Clinical experience with chemotherapeutic agents*

Studies of 6,500 cases treated with cephalexin

A further 5,000 patients had been treated with cephalexin and reported in the world literature since a review of more than 1,500 cases was presented to the Sixth International Congress on Chemotherapy.

The infections reported were of the urinary tract (2,238); lower respiratory tract (1,235); ear, nose and throat (892); skin and soft tissue (610); genitals (959); septicaemia (28); endocarditis (4); osteo-articular infections (87); biliary tract infections (13); peritonitis (11); and intestinal infections (45). Satisfactory responses included (a) clinical and bacteriological cure and, (b) clinical cure or marked clinical improvement without full bacteriological clearance. A summary of the results obtained with infections of urinary and lower respiratory tracts, is given in the tables below:

Urinary tract infections treated with cephalexin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Cystitis, acute or simple	216	92
Cystitis, chronic or complicated	105	57
Pyelonephritis, acute or simple	222	88
Pyelonephritis, chronic or complicated	440	77
Unspecified	1,255	87

*Summary of papers presented at the VIIth International Congress of Chemotherapy, Prague, August 1971.

Lower respiratory infections treated with cephalexin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Pneumonia/bronchopneumonia	345	91
Bronchitis, acute	134	94
Chronic bronchitis/bronchiectasis	326	87
Lung abscess/empyema	32	81
Unspecified	416	87

The presenters of the survey emphasised the need for the dosage to be adequate — particularly in lower respiratory infections. A statistically significant difference had been shown in favour of using 3 G to 4 G a day compared with 2 G a day for the treatment of these infections.

In most of the acute infections treated cephalexin had given excellent results. In certain chronic infections, particularly of the lung and bone, the response was not so rapid, but when treatment had been prolonged, clinical results had been very good. The adoption of higher doses, 4 G to 6 G or more daily, had widened the scope of cephalexin in the field of severe infections such as septicaemia and endocarditis. The results so far obtained with such infections had been encouraging although the number of cases treated was relatively small.

Even when cephalexin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment. Changes in haematological and biological parameters had been infrequent. There had been no evidence of nephrotoxicity. Cephalexin had been used successfully and safely in patients with impaired renal function, although accumulation of the antibiotic might occur in such patients unless dosage were decreased according to the creatinine clearance.

94% success rate with cephalexin in acute bronchitis

New clinical evidence* shows that cephalexin has achieved a 94% success rate in acute bronchitis. 87% clinical success rate was also noted in chronic bronchitis and bronchiectasis. The total number of bronchitic patients treated with cephalexin was 460.

These excellent results in bronchitis were achieved with a remarkably low incidence of side effects such as diarrhoea and sensitivity rashes. And it was noted that "No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalexin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity."

Ceporex is available as 500mg tablets, capsules and syrup.

Cephalexin in lower respiratory infections

Research workers from Royal Northern Hospital, London, expressed the opinion, on the basis of trials they described, that cephalexin was a suitable antibiotic for lower respiratory infections requiring treatment in hospital, and for urinary infections. For the respiratory infections, daily dosages of 3 G or 4 G produced a significantly quicker response as shown by X-ray, than 2 G — without increased incidence of side effects.

Nineteen men and 16 women (aged 21 to 85 years) with chronic urinary tract infection were treated with cephalexin 500 mg six hourly for 10 days. Twenty-eight of these had abnormal excretion pyelograms. Sixty-one per cent of Escherichia coli infections; 80 per cent of Proteus mirabilis infections, and both cases of Klebsiella aerogenes infection were cleared at 10 days. Overall eradication of pathogenic organisms was obtained in 68 per cent of the cases. The relapse rate after 14 days was 23 per cent.

Fifty in-patients with lower respiratory infections were given orally 2 G cephalexin per day (group A); a further 60 in-patients were given a dosage of 3 G or 4 G daily (group B). The groups received treatment for seven to ten days, they were matched for age.

Eighty of the patients had bronchopneumonia, 58 with chronic airways obstruction. Nine patients had lobar pneumonia, and 15 chronic bronchitis with airways obstruction, in whom the superimposed infection was the primary reason for hospital admission. All received physiotherapy, and 21 with airways obstruction were given a bronchodilator. Every patient with pneumonia was treated for 10 days. Forty-nine per cent of the pneumonia patients in group A showed complete resolution of radiological signs on day seven, compared with 72 per cent of those in group B — a significant difference. On the tenth day, however, no significant difference in radiological signs was detectable between the two groups. Clinical cure (clear X-ray, sterile sputum, no fever, no leucocytosis) at 10 days was obtained in 68 per cent of the patients in group A and in 81.5 per cent in group B, the difference not being significant. Bacteriological eradication was obtained in 73 per cent of group A and 91 per cent of group B patients, the difference being significant.

