

Don't let the grass grow under your feet

This year, don't let hayfever start for your patients. Prescribe Pollinex now and give them a carefree summer.

Pollinex is the latest breakthrough in hayfever prevention.

In Pollinex, twelve chemically modified grass pollens are adsorbed on a tyrosine base to allow slow and complete release of active material, ensuring unimpaired effectiveness and minimum risk of side effects.

A course of Pollinex consists of three injections which may be given at weekly intervals.

The pre-seasonal treatment can therefore be completed in only fifteen days, to give your hayfever patient protection right through the summer.

In a recent clinical trial¹ a single three-dose course of Pollinex produced substantial improvement in some 77% of patients.

Don't let the grass grow into hayfever problems.

Prescribe one course Pollinex and give your patients a summer they can enjoy.

Fibre in the Diet: is it only a precaution against constipation?

The medical profession has long accepted fibre in the diet as a prophylactic and therapeutic measure against constipation. But fibre—or lack of it—is now a key factor in much current thinking on other pathological states.

A number of leading gastroenterologists believe that those diets with a low-fibre content, which induce constipation, may also eventually lead to other diseases: diverticulosis, cancer of the colon, haemorrhoids in pregnancy and ischaemic heart disease.

Certainly more evidence will be needed to support their hypotheses before they can be regarded as conclusive, but it is now widely accepted by those who subscribe to them, that a daily intake of 2–3 grammes of cereal fibre is a reasonable precaution.

Kellogg's All-Bran provides dietary fibre in palatable form; it can be enjoyed as a breakfast cereal or as a cooking ingredient; it is not habit forming; and a 1–2 oz. serving a day will raise the dietary fibre intake to a satisfactory level and can safely be prescribed for the treatment of constipation for those with a low-residue diet and as an aid to the digestion of any normal person.

If you would like further details, please send for Kellogg's 'Significance of Fibre in the Diet'.

Its sections include: 'The Composition and Milling of Wheat'; 'Processing and Composition and Nutritive Value of Kellogg's Products'; 'Diet and Disease' and a full bibliography.

A NEW JOURNAL TO BE PUBLISHED APRIL 1975

Journal of medical ethics

The Journal of the Society for the Study of Medical Ethics

Editor: A. V. Campbell Consulting Editors: A. S. Duncan and C. M. Fletcher

The practice of medicine today raises many complex problems of general concern to society. Rapid advances in, for example, genetics, organ transplantation, techniques for fertilization and termination of pregnancy, let alone the prolongation of life and growing public concern about death, dying and terminal care, have all produced both clinical and moral dilemmas. "Almost imperceptibly, medical progress has posed the community with problems that will need all the skill of lawyers, moralists, and theologians if the dignity of life is to be maintained", as 'The Times' medical correspondent has observed.

The Journal of Medical Ethics has thus been established, with a multidisciplinary Editorial Board, to promote the study of medico-moral problems. Through the Journal it is aimed to encourage a high academic standard for this developing subject and to influence the quality of both professional and public discussion.

The Journal includes papers on all aspects of medical ethics; analyses ethical concepts and theories; and features case conferences and comment on clinical practice. Published quarterly by the Society for the Study of Medical Ethics, it includes also book reviews and details of lectures and symposia on issues raised by the practice of medicine.

THE CONSERVATIONIST

Aldactone 100 will help you to avoid the major problems associated with long-term administration of diuretics, through conservation rather than by replacement.

Given from the start of diuretic therapy, just one Aldactone 100 tablet daily helps prevent potassium imbalance and loss of diuretic effectiveness.

Aldactone 100 should be administered together with your regular proximal diuretic such as thiazides or frusemide.

By making Aldactone 100 the foundation for your diuretic therapy in oedema and hypertension you eliminate all need for potassium supplementation, you promote and maintain an effective diuresis and ensure patient co-operation through acceptable therapy and simple dosage.

Become a conservationist. Preserve the well-being of your oedematous and hypertensive patients by basing your diuretic therapy on Aldactone 100.

Aldactone is available as spironolactone 100mg and 25mg. Aldactone and Searle are registered trade marks.

Aldactone 100 the best foundation for effective diuretic therapy.

What would you give to be able to arrest the progress of Arthritic Disease?

New clinical and biochemical evidence has shown that unlike other anti-arthritis Prinalgin capsules effect a significant reduction in the severity of rheumatoid arthritis.^{6,7}

The implications of this in the patient with early inflammatory arthritis is that only Prinalgin can offer in the short term good control of symptoms...^{1,2,3,4}

Several studies have shown that Prinalgin is either as effective as or superior to other anti-arthritis in providing:

- relief of pain
- easier mornings
- better gripping ability
- less joint swelling
- and fewer inflamed joints

...and in the long term a reduction in the severity of the disease.

