CHILD CARE

Published 1 January, 1967

This book is the second to be published from a series of articles that have appeared in the "Current Practice" section of the British Medical Journal. It gives practical up-to-date advice on problems faced by general practitioners. The articles that make up the book cover the period from infancy to adolescence, and in their scope cover child-care in the broadest sense, with sections on normal development, adoption, puberty, and behaviour disorders as well as the diagnosis and management of childhood diseases. The authors are consultant paediatricians or leading authorities in their fields, but the emphasis throughout has been on a practical approach. It is hoped that the book will be a useful guide for all family doctors.

'ILOSONE' stops acute bronchitis

In acute bronchitis bactericidal 'Ilosone' is at least as effective as the broad spectrum agents and a great deal less troublesome.

You can spare the patient the risk of secondary intestinal infection by prescribing 'Ilosone', because its spectrum extends to most common pathogens, including H. influenzae, but NOT to the predominant gut flora. (The use of supplementary nystatin is unnecessary with 'Ilosone'.)

'Ilosone' is available as 'Pulvules' of 125 mg and 250 mg and a pleasant tasting suspension for children containing 125 mg per 5 ml. Usual adult dosage is 250 mg every six hours, which can be safely doubled in severe infections. The dosage of 'Ilosone' suspension for children aged 2-7 years is one teaspoonful 4 times daily.

'Ilosone' is indicated for acute bronchitis, acute tonsillitis, pharyngitis and other bacterial respiratory infections.

It is rarely easy for doctors to plan their holiday date. So many factors have to be taken into account, such as only one partner away at a time—remember the younger partners and assistants have children at school and therefore late July to mid-September are ruled out—what is the position regarding locums, and what medical meetings must be attended and when are they.

Possibly this is why so many doctors take a late ski-ing holiday. It helps to ease the situation and is a refreshing and much needed break after a busy winter. Many resorts on the Continent in Austria, Italy Norway, and Sweden provide plenty of snow up to May. The Sierra Nevada in Spain, which is advancing in popularity, allows good ski-ing until the end of April, combined with warm sunshine on the beaches of the not-too-fardistant coastal towns. The present currency restrictions have been a boon to Scotland where the centres of Cairngorm, Glencoe, and Glenshee expect to attract many sportsmen and women until well on into April.

Currency restrictions, however, are not presenting quite the problem that was anticipated and most people will still be able to enjoy the same type of holiday to which they are accustomed though a little forethought and adjustment is needed. economy" may sound terrible but can present the answer. Ignore the de-luxe hotels in the Michelin Guides; those lower down the list can be just as comfortable and sometimes more fun even if not quite so fashionable. Only the strong minded should visit the casinos and then preferably only for a drink; night life and presents to take home should be assessed just as firmly.

Package tours are not acceptable to everyone but they are extremely good value for money. Apart from travelling arrangements they do permit complete independence from one's fellow travellers as soon as the destination has been reached. There seems to be no limit to the countries one can visit this way and still have a reasonable amount of one's allowance to spend. Spain, Italy, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Portugal, Greece, Switzerland, Russia, or practically anywhere else that you care to think of, are catered for by tour operators.

In many respects cruises are really package tours because everything is done or arranged for the passengers and is paid for in this country, so the £50 allowance is left intact for spending in any of the non-sterling ports of call. A number of the shipping companies have linked up with airlines so that either the journey out or back or even both, can be flown in a matter of hours thus allowing the maximum number of days in, for instance, the Canaries or the Mediterranean. Cruises are ideal for family holidays as many of the ships have nurseries, with trained staffs and playrooms for the youngsters. For older children and teenagers there is always ample entertainment. Although for the grown-ups there are plenty of opportunities for being sociable with a regular programme of dances, cardrooms, swimming, deck games, and excellent bars, there are also libraries, lounges, cinemas and secluded decks for the more peacefully inclined.

A most exciting and interesting type of cruising holiday combined with a pied-à-terre has been organized by a travel agent and this certainly offers a holiday with a difference—a villa on the without their car. This is possibly a defamatory statement but should you however be thinking of taking yours abroad with you the possibilities are now even greater than ever. There are 50 sea ferry ships serving Europe. In addition there are of course several sailing to Ireland. In fact, there are two new ships starting on a new route in the spring and ferrying between Liverpool and Belfast.

It is often said that doctors never anvwhere

This new development is very well timed as undoubtedly N. Ireland and Eire will be given quite a boost, and many people who have been saying "we must go to Ireland" or "we must go to Ireland again " will be encouraged to do so this year. What a marvellous country it is for scenery, friend iness, and roads that are a joy to motor over. The hotel situation is improving, but in the busy months it is still advisable to book in advance. Possibly it is best to choose two or three centres and book for a number of days in each rather than risk taking chances.

