Behavioral Pharmacology

Susan D. Iversen and Leslie L. Iversen

In this book the techniques and principles for the analysis of behaviour and of drug actions in the central nervous system are concisely described, with consistent reference to original laboratory work and to current research. Famine and Human Development

The Dutch Hunger Winter of 1944-45

Mervyn Susser, Zena Stein, Gerhard Saenger, and Francis Marolla

This book describes a comprehensive study of the long-term consequences for children conceived and born during that period. Paper covers £4.50 Oxford Medical Publications

Fluid Behaviour in Biological Systems

Slimming with Bread

Some typical slimmers' questions answered by

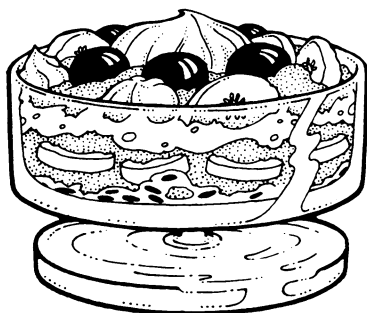

Derek Miller

Lecturer in Nutrition at London University

1. Should I give up bread completely?

"A slimming diet certainly may contain bread. In fact, it's a convenient method of ensuring that a diet contains an adequate supply of most nutrients, since bread provides an important quantity of protein, vitamins, and minerals. If you give up bread, you will need to get these from other more expensive foods. It's also good training for maintaining weight after your target weight is achieved; because one learns the calorie value of ordinary foods, rather than knowing only about so-called 'slimming' foods which you don't intend to use for the rest of your life."

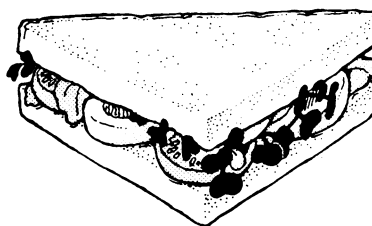

2. Must I cut out all high-calorie foods?

"It's necessary to reduce your total calorie intake. For many people, it's easier to cut down on high calorie foods like fat which, incidentally, contain more than 3 times the number of calories in bread on an ounce-for-ounce basis. Really low-calorie foods (e.g. lettuce and tomatoes) are clearly an advantage and can be used as sandwich fillings."

3. What's the best way to avoid an expensive slimming diet?

"Many slimming diets are expensive, some very expensive. There's no need for this. If you're going to eat less food, diets should be cheaper than normal. The easiest thing to do is to stick to ordinary foods and learn their calorie values. Generally it is more sensible to cut down on 'empty calories', i.e. foods which contain little or no nutrients, such as sugar confectionery; but for those with a sweet tooth, small indulgences can be included, so long as they are calorie-counted."

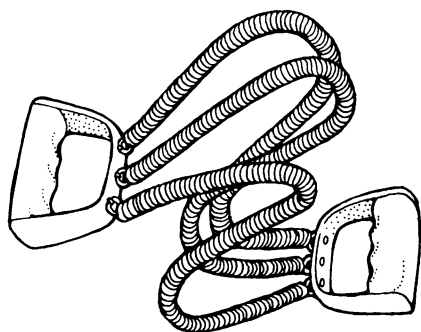

4. Are regular sandwich lunches a bad thing on their own?

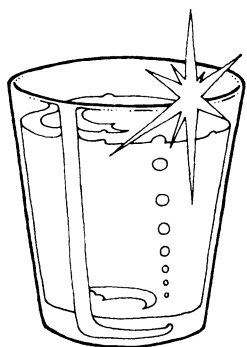

"It's a common fallacy that hot meals are essential for good nutrition. But this is not so. Most sandwich lunches are highly nutritious, but slimmers should avoid high calorie fillings."

5. How much help is exercise, and what kinds help most?

"The energy cost of exercise is disappointingly small. To lose weight by exercise alone is almost impossible unless you change your occupation and become a coal miner or lumberjack."

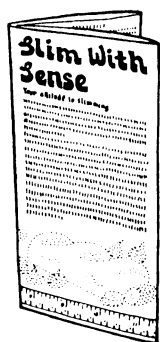

A weekend game of golf helps very little. On the other hand, exercise may help the successful slimmer to improve her shape by increasing muscle tone and reducing flab. The exercise of particular muscle groups can improve measurements—but has little effect on the weight."

6. Is it true that you should avoid liquid, even water, during a meal?

"Some charlatan diets restrict fluid intake with the suggestion that obesity is due to too much body water rather than too much fat. This is nonsense. The body normally controls its fluid content very carefully and, if it does not, your problem is more serious than being overweight. Such cases are rare except in famine—and they require medical attention."

'Slim with Sense' tells you about the essential foods, the quantities to eat, the foods to avoid at all costs, and the foods which can be consumed in large quantities. It also tells how to diet sensibly without giving up bread.

If you would like a free copy of 'Slim with Sense' just send a stamped self-addressed envelope (measuring not less than 9" x 4") to Dept. I, The Flour Advisory Bureau, 21 Arlington Street, London, SW1A 1RN. (Enquiries from UK residents only).

For the patient with ischaemic heart disease the recommendation of Flora margarine is logical, clinical advice.

Many authorities throughout the world are in no doubt that a causative relationship exists between a raised blood cholesterol level and coronary atherosclerosis.^{1,2}

Therefore, to lower blood cholesterol is a sound objective in the management of the patient. This can be achieved by reducing the intake of saturated fats in the diet and by partial substitution by polyunsaturated fats.^{3,4,5}

Flora is higher in polyunsaturated fats than any other leading margarine* and is low in saturated fats. It is an effective, easy and palatable component of a lipid lowering diet.^{6,7,8,9,10.}

If you would like further information about Flora margarine and recipes in which it may be used by your patients with coronary heart disease, please write to: Flora Information Service, 25 North Row, London W1.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

Chronic bronchitis

A tenfold reduction in exacerbations

Results from a recent multi-centre trial show that Kelfizine W can produce a tenfold reduction in exacerbations of acute bronchitis.

Figures for a randomly selected group of 1120 patients out of the trial population showed that in the Winter of 1972/73 – without Kelfizine W – the number of exacerbations averaged 4.2 per patient. The following year, 1973/74, whilst receiving Kelfizine W, the same patients averaged just 0.42 exacerbations each.

No less than 5596 out of 6500 patients taking part overall (84.7%) were satisfactorily managed on the Kelfizine W regimen, and 4129 patients (63%) neither required nor received antibiotics.
