ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1,2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3,4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

Heinz cooking retains the maximum nutritional value

Heinz use only the finest ingredients for their Baby Foods—superior, in fact, to those normally available to the average housewife.

Special cooking facilities, strict quality control—all these specialist resources combine to make Heinz Baby Foods exceptionally nutritious.

For a start, instrumentally controlled cooking ensures uniformity with each batch of foods, and prevents over-cooking.

Ingredients are carefully steam-cooked.

Once hot, the foods are exposed as little as possible to air; juices formed during cooking are retained to avoid loss of valuable soluble nutrients.

Strained foods are forced through a fine sieve to eliminate any rough fibres or coarseness.

(With Heinz more advanced Junior Foods, ingredients are diced or minced prior to cooking.)

They are sterilized under carefully controlled conditions.

At every stage of this preparation, cooking and packing, Heinz Quality Control inspectors take samples from each batch of baby foods to ensure that the quality, taste, consistency, purity, and hygiene reach Heinz demanding standards.

For further details about Heinz Strained and Junior Foods, please write to: Foods Science Advisory Service, H. J. Heinz Co. Ltd. Hayes Park, Hayes, Middlesex.

Psoriasis ... rapid response to Alphosyl

... even in previously intractable cases. A patient of 48 who had a generalised psoriasis for 20 years was essentially clear in six weeks.² A girl of 10 with a strong familial history of psoriasis, cleared almost completely after three weeks' application of Alphosyl Cream.² These are just two typical cases from the extensive clinical records underlining Alphosyl's outstanding effectiveness in bringing psoriasis under control.

New Alphosyl lubricating cream. A new water-in-oil dosage form, Alphosyl Lubricating Cream is particularly significant in the treatment of the dry, extremely scaly psoriatic lesion confined to the small site and the intertriginous area. Alphosyl cream is especially helpful in clearing psoriatic plaques exposed to constant friction. By enhancing lubrication of the skin folds, it serves to lessen irritation and facilitate healing. Clearing is prompt, even in previously resistant cases. The effectiveness of Alphosyl in this form is attributable in large measure to its unique cream base. This consists of a combination of saturated and unsaturated free fatty acids, naturally occurring triglycerides and esters that resemble the lipid constituents of normal healthy skin. The vehicle also contains hydrophyllic-lipophilic bipolar substances which enhance the moisture uptake and retention of the amphoteric proteins of the stratum corneum. Significantly, it has been shown that squalane, one of the components of the base, is most effective in dissolving a cement substance in psoriatic scales.

Formula: Allantoin 2% + 90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5=1) 5% in a vanishing type cream base or a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

Edecrin

Ethacrynic acid

REGD

a completely new class of oral diuretic from the discoverers of chlorothiazide

'Edecrin' is chemically and pharmacologically distinct from all other diuretics in common use. It has multiple sites of action on the nephron—not only at the proximal and distal convoluted tubules, but more importantly, also at the ascending limb of the loop of Henle. This unique mode of action is reflected clinically in the effectiveness of 'Edecrin' in many patients resistant to all other diuretics.

'Edecrin' has a wider range of effectiveness than the thiazides and related diuretics. It may be used in oedema of all grades of severity, whether acute or chronic. 'Edecrin' has an extremely rapid onset of action (four times faster than parenteral mercurials) and produces a more favourable ratio of sodium to potassium excretion than the thiazides.

Supplied as tablets containing 50 mg ethacrynic acid. Detailed information is available to physicians on request.

Merck Sharp & Dohme Limited
Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire

a new M&B antidepressant with psycho-sedative properties

Surmontil*

A highly effective tricyclic compound for use in all forms of depression.

Exerts a marked psychosedative effect which minimizes or obviates the need for concurrent use of sedatives or tranquilizers.

Well tolerated.

Not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor.

Trimipramine resembles imipramine, both drugs being members of the so-called iminodibenzyl series. Pharmacologically, trimipramine is more active than imipramine in those tests designed to show tranquilizing action in animals, but less active than chlorpromazine. In tests for antidepressant activity in which chlorpromazine is inactive, trimipramine (like imipramine) shows marked activity; and it lacks the marked sympatholytic activity of chlorpromazine and certain other phenothiazine derivatives.

