VENTOLIN WORKS IN ASTHMA

"Salbutamol (Ventolin) produced something approaching the maximal reversal of airways obstruction that can be achieved by an adrenergic agent."

(Brit. J. Dis. Chest 1969, 63, 165)

Ventolin Inhaler is considered by many doctors to be the bronchodilator therapy of choice. Its action is highly selective and prolonged, thus making it suitable for continuous use. Alternatively its rapid action may be employed to relieve the acute attack of episodic asthma.

Ventolin Tablets 2mg and 4mg are for use whenever an oral bronchodilator is preferred.

Ventolin Syrup is fruit flavoured and readily accepted by asthmatic children.

Ventolin Spandets employ a unique sustained action formulation and are particularly valuable in asthmatics where nocturnal bronchospasm is a problem.

Ventolin Inhaler contains salbutamol BP. All the oral preparations of Ventolin contain salbutamol BP as sulphate.

Cardiovascular Diseases in the Tropics (1974)

The book presents the present state of knowledge regarding many conditions previously thought to be peculiar to the temperate and developed countries and also deals with those disorders peculiar to the tropical situation. It provides an up-to-date review suitable both for clinical and epidemiological work and for further research into these disorders.

Price £4.50 (U.S.A. $13.50)

A New Look at Infectious Diseases (1974)

Infectious diseases remain as much a medical challenge as ever, and the articles collected in book form under the title A New Look at Infectious Diseases covers many aspects of diagnosis and treatment. The widespread use of immunization, with its occasional hazards, the use of newer antibiotics, and increased risk of spread by travel are all dealt with, as well as the problems of diagnosis produced by present day doctors' unfamiliarity with many diseases which were formerly so common and widespread.

Medicine in Old Age (1974)

The series of twenty two articles published in the British Medical Journal throughout the winter have been collected in book form as a convenient source of reference for general practitioners. The emphasis is on remedial mechanisms, and the use that can be made of psychogeriatric and social services in keeping the elderly healthy and relatively independent members of the community.

Today's Drugs/3 (1973)

The third and final volume of the 'Today's Drugs' series, like its predecessors, is based on BMJ articles revised and brought up to date by their authors. It deals with respiratory agents, drugs acting on the central nervous system, and a miscellaneous group of drugs.

Non-sedative.

'Vivalan' has little or no sedative effect<sup>1</sup>.
This means that patients remain alert and active and can continue with their normal daily activities.

Rapid acting.

Controlled studies<sup>2</sup> have demonstrated that patients can show a marked improvement in as little as 3 days from the start of 'Vivalan' therapy.

Widely effective.

'Vivalan' is effective in all types of depression including mixed anxiety-depressive states<sup>3</sup>.

Clinical trials have shown that as many as 70% of patients respond favourably to 'Vivalan' therapy.<sup>2,4</sup>

VIVALAN

Prescribing Information

Presentation

'Vivalan' tablets, each containing viloxazine hydrochloride equivalent to 50 mg of viloxazine, are round, biconvex, yellow, film-coated and imprinted with the name 'Vivalan'.

Use

Antidepressant.

Depression

'Vivalan' is effective in all types and severities of depression, including those cases with a marked anxiety component, and may be used concurrently with ECT. It is able to control all the symptoms of depression. As 'Vivalan' has no sedative properties, patients remain alert during the daytime. 'Vivalan' has no hypnotic effect.

Depression in Epileptics

'Vivalan', unlike the tricyclic antidepressants, has anti-convulsant properties, and is, therefore, of value in the treatment of depression in epileptic patients.

Depression in the Elderly

Because of its lack of sedative and anticholinergic effects, 'Vivalan' is well tolerated in the elderly.

Dosage and Administration

Adults

Most patients respond to between 150–300 mg/day. Therapy may be started with either one tablet three times a day, or two tablets twice a day with meals. The onset of anti-depressive effect is usually seen in the first 5–10 days of treatment, and, if no effect has been seen in a fortnight, the dose should be increased. The maximum daily dose should not exceed eight tablets.

Children

Due to absence of clinical experience in children under the age of 14 years, 'Vivalan' is not recommended in such patients.

Contraindications, Warnings, etc.

