for a patient with cardiac failure

MODURETIC

'Moduretic' provides a smooth and highly effective diuresis and, at the same time, helps the body to conserve its natural potassium. These features are of additional benefit when, perhaps unknown to the physician, an oedematous patient is also living on a diet which is low in potassium.

'Moduretic' offers a most acceptable alternative to the numerous and often unpalatable potassium supplements required during prolonged diuretic therapy. Oral potassium should not be given with 'Moduretic'.

By conserving the body's natural potassium, 'Moduretic' helps the patient whose symptoms of weakness and lethargy are not 'just old age', but are in fact caused by potassium depletion.

'Moduretic' should always be considered for oedematous patients who also require digitalis. The potassium-conserving effect of 'Moduretic' can play an important part in reducing the risk of digitalis intoxication.

a highly effective diuretic that entirely obviates the need for potassium supplements

'Moduretic' is available as peach-coloured, diamond-shaped tablets containing 5 mg amiloride hydrochloride and 50 mg hydrochlorothiazide. Detailed information is available to physicians on request. ® denotes registered trademark.

in Meniere's syndrome

Serc is the first drug to offer comprehensive action against all the manifestations of Meniere's syndrome. A British trial* now confirms its clinical value. Objective tests of hearing and vestibular function in 11 patients before and after treatment with Serc showed a dramatic improvement in many cases. 'There was an overall average gain in hearing over the whole group in both ears.' Studies of nystagmus suggested an improvement in vestibular function. 'Subjectively, 9 out of 11 patients claimed an improvement in the symptom of vertigo and all 11 claimed reduction in tinnitus.'

Which B - blocker?

TRASICOR is outstandingly effective in preventing anginal attacks.¹

Its advantages over propranolol include:

- less risk of heart failure2
- less risk of bronchospasm in asthmatics3

The safety advantages of TRASICOR over propranolol are shared by practolol but practolol's relative efficacy in angina does not appear to be comparable.4, 5, 6.

Only TRASICOR combines maximum efficacy with safety advantages. Whenever angina is sufficiently severe to warrant the use of trinitrin the logical first choice is now TRASICOR.

A major contribution to the rationalisation of hormonal management in Cancer

Stoll:

ENDOCRINE THERAPY IN MALIGNANT DISEASE

This book presents the personal experience of an international group of experts in the endocrine therapy of late cancer, including that of the breast, prostate, uterus and thyroid. In addition, there are sections dealing with the steroid therapy of leukaemia and lymphoma, and the endocrine aspects of cancers of the kidney, cervix and malignant melanoma. Because of very extensive world literature claiming effectiveness for multiple methods of treatment and multiple new agents, it has become increasingly difficult, even for the specialist physician, to judge the relative merits of each form of treatment.

The book considers three aspects (a) Changes in steroid biochemistry in patients with cancer, and the clinical effects of steroid therapy in the tumour-bearing host; (b) Guidelines for the timing and correct choice of therapy in hormone-sensitive cancer of different types; (c) Consideration of future trends in endocrine ablative surgery and steroid therapy in patients with hormone-sensitive tumours.

By presenting this material together with present knowledge of changes in the tumour after endocrine ablation and the effects of steroids in the tumour-bearing host, it is hoped that there will emerge a unifying concept of hormone-sensitive cancer in the human, and its rationale of treatment. This work thus provides information essential for practising surgeons, urologists, gynaecologists, endocrinologists, radiotherapists and all physicians involved in the treatment of advanced cancer.

New British double-blind study confirms the prophylactic value of

LOMODEX 70

•6...is more effective, safer, and more readily applicable than the use of oral anti-coagulant therapy for the prevention of thromboembolic complications following major pelvic surgery.

Lancet, 7751, i, 1972.

LOMODEX 70 (formerly Dextraven 70) has been shown to produce a highly significant reduction in the incidence of thrombosis when administered during surgery. The properties of LOMODEX 70 are such that, apart from its ability to maintain blood volume, it has been shown to have a significant effect on the changes of factors V, VIII & fibrinogen during the operative procedure. Thus, the routine use of LOMODEX 70 during surgery represents a real step forward in the prevention of this all too common hazard with none of the problems associated with anti-coagulant therapy.