Wide clinical experience has shown trimipramine to equal other tricyclic compounds in antidepressant activity and to have a marked sedative action. It is rarely necessary to add tranquilizers or other sedative drugs to trimipramine in treating depressions associated with agitation and anxiety.

INDICATIONS AND TREATMENT

'Surmontil' * is indicated for use in patients suffering from all forms of depressive illness, including endogenous, involutional, organic, neurotic and reactive depression particularly when these are associated with anxiety or agitation or both.

In severe, potentially suicidal depressions, where electroconvulsive therapy is indicated, 'Surmontil' is an important adjuvant to such treatment.

Treatment consists of 4 stages, the durations of which depend upon the severity of the depression and the patient's response to treatment.

These are:

- 1 Initial treatment to relieve depression as quickly as possible, involving a steady increase in dosage to the most effective well tolerated level. This is usually achieved in 7-10 days but some cases might take 3 weeks for an adequate assessment of response.
- 2 Continued treatment at the dosage giving maximum response for 2-3 weeks for depressions of average severity and for 4-5 weeks for severe refractory depressions.
- 3 Gradual reductions from maximum dosage to adequate maintenance level during 7-14 days depending upon clinical judgement.
- 4 Maintenance therapy, the duration of which depends upon the aetiology and course of the depression. A period of 2-3 months is generally necessary but this might have to be extended to 6-12 months or even longer in some cases, particularly recurrent depressions in cyclothymic patients.

'Surmontil' therapy should never be terminated abruptly.

ADMINISTRATION AND DOSAGE

Oral treatment suffices for most patients. Initially some need intramuscular injections followed by tablets or, more rarely, intramuscular and oral administration. Parenteral therapy should only be given to patients in hospital.

The dosage of 'Surmontil' varies with the severity of the depression being treated and the patient's response.

Oral

Initial - 75 mg. per day in divided doses i.e. 25 mg. three times daily or 25 mg. at noon and 50 mg. at bed-time, any soporific effect being used to reduce or dispense with night-time sedation with other drugs. Usual daily increment of 25 mg.

Maximum - usually 150-300 mg. per day in divided doses. 400 mg. per day should rarely be exceeded.

Maintenance - usually 50 to 150 mg. per day in divided doses.

Parenteral

The usual initial single dose is 25 or 50 mg. This may be repeated up to a maximum of 200 mg. per day in divided doses given every 8 hours.

It is seldom necessary to continue injections after 48 to 72 hours and oral treatment should be instituted as soon as the clinical picture warrants it, dosage then being increased to the maximum therapeutic level.

SIDE-EFFECTS

Side-effects are similar to those of other tricyclic antidepressants in current use, and are usually most evident during the first few days of treatment. They reflect the pharmacological properties of the drug and are invariably controlled by modification of dosage. (Further details are available on request).

When the presence of slough delays healing...

A CASE FOR ASERBINE

Clothing burns. Aserbine has been applied to the lower half of the right thigh. The upper half and the left thigh have been left as control areas. The slough on the treated area has softened and some de-sloughing has taken place. The softened slough is quite free from infection.

Eight days later. Both areas have been treated with Aserbine and the right thigh and the upper part of the left are completely de-sloughed. Rich, uninfected granulation tissue is present and, in this case, provides the ideal surface for grafting.

... in varicose ulcers, pressure sores, burns, trophic ulcers, etc.

... experience has shown that ASERBINE is a true de-sloughing agent which does not affect living tissue.

Presentation

Aserbine is available as a cream (100 G. jars) and as a solution (500 ml. bottles).

Method of Application

Aserbine Cream should be applied once or twice daily.

Aserbine Solution should be applied as a wet dressing which should not be allowed to dry out.

Is there a bronchial barrier which prevents some of your patients with bronchitis from getting the benefit of the Tetracycline you prescribe?

THE PROBLEM ...

