

Has she got intrinsic

Becotide Inhaler is likely to be effective whatever the type of asthma and whatever the aetiology.

In a trial of Becotide Inhaler in 17 asthmatic patients, intrinsic in 13 and extrinsic in 4, the results were equally good in both types of asthma. Of three patients with more severe intrinsic asthma the following report was given:

"Patients 13, 16 and 17 were all controlled on prednisolone in excess of 10mg per day and were unable to reduce the dose of prednisolone below that level without clinical deterioration. They now remain as well, if not better, controlled on the steroid aerosol (Becotide) in a dose of 100mcg four times a day and all have normal basal plasma-hydrocortisone levels."

(Lancet, 1972, 1, 1361)

"Effective control of the asthma (with Becotide Inhaler) is achieved with no evidence of systemic absorption or steroid side effects . . . As many of them had already failed to respond to disodium cromoglycate this new approach may have much to offer."

(Brit. med. J., 1972, 1, 585)

or extrinsic asthma?

Becotide Inhaler provides effective relief in both intrinsic and extrinsic asthma . . .

and avoids unwanted steroid side effects.

This is because of the intrinsic properties of beclomethasone dipropionate and its localisation at the intended site of action.

Extensive clinical trials ^{1,2,3,4,5} have shown a high rate of success and no evidence of systemic steroid side effects, including adrenal suppression, in the recommended dosage.

Rat exposed to SO₂, but also treated with Mucodyne—the hyperplasia is greatly reduced reduces hyperplasia of the respiratory mucosa.

MUCODYNE presents a completely different concept in the treatment of mucus congestion. Experimentally, it has been shown to reduce the pathological increase in mucus-producing cells. Clinically it reduces the volume of bronchial secretions and restores pathologically sticky mucus to a more normal consistency. A consistency that enables it to be removed more easily. And more quickly. Recent British evidence* has shown that MUCODYNE shifts sticky mucus 4 days faster than bromhexine. For your next congested patient therefore this mucodynamic action of MUCODYNE will mean relief comes that 4 days earlier.

HOW TO WORK A MIRACLE.

Sony announces its latest electronic wonder. The Sony Video Rover.

A machine consisting of a small television camera and video tape deck that can be carried and operated by just one man.

Think of it as a portable tape recorder with eyes and you've got the picture.

Nothing particularly earth-shattering about that, you're thinking.

But for victims of Hurricane Camille in America, the Sony Video Rover performed something of a miracle.

VIDEO ROVER vs HURRICANE CAMILLE

When Hurricane Camille hit Mississippi, it left thousands of homes and jobs in ruins.

A return to normal life depended on how fast the insurance companies could deal with the avalanche of claims.

Normal methods would have meant many months of hardship.

So one major insurance company sent a team of 25 men to the scene of the disaster, each one equipped with a Sony Video Rover.

They were able to make quick and very accurate visual notes of the damage. And fly the tapes back to the company's head office.

There, a team of assessors working with TV monitors were able to assess and settle claims in a fraction of the normal time.

ALL THINGS TO ALL MEN.

Of course, the Hurricane Camille episode is only one example of how the Sony Video Rover has been used.

Industry has employed it from the boardroom to the factory floor.

Real estate agents used it for on site valuation and later as a sales aid.

Engineers have used it for testing supersonic aircraft.

