PRIMOJEL

a new, quick-acting disintegrating agent for the tableting industry.

PRIMOJEL, one of the newest developments from the SCHOLTEN laboratories, is a disintegrating agent for the pharmaceutical tableting industry, possessing a very active effect.

PRIMOJEL is a low-substituted carboxymethyl-starch which dissolves particularly quickly in water. As a result of this unique property, the cohesion of a tablet in which PRIMOJEL has been incorporated is quickly and completely destroyed when brought into contact with water. An addition of only a small percentage of PRIMOJEL to the granulate confers, in most cases, a remarkable reduction in the disintegration time. A further important point is that prolonged storage of the tablets does not affect the activity of the PRIMOJEL.

Further information, samples or technical literature are available on request.

Duncan's Diseases of Metabolism

New 6th Edition!

BY PHILIP K. BONDY, MD, Ensign Professor of Medicine, Yale University School of Medicine

Two Volume Set 1413 pages. 594 illustrations. £16 11s. 6d. (single volumes at £8 18s. 6d. each)

The discoveries and gains in the study of metabolism and problems of metabolic diseases have been numerous since the publication of the last edition of this book. This has necessitated an entirely new approach to the field, and contributors to this new edition are, almost without exception, new to this edition.

The present text is designed to give a rational structure upon which studies of the field of metabolic diseases can be organized, and to discuss those diseases of metabolism which are of particular interest because of their frequency or because they are useful in illustrating the meaning of this organizational structure.

In the discussions of the diseases included in the book, the practical information necessary for modern diagnosis and therapy is provided. Enough references are included to permit the reader to determine for himself the nature of the evidence which has led to a given conclusion and to encourage a more extensive study of the subject than can be included in the book itself.

Roussel announces the introduction of new single daily oral

During the 15 years since tolbutamide was introduced, the search for improved oral anti-diabetic agents has continued. The investigation of more than 8,000 sulphonylurea compounds showed Euglucon to be the most potent yet best tolerated oral anti-diabetic agent so far available.

International clinical experience with more than 5,000 patients has shown that the majority of maturity-onset diabetics can be effectively controlled on a daily dosage of 10 mg or less of Euglucon, usually in a single administration.

At the same time, Euglucon is well tolerated even in prolonged therapeutic dosage, being in this respect at least comparable to tolbutamide. Because of its potency, Euglucon may be suitable for the management of patients who have failed to respond to other oral anti-diabetic agents.

1,000 mg of tolbutamide or 250 mg of chlorpropamide is approximately equivalent to 5 mg of Euglucon's active principle glibenclamide.

your questions answered about

the new power in control of maturity-onset diabetes

How does Euglucon differ from previous oral anti-diabetic agents?

Chiefly, in the potency of the active ingredient, glibenclamide. The 5 mg Euglucon tablet is approximately equivalent in hypoglycaemic activity to 250 mg chlorpropamide or 1000 mg tolbutamide. At the same time Euglucon is well tolerated, being at least comparable in this respect to tolbutamide.

Can Euglucon be given to patients who were previously taking other hypoglycaemic agents?

The changeover to Euglucon from another sulphonylurea can be effected from one day to the next. When transferring from chlorpropamide the slow elimination of this drug should be borne in mind, but a break in treatment is not usually necessary.

Can Euglucon be given in combination with other oral hypoglycaemic agents?

If a patient is inadequately controlled by a regime of strict diet together with more than three tablets of Euglucon daily, good results may be obtained by combining Euglucon with a biguanide. It is possible for some patients who display a relative resistance to insulin to be more satisfactorily controlled by giving Euglucon and insulin together.

What is the usual stabilising dose of Euglucon?

In maturity-onset diabetes of mild to moderate severity the treatment should be started with one tablet daily. If this dosage is not sufficient for proper control it should be increased by half a tablet (2.5 mg) daily at intervals of one week, or as directed by the clinician. In some cases of mild diabetes, control can be achieved with as little as half a tablet (2.5 mg) daily. Most patients will respond adequately to daily dosages of 2 tablets (10 mg) or less. Some patients, however, may require up to four tablets (20 mg) per day. Increasing dosage beyond this level is unlikely to produce further response. When more than two tablets per day are required it may be desirable that these be given in divided doses.

