SMOOTH CONTROL OF ALL GRADES OF BENIGN HYPERTENSION WITH FEW
DISTRESSING HAEMODYNAMIC EFFECTS

SMOOTH ONSET OF ACTION ... SMOOTH CONTROL ... NO DEVELOPMENT OF TOLERANCE

BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL, 11 JANUARY 1975

Hypovase provides a notably smooth, sustained response in hypertension. Elevated pressures are reduced in both lying and standing positions with no sudden falls in pressure. This smooth, gradual onset of action, combined with the lack of most common antihypertensive side effects, makes Hypovase particularly well suited to long-term treatment, especially as tolerance to its efficacy has not been reported.

SMOOTH CONTROL MAINTAINED WITH NO DEVELOPMENT OF TOLERANCE

Effective in all grades of benign hypertension

To date, Hypovase has been evaluated clinically in over 1,000 patients with hypertension of all degrees of severity. Improvement of at least one grade of severity has been seen in the majority of patients treated and, in intractable cases, the addition of a thiazide usually brought about further improvement.

Low incidence of orthostatic and other distressing haemodynamic effects

The postural hypotension seen with many other agents is seldom seen with Hypovase. Cardiac output, rather than being depressed, is often actually increased, and there are no adverse cardiac or renal changes.

Effective control through a unique mode of action

Hypovase, unlike any previous antihypertensive agent, produces a direct, specific relaxation of arteriolar smooth muscle to reduce increased peripheral resistance—the major haemodynamic abnormality in essential hypertension.

This action, in effect, produces a normalization of the vasculature and accounts for both long-term efficacy and the significantly low incidence of adverse effects.

"In a group of 14 hypertensive patients a 10-week course of treatment with prazosin [Hypovase], 3 to 7.5 mg./day, produced a significant reduction in mean blood pressure without serious side effects."

Brit. med. J., 1974, 2, 298-300

"Of 24 patients ... only three showed little or no response and in many the blood pressure control has been very satisfactory. There was little postural effect and tolerance was not seen."

New protein is essential for the proliferation of invading bacteria. It consists of a chain of amino acids, linked by peptide bonding, and is formed as the ribosome moves from one triplet codon to the next along the mRNA strand.

Erythrocin 500, by locking positively between the codons within the ribosome, prevents any further movement, bringing protein synthesis to a standstill.

Erythrocin 500 exerts this dramatic effect on those bacteria responsible for the vast majority of infections of the respiratory tract, ENT, skin and soft tissue. And it does it most decisively with one tablet b.d. - a simple convenience your patient will appreciate.

Aminofusin—now available in Britain.

Already well established in Europe as the ideal infusion for parenteral nutrition,

Aminofusin solutions offer complete parenteral nutrition to aid post-operative recovery, encourage wound healing and weight gain and ensure your patients' rapid return to oral feeding.

Aminofusin contains all the essential and semi-essential amino-acids in pure, synthetic, readily assimilable L-form to maintain nitrogen balance. The superiority of Aminofusin is due to the use of pure substances which have been carefully balanced to provide the optimum conditions for protein and tissue synthesis. In addition Aminofusin solutions contain sodium, potassium and vitamins essential for metabolism. The calorie, nitrogen and electrolyte requirements of the average adult in whom oral or tube feeding is impossible can be met by the judicious use of Aminofusin.

One thing you shouldn't

Dermatophagoides pteronyssinus scanning electron micrograph

Migen
asthma immunisation made easy.

sweep under the carpet.

Because, no matter what you do, you can't get rid of Dermatophagoides pteronyssinus, the house dust mite, "... the most common cause of allergic asthma in this country". Brit. med. J., (1970), 2, 501.

The mite is an extremely potent allergen. In fact, it has been calculated that the inhalation of mite material in an amount weighing less than one whole live mite would be capable of precipitating an allergic reaction.

In 1698 Floyer in his "Treatise on Asthma" stated that, "all asthmatics are offended by the least dust made by the sweeping of a room, or making of a bed". But it wasn't until 1964 that the significance of this tiny, semi-transparent creature was first appreciated.

Today, although only 0.3 mm. in length, the common house dust mite has been proved to be a major cause of a disease that disables over 300,000 Britons.

So it does not simply treat the symptoms of asthma - it prevents them. Immunisation against the powerful house dust mite allergen can raise the patient's overall level of tolerance. If he is multi-sensitive he may well find that he no longer reacts to contact with other allergens which have previously provoked attacks. And the stress caused by the fear of attack is reduced.

Migen is the first short course treatment that gives you, the family doctor, real control over asthma.

Migen and Simplicity

There was a time when immunisation was both a complicated and lengthy business. Not so with Migen. Just six injections form a course of treatment for asthma and perennial rhinitis. With each syringe pre-filled to ensure easy administration and accurate dosage.

