

SYSTEMIC PATHOLOGY

edited by

G Payling Wright

and

W St C Symmers

An authoritative, contemporary account of human pathology, presented system by system in the form of a series of integrated chapters, each of which is a monograph on part or the whole of one of the body systems. The structural and functional changes that are the essential manifestations of disease are discussed in detail, and careful consideration is given to the effects of the diseases of each system on the organs and tissues of the other systems of the body. While the account of the pathology of each system is complete in itself, each chapter is appropriately cross-referenced to the others throughout the book.

The approach to the subject is comprehensive, but with particular attention to the practical aspects that have most bearing on the diagnosis and treatment of disease as seen in clinic, ward, operating theatre and laboratory. In keeping with this practical approach, aetiology and pathogenesis are discussed not only in terms of causation but also in relation to the prevention of disease.

Forty-one chapters have been contributed by twenty-eight practising pathologists, each a specialist in the field of his contribution and an experienced teacher of medical students and postgraduates.

Edecrin[®] in oedema

Ethacrynic acid

'Edecrin', the latest advance in diuretic therapy, has been used successfully in the management of oedema of various aetiologies, and has proved life-saving in some patients who have failed to respond to other diuretics. On oral administration, 'Edecrin' usually acts within 30 minutes and reaches its peak activity in about 2 hours; action is complete in 6 to 8 hours. As a result, diuresis can generally be timed for maximum patient convenience.

FURAMIDE provides the simplest safest and most effective treatment available at the present time for intestinal amoebiasis Practical No injections, special diets or enemas are required. Furamide is suitable for ambulant patients.

Simple Dosage is simple—one tablet three times a day for ten days in patients of average weight.
Effective Cure rates of 75% to 80% in the acute stage and 90% to 100% in the chronic condition may be expected.
Safe Side-effects, apart from occasional flatulence, have not been reported, and the toxicity of Furamide is very low.
Inexpensive Furamide is less expensive than the drugs conventionally used in amoebiasis, and as hospitalisation is not normally necessary (unless the clinical condition of the patients warrants it) treatment with Furamide often shows a substantial saving compared with the older forms of therapy. Furamide has been the subject of extensive clinical trials in South America, South Africa and Asia. References and detailed literature will be gladly sent on request.

Psoriasis... rapid response to Alphosyl

... even in previously intractable cases. A patient of 48 who had a generalised psoriasis for 20 years was essentially clear in six weeks.² A girl of 10 with a strong familial history of psoriasis, cleared almost completely after three weeks' application of Alphosyl Cream.² These are just two typical cases from the extensive clinical records underlining Alphosyl's outstanding effectiveness in bringing psoriasis under control.

New Alphosyl lubricating cream. A new water-in-oil dosage form, Alphosyl Lubricating Cream is particularly significant in the treatment of the dry, extremely scaly psoriatic lesion confined to the small site and the intertriginous area. Alphosyl cream is especially helpful in clearing psoriatic plaques exposed to constant friction. By enhancing lubrication of the skin folds, it serves to lessen irritation and facilitate healing. Clearing is prompt, even in previously resistant cases. The effectiveness of Alphosyl in this form is attributable in large measure to its unique cream base. This consists of a combination of saturated and unsaturated free fatty acids, naturally occurring triglycerides and esters that resemble the lipid constituents of normal healthy skin. The vehicle also contains hydrophilic-lipophilic bipolar substances which enhance the moisture uptake and retention of the amphoteric proteins of the stratum corneum. Significantly, it has been shown that squalane, one of the components of the base, is most effective in dissolving a cement substance in psoriatic scales.

Formula: Allantoin 2% + 90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5=1) 5% in a vanishing type cream base or a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

Neulactil

During the last eighteen months psychiatrists have been evaluating the properties of 'Neulactil'* brand pericyazine in the management of a wide variety of mental and emotional disorders. From their reports it has become clear that this new M&B phenothiazine derivative, in addition to possessing a useful anxiolytic effect, is a powerful inhibitor of aggression and impulsiveness in modifying disturbed behaviour. Moreover, 'Neulactil' has been found effective at modest dosage levels which rarely give rise to the unwanted effects which sometimes characterize the use of other therapeutic regimens.