There are no specific contraindications to the use of 'Vivalan'. Epileptic patients established on phenytoin may become liable to develop phenytoin toxicity if 'Vivalan' is added, and caution is, therefore, advised in their co-administration. Patients being treated with antihypertensive agents such as debrisoquine, guanethidine and bethanidine may require restabilising when 'Vivalan' is introduced into the therapeutic regimen. No marked interaction with alcohol occurs.

Pregnancy

No adverse effects have been seen in teratogenic studies in animals. There is no clinical experience of using 'Vivalan' in pregnancy. On basic principles, its use in the first trimester is to be avoided.

Side Effects

'Vivalan' is generally well tolerated and side effects are mild and transient. An upper gastrointestinal disturbance with, e.g. nausea, loss of appetite, may be seen, but this usually disappears in a few days. As 'Vivalan' is not a tricyclic antidepressant, it does not produce the anticholinergic, sedative and hypnotic side effects of those drugs, neither does it produce excessive weight gain. 'Vivalan' is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor and dietary restrictions are not required.

Overdosage

Overdosage should be treated on general principles; there is no specific antidote. An unsuccessful suicidal attempt with 5g viloxazine together with a quantity of oxazepam and trimeprazine produced 24 hour coma. Cardiovascular system and respiration were unaffected. Treatment—lavage.

Pharmaceutical Precautions

Legal Category

There is no legal restriction on sale or supply. It is available only on the prescription of a medical practitioner.

"For some people summer comes too soon"

Mid-Winter may seem early to start thinking about summer and the symptoms it brings to hayfever sufferers – unless you are a hayfever sufferer, in which case summer always comes too soon.

For hayfever patients treated with Pollinex, summer can be an enjoyable experience, perhaps for the first time.

Recent clinical trials<sup>1</sup> have shown that a single three-dose course of Pollinex produces substantial improvement in some 77% of patients. It is considered that the benefit following a second year's pre-seasonal course may be greater.

In Pollinex twelve chemically modified grass pollens are adsorbed onto a tyrosine base to allow slow and complete release of active material, ensuring maximum effectiveness and minimum risk of side effects.

The three injections which make up a complete course of Pollinex are given pre-seasonally. Pre-filled disposable syringes ensure accuracy of dosage and ease of administration. Simply prescribe "One course Pollinex."

Your hayfever patients are likely to find summer can't come soon enough.

National Health Service Greenwich & Bexley Family Practitioner Committee Guy's Hospital Medical School

THAMESMEAD

Thamesmead is a new community on the south bank of the river Thames astride the boundary of the London Boroughs of Greenwich and Bexley. A community health programme is being developed which serves as a teaching unit for medical, dental and other students. The population is being introduced in stages and will ultimately number 50,000 people. A general medical practitioner is therefore now required to establish the group for the next stages.

The successful applicant will be eligible for a Type D Initial Practice Allowances which takes the form of a guarantee that the doctor's income will be made up to a sum agreed with the Family Practitioner Committee. Under a recent agreement the terms of this Allowance have been improved.

Alternatively the doctor appointed may have less experience than would normally be required under the Type D Initial Practice Allowance but in these circumstances he could work initially in conjunction with the existing group practice at Lakeside Health Centre.

The Lakeside Health Centre which now serves about 10,000 people in the southern area of Thamesmead is staffed by 5 doctors all of whom hold academic appointments in the Department of General Practice at Guy's Hospital Medical School. It is expected that the doctor appointed will join in the teaching and research programme and he will be offered a part-time appointment as lecturer or senior lecturer.

Pending the completion of the next health centre, the new doctor will work from temporary accommodation, but some of the facilities of the existing Lakeside Health Centre will be available. He will be supported by nurses and other staff from the Area Health Authority.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Administrator, Greenwich & Bexley Family Practitioner Committee, 2nd Floor Morgan Grampian House, Coldwood Street, Woolwich SE18.

Further information may also be obtained from the Secretary, Department of General Practice, Guy's Hospital Medical School, London Bridge, SE1.

The closing date for receipt of completed application forms is 4th March, 1975.