Johnny's had more than his fair share of infections

For children such as Johnny who, every year, seem to be more often in the surgery than out of it, Keflex has a lot to offer.
Rapidly absorbed and reaching high serum levels, Keflex has a broad spectrum of antibacterial activity that even includes penicillinase-producing pathogens, and so increases the chances of first-time success in treating infective episodes.

All these properties, plus an extremely low incidence of rash and gastro-intestinal disturbance, make the pleasant-tasting Keflex suspensions a treatment which ensures that most patients like Johnny can overcome infection quickly and with the minimum of complications.

CAVED-S

Important Notice re: Duodenal Ulcers

The reason for the failure of chemotherapy in the treatment of duodenal ulcers may well be due to underdosage. The dosage that the condition and recurrent episodes may demand of antacids, anticholinergics, carbenoxolone or sedatives is such that the resultant side effects cannot be tolerated. Whereas the standard dose for gastric ulcers may not always be effective with duodenal ulcers.1

It has now been established that Caved-S tablets prescribed in doses related to the condition of duodenal ulcer patients, can result in successful long term, safe and acceptable treatment with patients who have not responded to many other forms of therapy.

A metabolic study² and more than twenty hospital trials, and treatment with more than eight million patients in over forty countries has proven Caved-S deglycyrrhizinated liquorice is free from side effects of oedema, hypokalaemia etc.3'

An unpublished hospital trial, the results of which are in our hands, has been carried out with Caved-S tablets at increased dosage on forty severe duodenal ulcer patients (age range 40-65) who had all been referred for surgery has demonstrated recurrent episodes can be prevented. The report stated "Patients with severe duodenal ulcers who had been referred for surgery were divided into two groups and treated with either eight or twelve tablets daily, for eight or sixteen weeks respectively.

The higher dosage was statistically more effective than the lower dosage in preventing relapses . . ." Patients were followed up for a minimum of one year and it was concluded that,

"HIGH DOSES OF DEGLYCYRRHIZINATED LIQUORICE (CAVED-S) SHOULD BE GIVEN TO PATIENTS WITH DUODENAL ULCERS BEFORE SURGERY IS ATTEMPTED".

NEW TREATMENT FOR INFERTILITY and menstrual dysfunction

Roussel Laboratories Ltd. announce the introduction of ONDONID, cyclofenil, a new orally administered nonsteroidal agent capable of inducing regular ovulatory menstrual cycles in appropriately selected patients. ONDONID is therefore suitable for the treatment of:

- 1. Infertility due to anovulation
- 2. Sub-fertility due to oligo-ovulation
- 3. Amenorrhoea
- 4. Oligomenorrhoea

Fertility studies have shown that the pregnancy rate achieved with ONDONID is comparable to that with other oral agents. uncomplicated by multiple births. In this and its other indications, ONDONID exhibits an exceptionally low incidence of side-effects.

The use of ONDONID is restricted to hospitals and clinics studying and treating the problems of infertility and menstrual dysfunction. It is available for prescriptions emanating from these sources or from consultant practice with access to laboratory facilities.

Each ONDONID tablet contains 100 mg. cyclofenil.

The 504 Estates. At rather less cost than the main opposition, we've taken up the running in the space race.

In the 12 months that we've been selling the highly successful 504 saloon in the U.K., we've encountered a growing demand for a capacious estate car of the same high quality.

We've come up with 2.

The 5/6 seater Estate from £1733. And the 7/8 seater Family Estate from £1795. Both feature a specially developed long wheelbase chassis, while a specially developed live rear axle replaces the normal 504 independent rear suspension. It increases the load capacity without spoiling the famous 504 ride.

The Estate will carry up to 5 adults in comfort, plus 40.6 cubic feet of anything you can think of. Up to a weight limit of 485 lbs. Or, to put it another way, 2 adults plus 1 102 lbs. That's almost the weight of a Mini. And with all the seats in use, the 504 Estate has a longer loading area than any other 2 litre estate.

The Family Estate carries on a feature pioneered on the 404 Family Estate almost 10 years ago. A third row of forward facing seats allows you to carry up to 8 people. With plenty of room for their luggage.

But as you'd expect from Peugeot, we give you more than space.

The 504 Estates have all the refinement and comfort of the 504 carburettor saloon.

This entails a maximum around the 100 mark, kept nicely under control by a combination of servo-assisted brakes, rack and pinion steering and impeccable roadholding.

Fully reclining, individual front seats with fully adjustable, built-in headrests.