Since many of the more severe anxiety and tension states and behaviour disorders are first diagnosed and often treated solely by the general practitioner, it is likely that 'Neulactil' will find valuable application in general practice.

Financially speaking holidays abroad this year fall in four sections. First the sterling areas—where the currency limit is only your personal problem. Secondly—package holidays—where most of the expense is paid for in this country and you are told the limit of your spending money. Thirdly—cruises—which again are paid for before you go and your £50 travel allowance is only used if the ship calls at a non-sterling port. Fourthly—motoring holidays—where you are entitled to an extra £25 if you take your car over with you.

Holidays in the sterling area enforce their own limits as most of the places that can be visited are far away, and although they can be reached quite easily and relatively quickly by jet planes the extra cost is considerable. Independent travel to the Bahamas, Barbados, Bermuda or Jamaica, Jordan, and Iceland for instance can be very expensive but nevertheless even these far off places can be enjoyed with tours organized by B.O.A.C. and other airlines.

Fortunately though there are several places in the sterling area which are much more accessible, and possibly the most important and popular of these are Malta, Gibraltar, Cyprus, and Libya. For sun-lovers these are ideal. Hotel accommodation has been increased over recent years and there are many places of amusement such as casinos and night clubs. Cruising has always been very popular and it has often been said that a love of ships and the sea is an in-bred quality of all Britons. Whether that be true or not there is no doubting the fact that this year there will be a considerable number of people speaking English on practically every sea within range. The itineraries of the leading shipping companies include such glorious places as Las Palmas, Tenerife, Bermuda, ports all round the Mediterranean and Adriatic, and even the Black Sea. Undoubtedly cruising on the big ships is a most luxurious way of travelling with swimming pools, sun decks, cinemas, shops, and a discreetly organized social life.

There are other types of cruising holidays—mini-cruises on liners to such places as Cherbourg, Le Havre, Bergen, Rotterdam. Or there are the coastal steamers that tour round Scotland and over to the Scandinavian countries.

Package tours are still the choice of many people and reports from the travel organizations show that this year the demand is greater than ever and so is the range of holidays available. Although it is a pleasant relaxation to think in terms of de-luxe holidays on the grand scale, when it comes down to the realities of pounds, shillings and pence then a tour has inevitably to be chosen.

There are a number of tours of historical, archaeological, and classical interest to Greece and Turkey. Also tours to the Holy Land which feature all those places of biblical interest in Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth such as Pilate's Palace, the Judgement Hall, Via Dolorosa, the Holy Sepulchre, Mount Calvary, the Garden of Gethsemane, and a multitude of churches of all denominations and ages.

One tour of special interest to doctors also includes visits to hospitals, medical research centres, and health clinics.

Although the more popular resorts in Italy are always crowded there is no need to go to them as the coast line abounds in quiet small seaside towns and villages that offer all the amenities of good hotels and beaches. The list is nearly inexhaustible. There is for instance in the Bay of Salerno Ogliastro Marina, a quiet village situated in a little bay in front of the Cilento Mountains, or Positano built on the slopes of a steep cliff, and Minori a charming old fishing village with some good modern hotels. The mountain resorts cannot all boast of first class hotels but even so the standards are high and accommodation is very comfortable.

Despite all the appeal of holidays abroad England still holds a magic charm with the beauty of its varied countryside, sophisticated resorts, peaceful villages, and historical cities. No European country can match it for sporting facilities—golf, tennis, cricket, sailing, swimming, horse riding, pony trekking, and bowls, all within easy reach never mind where you are.

'ILOSONE' stops acute bronchitis

without starting anything else

In acute bronchitis bactericidal 'Ilosone' is at least as effective as the broad spectrum agents and a great deal less troublesome.

You can spare the patient the risk of secondary intestinal infection by prescribing 'Ilosone', because its spectrum extends to most common pathogens, including H. influenzae, but NOT to the predominant gut flora. (The use of supplementary nystatin is unnecessary with 'Ilosone'.)

