Avomine

tried and trusted for more than 21 years

An outstanding record of efficacy and safety in many thousands of expectant mothers over two decades, together with the notable advantage of low cost, has firmly established 'Avomine'* as the drug of first choice in the treatment of pregnancy sickness. Its sustained anti-emetic action provides efficient round-the-clock control of symptoms and is of great help to the patient in maintaining her normal daily routine during the often difficult first trimester. Side-effects are rarely experienced and there have never been any reports to suggest that its administration in any way harms foetal development.

GYNAECOLOGY IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal

As in other branches of medicine, the pattern of gynaecological problems likely to be encountered by the general practitioner will probably change in the future. Moreover, many doctors now in practice were taught little about some of the topics which are important today and are likely to become even more so.

In 1971 the B.M.J. published a series of articles in the "Medical Practice" section discussing the management of various gynaecological disorders in a domiciliary setting. These have now been collected together as a booklet entitled Gynaecology in General Practice and provides a useful and up-to-date account of gynaecology in general practice.

It was the year Dr. Ludwig Roselius discovered how to remove caffeine from coffee without altering its flavour.

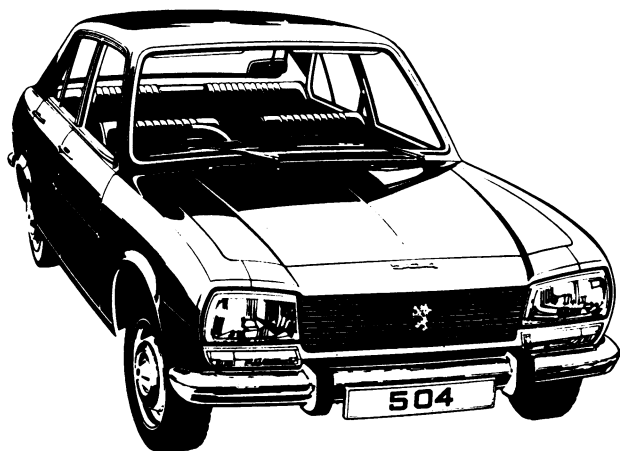

Since then, thanks to him and his Kaffee H.A.G., no one need say "No" to coffee! Today, in nearly every country in the world, the Medical Profession is recommending it increasingly in cases where caffeine is contra indicated.

What can I do at my age, to help old people in need?

(Mrs. Williams, now 78, talks to
Dr. Reed, her doctor)

Mrs. W. I know what it's like to be old and lonely, even though I have a kind family, a home and enough to eat. But I've read about old people with no proper homes, struggling along in damp, awful rooms, without heating or warm food, or even an inside toilet. Surely I can do something to help them?

Doctor R. Well, I know you're not strong enough to visit them and climb up dark, rickety stairs, which cut so many of these old people off from the world. But, Help the Aged is doing the sort of practical job you'd appreciate. Rehousing these old people in modern, self-contained flats of their own. Where they can be independent, and yet cared for if they need help. Of course, it's a big job and Help the Aged are dependent on the support of people like yourself to do it.

Mrs. W. Do you mean that a contribution from me could really make a difference?

Doctor R. Yes. The reason a lot of well-known people support Help the Aged is that a small gift can go quite a long way towards helping the 300,000 old people who are desperately in need of care and housing.

Mrs. W. But I can't afford to give a lot of money. Would £30 or £40 accomplish anything?

Doctor R. A lot. About £1,000 worth of new housing for old people in fact. That's because Help the Aged use official loans which multiply the value of each gift 25 times over. In my experience as a Doctor, I can't think of any better value from a gift; not only is your money multiplied, but it goes on giving happiness, perpetuating your generosity over many years. For £150, you can name a flat in memory of someone dear to you, and £250 names a double flat in a Help the Aged Housing Scheme.

If your patients would like to help distressed, helpless old people, and show that some goodness is at work in the world, please remember the value of covenants and legacies. An annual report will be gladly sent on request.

Only carefully selected material is used; the homogeneity of the resultant highly purified human growth hormone is checked and its potency is assayed by double antibody radioimmune and biological techniques.

Treatment with CRESCORMON results in accelerated growth velocity, most marked during the first months, and corresponding to age over the first year.

No adverse reactions have been observed. In a few patients a low titre of antibodies has developed. The growth rate of these patients, however, was not decreased.

