As an RAMC Doctor your practice is global.

A good way to gain experience as a Doctor is to serve as an Officer in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

You could be called upon to practise in a wide variety of conditions, both at home and abroad.

Because, for some of the time, in the RAMC you're likely to see something of the world: in Germany, Cyprus, or maybe on exercises in countries from Canada to the Far East.

You can join for 3 or 5 years. And in that time you'll not only travel, you'll also gain valuable medical experience.

You'll hold the rank of Captain. And at say 24 years of age you earn around £3668 gross p.a. On top of that, there are all sorts of allowances.

Your surgery is well equipped by the Army. And you won't just be dealing with soldiers. There are wives and children to care for, too.

What's more, you get 6 weeks' paid leave every year.

At any time during your service, you can apply to stay on for a Regular Commission. And have the opportunity of specialising. In fact, around 70% of all Regular Officers do take up post-graduate studies.

Alternatively, you can leave at the end of your Short Service Commission. All the better for the experience and for a tax-free gratuity. You get £1500 after 3 years. £3000 after 5.

So think about it. And before you decide on anything, find out more about the RAMC.

Clinical experience with chemotherapeutic agents*

Studies of 6,500 cases treated with cephalexin

A further 5,000 patients had been treated with cephalexin and reported in the world literature since a review of more than 1,500 cases was presented to the Sixth International Congress on Chemotherapy.

The infections reported were of the urinary tract (2,238); lower respiratory tract (1,235); ear, nose and throat (892); skin and soft tissue (610); genitals (959); septicaemia (28); endocarditis (4); osteo-articular infections (87); biliary tract infections (13); peritonitis (11); and intestinal infections (45). Satisfactory responses included (a) clinical and bacteriological cure and, (b) clinical cure or marked clinical improvement without full bacteriological clearance. A summary of the results obtained with infections of urinary and lower respiratory tracts, is given in the tables below:

Urinary tract infections treated with cephalexin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Cystitis, acute or simple	216	92
Cystitis, chronic or complicated	105	57
Pyelonephritis, acute or simple	222	88
Pyelonephritis, chronic or complicated	440	77
Unspecified	1,255	87

*Summary of papers presented at the VIIth International Congress of Chemotherapy, Prague, August 1971.

Lower respiratory infections treated with cephalexin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Pneumonia/bronchopneumonia	345	91
Bronchitis, acute	134	94
Chronic bronchitis/bronchiectasis	326	87
Lung abscess/empyema	32	81
Unspecified	416	87

The presenters of the survey emphasised the need for the dosage to be adequate — particularly in lower respiratory infections. A statistically significant difference had been shown in favour of using 3 G to 4 G a day compared with 2 G a day for the treatment of these infections.

In most of the acute infections treated cephalexin had given excellent results. In certain chronic infections, particularly of the lung and bone, the response was not so rapid, but when treatment had been prolonged, clinical results had been very good. The adoption of higher doses, 4 G to 6 G or more daily, had widened the scope of cephalexin in the field of severe infections such as septicaemia and endocarditis. The results so far obtained with such infections had been encouraging although the number of cases treated was relatively small.

Even when cephalexin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment. Changes in haematological and biological parameters had been infrequent. There had been no evidence of nephrotoxicity. Cephalexin had been used successfully and safely in patients with impaired renal function, although accumulation of the antibiotic might occur in such patients unless dosage were decreased according to the creatinine clearance.

94% success rate with cephalexin in acute bronchitis

New clinical evidence* shows that cephalexin has achieved a 94% success rate in acute bronchitis. 87% clinical success rate was also noted in chronic bronchitis and bronchiectasis. The total number of bronchitic patients treated with cephalexin was 460.

These excellent results in bronchitis were achieved with a remarkably low incidence of side effects such as diarrhoea and sensitivity rashes. And it was noted that "No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalexin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity."

Cephalexin in lower respiratory infections

Research workers from Royal Northern Hospital, London, expressed the opinion, on the basis of trials they described, that cephalexin was a suitable antibiotic for lower respiratory infections requiring treatment in hospital, and for urinary infections. For the respiratory infections, daily dosages of 3 G or 4 G produced a significantly quicker response as shown by X-ray, than 2 G — without increased incidence of side effects.

