Cheap welfare milk ends on April 3rd

Please help make sure that children continue to get all the milk they need

When cheap welfare milk goes, $3\frac{1}{2}$ million families will be affected. Many may cut down their milk consumption—unless they realise the importance of milk in their diet.

A daily pinta guarantees your child's calcium. "A daily pinta guarantees your child's calcium" is the message the dairy industry will use on posters, television and in the press, to encourage mothers to keep up their milk order. The press advertising will also list the other important milk attributes like this:

One pint of milk contains:

1. Calcium

—all that children under five should have each day. Calcium feeds growing bones to make them stronger and thicker, and toughens growing teeth to help them resist decay.

2. Protein

—nearly as much as in a quarter-pound of beef steak. Protein gives them the material they need to help build strong bodies and firm muscles.

3. Riboflavine (Vitamin B₂)

—all they should have each day. Children must have Riboflavine for proper growth.

4. Vitamin A

—over 70% of their daily requirement. It helps maintain good eyesight and a clear skin.

5. Thiamine (Vitamin B₁), Vitamin C and Niacin

—in addition, one pint of milk guarantees at least one sixth of their daily requirement of Thiamine, Niacin and Vitamin C.

Figures derived from recommendations of the Health Departments of the United Kingdom.

Free leaflets and posters for your waiting room. Attractive leaflets and posters have been designed to inform mothers about the importance of milk. You can get these free from: Dept. WM, The National Dairy Council, National Dairy Centre, John Princes Street, London, W1M 0AP.

New scheme for free milk

An estimated 150,000 extra families will qualify for free milk under the new scheme that begins on April 4th—the Government will be advertising this from mid-April. Other responsible bodies and individuals should also take every opportunity to inform people about the new scheme, otherwise thousands of needy families may lose their free milk. You can help by advising your patients of their entitlement. Details are obtainable from your local Social Security office.

Flora Margarine is an exceedingly rich source of polyunsaturates. 50% natural cis-cis linoleic, polyunsaturated fatty acid, prepared from sunflower oil. No prescription. Available at any supermarket.

Flora is commended to those heart risk patients whose blood cholesterol level should be reduced. It is an effective replacement for butter, ordinary margarine, cooking fats and lard—highly saturated animal fats. Flora supplies all known needs for essential fatty acids.

This simple substitution is almost effortless, tastes good and costs little, if anything, extra. All of which makes Flora the best kind of advice to give—the kind people are likely to follow.

As a doctor, you'd be better off abroad. Or would you?

Obviously, the decision's a difficult one. Especially if you're only just about to register.

So may we suggest something?

Rather than taking up a normal practice here or leaving the country, try the Royal Army Medical Corps. And you'll get the chance to do both.

Because, for some of the time, in the RAMC you're likely to see something of the world: in Germany, Cyprus, or maybe on exercises in countries from Canada to the Far East.

You can join for 3 or 5 years. And in that time you'll not only travel, you'll also gain valuable medical experience.

You'll hold the rank of Captain. And at say 24 years of age you earn around £3395 gross p.a. On top of that, there are all sorts of allowances.

Your surgery is well equipped by the Army. And you won't just be dealing with soldiers. There are wives and children to care for, too.

What's more, you get 6 weeks' paid leave every year.

At any time during your service, you can apply to stay on for a Regular Commission. And have the opportunity of specialising. In fact, around 70% of all Regular Officers do take up post-graduate studies.

Alternatively, you can leave at the end of your Short Service Commission.

All the better for the experience and for a tax-free gratuity. You get £1500 after 3 years. £3000 after 5.

So think about it. And before you decide on anything, find out more about the RAMC.

If you want full details, or want to meet an RAMC Officer, write to Colonel T. S. Hart, MB, DPH, DTM & H, RAMC, Ministry of Defence (AMD₂), Dept. 712 Lansdowne House, Berkeley Square, London, W1X 6AA.

Pathology of Tumours of the Nervous System

Third Edition

DOROTHY S. RUSSELL and
LUCIEN J. RUBINSTEIN

The publication, in recent years, of new material in the field of nervous system oncogenesis has called for a revision of this well-known textbook on the pathology and tissue culture of brain tumours. Whilst relatively little has been deleted, some sections have been radically overhauled, and many new observations have been incorporated. The growing field of experimental nervous system oncogenesis has been reviewed; and the contribution of electron microscopy to the morphology of central and peripheral nervous system tumours has been systematically evaluated. A number of pertinent electron micrographs has been added to the illustrations.