What side-effects have been reported with Euglucon?

Side-effects serious enough to necessitate withdrawal of Euglucon are uncommon, even during long-term treatment. Gastro-intestinal symptoms (nausea, anorexia, diarrhoea) are uncommon and allergic skin reactions are seldom encountered.

Leucopenia and thrombocytopenia have been reported but are rare and transient. As with other agents, hypoglycaemia can occur with Euglucon, but it is not usually prolonged and responds to appropriate therapeutic measures.

When is Euglucon contra-indicated?

In juvenile or unstable diabetes; patients who exhibit serious decompensation with ketosis, and in particular, diabetic pre-coma and coma; in cases of severe impairment of renal function; when patients are exposed to undue stress, e.g. operations, infections, accidents; in pregnancy or suspected pregnancy.

What precautions should be taken during Euglucon therapy?

In view of its highly potent effect, Euglucon should preferably be taken with or immediately after a meal.

In what form is Euglucon made available?

Euglucon is available as white oblong, scored tablets, each containing 5 mg of glibenclamide, in bottles of 100 and 500 tablets.

PRACTICAL PSYCHIATRY

from the British Medical Journal

Most doctors who have been qualified for more than ten years received very little training in psychiatry as medical students. Yet psychiatric problems confront all those practising clinical medicine. The articles collected together in this book were written for the B.M.J. to give practical advice to general practitioners and others on how to recognize and cope with the more common forms of mental disorder. Many patients are anxious or depressed; when should the doctor try to do something about it? This is the sort of question the authors set out to answer. As far as possible they have avoided the use of psychiatric jargon, and case histories have been used freely to illustrate the points made. Any doctor who feels ignorant about psychological medicine will find here a readable introduction to the practical aspects of clinical psychiatry.

dramatic disappearance of bronchitis pathogens

... a combination of trimethoprim and sulphamethoxazole provided effective prophylaxis in chronic bronchitis. It dramatically diminished sputum volume, rendered it mucoid and abolished pathogens.*

This combination, available as SEPTRIN*, swiftly eradicates a wide range of organisms including the pathogens common in bronchitis—H. influenzae, Pneumococci and Klebsiella sp.

SEPTRIN has been compared in a trial with ampicillin in treating exacerbations of chronic bronchitis. SEPTRIN produced a significantly greater reduction in sputum volume and of sputum purulence and the trial also showed that SEPTRIN produced a better overall clinical response in the bronchitic patients.²

there is now ANUGESIC-HC for patients with painful piles

The Anusol range began with Anusol suppositories and ointment – still among the most widely prescribed ano-rectal preparations. Then came Anusol-HC, adding the powerful anti-inflammatory effect of hydrocortisone acetate.

Now there is Anugesic-HC which contains, in addition, a highly effective local analgesic, pramoxine. Anugesic-HC is for the patient with considerable ano-rectal discomfort. Its analgesic constituent is unrelated to the 'caine' derivatives and has little or no sensitization potential. At the same time Anugesic-HC contains hydrocortisone acetate to reduce inflammation, with emollient and astringent agents.

Wherever gout strikes— Zyloric protects

With ZYLORIC, serum uric acid levels are reduced and kept within normal limits, urate deposition in the joints regress and acute attacks of gout become less frequent or disappear.

ZYLORIC acts by limiting the formation of uric acid from its metabolic precursors. Uricosuric agents, in contrast, do not limit the production of uric acid, they increase the flow of urates through the kidney.

With ZYLORIC less uric acid passes through the kidney which is protected from the effects of urate deposition and urate nephropathy (kidney damage is a cause of death in 25 per cent of patients with chronic gout).†

(ibuprofen)

The incident recreated here is taken from an actual report of the results achieved with Brufen. Many such reports about Brufen have been received, and provide convincing evidence of the very real benefits which this highly effective antirheumatic agent can bring to the arthritic.