No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalexin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity. The antibiotic was discontinued in five patients; in one for diarrhoea and four for vomiting, but in two cases the drug was not wholly to blame since vomiting continued after its withdrawal. Generally cephalexin was well tolerated.

For your detailed reading
Ceporex cephalexin

Contra-indication
Ceporex is contra-indicated in persons who have shown hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

Precautions

In patients treated with Ceporex, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions, or with 'Clinitest' tablets, but not with enzyme-based tests such as 'Clinistix'.

Ceporex is usually tolerated well by patients allergic to penicillin, but cross-reaction can occur occasionally.

As with other antibiotics, Ceporex should be administered with caution in patients with a history of allergy, especially to drugs. When renal function is markedly reduced, Ceporex will accumulate in the serum and tissues unless dosage is suitably reduced.

Laboratory experiments with animals and clinical experience show no evidence of teratogenicity, but as with all drugs, caution is needed during pregnancy.

Adverse reactions

A small proportion of patients receiving Ceporex may experience gastrointestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection (sometimes monilial) can occur, and may present as vulvo-vaginitis. Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare.

Generalised drug rashes — urticarial or maculopapular — are uncommon.

Administration and dosage

Ceporex is administered orally. Treatment should continue for at least two days after the temperature has returned to normal and symptoms have subsided. However, in chronic, recurrent or complicated upper urinary tract infections a course of at least two weeks' duration may be necessary.

When renal function is considerably impaired, the dosage should be reduced. If the creatinine clearance is 20 to 50 ml/minute, the adult dosage of Ceporex should not exceed 3 grams/day; if between 5 and 20 ml/minute, not more than 1.5 grams daily; if the clearance is below 5 ml/minute, dosage should not exceed 500 mg/day.

Patients receiving intermittent dialysis should be given an additional 500 mg of Ceporex after each dialysis, i.e., a total dosage of up to 1 gram on that day.

New facts about oral Ceporex confirm very low incidence of side effects

New clinical data on cephalexin confirms the extremely low incidence of side effects accompanying the high clinical success rate.

"Even when cephalexin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment."*

It all adds up to the simple fact that in acute bronchitis, you can trust Ceporex to reduce the risks and improve the results.

What important developments are there in General Practice? Does the General Practice Team work successfully? What is the Family Doctor's future role in the Hospital Service? These and other questions are answered in The New General Practice 2 which, published two years after the first volume in this series, also deals with topics such as the use of computers, plans for the new towns, and Scandinavian developments in general practice. This second volume contains 27 articles published in the B.M.J. in the last two years. The introduction has been written by Professor J. D. E. Knox, Professor of General Practice at Dundee University.

Diseases of the Joints

Arthritis and rheumatism are common complaints, even if patients are often vague about the exact meaning of the terms they use. In the last few years the diagnosis of joint disorders has become more exact, while the introduction of local and systemic steroid therapy and the powerful non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs has revolutionized treatment. In an attempt to bring doctors up to date in this field, the B.M.J. published in 1969 a series of short articles giving practical advice on the common disorders of the joints. The articles have now been revised by their authors and collected together to form this handbook on the management of arthritis.

As an RAMC Doctor your practice is global.

A good way to gain experience as a Doctor is to serve as an Officer in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

You could be called upon to practise in a wide variety of conditions, both at home and abroad.

Because, for some of the time in the RAMC you're likely to see something of the world: in Germany, Cyprus, or maybe on exercises in countries from Canada to the Far East.

You can join for 3 or 5 years. And in that time you'll not only travel, you'll also gain valuable medical experience.

You'll hold the rank of Captain. And at say 24 years of age you earn around £3668 gross p.a. On top of that, there are all sorts of allowances.

Your surgery is well equipped by the Army. And you won't just be dealing with soldiers. There are wives and children to care for, too.

What's more, you get 6 weeks' paid leave every year.

At any time during your service, you can apply to stay on for a Regular Commission. And have the opportunity of specialising. In fact, around 70% of all Regular Officers do take up post-graduate studies.

Alternatively, you can leave at the end of your Short Service Commission. All the better for the experience and for a tax-free gratuity. You get £1500 after 3 years. £3000 after 5.

So think about it. And before you decide on anything, find out more about the RAMC.