PRACTICAL PSYCHIATRY

Most doctors who have been qualified for more than ten years received very little training in psychiatry as medical students. Yet psychiatric problems confront all those practising clinical medicine. The articles collected together in this book were written for the B.M.J. to give practical advice to general practitioners and others on how to recognize and cope with the more common forms of mental disorder. Many patients are anxious or depressed; when should the doctor try to do something about it? This is the sort of question the authors set out to answer. As far as possible they have avoided the use of psychiatric jargon, and case histories have been used freely to illustrate the points made. Any doctor who feels ignorant about psychological medicine will find here a readable introduction to the practical aspects of clinical psychiatry.

Smaller District Hospitals Treat Renal Failure With The SEFTON Automatic Peritoneal Dialysis Machine

Few can justify the facilities and staff, even assuming the expertise is available, of establishing haemodialysis therapy.

A Sefton machine installed by the League of Friends at a smaller district hospital.

Today, many smaller hospitals are increasing their dialysis capacity and are giving relief to the regional centres by P.D. treatment with the Sefton machine. HAPPILY EVER AFTER

'Keflex' offers a combination of effectiveness and safety which is unsurpassed by any other antibiotic.

No reports of teeth staining or renal damage, a very low incidence of rash and gastrointestinal disturbance make it particularly suitable for the treatment of bacterial infections in children. Add broad-spectrum, bactericidal action and resistance to penicillinase and it's easy to see why so many children recover so quickly with so few complications after 'Keflex' therapy.

'Keflex' Suspension is supplied in 100 ml bottles containing 125 mg cephalosin (as the monohydrate) per 5 ml. 'Keflex' is also available for older children and adults as capsules each containing 250 mg cephalosin (as the monohydrate).

If the patient who has started on new therapy is to co-operate fully, maintain his composure and increase his confidence, early effective control of blood pressure must also be accompanied by the lowest possible risk of distressing side-effects. Because ESBATAL* meets these criteria it is of special value for the new hypertensive patient and also for those patients who are uncomfortable or uncontrolled on other therapy. Individual dosage is rapidly and reliably achieved, and dose response is soon predictable in a particular patient. In a report¹ of clinical experience with ESBATAL, the authors stated: 'There would now seem to be no case for beginning treatment with guanethidine or methyl dopa in any new patient ...'

A few hard facts about ear wax solvents

In the literature regarding the efficacy of ear wax solvents conclusions have been drawn based wholly on in vitro studies but their validity in clinical practice has been questioned.

A recently published report of in vitro studies of ear wax solvents with a controlled clinical trial—probably the first carefully designed and controlled work on the subject—compared the efficacy of six widely used solvents and again confirmed the importance of in vivo studies.

Cerumol was found to be the only product significantly more effective than the control.

Reference: J. Laryngology & Otology (1970), LXXXIV No. 10, 1055.

Small wonder that CERUMOL remains the most widely prescribed ear wax preparation.

CERUMOL

When you diagnose Tonsillitis, you're in Penbritin Territory

The right-first-time antibiotic for Upper Respiratory Infections

Penbritin is right because it destroys penicillin-sensitive bacteria as effectively as penicillin V or G, and also kills other respiratory pathogens sensitive to broad-spectrum antibiotics only.

Penbritin is right because the sensitivity of respiratory pathogens is unchanged after 9 years' extensive use. In contrast, some bacteria, especially streptococci, now show a much reduced sensitivity to tetracyclines.

Penbritin retains the safety of penicillin which makes it an ideal treatment for children's infections and other situations where safety is a prime consideration. This is an advantage not shared by any other broad-spectrum antibiotic.

Two syrups, capsules and tablets enable you to prescribe Penbritin in the right form for each patient. Twenty papers involving 400 patients and showing an overall success rate of 95% confirm Penbritin as the right-first-time antibiotic in upper respiratory infections.

Dosage: Adults and children over 10 yrs. 250 mg q.i.d. a.c.
Children under 10 yrs. 125 mg q.i.d. a.c.

Contra-indication: Penicillin allergy.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Gastric ulcers—endoscopic photograph

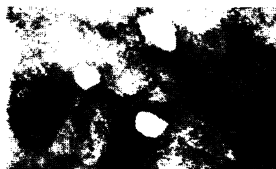

Gefarnil brings the ulcer problem down to size.

Traditional treatment in suspected or confirmed peptic ulcer cases is mostly symptomatic – geared simply to relief of pain.

Now there is Gefarnil – the unique healing agent. Its anti-ulcer properties have already been well established in animal experiments and clinical trials^{1,2,3}.

Its systemic action means that Gefarnil can reach ulcer sites in both stomach and duodenum, and while many other agents act by surface contact, merely providing an environment for healing, Gefarnil takes effect through its blood-tissue level, independent of conditions in the gut lumen.