To those restricted by an arthritic condition, Brufen means the freedom of reduced stiffness, improved joint flexion and an extended range of pain-free movement. There is also a remarkable freedom from adverse effects, and Brufen is so well tolerated by the gastro-intestinal tract that the first dose of each day can be taken on an empty stomach, as soon as the patient is awake.

Brufen is ibuprofen, the first non-steroidal antirheumatic agent evolved entirely by British research.

Why upper respiratory infections are Penbritin Territory

Penbritin offers you broad-spectrum activity with the safety of a penicillin. This extra activity is useful because certain Gram-negative organisms, for example H. influenzae, are beyond the range of traditional penicillins and may prove troublesome.

Unlike some broad-spectrums such as tetracyclines which merely inhibit organisms, Penbritin destroys bacteria and minimises the risk of relapse or complications. Also many respiratory bacteria have now become resistant to the tetracyclines. No such problem has arisen with Penbritin after more than eight years of clinical use.

Toxicity and side-effects (such as tooth staining) are further factors which limit the usefulness of some antibiotics. However, Penbritin is a penicillin and can confidently be prescribed for children, for neonates and in pregnancy. More than 1,600 published references have demonstrated its lack of toxicity for all age-groups.

Penbritin is available in highly acceptable presentations – capsules, tablets and syrups. This acceptability encourages patients to finish the prescribed course of treatment, even when the symptoms have gone.

Advantages over corticosteroids

Normal functioning of body's defences against toxins, stress, shock and allergies.

No difficulty in withdrawing treatment.

No risk of adrenal suppression.

Less gastric irritation.

Minimal catabolism

No stunting of growth in children.

Advantages over natural A.C.T.H.

Consistent potency.

Fewer hypersensitivity reactions.

The dosage can be accurately expressed in mg. instead of units.

Convenient multi-dose presentation

Cortrosyn Depot is available in :