Nineteen men and 16 women (aged 21 to 85 years) with chronic urinary tract infection were treated with cephalexin 500 mg six hourly for 10 days. Twenty-eight of these had abnormal excretion pyelograms. Sixty-one per cent of Escherichia coli infections; 80 per cent of Proteus mirabilis infections, and both cases of Klebsiella aerogenes infection were cleared at 10 days. Overall eradication of pathogenic organisms was obtained in 68 per cent of the cases. The relapse rate after 14 days was 23 per cent.

Fifty in-patients with lower respiratory infections were given orally 2 G cephalexin per day (group A); a further 60 in-patients were given a dosage of 3 G or 4 G daily (group B). The groups received treatment for seven to ten days, they were matched for age.

Eighty of the patients had bronchopneumonia, 58 with chronic airways obstruction. Nine patients had lobar pneumonia, and 15 chronic bronchitis with airways obstruction, in whom the superimposed infection was the primary reason for hospital admission. All received physiotherapy, and 21 with airways obstruction were given a bronchodilator. Every patient with pneumonia was treated for 10 days. Forty-nine per cent of the pneumonia patients in group A showed complete resolution of radiological signs on day seven, compared with 72 per cent of those in group B — a significant difference. On the tenth day, however, no significant difference in radiological signs was detectable between the two groups. Clinical cure (clear X-ray, sterile sputum, no fever, no leucocytosis) at 10 days was obtained in 68 per cent of the patients in group A and in 81.5 per cent in group B, the difference not being significant. Bacteriological eradication was obtained in 73 per cent of group A and 91 per cent of group B patients, the difference being significant.

No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalexin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity. The antibiotic was discontinued in five patients; in one for diarrhoea and four for vomiting, but in two cases the drug was not wholly to blame since vomiting continued after its withdrawal. Generally cephalexin was well tolerated.

For your detailed reading
Ceporex cephalexin

Contra-indication

Ceporex is contra-indicated in persons who have shown hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

Precautions

In patients treated with Ceporex, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions, or with 'Clinitest' tablets, but not with enzyme-based tests such as 'Clinistix'.

Ceporex is usually tolerated well by patients allergic to penicillin, but cross-reaction can occur occasionally.

As with other antibiotics, Ceporex should be administered with caution in patients with a history of allergy, especially to drugs. When renal function is markedly reduced, Ceporex will accumulate in the serum and tissues unless dosage is suitably reduced.

Laboratory experiments with animals and clinical experience show no evidence of teratogenicity, but as with all drugs, caution is needed during pregnancy.

Adverse reactions

A small proportion of patients receiving Ceporex may experience gastrointestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection (sometimes monilial) can occur, and may present as vulvo-vaginitis.

Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare. Generalised drug rashes — urticarial or maculopapular — are uncommon.

Administration and dosage

Ceporex is administered orally. Treatment should continue for at least two days after the temperature has returned to normal and symptoms have subsided. However, in chronic, recurrent or complicated upper urinary tract infections a course of at least two weeks' duration may be necessary.

When renal function is considerably impaired, the dosage should be reduced. If the creatinine clearance is 20 to 50 ml/minute, the adult dosage of Ceporex should not exceed 3 grams/day; if between 5 and 20 ml/minute, not more than 1.5 grams daily; if the clearance is below 5 ml/minute, dosage should not exceed 500 mg/day.

Patients receiving intermittent dialysis should be given an additional 500 mg of Ceporex after each dialysis, i.e., a total dosage of up to 1 gram on that day.

New facts about oral Ceporex confirm very low incidence of side effects

New clinical data on cephalexin confirms the extremely low incidence of side effects accompanying the high clinical success rate.

"Even when cephalexin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment."*

It all adds up to the simple fact that in acute bronchitis, you can trust Ceporex to reduce the risks and improve the results.

One of the most rapidly growing specialties over the last few years has been that of urology. Many doctors now in practice could not have been taught much of the present-day management of many urinary tract diseases. The efficacy of Codis in the treatment of pain was investigated in 32 hospitalised patients with painful carcinomatous lesions*. Assessment was made both by the patient and by an independent observer in a comparative double-blind crossover trial versus pentazocine. Both drugs were formulated as rapidly dispersing tablets. When the code was broken at the end of the trial, it was found that the average pain relief achieved with Codis was 72% over the period of the test compared to 25% with pentazocine.

From checks at hourly intervals, only 2 patients found less than 50% relief at some time whilst on Codis, but 12 patients found less than 50% relief with pentazocine.