Freedom from asthmatic attack throughout the winter

In the past, antibiotics have cleared the infective component of his bronchitis. But his already damaged lungs have had to rely on ever increasing intakes of bronchodilators to obtain relief from asthmatic symptoms.

Now that INTAL CO is prescribed routinely along with his antibiotic, he is protected from the allergic undertones which may often accompany infection. Because asthmatic attacks are thwarted before they start, there may also be a reduction in the number of infective episodes. The possibility of consequent lung damage may also be avoided and winter becomes less of a hazard. Daily INTAL CO will help him enjoy life to the full for the rest of his days. It's quite a prescription.

When a child has a chest infection Ceporex Syrup reduces the risks and improves the results

Chest infections treated with ampicillin can result in rashes or diarrhoea – risks that are particularly to be avoided when the patient is a child. Penicillin-hypersensitivity and resistant staphylococci are other problems which can complicate treatment.

Ceporex (cephalexin) is ideally suited for the treatment of chest infections. It is as effective as the penicillins against the pathogens responsible for the majority of common respiratory conditions, but produces a low incidence of side effects. In addition, Ceporex is effective against penicillin-resistant staphylococci and can normally be used safely in patients hypersensitive to the penicillins.

It is well tolerated by children of all ages, including neonates. And Ceporex achieves a rapid result since it produces high blood levels within an hour of administration, penetrates the tissues quickly and is not metabolised in the body so it remains fully active to fight infection.

Ceporex Syrup has a pleasant blackcurrant flavour which encourages children to finish the course.

Children get on well with Ceporex Syrup

Ceporex safety

"Considering its efficacy and the relative freedom from side effects, we conclude that it is as good a drug as penicillin G and certainly is a valuable addition to the therapeutic armamentarium of beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections in children."<sup>1</sup> (89 children with beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections.)

"The response to therapy was uniformly good, and no significant toxic effects were encountered."<sup>2</sup>

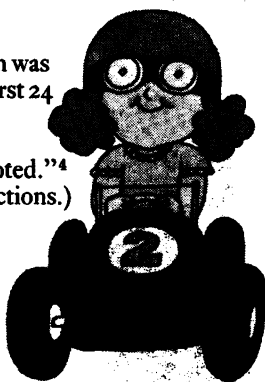

"Cephalexin appears to be a highly effective drug in the treatment of bacterial pneumonias of older infants and children who are able to take oral medication. The drug has the added advantage of low toxicity."<sup>3</sup>
(55 children with bacterial pneumonia.)

Ceporex speed

"The clinical response to cephalexin was prompt. Fever subsided within the first 24 hours after initiating therapy."<sup>3</sup> (30 children with pneumonia.)

"A rapid therapeutic response was noted."<sup>4</sup>
(185 children with streptococcal infections.)

"... due to its reliability and its exceptionally good absorption in infants - which may be delayed to a certain degree in neonates - cephalexin may be recommended as the oral medication of choice against sensitive organisms in newborns."<sup>5</sup>

Less side effects with Ceporex

"No side effects from cephalexin were noted. The medication was accepted without difficulty. There was no nausea, vomiting or diarrhoea, and no rashes were observed."<sup>3</sup>

Indications Acute and chronic anxiety states and psychosomatic conditions whether or not accompanied by depressive overlay; tension, apprehension, agitation and sleep disturbances. Dosage The usual adult dose is one 10mg capsule three times daily, with a further capsule at bedtime if required. In certain cases up to 60mg daily may be needed. Where MAO inhibitors have been used, 2-3 weeks should elapse before Integrin is started. Safety Margins No substantiated reports of toxicity have been received, even where patients have taken up to the equivalent of 56 capsules in 24 hours. Neither dependence nor withdrawal symptoms have been reported. Presentation Containers of 100 capsules. Each grey/green capsule contains 10mg oxypertine. Basic NHS Cost One week's treatment (1 capsule 10mg t.d.s.) is 36p. Integrin is a registered trade mark. Treatment with Paroven significantly altered the  $PO_2$ , oxygen saturation, and the oxygen content of varicose vein blood and the oxygen extraction in tissues of varicose vein legs towards normal values. The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow.

"The most obvious effect of treatment with H<sub>2</sub>R (Paroven) is the very constant relief of night cramps, with an improvement exceeding 90 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile".

Hay fever immunity

Bencard and allergy in general practice.

The Problem Most hay fever sufferers respond in some degree to symptomatic treatment. However, in every practice there are chronic sufferers who do not respond and whose social and business lives can be seriously affected during the grass pollen season.