'Ilosone' is available as 'Pulvules' of 125 mg and 250 mg and a pleasant tasting suspension for children containing 125 mg per 5 ml. Usual adult dosage is 250 mg every six hours, which can be safely doubled in severe infections. The dosage of 'Ilosone' suspension for children aged 2-7 years is one teaspoonful 4 times daily.

'Ilosone' is indicated for acute bronchitis, acute tonsillitis, pharyngitis and other bacterial respiratory infections.

These two new Wander products give effective relief in the cough and bronchospasm common to many acute and chronic respiratory disorders.

GALATON combines a time-proved cough suppressant (codeine phosphate) with an effective bronchodilator (phenylpropanolamine). It relieves dry, unproductive cough and wheezing in many respiratory disorders—including acute bronchitis, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, bronchial asthma and pertussis. Galaton is particularly helpful in relieving the distressing night-time cough that disturbs sleep.

DELEXIN combines a powerful expectorant (guaiphenesin)—which liquefies tenacious, viscous sputum—with the bronchodilator and vasoconstrictor effects of phenylpropanolamine. Indications include acute tracheitis, acute bronchitis, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, and the respiratory complications of infectious diseases.

Protection against Allergy

for 1967 is available now

Alavac is the name for the Bencard range of adsorbed desensitising vaccines. Alavac provides a simple, effective and safe treatment for most common allergies. For many patients this treatment can be started now.

Simple A course of Alavac needs only 7-9 injections based on the clinical severity of symptoms. The three-vial Alavac treatment set includes sterile disposable syringes with attached needles, plus full instructions for administration.

Effective Over 80% of patients have been shown to respond well to the adsorbed type of desensitising vaccine. For these patients such therapy can bring long-lasting benefit and halt the deterioration that might otherwise occur with continued use of mere symptomatic treatment.

Safe Alavac is carefully formulated so that once injected, the allergens are released slowly ensuring a gradual and safe dispersal in the body. Consequently, effective doses are attainable in even the most sensitive patient.

How to prescribe Alavac

There are three varieties of Alavac:

Alavac-S is individually formulated to the patient's particular allergic condition, and can be prepared from any one or more of a wide selection of allergen extracts.* Specialists will appreciate that the allergens used correspond exactly with those available in Bencard testing solutions.

Alavac-P is a stock grass pollen vaccine for classical hay fever and pollen asthma. It is best administered pre-seasonally, starting in mid-March at the latest.

Alavac-D is a stock house dust vaccine for non-seasonal asthma and perennial rhinitis. It may be given at any time of the year but may have an added advantage if administered immediately to patients whose symptoms predominate during the winter months.

Besides printing reports on medical education overseas, the Journal encourages the practical study of medical education, and takes particular interest in the evaluation of methods. It will thus form a useful link between medicine and development in education in other fields.

The problem of the dirty mouth

Even in 1967 the dangers, and the unpleasantness, of the dirty mouth are still present in the post-operative period, as well as in many fevers; the geriatric patient being especially prone to them. Careful attention to oral hygiene will usually, of course, keep the patient comfortable and prevent complications. Such attention, however, is very time-consuming to the nurse; and it is not often realised that for most patients it can be replaced or supplemented by the use of chewing gum.

The regular use of chewing gum, by stimulating salivary flow, keeps the mouth clean in the most natural way possible. The patient is in a sense providing his own nursing care with the minimum of energy expenditure by himself.

Child patients, of course, need no encouragement to chew gum. The older patient may need encouraging—but not once he has appreciated the very obvious cleansing and refreshing effect that chewing gum has upon the mouth. Chewing gum is also of value to patients who are forbidden to smoke.

What makes this antibiotic so valuable to the hospital physician?

Spectrum ?

Exceptionally broad. It covers most gram-positive organisms — including the penicillin-resistant staphylococci — and many gram-negative organisms.

Action ?

Intensely bactericidal. It gives a rapid kill of bacteria at or near the minimum inhibitory concentration.

Safety ?

Wide clinical usage has confirmed the laboratory evidence of Ceporin's low toxicity — a particularly valuable attribute in the treatment of the very young or the very old — and it is usually well tolerated by patients allergic to penicillin.