The expected sequence of events with Gefarnil is as follows:

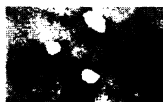

- 15 days—remission of symptoms (usual antacid/antispasmodic treatment advisable during this period)
- 30 days—ulcers no longer detectable radiographically (but may still be evident endoscopically)
- 60 days—ulcers no longer detectable endoscopically.

Only minor transient side effects occur with Gefarnil, which can thus be used with confidence not only in confirmed but also in suspected ulcer patients.

Gefarnil* is presented as capsules, each containing 50 mg. Gefarnate, and as injection solution, 50 mg. per ml.

Experience has shown that Brufen is extremely well tolerated by the majority of arthritic patients, including many who have suffered from persistent gastric disturbance with other antirheumatic drugs. Patients with pre-existing peptic ulceration have received Brufen therapy without exacerbation of gastric symptoms.[†]

In the treatment of arthritis, Brufen provides the relief of pain and stiffness essential to achieve a progressive improvement in joint flexion and functional capacity. SERVICES

What's in the RAF for a young doctor?

Interesting out-of-the-rut medicine

The typical R.A.F. station doctor is a G.P. — with probably a lot of experience in pediatrics! He also has important responsibilities in aviation medicine, public health and industrial health. He does much more preventive work than most civilian doctors are able to do. There are wide opportunities for hospital practice — 47% of R.A.F. doctors are now working in specialist departments.

The chance to travel

You could live and work abroad, in many different conditions and climates, treating not only R.A.F. personnel and their families, but local populations. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

... a fair crack of the whip for the Doctor's wife

A Doctor's wife is a Doctor's wife. She should not also have to be his telephone-answerer, appointment-maker, dispenser and general auxiliary! In the R.A.F., these things are done by professionals: the typical R.A.F. doctor, on a typical R.A.F. station, works in a fully equipped Medical Centre, which he shares with another doctor; between them they would probably have about 12 staff—secretarial as well as nursing.

£3,000 (tax free) after 5 years

In the first case, you would probably join the RAF for 5 years. If you decide to go back to civil life at the end of this time, you would take with you a tax-free honorarium; at present £3,000. (You might of course wish to stay on: you can apply after the first year.) Now for income. Suppose you are 25, and fully registered. If you were in the RAF, your income would be at least £3,395 p.a. And if you're married, the RAF would probably also provide you with a fully furnished house at a modest rent.

To find out more, please enquire at your nearest RAF Careers Information Office—address in phone book—or write to The Directorate-General of Medical Services, RAF (MA1 RAF), Ministry of Defence (724QS18), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London WC1H 9NL. Please give your age, nationality, qualifications and date of full registration with General Medical Council.

Royal Air Force

SERVICES

Travel with the Navy for three years before you go into practice.

Just because you've finished your training, it doesn't mean you have to settle down into practice or a routine hospital job.

Especially when you can spend three years, as a naval doctor, seeing something of the world and getting a lot of useful experience on the way.

You'll get plenty of variety and all the responsibility you can handle. And at sea, as the only doctor on board your ship, you will find yourself having to cope with medical emergencies of every kind.

But you're more than just a doctor. Above all you are a naval officer—with the ever-changing scene and the full, satisfying life that every naval officer enjoys.

How do you become a naval doctor?

If you are in your pre-registration year or are already a qualified practitioner, you simply apply to join for a 3-year or 5-year commission. Then, if selected, you enter the Navy as a Surgeon-Lieutenant at £3,395 p.a. You are then given a short course in the special problems of maritime practice (including nuclear and underwater medicine) after which you take up your first appointment.