"Absorption of tetracycline is rather variable from patient to patient."¹

"Tetracyclines are widely used in bronchitis but often give relief rather than elimination of bacterial pathogens."²

... AND ITS EFFECTS

Permanent and irreversible lung damage can be prevented by tetracycline PROVIDED IT IS PRESENT IN SUFFICIENT QUANTITIES IN THE SPUTUM TO INHIBIT H. INFLUENZAE.

"The effective sputum level of tetracycline is 0.5 mcg./ml."²

BUT THE BRONCHIAL BARRIER RESTRICTS THE SPUTUM LEVEL.

"The sputum level of tetracycline is 10-30% of the serum level in most patients."²

Since it has also been shown that up to 25% of patients can be poor tetracycline absorbers,³ what happens to those bronchitics who have not achieved adequate serum levels?—they are prevented by the bronchial barrier from producing sputum levels capable of inhibiting H. influenzae.

the tetracycline that most reliably ensures adequate serum levels even in the poor absorber.

TETREX PROVIDES YOU WITH ALL THESE ADVANTAGES

Many studies have shown:

Higher average peak blood levels⁴ which in some cases may be double those obtained with tetracycline hydrochloride.

Faster blood levels⁵ ensuring a more rapid onset of therapeutic effect.

Reliability of absorption³, high tolerance, more efficiency and economy; low dosage produces high blood levels.

DOSAGE: 1 G. per day in 4 divided doses of 250 mg.

SERENID* (oxazepam, Wyeth) is a new and versatile agent which enables you to achieve prompt and effective control of all the symptoms of stress. Patients on SERENID begin to feel better from the start of treatment and you can reasonably expect complete symptom control—relief of anxiety, tension, agitation etc., and thus in many instances a lightening of associated depression—in three to seven days. What's more, at effective dose levels SERENID causes few side effects—undue sedation and ataxia are rarely problems—making it particularly suitable for those patients who must remain alert and active or for the elderly and debilitated. Available as 15 mg. and 10 mg. scored tablets in bottles of 100 and 500.

To minimise the danger of potassium depletion during long-term diuretic therapy...

... Glaxo have added a generous potassium supplement to the reliable bendrofluazide diuretic Neo-NaClex. The newer preparation, known as Neo-NaClex-K, is presented in a unique two-tier tablet. The tablet is designed to overcome the problems of gastric disturbance and possible small bowel ulceration which are sometimes associated with a potassium supplement. Shortly after the tablet is swallowed, bendrofluazide is released from one tier; the diuretic dose is therefore promptly available. Thereafter, the potassium supplement is released very slowly from the second tier; this will usually ensure that most of the potassium passes the stomach before dissolving and that no great local concentration of potassium is reached on its passage through the intestine.

Neo-NaClex-K

When a potassium supplement is unnecessary, plain Neo-NaClex will provide smooth, sustained diuresis on one dose a day.

Durabolin and Deca-Durabolin stimulate tissue-building and counteract nitrogen loss in many clinical conditions. The effect in osteoporosis and in advanced breast cancer is often marked, leading to an improvement in the patient's general condition, relief of pain and a regression of specific symptoms. Other conditions in which these preparations are useful include severe debility, post-operative catabolism, severe trauma, slow-healing fractures, burns and renal failure—in all these, the correction of an adverse nitrogen balance helps in the patient's recovery. Durabolin is ideal for initial therapy: it is normally given at weekly intervals. Deca-Durabolin is a longer acting form which is ideal for maintenance therapy: it only needs to be given every three weeks.

Churchill: the last 25 years

The diaries of Lord Moran

'It is not possible to follow the last 25 years of Winston's life without a knowledge of his medical background.'

This fact — added to the persuasions, over the years, of men as eminent as Field-Marshal Smuts, Brendan Bracken, and Dr G. M. Trevelyan — finally overcame Lord Moran's professional reticence, and convinced him that it was his duty to release for publication the diaries he kept during the whole of his 25 years as Churchill's personal physician.

The historical value of the document is unquestionable. 'Once I decided to write this book', says Lord Moran, 'its nature could not be in doubt; I cannot tamper with the facts any more than I could fake an experiment in a laboratory.'