The case for treating chronic urinary tract infection with

new Hiprex

Hiprex can eliminate urinary infection in eight out of ten patients

Hiprex is effective against the organisms which most commonly cause urinary tract infection. Success rates of more than 80 per cent have been reported in clinical trials.

Hiprex can end the frustration of treatment failure

Unlike other agents, notably antibiotics, sulphonamides and nalidixic acid, Hiprex is unlikely to produce bacterial resistance – a major cause of treatment failure. Hiprex has proved effective even when other treatment has failed.

Hiprex is especially suitable when long-term treatment is indicated

Hiprex does not lose its effect during prolonged use and for this reason is of particular value in persistent and recurrent urinary infections. Minor side-effects have been reported in fewer than four per cent of patients, and no serious adverse reactions have been reported. Treatment costs are kept low – as little as 4p a day.

Hiprex improves the prospects of co-operation in long-term use

Published reports stress that Hiprex can overcome the major difficulty of ensuring uninterrupted therapy. All but refractory cases respond to a simple twice-daily dosage, normally without need for special measures to acidify the urine.

Composition Each tablet contains hexamine hippurate 1 g. Indications The treatment of urinary tract infections, such as pyelitis, cystitis and urethritis, but excluding acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of chronic pyelonephritis, and as maintenance therapy after successful antibiotic treatment of acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of asymptomatic bacteriuria, including that occurring during pregnancy. Prophylaxis before and after urological surgery. Dosage Adults: 1 tablet twice daily. Children: 6-12 years:  $\frac{1}{2}$  tablet twice daily. In refractory cases, the dosage may be increased to: 1 tablet three or four times daily in adults.  $\frac{1}{2}$  tablet three or four times daily in children aged 6-12 years. Doses in excess of those recommended may cause severe bladder irritation, haematuria, albuminuria or painful micturition. Alkalinuria Some patients may have an alkaline urine as a result of a predominantly vegetarian diet or occasionally due to Proteus or Pseudomonas infection. In these cases, additional acidification may be necessary to lower the urinary pH to the level required to degrade the hexamine moiety. Administration of ascorbic acid 1 g. four times daily is recommended in these cases. Side-effects Occasionally, rashes, gastric irritation, or irritation of the bladder may occur. With prolonged administration at high dosage, the latter may lead to haematuria. All side-effects are reversible on withdrawal of the drug. Treatment of side-effects Patients experiencing painful micturition or bladder irritation should be instructed to discontinue the medication. Prompt relief of these symptoms can be obtained by the consumption of copious quantities of water and 2-3 teaspoonfuls of bicarbonate of soda. Contra-indications Renal insufficiency, hepatic insufficiency or severe dehydration. Hiprex is also contra-indicated as the principal therapeutic agent in acute parenchymal infections of the kidney. Basic N.H.S. prices 100 tablets £2.00 plus Purchase Tax. Hiprex: registered trade mark. # Hand signals which can't be ignored

"Patients stated that their ischaemic digits had been much less painful while taking tetranicotinoylfructose (Bradilan)..."*

"During the past 10 years we have tried in a group of about 100 patients with impaired digital circulation most, if not all, oral adrenergic blocking agents with unsatisfactory clinical results. During the past 3 years we obtained more encouraging subjective and objective findings with oral tetranicotinoylfructose (Bradilan)..."*

In this double-blind controlled trial* the patients had already taken most available oral vasodilators and were sceptical about further treatment. The authors, however, reported that most patients were delighted with Bradilan's beneficial effect. Bradilan® employs the molecule of tetranicotinoylfructose which is gradually hydrolysed in the intestine—the consequent slow, even release ensures prolonged effective vasodilation—with side reactions at a minimum.

A lifetime of freedom begins with Intal

Before INTAL, a diagnosis of asthma often meant a life sentence of constantly aborting attacks with bronchodilators, anti-histamines or steroids. Patients were constantly at risk from the relentless progress of lung damage and lived in perpetual fear of an asthmatic episode.

The discovery of INTAL (Sodium Cromoglycate BP) represents a turning point in the management of this distressing complaint. Newly diagnosed patients, as well as those of long standing, benefit from this entirely new approach to therapy. INTAL actually prevents the onset of asthmatic attacks, and is notably free from serious side effects.

By preventing asthma attacks the possibility of consequent lung damage may be avoided enabling the patients to lead a fuller, happier life. If they remember their daily INTAL—they can forget their asthma.

INTAL—supplied in SPINCAPS® (each containing 20 mg Sodium Cromoglycate BP). For use in a special insufflator—SPINHALER®.