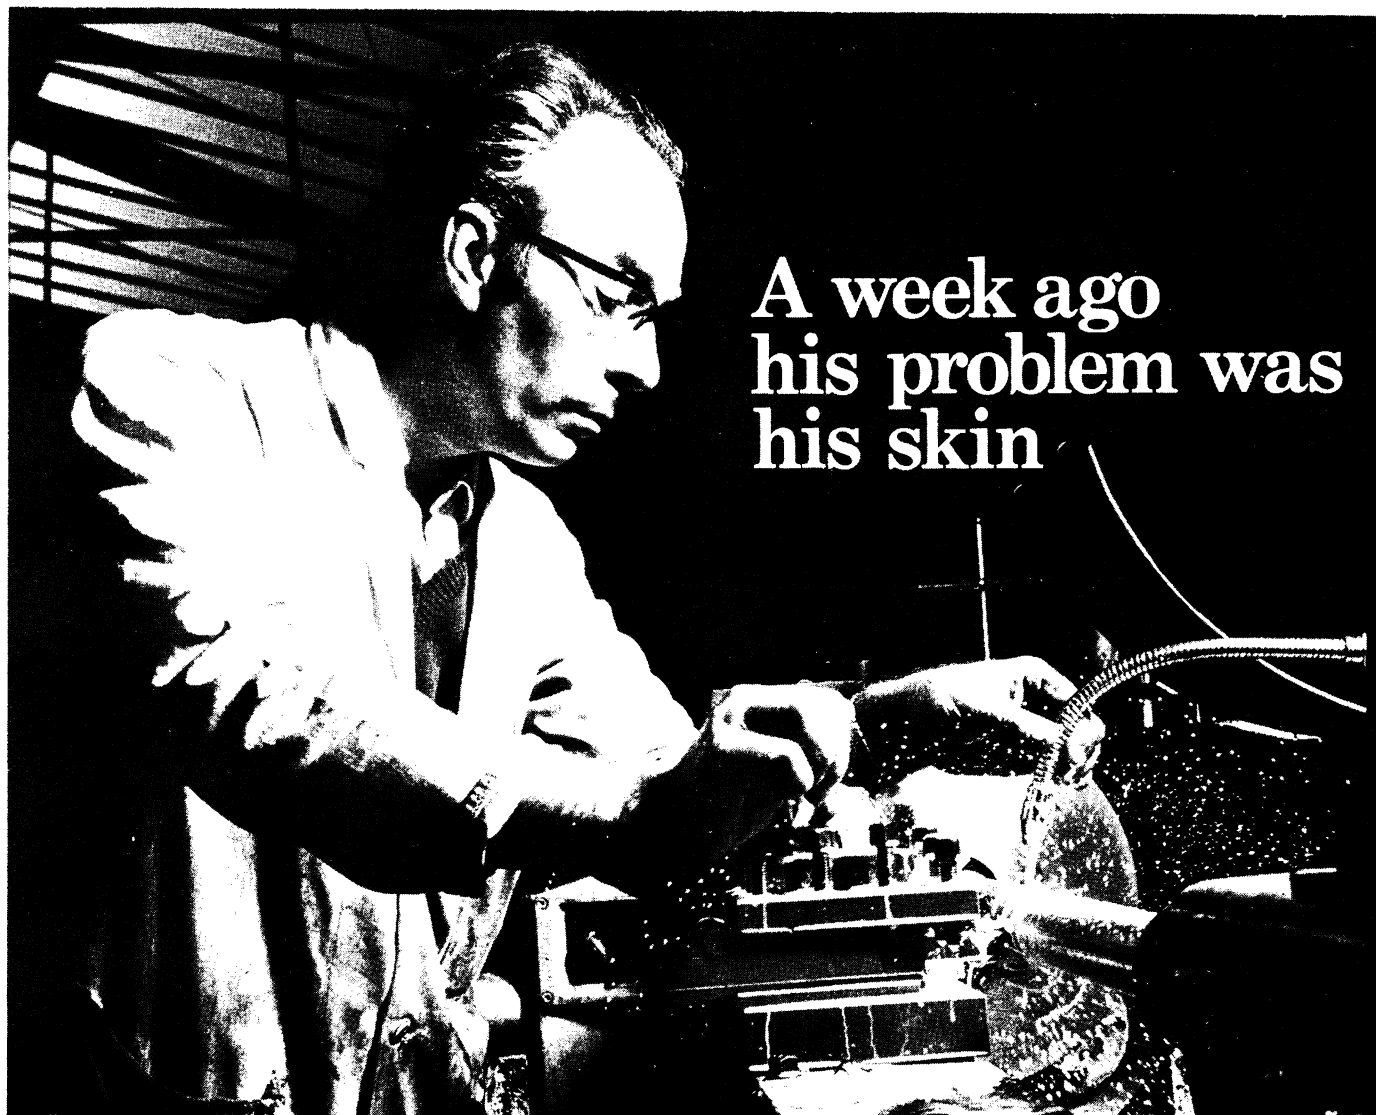

1 mg/2ml. vials and 2 mg/2 ml. vials.

A week ago his problem was his skin

He first noticed the itching at work. Then his hands started to redden. The skin cracked and became scaly. He soon found difficulty in operating his lathe and the irritation affected his sleep. He realised that something must be done; and done quickly. His doctor told him it was contact dermatitis and prescribed Propaderm Cream.

Propaderm relieves skin problems

Propaderm can be used for all conditions responsive to topical steroid therapy. Propaderm is beclomethasone dipropionate—a powerful topical steroid. So powerful that in a recent trial 94% of 252 patients with eczema or psoriasis showed good results when treated with Propaderm (cream, ointment and ointment with 3% aureomycin BP). Propaderm is fast acting. In the same trial the majority of patients who responded to Propaderm did so in the first week of treatment.

"All three preparations of the drug which were tested were found to be superior to previous treatments. No side effects were reported."

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

TUTOR IN RADIOLOGY

Applications are invited for the appointment of Tutor in Radiology within the teaching hospital (The United Oxford Hospitals).