UNIVERSITY OF NEWCASTLE New South Wales FACULTY OF MEDICINE

Applications are invited for appointment to the following Foundation Chairs within the newly established Faculty of Medicine:

PROFESSOR OF HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY

The successful applicant will be required to plan and direct the teaching of Human Physiology to undergraduate medical students and to a limited number of students within the Faculty of Science. A highly integrated medical curriculum is envisaged, so that while the greatest concentration of teaching is likely to occur in the second year of the curriculum, the Professor and his staff will also be involved in regular collaborative teaching exercises throughout the clinical years. The possession of a medical qualification and a record of clinically relevant research would therefore be highly desirable; the possibility exists that, by mutual agreement, the title of the successful applicant could be changed to that of Professor of Medicine (Physiology).

PROFESSOR OF COMMUNITY MEDICINE

The successful applicant will be required to plan and direct the teaching of Community Medicine. He will also be appointed as Adviser in Community Medicine to the Hunter Region of the Health Commission of New South Wales.

The School is committed to the development of an educational programme which will place a strong and continuing emphasis on community medicine. The Professor and staff, working in association with the Health Commission of New South Wales, will be required to develop suitable locations for undergraduate teaching in both urban and rural areas, in which students can experience the entire range of community health problems from primary care through to rehabilitation and the management of chronic illness. The Health Commission of New South Wales has agreed to provide full access to all community care facilities for teaching purposes. In the capacity as Regional Adviser, the Professor will assist the Regional Director in the planning and staffing of community health care services and act as consultant to the physicians in charge of the community care teams which are being provided to serve populations of between 25,000 and 50,000 people.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF MEDICAL EDUCATION

A person with appropriate qualifications is sought to head the proposed Division of Medical Education and Programme Evaluation. This post will include responsibility for the development and utilisation of the substantial Audio-visual Resources Centre which is to be included in the Faculty's first building.

The successful applicant will be expected to be available for consultation by all members of the academic staff of the Medical School on the development of programme objectives, the selection of appropriate teaching strategies, the use of technological resources and the choice of assessment techniques. Close collaboration with the proposed Division of Postgraduate Studies is also envisaged. A medically qualified appointee will be able to maintain appropriate contact with his professional discipline, as a suitable appointment will be negotiated for him within the Hunter Region of the Health Commission of New South Wales.

Applicants should be able to demonstrate, whether or not they are in possession of a medical qualification, that they are experienced in the theory and practice of education, and in particular medical education. A higher academic qualification in education would be a distinct advantage.

PROFESSOR OF ANATOMY

The successful applicant will be required to plan and direct the teaching of Human Anatomy to undergraduate medical students and to a limited number of students within the Faculty of Science. It is currently proposed that a highly integrated basic science curriculum should be developed, so that the fundamental teaching of human structure and function is substantially encompassed within one co-ordinated course.

It is intended that the teaching of the morphological sciences should continue into the phase of intensive clinical training, and that facilities for the teaching of topographical and regional anatomy will be developed in association with the teaching hospitals.

PROFESSOR OF MEDICAL BIOCHEMISTRY

The successful applicant will be required to plan and direct the teaching of Medical Biochemistry to undergraduate medical students. It is envisaged that this teaching will be concentrated in the first and second years of the proposed five-year curriculum, but that the Professor and his staff will also be involved in regular collaborative teaching exercises during the later years of the course, demonstrating the relevance of biochemical principles and techniques to the diagnosis and management of clinical problems.

The Professor, by virtue of his appointment, will be the Regional Adviser in Medical Biochemistry to the Hunter Region of the Health Commission of New South Wales. In accordance with the Medical School's policy of developing the closest possible links with the local health services, the Regional Biochemistry service will possess the most advanced, computerized equipment available, located at the Royal Newcastle Hospital. For this and other reasons the possession of a medical qualification would be highly desirable; in the absence of a medical qualification, substantial experience in the application of biochemical theory to clinical problems will be essential.

There is already in existence on the University campus a Department of Biological Sciences with a strongly developed interest in human biological problems, with which close co-operation is envisaged.

PROFESSOR OF BEHAVIOURAL SCIENCE IN RELATION TO MEDICINE

The successful applicant will be required to plan and direct the teaching of Behavioural Science to undergraduate medical students. It is also intended that he should be involved in the continuing education programme of the Medical School, in accordance with the School's policy of developing the closest possible links with the local health services.

The School is committed to the development of an educational programme which will place strong emphasis on community medicine. As a corollary of the orientation, a substantial strand of the curriculum will be concerned with Behavioural Science, in order to provide an appropriate data base in topic areas such as the sociology of health and disease, human communication, personal, social and cultural development, the dynamics of human behaviour and sociology of professions.