Comparative studies of two years or more have shown that patients on Prinalgin migrated to less severe disease categories (A.R.A. rating scale fig. 1) whilst those on indomethacin showed no marked improvement.⁶ Detailed biochemical evidence supports the conclusion that Prinalgin exerted a fundamental effect on the disease process itself.⁷ Furthermore, intolerance, particularly gastro-intestinal, was uncommon.

A.R.A. Severity Classification

The American Rheumatism Association (A.R.A.) severity classification is accepted as providing a standard for the classification of the severity of a patient's rheumatoid arthritis. Measurements are taken of objective physical parameters: grip strength, morning stiffness, joint index and functional capacity, and a score given for each of these. The total score decides the severity of the disease in the individual and hence the A.R.A. class. Therefore a patient with very severe rheumatoid arthritis could on this system be placed in class H or I while one with mild disease would be in class A, B, or C.

The remarkable comment of one GP on a patient with osteoarthritis—and just one among many—testifies of the genuine and often striking improvement that 'Orudis' can bring in the treatment of arthritis.

Recent clinical studies in more than 5000 arthritics¹ have shown that up to 90 per cent of patients respond favourably to 'Orudis', with reduced pain and stiffness and increased mobility, and that as many as 80 per cent experience no side-effects whatever.

These are the facts. A brighter outlook for your patient, fewer problems for you, a better prospect all round. In arthritis isn't 'Orudis' only logical—from the very beginning?

Listen to the difference between Amoxil and other

The difference which has given significantly longer periods of relief from acute exacerbations of chronic bronchitis than tetracyclines, ampicillin and cephalosporin.¹ The difference that makes Amoxil more effective than ampicillin in the treatment of chest infections.^{1,2,3,4}

The difference which takes over where the tetracyclines have done all you can expect of them in bronchitis—

so that significantly greater relief of all clinical symptoms can be demonstrated.⁵

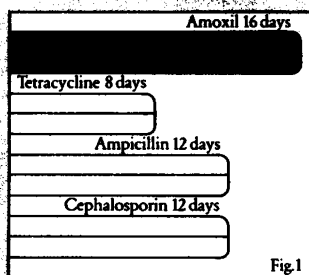

The difference that allows Amoxil to penetrate bronchial membrane barriers regardless of the degree of inflammation.⁴

The difference in absorption that means Amoxil can be taken t.d.s. with or without food—which means it is simpler for patients to take properly. To these differences must be added Amoxil's safety and the fact that it is one of the least expensive therapies for respiratory infections. No wonder doctors everywhere are recognising that Amoxil makes all the difference.

6 In the cases of our severely sick in-patients, which of course cannot be compared with milder cases of out-patient practice, we found with amoxycillin [Amoxil] a clearly longer relapse rate than with other preparations.¹⁹ (These included various tetracyclines, ampicillin, chloramphenicol and cephalosporin).

6 Amoxycillin [Amoxil] was more effective than oxytetracycline when all the patients treated were considered together. Its superiority, however, was most marked in the case of the less severely affected patients, in whom the differences were highly significant.⁵⁹

6 The demonstration that amoxycillin [Amoxil] penetrates into bronchial secretions as efficiently when the mucosa is uninfamed as when it is inflamed, suggests that clearance of bacteria from the lower respiratory tract should be more easily accomplished with this drug than ampicillin. Further, there is the implication that organisms may be more readily cleared from the upper respiratory tract, which frequently acts as a reservoir of potential pathogens from which relapse of lower respiratory infection may stem.⁴⁹

Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or sex.

Applicants should state name, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. A starting salary like that would put you in the top 5% of Canadian wage earners. So you'd live well, particularly well if you add in all the fringe benefits enjoyed by commissioned officers in the Canadian Forces.

Not only would you live well to start with, but (more importantly) you could look forward to steady career advancement and to a future filled with opportunities for professional growth. You'd enjoy all the advantages of living in a country with a relatively stable economy, a rate of inflation significantly lower than most and a future which looks brighter (according to leading economists) than that of almost any other industrialized nation in the western world.

If you are a licensed medical practitioner, a British subject, preferably (but not necessarily) under the age of 35, and interested in an exciting and rewarding future in a country with tremendous potential, then please get in touch with us. Send a resume of your qualifications to Canadian Defence Liaison Staff, 1 Grosvenor Square, London, W.1., and we'll mail you complete details of salaries, career opportunities, relocation arrangements and service fringe benefits.

*As a licensed medical practitioner, $22,380 (approximately £9,500) is the least you can expect. Depending on qualifications and experience, your starting salary could be as high as $29,760 (approximately £12,600).

New protein is essential for the proliferation of invading bacteria. It consists of a chain of amino acids, linked by peptide bonding, and is formed as the ribosome moves from one triplet codon to the next along the mRNA strand.

Erythrocin 500, by locking positively between the codons within the ribosome, prevents any further movement, bringing protein synthesis to a standstill.

Erythrocin 500 exerts this dramatic effect on those bacteria responsible for the vast majority of infections of the respiratory tract, ENT, skin and soft tissue. And it does it most decisively with one tablet b.d. — a simple convenience your patient will appreciate.