The appointment, which will be supported by a special grant, is related particularly to a newly designed introductory course for clinical students for which a new teaching laboratory is being built, and will be made for the period of the grant, viz. five years; there is no assurance at present of continuation beyond this period, though efforts will be made to secure funds for that purpose.

The duties of the post will be primarily to assist in teaching in the undergraduate school, with particular emphasis on the new introductory course, and also to assist in postgraduate teaching; there will also be opportunity to engage in research and to take part in the service work of the department. The successful candidate will receive an honorary appointment (below Consultant level) with the hospital board. Candidates should hold a higher qualification in radiology and preferably have had teaching experience.

Salary on appropriate scale, according to qualifications and experience, viz. Clinical Tutor scale £2,175-£2,985 or Scale III £2,860-£3,235, F.S.S.U. Appointment to be taken up at March 1, 1970, or as soon as convenient thereafter.

Applications (five copies), by January 15, 1970, with curriculum vitae, and the names of two referees, to the Secretary of the Medical School, Medical School Offices, 43 Woodstock Road, Oxford, from whom further particulars may be obtained. (26394)

MEDICAL RESEARCH COUNCIL
Clinical and Population Cytogenetics Unit

Applications are invited for the post of Clinical Physiologist to collaborate in the clinical investigation of individuals who have an abnormal chromosomal complement. Projects presently in progress include some aspects of cardiovascular dynamics and of carbohydrate metabolism. Candidates invited to visit the Unit by appointment.

Salary will be governed by qualifications and experience and applications should be submitted to the Administrative Officer of the above Unit at the Western General Hospital, Crewe Road, Edinburgh 4, from whom further information can be obtained. (H6441)

INDUSTRIAL APPOINTMENTS

Attention is drawn to the British Medical Association's statement of policy on the Remuneration of Industrial Medical Officers as approved by the Representative Body, which is available on request from the Secretary.

Medical Officer Dunstable

We require a full-time industrial Medical Officer to be based at our Dunstable Plant. He will be primarily responsible for the direct supervision of occupational health services at the truck manufacturing plants at Luton and Dunstable. He will also visit regularly the Company's plastics and die castings factories in Birmingham and Coventry and some of the servicing facilities and offices in the London area. There is a number of industrial nursing sisters employed at these locations.

Agreement has been reached in principle, that the successful candidate may be granted a Clinical Assistantship in the Accident Service of the Luton and Dunstable Hospital.

This appointment offers an opportunity to a man with suitable experience in hospital or general practice to enter industrial medicine or for someone with some industrial experience to widen his knowledge.

Starting salary will be in accordance with the British Medical Association Scale for Medical Officer but allowance will be made for previous relevant experience in selecting the starting point in the scale.

He will be administratively and professionally responsible to the Medical Director, Rootes Motors Ltd., to whom applications should be sent.

Please write to: Dr. W. M. Dixon, Medical Director, Rootes Motors Limited, Devonshire House, Piccadilly, LONDON, W1A 2BU. (26474)

The era of the oral cephalosporin has arrived

'Keflex'

cephalexin monohydrate

Keflex multi

cephalexin monohydrate

A broad spectrum for UTI

Clinical reports show that a satisfactory clinical response is obtained in 93% of patients with acute infections and 80% of patients with chronic infections due to frequently encountered urinary pathogens such as E. coli, Proteus mirabilis, and Klebsiella.

K Dosage

The usual adult dose is 250 mg every six hours. For more severe infections or those caused by less susceptible organisms, 500 mg every six hours may be needed. In appropriate cases up to 4G per day may be given.

A broad spectrum for bronchitis

In this condition where the infection is frequently of mixed aetiology, 'Keflex' clears purulent sputum and clinical improvement has been shown in over 90% of patients studied. Susceptible organisms include Haemophilus influenzae, Streptococcus pneumoniae, and Staphylococcus aureus.