This combination of attributes is invaluable in many situations where other antibiotics — including penicillin — might prove ineffective or dangerous. A recent analysis of results from over 2000 cases has shown high success rates in a wide variety of infections — including urinary and respiratory tract infections, septicaemias and soft tissue infections. Many reports mention the rapid clinical response obtained with Ceporin after other antibiotics had failed.

Presentation

Ceporin is issued in vials containing 250 mg, 500 mg and 1 gram of cephaloridine, packed singly and in boxes of five.

SPARE YOUR PATIENT WASTED DAYS OF PAIN

Fibrositis and myalgia... sprains and strains... lumbago... sciatica... displaced intervertebral disc... in these and many other painful muscular conditions Norgesic gives the patient a better chance of early pain relief than simple analgesics, and quickly gets him on the move again. Norgesic contains not only an analgesic—paracetamol—but orphenadrine citrate, a highly effective agent to relieve painful muscle spasm. Because muscle tension and stiffness so often contribute to pain¹, this formulation can give relief extending beyond the scope of simple analgesics. Furthermore, the patient contributes to his own recovery through his ability to move freely again^{1,2}.

By relieving local pain and easing stiff and painful muscles, Norgesic gives rapid and reliable relief, restores mobility and cuts short the time the patient is out of action.

1. The Practitioner (1963) 191: 660. 2. Medical World (1959) 91: 20

Each Norgesic tablet contains Orphenadrine Citrate B.P.C. 35 mg. and Paracetamol B.P. 450 mg. Dosage is two tablets three times daily. Basic N.H.S. cost: 500 tablets, 71/4; 100 tablets 14/8

WOMEN AT RISK

'... it is important to discover how many women with acute urinary infections are likely to suffer from serious renal disease in later life ...' Lancet (1962), ii, 1246
The high incidence of urinary tract infection in women is well known. Inadequately treated with simple symptomatic remedies, apparently mild attacks of cystitis or pyelitis in childhood or early adult life may smoulder subclinically for many years—before re-appearing as chronic and intractable pyelonephritis. Thorough eradication of the infecting organisms is therefore essential in the treatment of every urinary tract infection, however mild.

One in seven of all your patients is over sixty five —and as a group make up 40% of your long-term care workload.¹

Care of the chronic elderly sick takes up a large part of any general practitioner's day. At least 50% of those of your patients who are over 70 are in need of long-term care². And all your patients over 65 need twice as many consultations in a given time as those in any other age group³.

It has been said that the secret of a successful old age is to have 'four good pipes in the neck'³ (two carotid and two vertebral arteries) and within genetically determined limits, of course, the human organism is as good as nutrition allows it to be. Although it is most likely that nutritional soundness in old age is directly dependent on the soundness of past nutritional patterns, much can still be done. Too many elderly patients 'sacrifice vitamins for shoes and clothes and cleaning materials'⁴ and attention focussed on many complaints may obscure the real picture which is so often one of frank malnutrition.

The pensioner often cannot afford a balanced diet. Therefore his need for a comprehensive vitamin supplement is probably greater. The elderly patient's greatest enemy may be loneliness but his second is vitamin deficiency.

Why do Heinz pack baby foods in cans and jars?

It is entirely a question of mother's convenience. Some mothers prefer jars because they allow the contents to be seen and are easier to open.

Jars also have the advantage that lids can be replaced when only a portion of the food has been used, though this does not mean that the contents will keep any longer than in an opened can.

Most mothers prefer the cans because they are more economical and there is no risk of breakage, nor of the contents deteriorating through exposure to light.

Choice in packs, choice in sizes and choice of 75 varieties—these are just some of the ways Heinz answer mothers' varied needs.

For details of the nutritive value of Heinz Baby Foods, and a specimen copy of the booklet 'From Milk to Mixed Diet', please write to: Food Science Advisory Service, H. J. Heinz Co. Ltd., Hayes Park, Hayes, Middlesex.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1,2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3,4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

ERYTHROCIN® works. It will deal decisively with the four organisms that cause most common bacterial infections met with in everyday practice—streptococcus, staphylococcus, pneumococcus and H. influenzae. Against the 'cocci' in particular its potency is considerably greater than that of the tetracyclines or chloramphenicol.