There are quite a number of possibilities abroad within the sterling area that are not of course subject to the £50 allowance. Some are beyond the purse of many people such as the Bahamas, Barbados, Jamaica, Jordan, Trinidad, and African territories such as Gambia, Ghana and so on. However, Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, and the Channel Isles and Libya all provide most agreeable and interesting venues for holidays at reasonable prices.

PHARMACEUTICAL PRODUCTS

Readers are reminded that prescribers' literature and clinical information are always available from advertisers on request.

By swiftly reducing both the quantity and purulence of the sputum, routine dosage Penbritin brings a rapid clinical response in the majority of patients: moreover clinical trials have shown these benefits to be more marked than those observed in patients on tetracycline therapy. The success of this regimen (250mg. four times daily for one week or more) can be attributed to Penbritin's higher activity against the causative organisms, H. influenzae and pneumococci.

In addition, severely disabled patients, including those with extensive bronchiectasis and cases whose sputum is winter-long purulent despite other antibiotic therapy, may gain unprecedented relief from a short course of high dosage Penbritin. In published trials on this regimen (1 gram four times daily for one week or more) infection was cleared in the majority of patients, and subsequent freedom from exacerbation for up to 16 weeks was reported.

Ferrous gluconate Folic acid

300 mg. 350 mcg.

CONTAINING FOLIC ACID 350 MICROGRAMS IN EACH TABLET

It is now known beyond doubt that megaloblastic anaemia of pregnancy is caused by deficiency of folic acid.

From the very excellent results obtained over the years by the prophylactic use of folic acid and iron given orally from the beginning of pregnancy it is becoming more and more generally accepted that anaemia of pregnancy can be prevented. The question of the optimum dose of folic acid has not been easy to establish but recent work* suggests that not less than 300 mcg. and not more than 400 mcg. daily can be considered adequate.

In the light of this knowledge Folex-350 containing 350 mcg. of folic acid and 300 mg. of ferrous gluconate has been introduced.

Anaphylline

a new theophylline complex for more effective maintenance therapy in mild to moderate cases of

BRONCHITIS-ASTHMA-EMPHYSEMA

Clinical evidence confirms that this new theophylline-niacinamide complex achieves rapid therapeutic blood levels for faster dilation of the bronchioles and substantial improvement in vital capacity in most cases of chronic bronchitis, asthma and emphysema.

Significant Treatment Advantages:

The unique Anaphylline complex is a loose bonding of the ophylline and niacinamide which affords a soluble the ophylline through all pH ranges. No more ionization of the ophylline salts with precipitation of the theophylline in the acid of the stomach. Now direct immediate absorption of the theophylline complex for faster, higher and longer blood levels.

* MORE RAPID ABSORPTION FOR QUICKER PATIENT RESPONSE

Evidence from clinical trials indicates that Anaphylline achieves therapeutic blood levels faster than theophylline salts and within 15 minutes of oral administration.

* MORE PROLONGED BLOOD LEVELS FOR SUSTAINED RELIEF

Rapid, initial blood levels achieved are followed by a steady, sustained rise reaching peak achievement at 60 minutes, with gradual, but uniform decline thereafter.

* SUPERIOR PATIENT TOLERANCE

Achievement of these blood levels is not accompanied by any increase in the side-effects normally associated with theophylline treatment.

INDICATIONS

For use as a bronchodilator to control the symptoms of chronic bronchitis, chronic asthma, emphysema and other pulmonary disorders.

DOSAGE:

Adults 1 to 2 tablets to be taken 3 or 4 times daily, preferably after meals. (Children 6-12 yrs., half to 1 tablet.)

Robaxisal^{*}-Forte

(400 mg. Methocarbamol*, 325 mg. acetylsalicylic acid)

controls the two-pronged discomfort of pain and skeletal muscle spasm

The Military Fork shown here was extensively used by sappers and miners during the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries. Over 8ft. long it evolved, like many infantry weapons from agricultural instruments—in this case the pitch fork.

Pain . . . spasm . . . both striking at once . . . with unfortunate effects on your patients.

When administered together these compounds have a potentiating effect upon one another. Higher plasma salicylate levels are attained than with the same dosage of acetylsalicylic acid alone.