Precautions Any patient who has demonstrated some form of allergy, particularly to drugs, should receive antibiotics, including cephalexin, cautiously and then only when necessary. If severe reaction, individual idiosyncrasy, or allergy should occur, treatment should be discontinued.

The safety of cephalexin for use in pregnancy has not been established.

In patients treated with cephalexin, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions or with copper sulphate test tablets.

Adverse reactions have been infrequent and mild. The most frequent was mild diarrhoea reported in 10% of 1230 patients studied. Other side-effects including nausea, vomiting, and rash were reported in about 1 per cent. Skin reactions including erythema and urticaria were also reported in 1 per cent. Other side-effects reported more rarely have been vomiting, monilial vaginitis, dizziness, headache, and abdominal pain.

Contraindications 'Keflex' is contra-indicated in patients who have shown hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

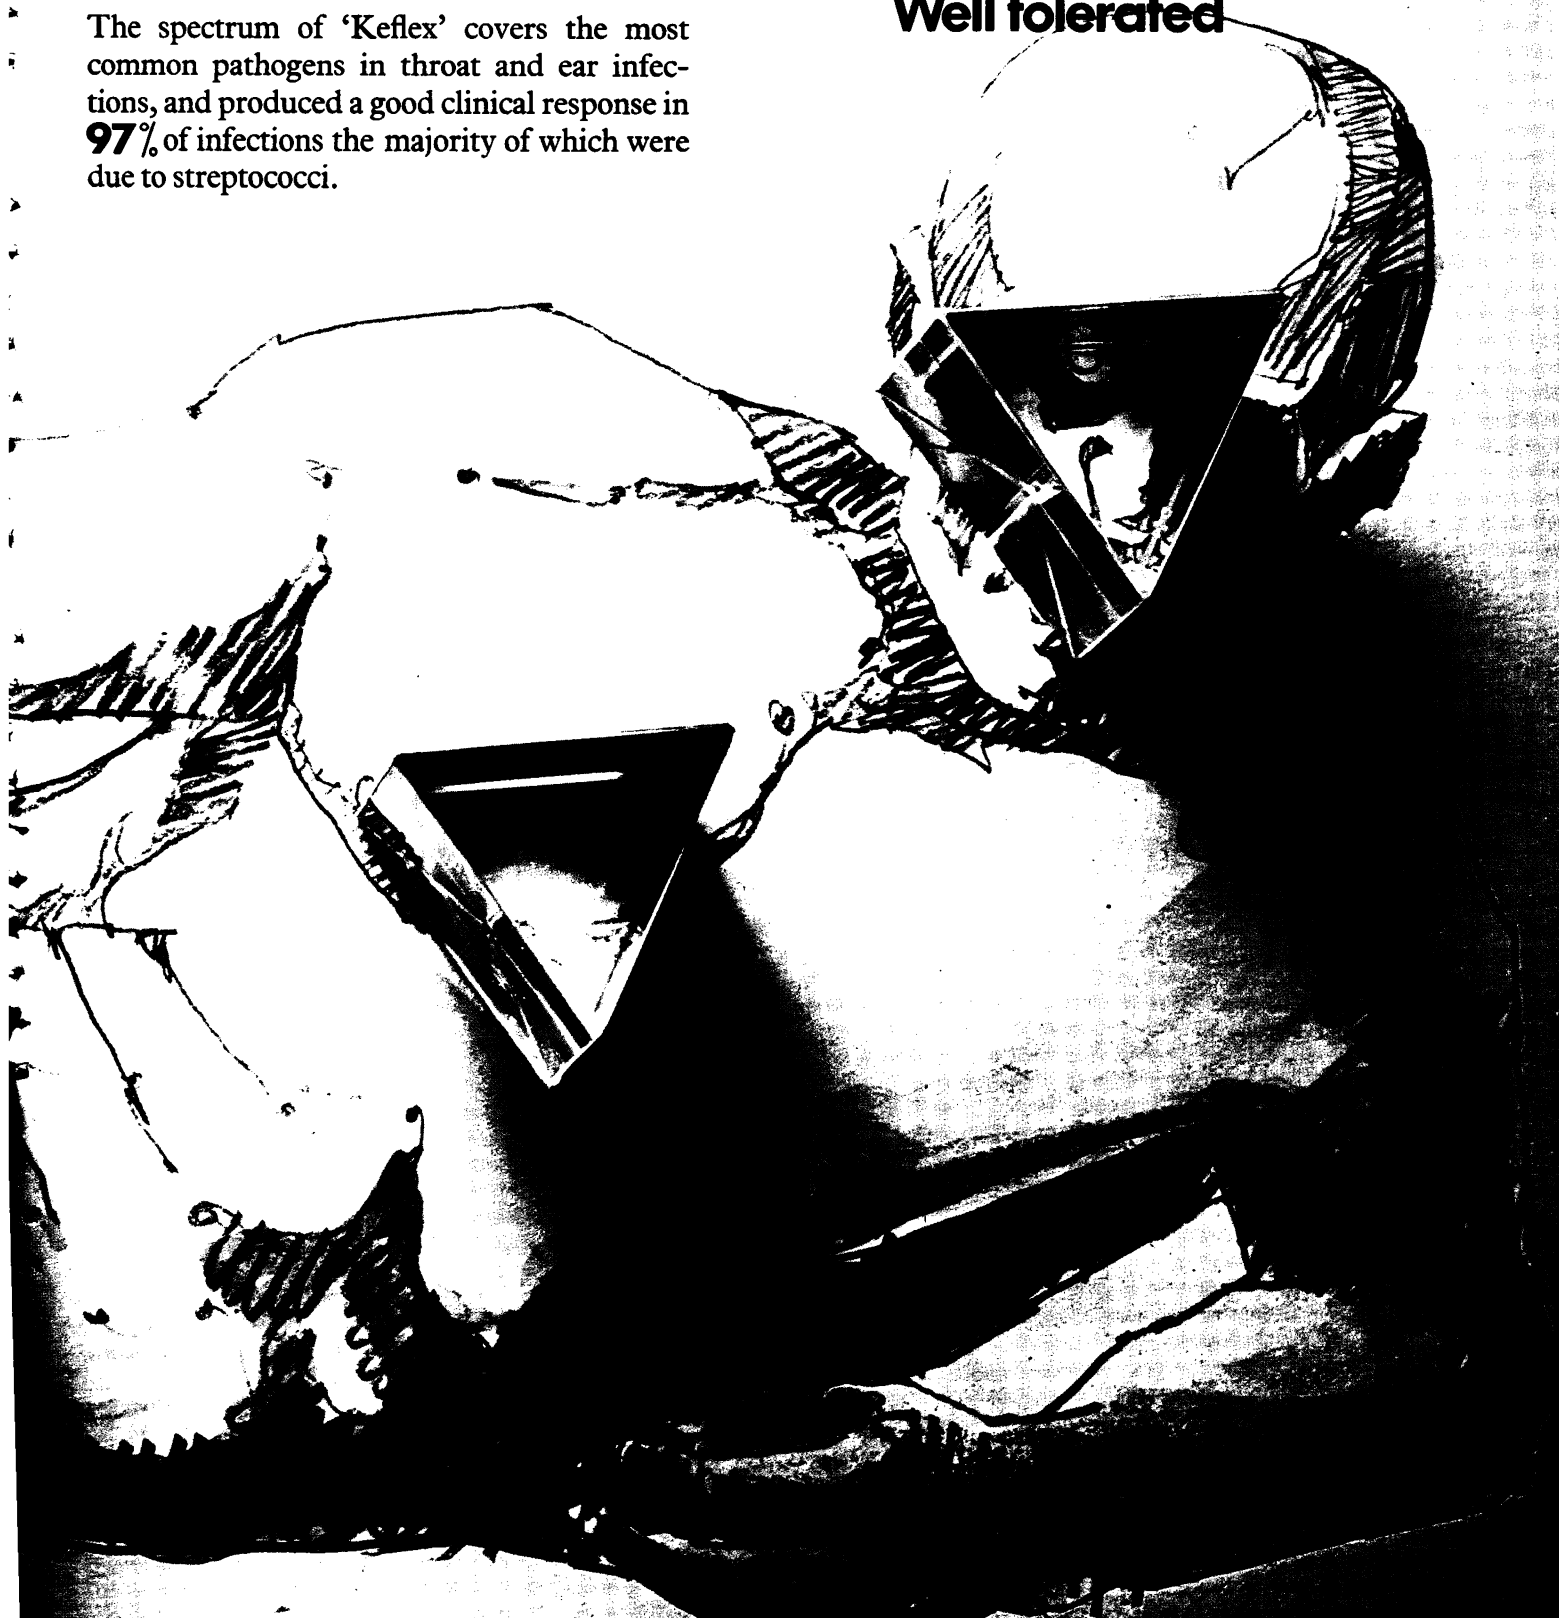

Formulation 'Keflex' capsules contain 250 mg of cephalexin monohydrate.

spectrum antibiotic

A broad spectrum for throat and ear infections

The spectrum of 'Keflex' covers the most common pathogens in throat and ear infections, and produced a good clinical response in 97% of infections the majority of which were due to streptococci.

