatty-acid composition (56.2% linoleic) identical to that of the oil used in this experiment. Many patients are already familiar with it and use it in preference to any other cooking medium.

Today, more than 10 years after its introduction by Lederle, ACHROMYCIN tetracycline is not only the world's most popular broad-spectrum antibiotic, but also the most imitated. What better reason for so many physicians today to trust and prescribe tetracycline only as ACHROMYCIN.

“In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy.”

Safe, Simple, Effective

NULACIN TABLETS provide a safe, simple and effective treatment of peptic ulcer.

In treating peptic ulcer a Ryle's tube may be passed through the nose and into the oesophagus and a mixture of milk and antacid allowed to flow continuously over the affected area. This form of therapy can only be employed in those patients who are in bed and for the ambulant patient Nulacin tablets are preferable. Nulacin tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrins and maltose, together with the trisilicate, oxide and carbonate of magnesium and calcium carbonate. Nulacin tablets when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth provide milk-alkali drip therapy. In fact, Nulacin tablets have revolutionized the treatment of peptic ulcer.