ERYTHROCIN POWER PLUS

ERYTHROCIN works safely.

It is the least toxic, the least allergenic antibiotic currently in common use. This telling fusion of power with exceptional safety makes ERYTHROCIN a logical first choice for general use in the treatment of common bacterial infections.

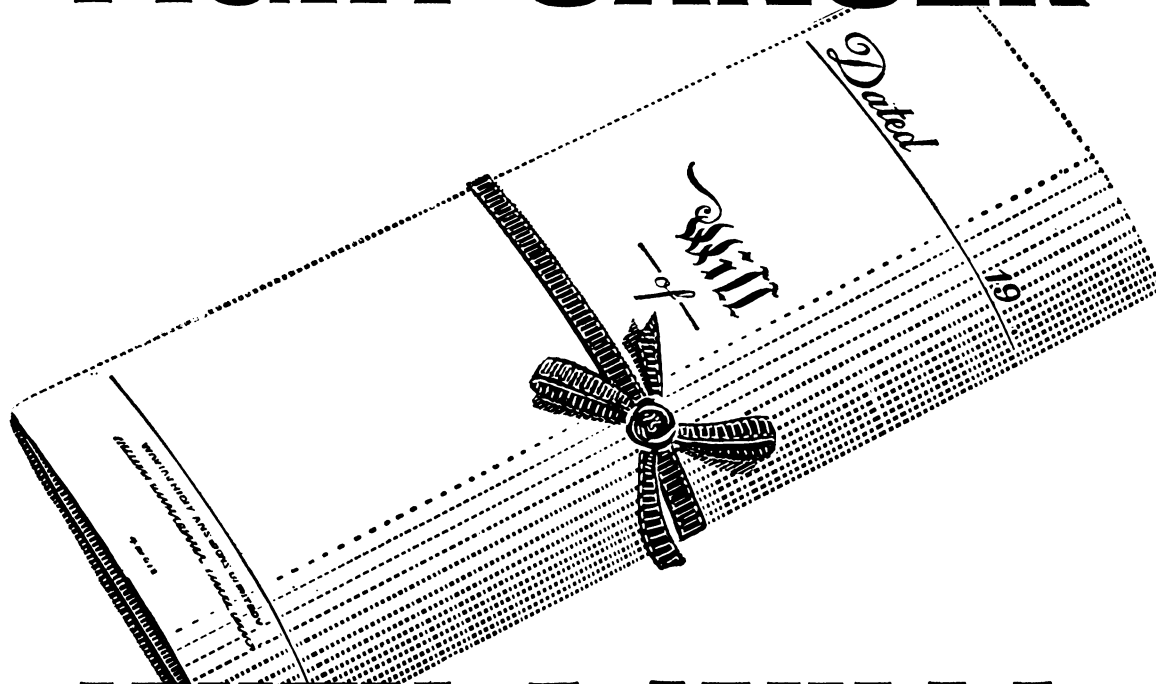

Erythrocin® (Erythromycin stearate BP) is available as 250 mg. and 100 mg. Filmtabs® and 100 mg. per 5ml Suspension.

In chronic bronchitis PENBRITIN helps him put up a better fight

By swiftly reducing both the quantity and purulence of the sputum, routine dosage Penbritin brings a rapid clinical response in the majority of patients: moreover clinical trials have shown these benefits to be more marked than those observed in patients on tetracycline therapy. The success of this regimen (250mg. four times daily for one week or more) can be attributed to Penbritin's higher activity against the causative organisms, H. influenzae and pneumococci.

In addition, severely disabled patients, including those with extensive bronchiectasis and cases whose sputum is winter-long purulent despite other antibiotic therapy, may gain unprecedented relief from a short course of high dosage Penbritin. In published trials on this regimen (1 gram four times daily for one week or more) infection was cleared in the majority of patients, and subsequent freedom from exacerbation for up to 16 weeks was reported.

A full list of supporting references is available on request.