Candidates should be able to demonstrate the relevance of their experience to the problems of medical education and medical practice.

There is already in existence on the University campus a well-established Department of Psychology with a strongly developed interest in community health problems, with which close co-operation is envisaged. A Chair of Sociology within the Faculty of Arts has also been approved.

GENERAL

The salary for a Professor is $A22,750 per annum and for an Associate Professor $A19,500 per annum. Where the position carries clinical responsibilities, a loading of $A4,000 per annum is payable for a Professor and an Associate Professor.

Members of the academic staff enjoy a limited right of consultant practice. The University reserves the right to fill these posts by invitation.

The successful applicants may be offered immediate appointments as consultants to the Medical School. In Community Medicine, Medical Biochemistry and Medical Education, the appointees should be available for full-time duty from January, 1976; in Human Physiology, Behavioural Science in Relation to Medicine and Anatomy, the appointees should be on campus full-time as early as possible thereafter, but certainly no later than July, 1976.

The Foundation Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, Professor David Maddison, is in Britain until 14th March, 1975, and interested persons are invited to make contact with him through The Assistant Secretary General, Association of Commonwealth Universities (Apts), 36 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PF. Further details concerning the Medical School, conditions of appointment, superannuation and method of application may be obtained from the same source. Applications close on 1st April, 1975.

much better to go

Safapryn-Co*

brand of enteric-coated aspirin
with paracetamol and codeine

*Trade Mark

The usual advice is to go to bed with a couple of aspirin. But aspirin can cause a problem – gastric irritation. Much better to go to bed with a couple of Safapryn-Co tablets. This formulation provides all the benefits of aspirin without the risk of gastric irritation. In Safapryn-Co, the aspirin is enteric-coated to pass intact through the stomach and dissolve in the alkaline fluid of the small intestine. Hence, there is no direct contact between the aspirin and the gastric mucosa to cause irritation.

But good toleration is only half the story. Each tablet contains:

enteric-coated aspirin/ paracetamol/codeine	to relieve the aches and pains
codeine	to reduce the cough

(Each sugar-coated tablet contains 300 mg. aspirin as an enteric-coated core, 250 mg. paracetamol and 8 mg. codeine phosphate).

Listen to the difference between Amoxil and other antibiotics

The difference which has given significantly longer periods of relief from acute-exacerbations of chronic bronchitis than tetracyclines, ampicillin and cephalosporin.<sup>1</sup>

The difference that makes Amoxil more effective than ampicillin in the treatment of chest infections.<sup>1,2,3,4</sup>

The difference which takes over where the tetracyclines have done all you can expect of them in bronchitis—

so that significantly greater relief of all clinical symptoms can be demonstrated.<sup>5</sup>

The difference that allows Amoxil to penetrate bronchial membrane barriers regardless of the degree of inflammation.<sup>4</sup>

The difference in absorption that means Amoxil can be taken t.d.s. with or without food—which means it is simpler for patients to take properly. To these differences must be added Amoxil's safety and the fact that it is one of the least expensive therapies for respiratory infections. No wonder doctors everywhere are recognising that Amoxil makes all the difference.

Antibiotics

¶ In the cases of our severely sick in-patients, which of course cannot be compared with milder cases of out-patient practice, we found with amoxycillin [Amoxil] a clearly longer relapse rate than with other preparations.<sup>19</sup> (These included various tetracyclines, ampicillin, chloramphenicol and cephalosporin).

¶ Amoxycillin [Amoxil] was more effective than oxytetracycline when all the patients treated were considered together. Its superiority, however, was most marked in the case of the less severely affected patients, in whom the differences were highly significant.<sup>59</sup>

¶ The demonstration that amoxycillin [Amoxil] penetrates into bronchial secretions as efficiently when the mucosa is uninfamed as when it is inflamed, suggests that clearance of bacteria from the lower respiratory tract should be more easily accomplished with this drug than ampicillin. Further, there is the implication that organisms may be more readily cleared from the upper respiratory tract, which frequently acts as a reservoir of potential pathogens from which relapse of lower respiratory infection may stem.<sup>49</sup>

Amoxil

Makes all the difference in respiratory infections.