The result is a unique close-up of Churchill throughout his career as war leader, opposition leader, peace time premier and after. It is also, and equally, the vividly human record of a great man as seen by a medical adviser who became a close personal confidant and friend.

The things said by Churchill during long hours of sleeplessness, during the boredom of travel, in the tense moments before important conferences and the moments of triumph or disappointment that followed them, give as deep an insight into Churchill's mind as anything that has yet appeared in print.

The Moran Diaries begin this Sunday in The

A new treatment for ANGINA PECTORIS 'INDERAL'

Indicated in angina pectoris when conventional therapy has proved inadequate.

'INDERAL' specifically blocks the unnecessary oxygen wasting effects of excessive sympathetic nervous activity on the heart. Probably the most striking benefit has been seen in patients inadequately helped by conventional drugs.

The results of 'INDERAL' therapy include less frequent anginal attacks, improved effort tolerance and decreased consumption of glyceryl trinitrate.

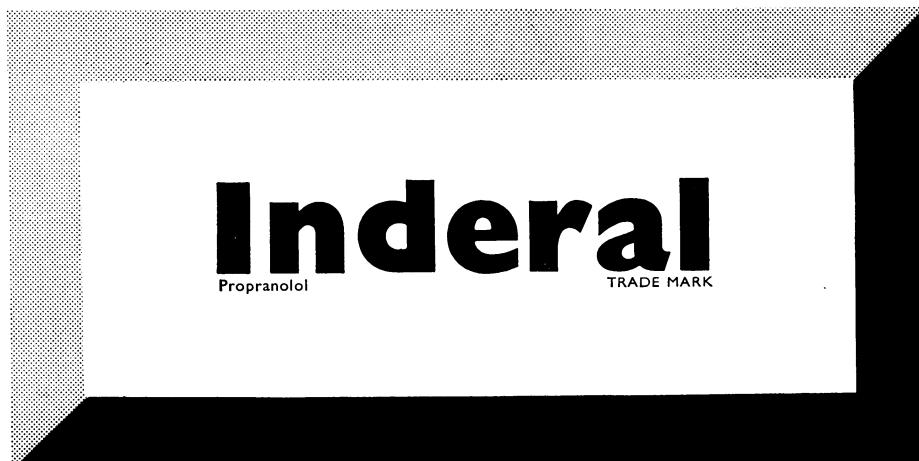

In addition 'INDERAL' will control cardiac arrhythmias, including those associated with digitalis intoxication and arrhythmias occurring during anaesthesia.

Note. Because the pharmacological action is quite new, it is advisable to study the detailed literature before using 'Inderal' (propranolol).

pain

Distalgesic erases pain

Two tablets of Distalgesic taken three or four times daily bring prompt and lasting relief in pain of varying degrees. Distalgesic maintains its effect at this dosage level even in long-term use, such as in the aches and pains of rheumatism. It can be effective against more severe pain, often delaying the need for parenteral narcotics. Distalgesic itself is non-narcotic, does not cause constipation or addiction and does not irritate the gastric mucosa.

Distalgesic tablets each contain 32.5 mg. dextropropoxyphene hydrochloride, described as the most promising alternative to codeine, and 325 mg. paracetamol, generally regarded as the safest of the antipyretic analgesics.

DYTRANSIN

a practical advance in antirheumatic therapy

Dytransin is a completely new, chemically unique, antirheumatic agent effective in the treatment of rheumatic and allied complaints. Extensive clinical trials have proved that Dytransin has a high anti-inflammatory, antipyretic and analgesic activity, and a distinct lack of those limiting side effects commonly associated with other antirheumatic drugs.

As with any new drug, it is recommended that the manufacturer's detailed literature is read before commencing treatment.

From Hollander's Arthritis & Allied Conditions (published by Henry Kimpton)

Dytransin is available to Hospitals and Clinics. It is supplied as blue and grey capsules containing 250 mg ibufenac.

Streptomycin and sulphaguanidine, the two antibacterial agents combined in GUANIMYCIN, differ in their modes of action. Thus the use of GUANIMYCIN in acute infective diarrhoeal illnesses — Sonne dysentery, salmonella food poisoning, gastroenteritis, epidemic infantile diarrhoea, seasonal diarrhoea, "traveller's" diarrhoea — minimizes the risk of persistence and subsequent multiplication of resistant bacterial strains.