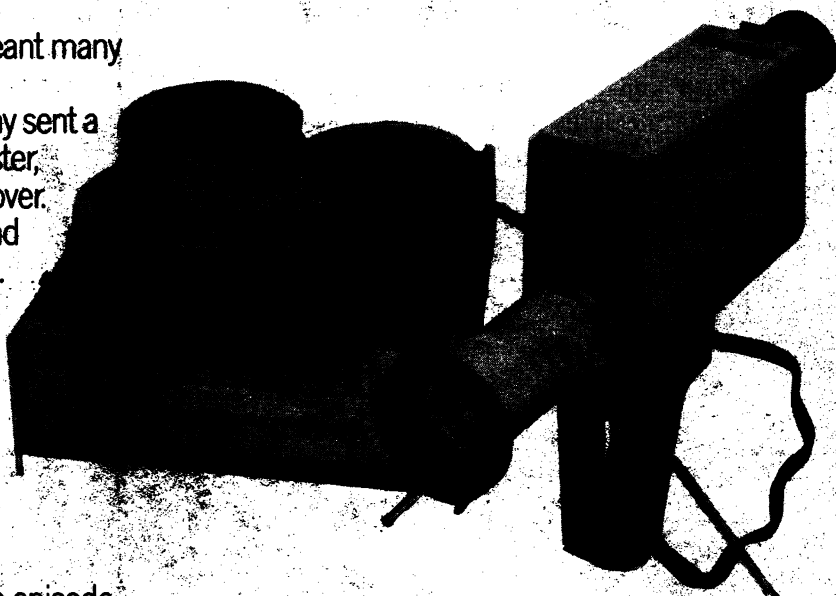

Scientists have explored the sea bed with it.

Doctors have even used it for diagnosing circulatory diseases.

Education, advertising, sport, crime-prevention, fire-fighting. You name it and we can quote a case history.

If you want to find out how this little machine can work something for you, drop us a line to the address below.

We'll send you all the information you need on the Video Rover and the rest of the Sony Video range. SONY.

Brenda is and today she

For the first birthday in her life, Brenda can blow out her own candles. Because she has been treated with a new product called Migen – a short immunisation course that is simple and very effective. A fundamental treatment that for the first time gives you, the family doctor, real control over asthma.

It won't help all asthmatics but it will help those whose asthma is caused by, or complicated by, allergy. And that's no small number.

Migen is effective. Allergy has always been recognised as one of the most common causes of asthma. Recently it has been established that the most important allergenic factor in house dust is the house dust mite: in fact, more than 90% of house dust sensitive patients are sensitive to house dust mite. And, "The rise in the mite content of dust from September to October has been shown to be directly related to an increase in asthma during this period."*

Migen immunises against the house dust mite. Immunisation against this powerful allergen raises the patients' overall level of tolerance. If he is multi-sensitive, he may well find that he no longer reacts to contact with other allergens which have previously provoked attacks. And the stress caused by fear of attack is reduced.

Migen is simple. Migen is a short course vaccine which contains pure extract of Dermatophagoides pteronyssinus, the most common British house dust mite. Just six injections form a complete course of treatment for asthma and perennial rhinitis. And each syringe is pre-filled to ensure accurate dosage.

Migen – minimal side effects. Migen's active material is released slowly but completely for maximum efficiency and minimum risk of adverse effects. Migen is adsorbed onto tyrosine, a naturally occurring amino acid, fully metabolisable in the human body.

Migen is a Bencard product. Prepared by Bencard, leaders in allergy research, Migen is the first short course asthma treatment to give you control over your asthma patients. Migen may usually be prescribed

Migen. Many products have been advocated for use in the treatment of asthma. Most have drawbacks that you and your patients suffer for the sake of some relief. Now Migen offers an opportunity to treat asthma simply and effectively.

Allergy has always had a strong hold on the asthmatic. From today a powerful and very common allergen can be controlled from your surgery, with Migen. It's asthma immunisation made easy.

Why should a qualified doctor even consider joining the Army?

We think the Army can offer you everything you'd get in a civilian practice plus one or two attractions of its own.

Firstly, the pay isn't bad. At 24 you can start life in the Army as a Captain at a salary of £4,099 with generous allowances on top of that. If you've been a doctor for a few years, you can start as a Major.

You'll get 6 weeks paid holiday each year and when your Short Service Commission ends after 3 years or 5 years you can leave with a substantial tax free gratuity. On the other hand, you might like the life well enough to apply for a Regular Commission.

Of course, you'll have plenty to do looking after soldiers and their families. But we will provide you with fully equipped, up to date surgeries to work in.

While you're with us you may want to study for higher qualifications. And some doctors specialise.

There's every chance that part of your service will be abroad. (Quite apart from seeing something of the world this can provide experience of treating tropical diseases.)

And then there's Army life itself. Plenty of friends and every facility for sport and recreation. And the feeling of being an essential member of a team.

If you're interested in learning more about the opportunities the Army offers doctors, write to Colonel A. R. Worthington, MB, MFCM, DTM & H, RAMC, Ministry of Defence (AMD2), Dept. M51, Lansdowne House, Berkeley Square, London, W1X 6AA.