And seatbelts as standard equipment.

While to encourage sharp-eyed driving, we provide a heated rear window, side window de-misting louvres and an electric screen wash that can be used independently, or for short bursts in conjunction with the wipers.

As you can see, the 504 Estates are typical products of our 'total concept' policy. For every Peugeot is evolved over years of painstaking research.

It took us years to achieve Rolls standards of quietness (Motor Sport Sept. 1970), XJ6 suspension refinement. (The Times Oct. 1971.) But we did both, and won the praise of the world's motoring press.

It takes us years to find out how long a Peugeot lasts. Because they last so long.

And to meet our standards, we make many of the parts that other firms are content to buy in.

Indeed, one of the few things we 'buy' is our body styling. From the man who clothes the Ferrari Daytona.

Which seems an appropriate moment to wrap it all up.

'Slow-Fe' patients don't have to...

Because the iron content of 'Slow-Fe' is released mainly in the duodenum and upper small intestine, providing efficient absorption with minimum intolerance. The precision-release principle of 'Slow-Fe', developed from the expertise of 'Slow-K', the most widely used potassium supplement, ensures iron is released evenly over a period of 1½ to 2 hours. This avoids high local concentrations of iron in the stomach which cause nausea and vomiting. It also prevents constipation and wastage of iron released in the lower gut.

In two studies of 'Slow-Fe' and 'Slow-Fe folic' involving nearly 4,000 patients 93% reported no side effects^{1, 2.} This low incidence of side effects is comparable to that expected on placebo. 'Slow-Fe' can be taken in an easy once daily dosage, presented in a press-through monthly pack. 1 Clin. Trials J. (1969) 6, 229 2 Medical Digest (1971) 16, 194

There's more to Ventolin than any other bronchodilator

For aerosol therapy in asthma and chronic bronchitis Ventolin Inhaler provides the drug of choice.

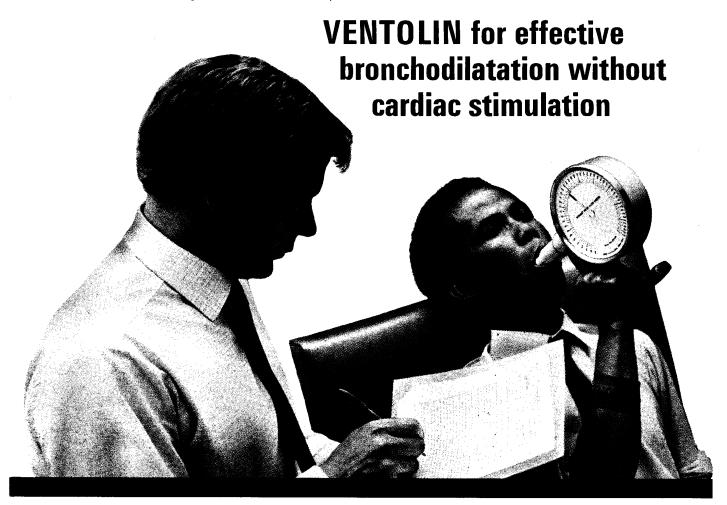

"It seems clear, therefore, that because of its effectiveness in producing bronchodilatation, its long duration of action, its lack of cardiovascular stimulant action, and its lack of tendency to produce falls in PaO₂, salbutamol (Ventolin) is the most effective drug at present available by aerosol inhalation for the relief of asthmatic airway obstruction."

Pain is but a symptom, best treated with the lowest effective dose of any medicament

Low dosage, low cost in the control of pain

Clinical experience shows that, in fibrositis, dysmenorrhoea, sinusitis, and other commonly encountered conditions of persistent pain, just one tablet of Paramol-118 every four hours provides relief.

By fortifying 500 mg paracetamol with a low dose (10 mg) of dihydrocodeine it is possible to control pain with a minimum daily intake of both drugs: in such low dosage the possibility of side effects is remote.

Needless to say, if necessary, this dosage can be increased to two tablets every four hours—and, even at this higher dosage level, risk of any really undesirable side effect is insignificant.

Costs, too, are kept low: with one tablet every four hours the basic NHS cost of a day's therapy is only about 2p.

Cardiac crisis: the blood clot hanging in this heart hangs over the life of every Western man. Heart diseases kill more men than war, accident or any other disease; but most premature deaths need never happen. Inside we tell you what causes heart disease, and how one hospital is using this Morris van to snatch men back from death

Flora margarine can help prevent heart disease.