All these cases exhibit the Type 1 Immediate Allergic Response.

The Treatment The only fundamental treatment for hay fever is Immunisation: no other vaccine gives such broad-based protection as Alavac-P.

- ☐ Alavac-P contains extracts of the twelve grass pollens known to cause over 80% of hay fever in Great Britain.
- ☐ No skin tests are needed. Prescription can be from case history alone.
- ☐ A short course of only 8 or 9 injections gives a high degree of protection throughout the grass pollen season.
- ☐ Alavac-P developed by Bencard, leaders in allergy research.

Hand signals which can't be ignored

"Patients stated that their ischaemic digits had been much less painful while taking tetranicotinoylfructose (Bradilan) . . ."

"During the past 10 years we have tried in a group of about 100 patients with impaired digital circulation most, if not all, oral adrenergic blocking agents with unsatisfactory clinical results. During the past 3 years we obtained more encouraging subjective and objective findings with oral tetranicotinoylfructose (Bradilan) . . ."

In this double-blind controlled trial* the patients had already taken most available oral vasodilators and were sceptical about further treatment. The authors, however, reported that most patients were delighted with Bradilan's beneficial effect. Bradilan® employs the molecule of tetranicotinoylfructose which is gradually hydrolysed in the intestine—the consequent slow, even release ensures prolonged effective vasodilation—with side reactions at a minimum.

They won't when it is accompanied by the nitrofurantoin in CEDURAN tablets. Deglycyrrhizinated liquorice is included in CEDURAN tablets to effectively combat the gastric side-effects, so often a cause of unsuccessful treatment with nitrofurantoin. In 82 patients* in whom treatment had to be abandoned because of side-effects. There was an almost complete absence of untoward reactions from CEDURAN. # One word from you could save your patients money on prescriptions.

Please tell them about prescription 'season tickets'.

As you know, patients who have to pay prescription charges frequently can save money by purchasing a pre-payment certificate. But not all patients who could take advantage of this scheme are doing so.

So it would help if you could remind them about pre-payment certificates. A six-month certificate costs £2 and saves money if more than 10 items are needed on prescription during that period. A certificate giving 12 months cover represents even better value at £3.50, if over 17 items will be required in that time.

Form EC95 (in N. Ireland, form HS154) gives full details and includes an application form. Your patients can get it from any post office, social security office or NHS Executive Council office.

Our 1972 Saloon Range:

3 good reasons why our British sales have trebled in the past year.

THE 2 LITRE 504 SALOON (left)

One of the smoothest and most stable cars in the world. As The Times put it, "We know of only one car that matches its suspension refinement – the Jaguar XJ6." Praise indeed.

Tremendous care goes into sound deadening. It puts the 504 in the Rolls class (Motor Sport Sept. 1970).

It has the extra thick, rust-proofed steel (with stainless steel instead of chrome) that goes into all Peugeots.

And all-round independent suspension with servo-assisted 4-wheel discs.

With fuel injection, the cross flow head 1971 c.c. engine rushes the 504 up to 60 in 11.2 seconds and then on to nearly 110.

While the carburettor engine is good for 100.

Both front seats have built-in adjustable headrests. And recline far enough to make a double bed.

We supply seat belts as standard equipment. And through-flow ventilation keeps you cool inside. While a heated rear window deals with the cold outside.

And last, but not least, the 504 looks as well as it's made. While other makers indulge in a merry-go-round of American styling clichés, we opt for the simple classicism of Pininfarina.

And we only change the shape about once in a decade. Which, when you remember that Peugeot owners like to hang onto their cars, is pretty sensible.

Peugeot 504 saloon from £1,624.

THE 1300 cc 304 SALOON (right)

This is widely regarded as one of the best small saloons in the world.

A 1300 c.c., O.H.C. all aluminium engine, driving through the front wheels for ultimate roadholding, takes the 304 up to 93 mph, with 80 plus cruising and acceleration ahead of many 1500's.

All-round-independent suspension, rack and pinion steering and servo-assisted brakes let you make full use of the performance.

And the refined interior allows you to enjoy it. In the front you'll find fully reclining seats. And seat belts as standard equipment.

A versatile heating and fresh air system with multi-power fan and face-level fresh air ducts keeps you awake as the miles slip by.

There's a dipping mirror; a clock; a cigarette lighter; an anti-thief lock; an exterior mirror. All standard.

The rear seat is more comfortable than most front seats. And the boot engulfs a vast amount of baggage.