Dysmenorrhoea takes the others away. For some women, acute dysmenorrhoea makes the monthly period a monthly sentence of misery, a few days lost from their normal lives. These are the women most likely to seek your help when simple analgesics fail. Duphaston can prevent their monthly misery. It is the only orally active non-contraceptive progestogen which protects the woman against the pain and distress of dysmenorrhoea. Duphaston is free from oestrogenic effect; it does not suppress ovulation or have any adverse hormonal effect, and it is extremely well tolerated. Clotting mechanism, hepatic function and basal temperature are unaffected.

Now you can sleep easy

Against a background of increasing concern about the danger of barbiturate poisoning (as few as 20 or 30 tablets may prove fatal), the advent of Mogadon must be of considerable importance. Indeed, Mogadon ".....appears to be as nearly as safe as a drug can be."<sup>2</sup> Even as many as 80 tablets have produced no untoward effects. Moreover, a recent trial in the B.M.J. showed Mogadon comparable in effect to butobarbitone.<sup>3</sup> When such a drug exists, should you risk using anything else?

The Peugeot 504.

Remove the French chic, the sheer panache, and you're left with one of the world's best-built saloons.

It costs from £1624.

Since we introduced the 504 into the UK 12 months ago, it has captured the imagination of press and public alike.

A cynic might put this down to the sheer panache that is a hallmark of all Peugeots.

But Britain's most respected journalists can't be wrong. And they've come up with some of the reasons why the 504 is called "La Mercedes Francaise" in its native land.

For a start, they reckon it's one of the smoothest and most stable cars in the world. As The Times put it, "we know of only one car that matches its suspension refinement - the Jaguar XJ6". Praise indeed.

There's the tremendous care that goes into sound deadening. It puts the 504 in the Rolls class (Motor Sport Sept. 1970).

The extra thick, rust-proofed steel (with stainless steel instead of chrome) that goes into all Peugeots.

And the all-round independent suspension with servo-assisted 4-wheel discs.

In fuel injection form, the cross-flow-head 1971 cc engine rushes the 504 to 60 in 11.2 seconds and then on to nearly 110. And the carburettor version is good for 100.

The 100 mph driver needs a 100 mph seat. We give him one. And both front seats have built-in adjustable headrests. Apart from reclining far enough to make a double bed.

And we supply seat belts as standard equipment.

Through-flow ventilation keeps you cool inside. While a heated rear window helps you see when it's cold and misty outside.

But ultimately, facts and figures don't do the 504 justice. This car must be lived with to be fully appreciated.

Take the ride. Utterly smooth, but always very much in contact with the road. A car to be hustled through corners when you're in the mood.

The feel of the car. Hard to describe in words. But after a few miles, you'll realise just how special the 504 is.

And last, but not least, the looks.

While other makers indulge in a merry-go-round of American styling clichés, we opt for the simple classicism of Pininfarina.

And we only change the shape about once a decade.

Which, when you remember that Peugeot owners like to hang on to their cars, is pretty sensible.

Freedom from asthmatic attack throughout the winter

In the past, antibiotics have cleared the infective component of her bronchitis. But her already damaged lungs have had to rely on ever increasing intakes of bronchodilators to obtain relief from asthmatic symptoms.

Now that INTAL CO is prescribed routinely along with her antibiotic, she is protected from the allergic undertones which may often accompany infection. Because asthmatic attacks are thwarted before they start, there may also be a reduction in the number of infective episodes. The possibility of consequent lung damage may also be avoided and winter becomes less of a hazard. Daily INTAL CO will help her enjoy life to the full for the rest of her days. It's quite a prescription.

INTAL COMPOUND® supplied in SPINCAPS™ (each containing 20 mg Sodium Cromoglycate BP, and 0.1 mg Isoprenaline Sulphate BP in powder form, together with an inert carrier). For use in a special insufflator—SPINHALER.®

Additional information is available from:
FISONS LIMITED—PHARMACEUTICAL DIVISION
Loughborough, Leicestershire.

In infected eczema, it's the eczema you worry about.

And no combination of anti-infectives will stop the scratching that starts the infection that results in infected eczema.

But Betnovate-N will.

And it will do it quicker than other preparations designed to combat infected eczema, because it contains betamethasone as 17-valerate, a more effective steroid.

Betnovate-N also contains neomycin so it stops the infection at the same time.

All at a price others can't match.