Next year, one in four deaths in Great Britain will be caused by coronary heart disease.

Some might be prevented simply by the careful regulation of dietary fat intake.

For the links between the consumption of saturated fats, high blood cholesterol levels, atherosclerosis and coronary disease are now generally believed to be positive.

One way to reduce the associated risks is to substitute polyunsaturated for saturated fats. Flora is particularly effective as part of the dietary treatment of hyperlipidaemia.

Flora margarine is exceedingly rich in polyunsaturated fats, containing 50% natural cis-cis linoleic essential fatty acid. There is no other spread higher in polyunsaturated fats than Flora.

For people at risk from coronary heart disease, indeed for almost anyone, Flora margarine makes very good advice.

think about the after effects...

. . . winter ailments,

particularly influenza, often leave the patient with a feeling of listlessness and malaise during the period of convalescence when even the weather conspires to depress.

Requests for a 'tonic' naturally become more prevalent—but what to prescribe?

Labiton provides both a pick-me-up effect and appetite stimulant to help during this trying period.

Labiton contains catechol-caffeinates maintained in the active state by a special anti-oxidative process and stabilisation in alcohol. The alcohol itself helps to provide a feeling of warmth and well-being. Vitamin B and curação are added to complete a balanced and palatable stimulant.

Labiton is particularly indicated in convalescence, especially after influenza and for the elderly throughout the year.

Labiton is available in bottles of 200 ml. on N.H.S. form E.C.10.

Interest rates offered to big investors and small savers alike are many and varied, but each investment has its own particular set of terms and conditions.

Some investments tie up your savings for a fixed period of years, whilst others offer prompt withdrawal facilities.

Some are designed to provide regular income; others offer capital growth. Either may or may not be taxable.

Both may incorporate life assurance and the income tax relief then obtainable can further improve the attractiveness of the investment. It's all very confusing unless you are a financial expert. How else can you choose a plan to suit your own particular needs and be safe in the knowledge that the Company to which you are to entrust your savings is absolutely secure?

Whether you are interested in saving a monthly sum out of salary, or making a single investment, you would be wise to consult the experts at the M.I.A. They are there to help you, as they have helped thousands of your colleagues—their advice is free and entirely without obligation.

The swift and reliable analgesic action of AUDAX® Ear Drops was demonstrated very clearly in this controlled British trial.⁽¹⁾ In another recent British Trial,⁽²⁾ the rapidly effective local analgesic action of AUDAX Ear Drops was also clearly shown. The author concluded: "The use of choline salicylate AUDAX Ear Drops provided a valuable means of giving prompt relief to patients with severe ear pain."

In these British clinical trials, AUDAX Ear Drops were compared with the commonly used, oral analgesics paracetamol and aspirin and AUDAX Ear Drops were shown to be superior to both.

AUDAX Ear Drops utilise choline salicylate in a rapidly penetrating vehicle and contain no sensitising or irritating constituents.

GYNAECOLOGY IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal

As in other branches of medicine, the pattern of gynaecological problems likely to be encountered by the general practitioner will probably change in the future. Moreover, many doctors now in practice were taught little about some of the topics which are important today and are likely to become even more so.

In 1971 the B.M.J. published a series of articles in the "Medical Practice" section discussing the management of various gynaecological disorders in a domiciliary setting. These have now been collected together as a booklet entitled Gynaecology in General Practice and provides a useful and up-to-date account of gynaecology in general practice.

THE UNIVERSITY NOTTINGHAM

SCHOOL MEDICAL

The Medical School will take its third entry of medical students in October 1972. Honours year teaching in biochemistry, community health, human morphology, pathology and physiology will begin in the autumn for the 1970 entry, and clinical teaching will commence for the same entry in May 1973. Medical School departments are housed in new accommodation on the University Main Campus and at the Nottingham City and General Hospitals. Work on the new University Hospital and Medical School complex adjacent to the University Campus is now proceeding at a rapid rate. This complex will be progressively commissioned from 1974 onwards, in which year student intakes will begin to rise from the present 48 students per annum to a level of 160 or 192 students in the late 1970s.

Teaching in the first two years of the course is or 192 students in the late 1970s.