New Betadine® Vaginal Pessaries

the ideal treatment for all types of vaginitis: trichomonal...candidal...mixed and non-specific

The Betadine pack contains 14 vaginal pessaries, an applicator and patient's instructions. Also available Betadine vaginal gel - 80g tube with applicator, and Betadine vaginal douche - 500ml.

a certain way to treat a lady

The certainty of positive microbicidal action, against all classes of vaginitis pathogens, is provided by Betadine vaginal pessaries. Therefore the risk of overgrowth of non-susceptible organisms associated with specific therapies is avoided.

Because of povidone iodine's decisively microbicidal action Betadine pessaries deodorize, which is particularly important in all forms of infective vaginitis.

Oral systemic anti-protozoal agents, antifungals and antibiotics may be used concomitantly if this is desired.

The following alternative forms of Betadine vaginal therapies are recommended:

Betadine Vaginal Pessaries - night and morning
Each pessary contains povidone-iodine 200 mg (USNF)

Betadine Vaginal Gel - at night contains povidone-iodine 10% w/w (USNF)

Betadine Vaginal Douche - in the morning
contains povidone-iodine 10% w/w (USNF)

ALLERGIC RHINITIS

A completely fresh approach

The unique way in which sodium cromoglycate prevents asthmatic reactions has been the subject of over 150 clinical trials. Prompted by this success, more recent investigators have shown that, in the form of RYNACROM, sodium cromoglycate has a similar protective effect on the nasal mucosa and can provide year-round prophylaxis in allergic rhinitis<sup>2</sup>

RYNACROM is not a decongestant, anticholinergic, antihistamine or steroid. Its action is unlike any other form of treatment.

In the face of challenge – pollen, house dust, feathers, pets, etc. – RYNACROM (sodium cromoglycate) prevents the degranulation of those cells which would normally rupture and release histamine and inflammatory agents. Thus regular insufflation of RYNACROM provides continuous prophylaxis from a condition which, hitherto, has been difficult to control symptomatically and even more difficult to prevent. A number of patients who have failed to respond to other forms of treatment have greatly benefited from RYNACROM!

RYNACROM does not produce inconvenient side effects associated with conventional therapy.

A good friend in

Amoxil can be relied on to treat commonly occurring bacterial infection of the ear, nose and throat. This was demonstrated in a recent clinical trial<sup>1</sup> involving 150 children where Amoxil was clinically successful in 94% of cases.

Amoxil's broad spectrum of activity coupled with its outstanding oral absorption<sup>2</sup> ensure that high bactericidal serum levels are available to act quickly and decisively at the site of infection.

Add to this the convenience of a three times daily dosage regime, the degree of safety associated with penicillin therapy, treatment costing as little as 16p per day, and a wide range of highly acceptable oral presentations - further good reasons why Amoxil represents practical antibiotic therapy at its best.

Amoxil is a good friend in throat infections - this happy eight year old certainly thinks so.

Further information on Amoxil regd (amoxycillin) is available from: Bencard, Freepost, Great West Road, Brentford, Middlesex.

COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTS

Deputy Head of International Medical Services

Our client, one of the world's leading ethical pharmaceutical companies, wishes to appoint a physician to the international medical services group based at its headquarters in the Netherlands.

The position should suit a young man with a strong sense of medical purpose and a desire for wider challenge and horizons: he will be helping to build a rapidly developing group with medical responsibility for all aspects of the Company's marketed drugs throughout the world.

On completion of any initial training required, he will have a team of three directly responsible to him, which he will be expected to lead with integrity, enthusiasm and imagination.

He will liaise with the Company's local medical units worldwide, initiate and coordinate medical trials on marketed products, attend international medical conferences, exercise medical control over marketing and promotional activities, and participate generally in the many and varied activities of the medical services group. He will also deputise for the Head of Medical Services, to whom he will report.

The successful candidate will be a fully qualified medical practitioner, probably in his thirties, with several years' good practical medical experience. In addition, he must have a lively and enquiring mind, an internationality of outlook, a willingness to travel, and a positive interest in meeting people of diverse cultures and nationalities. A higher qualification, previous involvement in medical trials, or management experience in a group practice would be advantageous, but by no means essential. Knowledge of languages other than English is not required.

The position carries a highly attractive salary and other important benefits, including strong consideration towards the provision of a paid three-week clinical "sabbatical" every year, in addition to an annual holiday of over four weeks.