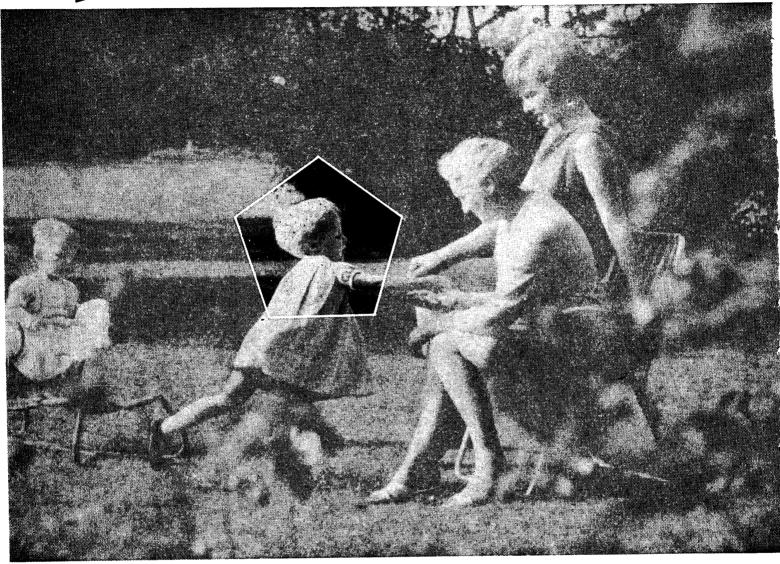

Indications: Effective in treating sprains and strains, painful back disorders, lumbago, arthritis, etc. Dosage: 2 tablets four times daily or as directed. Full prescribing information and clinical sample on request.

'It is now widely recognized not only that urinary infection in childhood is a common and recurrent condition, but also that symptomatic improvement of the acute episode, whether spontaneous or after a short course of chemotherapy, may be followed by persistent asymptomatic infection.'

Brit. med. J. (1965), I, 1023

To reduce the risk of chronic renal disease in later life it is essential not merely to relieve the symptoms of urinary tract infection in children but to eradicate the infecting organisms. 'Furadantin' achieves this in the great majority of cases. It is available in a pleasant-tasting Suspension, specially for children.

It is commonly said that good doctors are bad patients. And more than three-quarters of a century's experience with the medical and dental professions has convinced us that the statement is very often true. A sick doctor is nearly always a worried doctor. Not because of the nature of his illness, but because of the loss of income it may entail.

But we have a specific for this kind of thing. By taking a Sickness and Accident Insurance with us, a doctor can be certain of receiving a substantial part of his normal income whenever he is incapacitated by illness or accident. Further, there is absolutely no limit to the number of claims he may make up to the age of 65.

This is just one example of the many policies we have designed specially for doctors and dentists. And since the Society is wholly owned by the policy holders all the profits belong to them and are distributed by bonus declaration every three years.

If you are eligible to join the Society you should be sharing these profits. So why not write to us for further details? There are separate brochures for Sickness and Accident; Educational; Life; Personal Pension; Family Income; Provision for Estate Duty; Car Hire Purchase.

We shall be pleased to send one or more of these at your request. When writing quote ref: No. ooi.

When the presence of slough delays healing...

A CASE FOR ASERBINE

Crush injury of right foot sustained in a road accident. There was a severe compound dislocation of the mid-tarsal joint. The wound was treated by primary suture but broke down revealing thick, tough yellow and green sloughs and one large black necrotic area.

The first picture shows the result of one month's treatment with Eusol and Lotio Rubra. They produced little change. The second picture shows the result of five days' treatment with Aserbine. The desloughing effect is dramatic. Aserbine Solution was used on packs which were re-soaked every four hours. Subsequent healing was rapid and skin-grafting took place only two weeks after starting treatment with Aserbine.

MEDICAL ADVISER

ETHICAL PHARMACEUTICALS

Salary + Benefits £5.000

Medical Advisers in the pharmaceutical industry play a responsible and varied role. They use their professional knowledge in the organization of clinical trials on ethical pharmaceutical products and in carrying out human pharmacological studies and preparing clinical data for submission to the Dunlop and McGregor Committees. They also advise the company on medical matters and ensure that literature relating to the company's products is medically accurate. They provide an advisory service both to hospitals and to general practitioners and take part in the training of the company's representatives. From time to time they have the opportunity of lecturing in their specialized field to the medical profession in general

A vacancy exists for a medical practitioner interested in this type of work in a leading British company, whose well-established medical department offers a greater variety of interests than most. Although no previous experience in the pharmaceutical industry is necessary, this would be an advantage; as would fluency in one or more European language, since travel is inherent in the post. The age range is 25 to 35.

The successful candidate will be expected to have good academic qualifications and adopt a scientific approach to medicine. He must be of sufficient personal stature to associate with consultants and other senior members of the profession. The basic salary is around £3,250, but a car and generous profit sharing, life assurance and pension provisions could bring the real worth of the job up to nearly £5,000.