He'll send you all the details and arrange for you to visit an Army medical establishment so that you can look around and chat to a few Army doctors.

They'll tell you what it's like. Warts and all.

NEW REPORT

non-ergotamine migraine treatment SHOULD BE TRIED FIRST!

This was the conclusion to the report of a trial in which Migraleve was compared with an ergotamine/cyclizine tablet in the treatment of 59 patients with well defined symptoms of migraine.

Both preparations were effective in relieving the symptoms of migraine, but vomiting was less severe with Migraleve - calling into question the use of ergot preparations, particularly in view of the limited period over which they could be administered with safety. In contrast, therapy with Migraleve can be continued as long as necessary.¹

This confirms the results of an earlier trial² which showed that 65% of regular ergotamine users preferred Migraleve and that Migraleve successfully treated the migraine attack in 79% of patients.

With Migraleve, many migraine sufferers feel that for the first time in the history of their condition they have something which is effective in averting or relieving their attacks. A typical response to a first trial with Migraleve is . . .

"RELIEF! Only a fellow migraine sufferer can appreciate what it means!"

In 13 weeks time your patients

A recent trial* shows Prinalgin to be superior to high dose aspirin by all the normal criteria of improvement in rheumatoid arthritis.

In particular, one feature of the trial really stands out: After 91 days (13 weeks) the superiority of Prinalgin becomes increasingly significant.

The conclusion is obvious: long lasting improvement in rheumatoid arthritis is better achieved with Prinalgin than high dose aspirin.

In pituitary dwarfism CRESCORMON[®] human growth hormone

Crescormon is a highly purified preparation of human pituitary growth hormone thoroughly tested for homogeneity and potency.

Substitution therapy with Crescormon in patients suffering from GH deficiency leads to an acceleration of growth. The therapy is safe and no resistance to treatment has been reported.

Crescormon is standardized both by radio-immunological determination and by biological assay. Each vial contains 4 IU determined against IRP Growth Hormone (WHO).

Indications

Dwarfism due to decreased or failed incretion of pituitary growth hormone. The diagnosis should be verified before the preparation is administered by an investigation of the pituitary function.

Contraindication

Diabetes mellitus.

Precautions

In spite of rigorous requirements for the collection and careful control of the pituitary glands used in the preparation of Crescormon, the risk of transmitting hepatitis cannot be excluded. The risk may be considered extremely small, however, and no cases have as yet been reported.

Side Effects

In clinical trials Crescormon has elicited the formation of antibodies in low titre in a few patients, which, however, has not affected the growth rate. Otherwise no adverse reactions have been observed.

Dosage

The dosage is individual, but in general a dose of at least 0.5 IU per kg body weight per week, divided into two to three intramuscular injections, is recommended.

Administration

Crescormon should be injected intramuscularly. The solution for injection is prepared by adding 2 ml Sodium Chloride Injection to the lyophilized substance in the vial. A made-up solution should be used immediately after preparation.

Storage

Refrigerator (+5° C).

Pack

Crescormon combined package of lyophilized sterile HGH 4 IU (about 2 mg) and Sodium Chloride Injection in an ampoule of 2 ml.

Associated with this expansion will be the provision of a large Medical Rehabilitation Department. In February, 1974 a Department of Employment Industrial Rehabilitation Unit is due to open on the Queen Elizabeth Hospital site and it is intended that a special relationship shall be developed between this unit and the Medical Rehabilitation Services of the United Birmingham Hospitals.

It is hoped to be able to appoint a person with a clinical background to take administrative charge of the Medical Rehabilitation Services and to act as co-ordinator with all the other agencies concerned in rehabilitation throughout the area. The person appointed could, in addition, continue to practise his own branch of medicine or surgery for some part of his time.

The appointment will be made in the Consultant Grade but interest in, and enthusiasm for rehabilitation will be of considerably greater importance than the candidate's precise background of training. The right personality to form good relationships with the many clinicians involved, as well as with outside agencies, will be of paramount importance.