GUANIMYCIN is easy to administer and pleasant to take, and is acceptable to, and well tolerated by, children and adults alike.

CONTINUOUS RELIEF from bronchospasm for several hours

Rapid Initial Bronchodilatation: Isoprenaline in the special outer layer is released and absorbed promptly (within 1 minute).

Immediate Sustained Bronchodilatation: A NEW, soluble, lozenge-type core allows an IMMEDIATE start to release of the core ingredients (methylephedrine/theophylline) on swallowing. A steady, even release continues over 50-60 minutes, providing effective bronchodilatation for several hours.

Minimum Side Effects: The use of methylephedrine instead of ephedrine reduces risk of central nervous system stimulation and blood pressure increase. The tablet contains no sedative ingredients.

ABSTRACTS OF WORLD MEDICINE

ASSISTANT EDITOR

The Council of the British Medical Association invites applications from registered practitioners for the appointment of Medical Assistant Editor of Abstracts of World Medicine, starting on September 1, 1966, at a salary of £2,783 a year, rising by annual increments of £150 to £3,833 a year. In exceptional circumstances the initial salary may be above the minimum of the scale. The appointment will be for a probationary period of six months in the first place. The Association's Superannuation Scheme will apply on substantive appointment.

Preference will be given to candidates between 35 and 55 years of age with a wide knowledge of medicine (up to M.D. or M.R.C.P. standard) who can present evidence of literary ability and/or journalistic experience. A knowledge of one or more foreign languages is highly desirable.

Applications, giving details of qualifications and experience and accompanied by the names of three persons to whom reference may be made, should be addressed to the Editor of Abstracts of World Medicine, B.M.A. House, Tavistock Square, London W.C.1, and must be received before May 12, 1966.

Surgery—contd. on p. xlv

Before you commit yourself to a practice, work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

You'll do some interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine, see a bit of the world, live well, and 'retire' with up to £3,000, tax free.

Your first job in the R.A.F. would probably be junior M.O. at a Station: rather like being an 'Assistant with a view'. In a typical case you could be one of two doctors with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of, and your own 'cottage hospital' with wards, theatre and laboratory, and secretarial as well as nursing staff.

You'd have a shorter list than a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F. you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion you do less curative work and more preventive work than is even possible for most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised—with the closest possible integration of the doctor and the community.

This is the choice you face

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived —and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years and, on leave or on duty, visited 7 countries: two European, three Asiatic, and two Australasian. By now he's been in civilian practice for 10 years; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. You go from one community to another—and they have much in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School—think about the R.A.F. Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

The time for bold decisions is when you are young and free

Today, because you are at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be.

You'll have a practice 'with your name on it'; children who want a permanent home to strike root in; and soon. It will be time for you to settle down.

Meanwhile, at the parting of the ways, you have this chance. Now is the time to find out about it.

The address to write to is: Wing Commander D. G. M. Hills, O.B.E., M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (MAL/724EE1), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1. Please give your age and qualifications.

Medical cadetships. Commissions as a cadet are available to students who have passed second M.B. (or equivalent). Initially your basic pay would be £630 p.a. Appropriate R.A.F. allowances, examination and tuition fees are paid in addition. You would continue to live and work as a medical student and when fully registered you would start work in the R.A.F. as a doctor in the rank of Flight Lieutenant on a five year short service commission. Further information may be obtained from the above address.

Anxiety and similar emotional factors lie at the root of most overeating problems. Treatment of the obese must therefore not merely curb the appetite—it must compensate for the solace formerly provided by eating. Durophet-M does just that. It contains not only laevo- and dextro-amphetamine (ratio 1:3)—probably the most effective appetite depressant available—but also methaqualone, a calmative to counter the underlying emotional factors that motivate the compulsive over-eater. In obesity, with its attendant hazards to health, these agents together provide more effective weight loss than do simple appetite depressants. Dosage is simple—just one capsule daily.