While the rear window is electrically heated to keep it demisted and defrosted.

Unlike some so-called luxury cars, the 304 isn't just a tarted-up tin box.

Which is why it costs £1,188.

THE 1130 cc 204 SALOON (centre)

Don't be fooled by the size of the engine. A high efficiency, all aluminium O.H.C. unit, it works up an impressive 50 b.h.p. (S.A.E.). Enough to take the 204 to a willing 87 mph with 75 mph cruising. And like the 304 it drives through the front wheels for ultimate road holding.

The 204 is one of the very few small saloons to come with a heated rear window and fully reclining front seats as standard equipment. Other built-in extras as standard equipment include anti-thief lock; dipping mirror; electric clock; safety belts and an outstandingly versatile and effective heating and air conditioning system.

The 204 has a deceptively large boot, uncluttered by the spare wheel. We keep this housed under the rear end of the car, in a special mounting.

In fact from bumper to bumper you'll find that the 204 saloon offers you all the built-in refinement and long lasting quality of the larger Peugeot saloons.

At a slightly lower cost.

In treating angina, what do you want: safety or effectiveness?

or both?

Which $\beta$ -blocker?

TRASICOR is outstandingly effective in preventing anginal attacks.<sup>1</sup>

Its advantages over propranolol include:

- less risk of heart failure<sup>2</sup>
- less risk of bronchospasm in asthmatics<sup>3</sup>

The safety advantages of TRASICOR over propranolol are shared by practolol but practolol's relative efficacy in angina does not appear to be comparable.<sup>4, 5, 6</sup>

Only TRASICOR combines maximum efficacy with safety advantages. Whenever angina is sufficiently severe to warrant the use of a  $\beta$ -blocker the logical first choice is now TRASICOR.

Betnovate is better. So is she.

Dermatitis: all the better for Betnovate

Dermatitis patients respond better to Betnovate than to other topical steroids. This was demonstrated in two clinical trials, involving 916 patients and comparing Betnovate with five other leading topical steroids. Their findings included:

"... whenever preferences were expressed, there were always more for betamethasone 17-valerate than for the other corticosteroids."<sup>1</sup>

"Betamethasone 17-valerate was statistically superior to the other topical corticosteroids in fourteen of the twenty separate subdivisions of the trial; in no instance was it inferior."<sup>1</sup>

"A better response is more likely with betamethasone 17-valerate than with any of the other corticosteroids tested."<sup>1</sup>

"... response in psoriasis is a more stringent test of the efficacy of a corticosteroid than response in eczema. The superiority of betamethasone 17-valerate in this context is noteworthy."<sup>2</sup>

Betnovate gives rapid relief from itching and inflammation and thus achieves the best response. In dermatitis it's the one thing to remember because Betnovate is the most effective steroid you can prescribe.

Trends in Clinical Pathology

Essays in Honour of Gordon Signy

This book is no pious collection of personal tributes but a survey of the old and the new disciplines in clinical pathology since the second world war — research in atherosclerosis and ischaemic heart disease, progress in medical virology, microbiology and cytology, the impact of antibiotics on medical bacteriology, chemical pathology and also molecular defence, haematology in mid-century, including haemostasis and blood transfusion. The place of fibrin in the story of hyalin is another modern study, so also is that on automation. The outlook on some members of the family Enterobacteriaceae is changing, and the 'old' forensic medicine is indeed new. And those pathologists working in the under-developed countries are not forgotten. The contributors are internationally renowned.

A lifetime of freedom begins with Intal

Before INTAL, a diagnosis of asthma often meant a life sentence of constantly aborting attacks with bronchodilators, anti-histamines or steroids. Patients were constantly at risk from the relentless progress of lung damage and lived in perpetual fear of an asthmatic episode.

The discovery of INTAL (Sodium Cromoglycate BP) represents a turning point in the management of this distressing complaint. Newly diagnosed patients, as well as those of long standing, benefit from this entirely new approach to therapy. INTAL actually prevents the onset of asthmatic attacks, and is notably free from serious side effects.

By preventing asthma attacks the possibility of consequent lung damage may be avoided enabling the patients to lead a fuller, happier life. If they remember their daily INTAL—they can forget their asthma.

INTAL—supplied in SPINCAPS® (each containing 20 mg Sodium Cromoglycate BP). For use in a special insufflator—SPINHALER®.

Additional information is available from:
FISONS LIMITED—PHARMACEUTICAL DIVISION
Loughborough, Leicestershire.