This preliminary "Notice of Intent" is designed to enable any persons interested in such a post to make contact with this teaching hospital group. This should be done in writing to the Secretary, The United Birmingham Hospitals, at the Queen Elizabeth Medical Centre, giving a brief outline of career to date, together with personal views on the development of a fully integrated Medical Rehabilitation Service. Arrangements will subsequently be made for a visit to the Group for informal discussions, as appropriate. All enquirers will ultimately receive further details when the appointment is formally advertised. (H17694) 111

OPPORTUNITIES WITH HOECHST

Medical Director

HOLLAND

We are looking for a Physician interested in therapeutics to head the Medical Department of the Pharmaceutical Division of Hoechst in Holland. The ideal person will be aged 28—35 and will already be a Member or Fellow of a Royal College.

The work is primarily concerned with the clinical evaluation of new drugs, from the stage of their first introduction to patients, and these activities will be co-ordinated within the research effort of the North Western European Countries. This will necessitate close and frequent contact with other Hoechst Medical Departments, e.g. in the United Kingdom and Germany. The person appointed will also be involved with established compounds, and will be expected to initiate appropriate research projects to determine their total pharmacological profile and to resolve therapeutic problems as they arise from time to time. He will become an expert on the company's products.

He will also be expected to participate actively in drug registration and information activities. The latter includes interpreting current medical attitudes to his non-medical colleagues within the company, and interpreting data concerning the company's products in a way readily understood by those outside. He will also co-operate with the Marketing Manager, regarding aspects of marketing and promotion.

This post is ideal for someone possessing an academic background but who has his feet on the ground, who has initiative and enthusiasm, but who can be part of a multi-discipline team.

Where appropriate, training for the successful candidate in clinical pharmacology at a university department could be arranged. A knowledge of Dutch is not necessary, although it would be useful, but facilities to learn Dutch will be provided.

The Medical Director will live in or near The Hague, or Amsterdam (where the company is located), will be provided with a car, and there will be assistance with moving and with housing.

This post offers intellectual satisfaction, occasional international travel and substantial financial rewards.

This is a splendid opportunity to join Hoechst, one of the world's largest chemical and pharmaceutical companies.

Clinical Pharmacologist

UNITED KINGDOM

We are looking for a Physician with some experience in clinical pharmacology to investigate the absorption, metabolism and excretion of novel compounds at our new Research Establishment in Milton Keynes.

The Physician will be either male or female, ideally aged between 28 and 35, and will already be a Member or Fellow of a Royal College. Although initially the work will be primarily concerned with pharmacokinetics, it is envisaged that there will be an increasing interest in pharmacodynamics.

Close liaison with those personnel performing similar research in animals and also with those in the Development Laboratory will be an essential feature of this post. Moreover, the Physician will be a member of an enthusiastic medical team which will later evaluate the same products in patients.

There will be an initial training period of several weeks in which the appointed doctor will visit company headquarters in Frankfurt to work in the Clinical Pharmacology Laboratory there.

The research effort is international and it is within this international context that the team works.

This is a fascinating opportunity for a doctor to join an existing new venture at the very beginning, a venture supported by Hoechst, one of the largest chemical companies in the world.

A competitive starting salary will be offered and the excellent benefits include an annual bonus, contributory pension scheme and free membership of Private Patients Plan.

No diminution of therapeutic effect.

No danger of misuse.

No significant side effects.

Dosage may be adjusted to individual patient needs.

Used from the start, Intal may help reduce the severity of the condition. "... the longer the patient can be kept free of attacks the less likely asthma is to return."³ used when the attack is under way, thus do not prevent damage to lung tissue. This can result in loss of elasticity of the bronchioles and lay the lungs open to chronic infection.

Only benefit areas which they can reach. Cannot always penetrate to areas in spasm, thus hyperventilation of the unaffected areas can occur while the obstructed areas get little or no relief.

Diminution of therapeutic effect can result in habituation and misuse.

"While a causal relationship between increased use of pressurised aerosol preparations and the epidemic of asthma deaths has not been conclusively established, the circumstantial evidence is so strong that every care should be taken to avoid excessive use of pressurised aerosols for the treatment of asthma in the future."¹

Cardiovascular stimulation. "... that aerosol propellants are potent cardiovascular toxins—has been confirmed over and over in every species tested."²

Convenient, instant use. But convenience must be measured against dependence and possible misuse.

Symptomatic relief only.