Migen and Safety

In Migen the active material is adsorbed on to tyrosine - a naturally occurring amino acid which is metabolised in the human body. The active material is therefore released slowly but completely for maximum effectiveness and minimum risk of adverse effects.

Diagnosis

Migen may usually be prescribed on the basis of a careful case history alone. A Diagnostic Aid has been devised to help identify, by case history, those patients who are most suitable for Migen treatment. If the diagnosis is still in doubt after the case study then the Migen Skin Test Kit may be used for confirmation. Both the Diagnostic Aid (which also includes notes for the guidance of patients) and the Skin Test Kit are available on request from Bencard.

Migen

Many products have been advocated for use in the treatment of asthma. Most have drawbacks that you and your patients suffer for the sake of some relief. Now Migen offers you an opportunity to treat the most common form of allergic asthma. From your surgery.

A Thriving Subculture

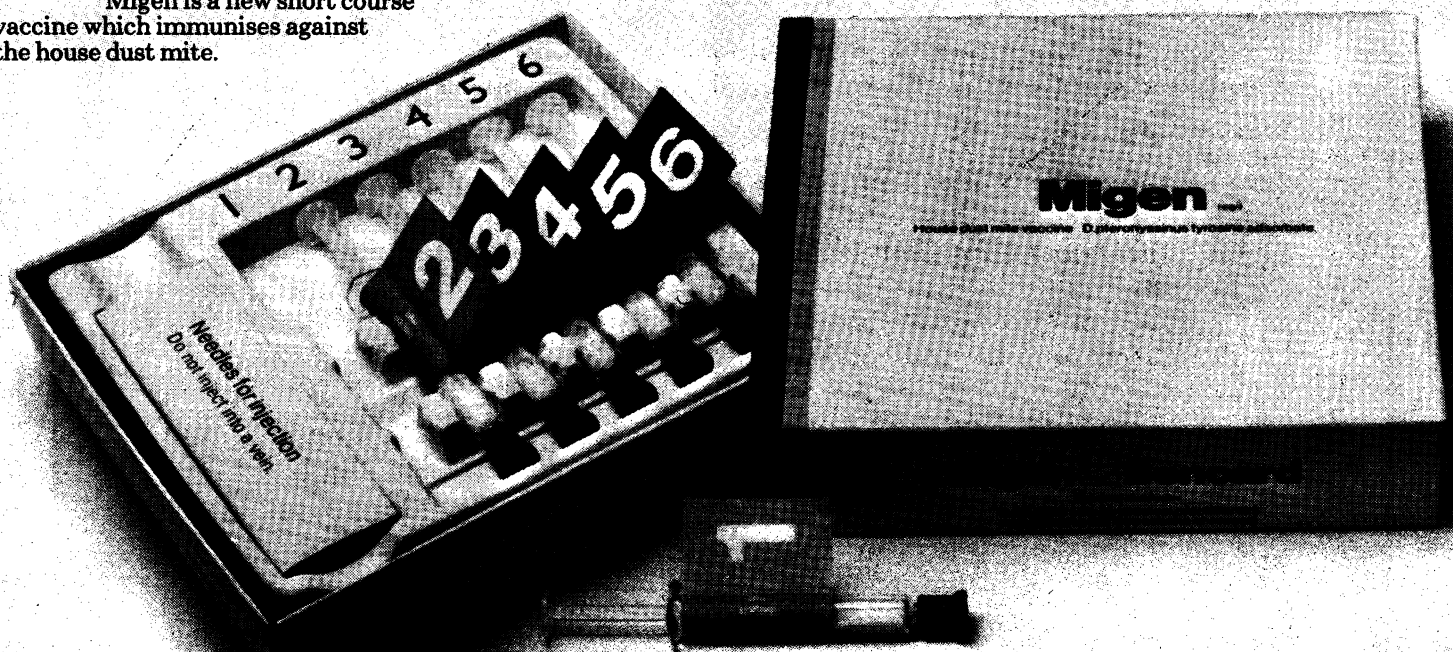

Although the mites will live and breed in any house dust they are most often found on the mattresses and pillows of our beds, close to their staple diet - human skin scales. For most people this thriving subculture means little. But for the allergic asthmatic it could mean the difference between a dream and a nightmare.

Avoidance is Impossible

In the home, it is virtually impossible to remove every trace of the mite. The ubiquitous creature exists in beds, carpets, curtains, cushions - anywhere that human beings and domestic dust come together. Even immaculate dwellings produce dust samples rich in live mites, their excreta and dead remains - all potent allergens. This is why the most effective way of controlling house dust mite sensitivity is immunisation.

Migen - for the prevention of Asthma

Migen is a new short course vaccine which immunises against the house dust mite.