The successful applicant will be retained by Nchanga Consolidated Copper Mines Limited at Chingola. He will work primarily in a 250 bedded non-contributory (free) hospital and a 35 bedded contributory (fee paying) hospital at Chingola. His services will, however, be available to Bancroft Mines Limited - 15 miles from Chingola - where there is a combined hospital. The Group medical service has specialist surgeons, an anaesthetist and pathologist centred at Kitwe. Nchanga has its own specialist surgeon.

The appointment is on a three year contract basis, renewable. The basic starting salary will be dependent on experience and qualifications but will not be less than K8588 (£5000) per annum. There is a Christmas bonus and terminal gratuity. A car allowance is paid and an interest free house, partially furnished is available. Passages will be paid on appointment and return on completion of contract. There are generous leave conditions and educational allowances for children at schools outside Zambia.

Exchange Control Regulations allow the repatriation to the U.K. of up to 50% of your salary.

Applications for interview, giving fullest details, should be sent to:

International Appointments Division, Charter Consolidated Limited, Dept A/8839/FF, 7 Rolls Buildings, London E.C.4

MONASH UNIVERSITY

Melbourne, Australia

DEPARTMENT OF MICROBIOLOGY

Applications are invited for the positions of SENIOR TEACHING FELLOW and LECTURER, although a suitably qualified medical graduate may be considered for appointment as a Senior Lecturer. Medical graduates especially are sought to help teach 4th, 5th and 6th year medical students, but graduates in science are also