Teaching in the first two years of the course is arranged on a thematic inter-departmental basis including contributions from the clinical departments, The School is pioneering the use of multi-discipline laboratories in the United Kingdom for medical student teaching, and there is extensive use of audiovisual equipment and techniques. There is a very good standard of technical and scientific equipping in all departments.

Applications are invited for the following posts, all of which are tenable from 1st September, 1972, or as soon thereafter as possible.

(A) BIOCHEMISTRY

(A) BIOCHEMISTHY
Lecturer (Ref. 1)
The successful applicant will be a medical or science graduate and he will teach biochemistry to medical students as part of the Honours course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Medical Sciences. In addition, the appointee will take part in teaching the biochemistry component of a Joint Honours B.Sc. course in Chemistry and Biochemistry. The department is well equipped and provides excellent facilities for research and the training of postgraduate research students.

research students.

(B) COMMUNITY HEALTH

(B) COMMUNITY HEALTH
Two Senior Lecturers (Ref. 2)
One of these posts will be for a medical graduate who will have special duties in relation to the development of that part of the integrated Community Health course which is concerned with general practice. The second post will be for someone, also with medical qualifications, and a higher degree, with skills in the fields of epidemiology, medical care or some other major aspect of social medicine.
Honorary consultant contracts with the Sheffield Regional Hospital Board will be available for those suitably qualified and recommended by the University.

Lecturers in General Practice (Ref. 3)
These will be part-time teaching posts, tenable for three years, in family medicine designed to attract general practitioners who are working in the Nottingham area into the teaching of all aspects of primary care to medical students. It is envisaged that the lecturers will work for three half days per week, though two of these will be teaching in the course of giving medical care in their own practices.

(C) HUMAN MORPHOLOGY

Lecturer (Ref. 4)
Applicants should preferably possess a medical qualification. The department maintains close links with clinical units in the local hospitals. It is well equipped for all forms of anatomical research including cytochemistry, tissue culture and electron microscopy.

(D) PATHOLOGY

(D) PATHOLOGY
Senior Lecturer (Ref. 5)

SERVICES

Flying. As well as being responsible for the medical care of aircrew, RAF doctors are encouraged to fly and thereby gain first-hand knowledge of the operational environments. Their responsibilities can also include aero-medical evacuation, by the RAF's remarkable long-range airborne ambulance service, using Britannias and VC10s of Air Support Command. In 1970 approximately 2000 patients were flown back to the United Kingdom. Equipment on the aircraft is most elaborate, and can include Radcliffe ventilators, dialysis machines, air-conditioned oxygen cots and a number of items specially designed by RAF consultants. A doctor—say a physician, a surgeon or an anaesthetist—may often be needed as part of the team to 'special' a patient.

• Are you in your Pre-Registration Year -or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the Royal Air Force has to offer.

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties—perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3668; after 5 years it rises to £4424; after 13 years to £5453. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £330 (net) for one child, £723 (net) for two children, £1194 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain J. G. Donald, OBE, MB, ChB, MRCGP, DTM&H, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square(724KB5), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

Trends in Clinical Pathology

Essays in Honour of Gordon Signy

This book is no pious collection of personal tributes but a survey of the old and the new disciplines in clinical pathology since the second world war – research in atherosclerosis and ischaemic heart disease, progress in medical virology, microbiology and cytology, the impact of antibiotics on medical bacteriology, chemical pathology and also molecular defence, haematology in mid-century, including haemostasis and blood transfusion. The place of fibrin in the story of hyalin is another modern study, so also is that on automation. The outlook on some members of the family Enterobacteriaceae is changing, and the 'old' forensic medicine is indeed new. And those pathologists working in the under-developed countries are not forgotten. The contributors are internationally renowned.

Treatment with Paroven significantly altered the PO₂, oxygen saturation, and the oxygen content of varicose vein blood and the oxygen extraction in tissues of varicose vein legs towards normal values. The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow.

improves capillary flow relieves varicose disorders

"The most obvious effect of treatment with HR (Paroven) is the very constant relief of night cramps, with an improvement exceeding 90 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

In infected eczema, it's the eczema you worry about.

And no combination of anti-infectives will stop the scratching that starts the infection that results in infected eczema.

But Betnovate-N will.

And it will do it quicker than other preparations designed to combat infected eczema, because it contains betamethasone as 17-valerate, a more effective steroid.

All at a price others can't match.