PENBRITIN* (ampicillin B.P.) is a product of British research at Beecham Research Laboratories
Brentford, England.

*Regd.

What's in it for you?

Intense activity against Mycoplasma pneumoniae, now shown to be associated with over 20% of acute respiratory infections - notably pneumonia and bronchitis^{1,2}. This organism is totally insensitive to all penicillins³.

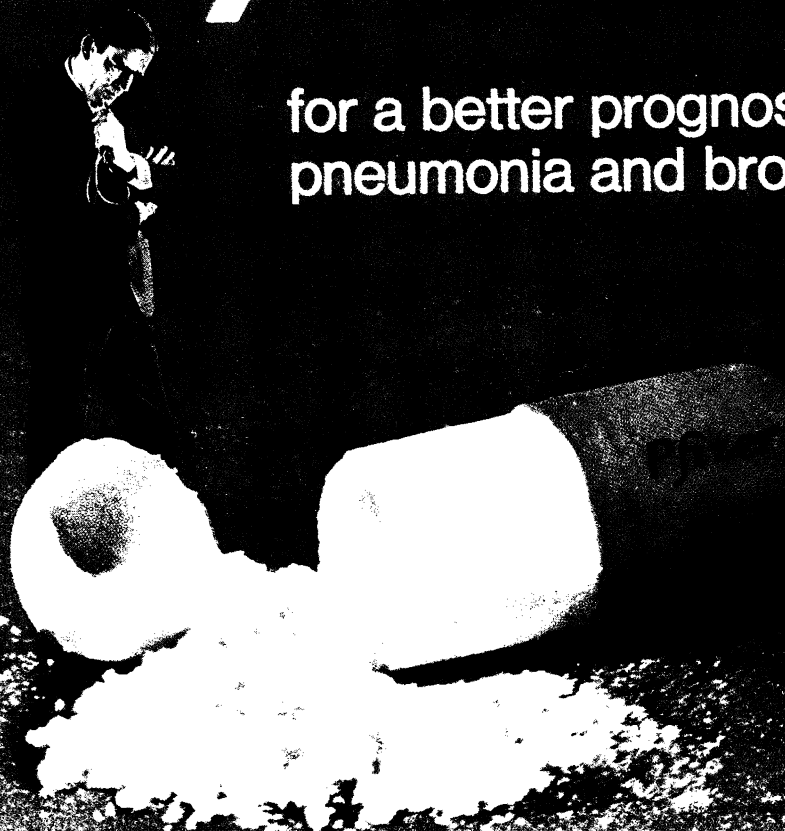

The capacity to clear purulent sputum quickly, even when previous therapy has failed⁴.

Shorter exacerbations⁵, resulting in a decisive check on progressive lung-tissue damage.

Choice of two equally dependable dosage regimens - one capsule four times daily or two capsules twice daily.

Rondomycin*

for a better prognosis in pneumonia and bronchitis

Rondomycin is available as 150 mg. capsules in bottles of 10, 20, 50, 100 and 250 capsules. Each capsule contains 150 mg. of the active ingredient, erythromycin stearate.

ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL NORTHAMPTON

FOR NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISORDERS

President: The Earl Spencer

Medical Director

James Harper, M.B., F.R.C.P. (Edin.), D.P.M.

This private hospital receives patients, both male and female, suffering from nervous and mental disorders, including alcoholism and senile illnesses. The fees range from eighteen guineas per week. Private rooms with special nurses can be provided, either in the hospital or in one of the villas in the grounds. The hospital is situated in 150 acres of pleasant grounds which provide all recreational facilities. These include a nine-hole golf course, sports ground, tennis courts, etc. A Recreation and Occupation Centre, known as Gloucester House, was opened in 1962, which comprises an occupational therapy department, a swimming pool, a squash court, and a library with an adjoining reading room.

WANTAGE HOUSE

This is a separate reception unit to which patients may be admitted. It is equipped for the complete investigation of nervous and mental disorders by the most modern methods. All forms of treatment are available.

For terms and further particulars apply to the Medical Superintendent (Telephone No. 3454 Northampton), who can be seen in London by appointment.