invited to apply. Applicants may be either seniors with appropriate academic qualifications, research and teaching background, and with experience in an aspect of medical microbiology, or juniors interested in medical microbiology, wishing to take advantage of educational and training opportunities. Good research facilities are available in the department, which teaches undergraduate and graduate students in medicine and science. The successful applicants will be expected to take up duty as early as possible in 1970. Enquiries to Professor S. Faine in the University.

Salary scales: Lecturer: $A5,400-$7,300 p.a., Senior Lecturer (medically qualified): $A7,740-$9,430 p.a. with superannuation on F.S.S.U. basis and disability cover; Senior Teaching Fellow: $A4,390-$5,290 p.a.

Benefits: Travelling expenses for appointee and family; removal allowance; repatriation after three years' appointment if desired; initial subsidised housing. FOR LECTURERS AND ABOVE ONLY: availability of loans for home purchase; STUDY LEAVE is granted at the rate of one term's leave for six terms' service, with provision for financial assistance.

Further general information including details of application procedure is available from the Academic Registrar, Monash University, Wellington Road, Clayton, Victoria 3168, Australia, or the Secretary-General, Association of Commonwealth Universities (Appts), 36 Gordon Square, London, W.C.1.

Closing date: 19 January 1970.

The University reserves the right to make no appointment, or to appoint by invitation. (13782)