Migen  Bencard

Migen is a tyrosine adsorbed vaccine prepared from pure extract of Dermatophagoides pteronyssinus. Full information on Migen (regd.) is available on request from Bencard, Freepost, Brentford, TW8 9BE.

What on earth's a tub of margarine doing in this Medical Journal?

We know that there's a significant link between saturated fats, serum cholesterol levels and coronary heart disease in man.^{1,2}

There are a number of guidelines for reducing the risk of coronary heart disease. One of the most important is the recommendation to reduce the amount of saturated fat intake in the diet.³

The American Heart Association,⁴ the combined Medical Boards of Norway, Sweden and Finland,⁵ and the National Heart Foundations of Australia and New Zealand,^{6,7} all recommend the reduction of saturated fat intake and an increase in the level of polyunsaturated fatty acids.

Many doctors are recommending a modified fat diet for patients at risk from a heart attack. The change is made easier with Flora.

Flora is an accepted component of a lipid lowering diet.^{8,9} The value of such a diet is indicated by the findings from three first generation clinical trials of primary prevention, which suggested that dietary modifications would reduce the incidence of coronary heart disease.^{10,11,12}

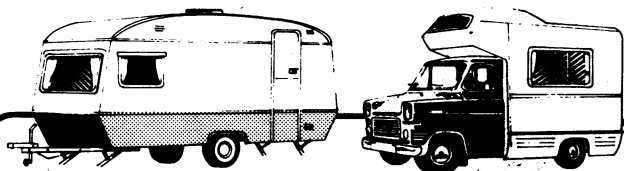

Flora is higher in polyunsaturated fats than any other leading margarine, and is low in saturated fats*. In addition, Flora is a highly acceptable food and so patients will use it if recommended to do so.

Give good advice - recommend Flora.

 At least 50% of Flora's fat content is linoleic essential fatty acid. Flora has a fat content of not less than 80% of the total product and is sold in half pound tubs.*

Important advance in HBsAg Detection

Serum hepatitis and its transmission by the parenteral route is well-known. The tragic epidemic in the renal dialysis unit at Edinburgh only a few years ago is a reminder to hospital staff of the small but realistic risk of handling blood from patients in a high risk area. Even a simple blood transfusion can expose a patient to the risk of serum hepatitis. In this connection a recent leading article in The Lancet stated that 'the screening of blood donors in an attempt to reduce the instance of post-transfusion hepatitis has clearly been desirable'.¹

The same leader reviews techniques available for the detection of HBsAg and reports a new test system which it concludes is 'a substantial advance in the screening of sera for HBsAg'.¹

This encouraging news is the result of British research from the Wellcome Research Laboratories where there is unparalleled experience of the scientific principles used in the new test. It is an haemagglutination test using nucleated turkey cells which enable it to be performed rapidly in microtitre plates. Results can be available in half an hour and the test can be used in semi-automated procedures, lending itself particularly to screening. Indeed, one group of workers has specifically reported upon its usefulness in the tropics² which will make the new test a valuable export earner for this country. The test is available from Wellcome Reagents Ltd under the trade name of Hepatest.*

The case is clear for screening all blood donations for serum hepatitis for the protection of the personnel who handle the blood and the patient who receives it.

"The haemagglutination test appears to be a more suitable test for blood donor screening than radioimmunoassay on grounds of speed, simplicity and cost".³

These authors go on to point out that while the turkey cell haemagglutination test is considerably more sensitive than other methods presently used for screening purposes, it is slightly less sensitive than Radio-Immunoassay which of course requires expensive equipment and is tedious and time-consuming. Another group of workers commented that:-

"This H.A. test may eventually become the method of choice for detecting HBsAg in regional transfusion centres".³

Ideally, there should be screening for hepatitis B antigen wherever there is 'open' blood present whether this be in the blood transfusion centre, the GP's surgery or in the pathology laboratory testing routine blood samples. In practice this ideal is clearly not possible at the present time. Once identified, patients suffering from or carriers of serum hepatitis can be treated appropriately by their physician but, more importantly, should such a patient enter hospital, he can be treated with the appropriate techniques of barrier nursing, while if he has a blood sample taken this too can be treated with the circumcision necessary.

The commonly known high risk patients have been documented:-

Jaundiced patients, those with a history of hepatitis or other liver disease, unexplained arthritis with acute on-set (patients with a positive RA test), drug addicts, tattooed patients and social problem cases, mongols and other mental retards living in institutions, renal dialysis cases, some extracorporeal circulation cases and most cases of sexually transmitted disease (particularly in male homosexuals) and all those patients presenting with PUO.

This is an area of vital interest to the patient, hospital and laboratory staff. The new test for hepatitis B antigen now being introduced by Wellcome Reagents Limited most certainly lends itself more than any previous screening technique to routine application at all points where 'open' blood is present, on the grounds of its simplicity, degree of accuracy, low cost and rapidity.