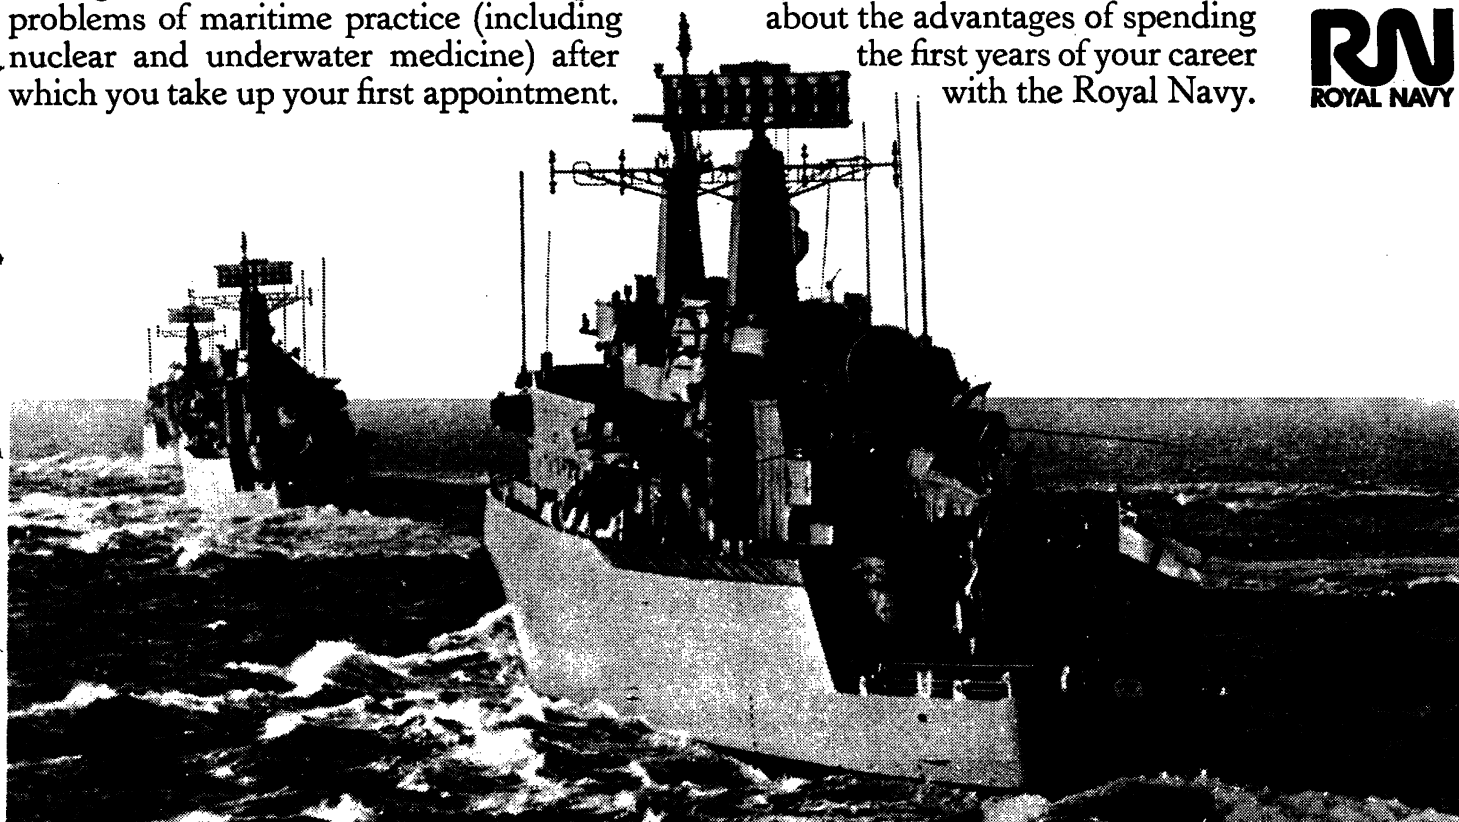

At sea, you would be looking after the health of a whole ship's company. Ashore, you may be looking after their families as well. (So we can even give you experience in obstetrics and paediatrics.)

And, at the end of your commission, you'll not only have a lot of useful experience and happy memories, but you'll also have a pretty useful tax-free gratuity. £1,500 after three years and £3,000 after five years.

Even if you're still at medical school, it's not too early to join us. Every year, we award about twenty-five Medical Cadetships to selected 2nd M.B. students. Each award pays for tuition fees and gives a salary of £1,697 a year in the rank of Surgeon Sub-Lieutenant. When you're registered, you're promoted to Surgeon Lieutenant and you begin your five-year commission.

Write now to Surgeon-Commander F. M. Kinsman, R.N., (724AY5), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London, S.W.6, and tell him your age and qualifications. In return he'll tell you more about the advantages of spending the first years of your career with the Royal Navy.

Betnovate is better. So is he.

Eczema patients respond better to Betnovate than to other topical steroids. Two clinical trials, involving 916 patients and comparing Betnovate with five other leading topical steroids, proved this conclusively.

Their findings included:

"... whenever preferences were expressed, there were always more for betamethasone 17-valerate than for the other corticosteroids."¹

"Betamethasone 17-valerate was statistically superior to the other topical corticosteroids in fourteen of the twenty separate subdivisions of the trial; in no instance was it inferior."¹

"A better response is more likely with betamethasone 17-valerate than with any of the other corticosteroids tested."¹

"... response in psoriasis is a more stringent test of the efficacy of a corticosteroid than response in eczema. The superiority of betamethasone 17-valerate in this context is noteworthy."²

When you add the broad-spectrum antibiotic neomycin to the most effective steroid you can prescribe, the result is Betnovate-N. In infected eczema it gives rapid relief from itching and inflammation and thus achieves the best response. The one thing to remember is Betnovate. Add an N to fight the infection.