If you are seeking a chance to make fuller use of your abilities and experience, please write briefly, or 'phone for an application form and more detailed information on the Company, the country, the opportunity and the rewards.

MEDICAL SUPPORT GROUP

The assessment of evidence of safety, efficacy and quality in connection with applications for registrations and approvals for clinical trials in the U.K. and overseas, is a vital stage in the medical research programme.

The increasing stringency of drug regulatory authorities throughout the world makes it imperative that we appoint a further physician to join an existing team concerned with drug registration. The Group also provides an essential medical information service linking the laboratory scientist with the practising physician.

AS A NAVAL DOCTOR, YOU'D GET A WHOLE LOT MORE OUT OF LIFE.

(AND SO WOULD YOUR FAMILY)

Right from the start, you'd have a complete change of scene.

Serving either with the Navy at sea or among service personnel and their families at a naval establishment. Very likely in another part of the world.

Either way, you'd never find yourself short of assistance. (Every naval doctor is fully supported by medical staff).

Equally important, you'd never find yourself getting into a rut – for in two years or so you'd receive a new appointment.

In a new place. Doing a different job. Perhaps with the chance to learn something of the special problems of diving, aviation, or tropical medicine for example.

It's a stimulating life. Not only for yourself but for your family too.

For in most cases they'd accompany you. And wherever you go there are usually married quarters – fully furnished houses or flats, equipped with everything you need. And at very reasonable rents.

What's more, a generous education allowance is made for your children if they are at boarding school. £363 p.a. for a first child, £432 p.a. for a second, £519 p.a. for a third. On top of this, removal and other allowances are also provided.

Add this to the salary and you'll see how well a naval doctor's pay compares with a civilian doctor's.

For instance, with five years' post registration experience you would join us as a Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander on £4,767 a year.

And any specialist qualifications/experience you have could increase your salary even more.

There are opportunities, too, to keep up with the latest developments in medicine. For the Navy fully recognises the need for such opportunities both in the interests of naval medicine and a doctor's professional advancement.

That's not all. You can join on a 3-year or 5-year commission (each carrying a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively) and you can transfer to a full 16-year pensionable commission if you wish.

To find out more, write to Surgeon Cdr. L. C. Banks, M.B., B.Ch., R.N. (724ABD), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London S.W.6.

The Future General Practitioner

Learning and Teaching

General or family practice is a special subject. This book is written by six experienced teachers selected by the Council of the Royal College of General Practitioners. It is intended chiefly for teachers, but it will also be valuable to those who are learning and to all who are concerned about the place of family practice within a country's medical services.

A syllabus is developed in five main parts:

Health and Diseases

Human Development

Human Behaviour

Medicine and Society

The Practice

Throughout the book the authors have tried to indicate ways in which the teacher may approach the task of passing on what he had learned by his own experience. The theme is the search for objectives which will satisfy the needs of learner and teacher. The belief is that this search will benefit the future family practitioner and through him the community of his patients.

Intal doesn't relieve asthmatic attacks

It prevents them

Steroids, bronchodilators and antihistamines, whether in aerosol or tablet form, are only symptomatic treatments. Whereas INTAL actually protects the patient from asthmatic attacks—day in, day out.

By preventing the release of spasmogens INTAL affords daily prophylaxis for as long as any challenge exists. More than 150 clinical trials have proved its effectiveness, safety and ease of administration.

But only an asthmatic can really appreciate the difference it makes.

Electron micrograph of H. influenzae magnified 11,000 times, after three hours' incubation with 'Eskacef'. In vitro study.

Five species are responsible for most bacterial respiratory infections.
'Eskacef' is effective against all of them.

Because more than one of these species may be cultured in respiratory infection, and some may be resistant to penicillin, you need 'Eskacef'.

'Eskacef' is rapidly bactericidal against most common Gram-positive and Gram-negative organisms.

It challenges both pneumococcus and

Haemophilus influenzae, organisms commonly associated with acute exacerbations of chronic bronchitis.

It is so low in toxicity that it can be used in children, may be suitable for long term use, and, with adjustment of dosage to avoid accumulation may be used in renal failure.

'Eskacef' is available in both capsule and suspension presentations. Use it... to be sure.

Each capsule contains cephadrine 250 mg or 500 mg. Each 5 ml of suspension contains 125 mg or 250 mg cephadrine.