The hospital and laboratory environment should be safer by virtue of this new fast-indicator screening test being employed.

Information about its availability and details of its technical aspects are currently being circulated to staff in pathology laboratories. Wellcome Reagents Limited will be glad to send further information about Hepatest* on request.

"For some people summer comes too soon"

Mid-Winter may seem early to start thinking about summer and the symptoms it brings to hayfever sufferers – unless you are a hayfever sufferer, in which case summer always comes too soon.

For hayfever patients treated with Pollinex, summer can be an enjoyable experience, perhaps for the first time.

Recent clinical trials¹ have shown that a single three-dose course of Pollinex produces substantial improvement in some 77% of patients. It is considered that the benefit following a second year's pre-seasonal course may be greater.

In Pollinex twelve chemically modified grass pollens are adsorbed onto a tyrosine base to allow slow and complete release of active material, ensuring maximum effectiveness and minimum risk of side effects.

The three injections which make up a complete course of Pollinex are given pre-seasonally. Pre-filled disposable syringes ensure accuracy of dosage and ease of administration. Simply prescribe "One course Pollinex."

Your hayfever patients are likely to find summer can't come soon enough.

The difference which takes over where the tetracyclines have done all you can expect of them in bronchitis—

so that significantly greater relief of all clinical symptoms can be demonstrated.⁵

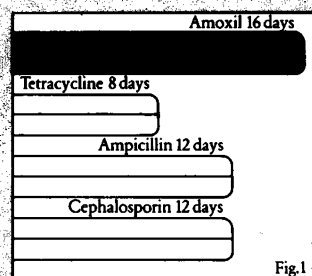

The difference that allows Amoxil to penetrate bronchial membrane barriers regardless of the degree of inflammation.⁴

The difference in absorption that means Amoxil can be taken t.d.s. with or without food—which means it is simpler for patients to take properly. To these differences must be added Amoxil's safety and the fact that it is one of the least expensive therapies for respiratory infections. No wonder doctors everywhere are recognising that Amoxil makes all the difference.

Antibiotics

¶ In the cases of our severely sick in-patients, which of course cannot be compared with milder cases of out-patient practice, we found with amoxycillin [Amoxil] a clearly longer relapse rate than with other preparations.¹⁹ (These included various tetracyclines, ampicillin, chloramphenicol and cephalosporin).

¶ Amoxycillin [Amoxil] was more effective than oxytetracycline when all the patients treated were considered together. Its superiority, however, was most marked in the case of the less severely affected patients, in whom the differences were highly significant.⁵⁹

¶ The demonstration that amoxycillin [Amoxil] penetrates into bronchial secretions as efficiently when the mucosa is uninflamed as when it is inflamed, suggests that clearance of bacteria from the lower respiratory tract should be more easily accomplished with this drug than ampicillin. Further, there is the implication that organisms may be more readily cleared from the upper respiratory tract, which frequently acts as a reservoir of potential pathogens from which relapse of lower respiratory infection may stem.⁴⁹

brand of enteric-coated aspirin with paracetamol and codeine

*Trade Mark

The usual advice is to go to bed with a couple of aspirin. But aspirin can cause a problem – gastric irritation. Much better to go to bed with a couple of Safapryn-Co tablets. This formulation provides all the benefits of aspirin without the risk of gastric irritation. In Safapryn-Co, the aspirin is enteric-coated to pass intact through the stomach and dissolve in the alkaline fluid of the small intestine. Hence, there is no direct contact between the aspirin and the gastric mucosa to cause irritation.

But good toleration is only half the story. Each tablet contains:

enteric-coated aspirin/ paracetamol/codeine	to relieve the aches and pains
codeine	to reduce the cough

(Each sugar-coated tablet contains 300 mg. aspirin as an enteric-coated core, 250 mg. paracetamol and 8 mg. codeine phosphate).

VENTOLIN WORKS IN CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

"Salbutamol (Ventolin) is probably the most effective aerosol and also carries least dangers of cardiotoxicity, an important consideration in elderly patients who may have ischaemic heart disease in addition to chronic bronchitis."

(Update 1973, 6, 1807)

The hazard of respiratory infection often makes antibiotic cover the primary consideration in the therapy of the so-called "English Disease". But even when this has been eliminated, the chronic bronchitic often has other problems—chronic breathlessness is one. Whenever reversible bronchospasm can be demonstrated (e.g. by taking Peak Flow Readings) then bronchodilators are indicated. Ventolin Inhaler provides effective, selective metered-dose aerosol therapy—either for routine use or for when distressing attacks of dyspnoea supervene. Ventolin Tablets 2mg and 4mg are for use wherever an oral bronchodilator is preferred. Ventolin Inhaler contains salbutamol BP. Ventolin Tablets contain salbutamol sulphate BP.
