

In an average day, an average heart
will beat 103,680 times.

Now one Nitrocontin tablet helps stop angina for 51,840 of them.

Angina pectoris can strike at any time during those 103,680 heart beats.

Short odds in anyone's book.

And for the patient who has to be active, even shorter odds.

Nitroglycerine has been used as therapy in angina pectoris for over 90 years, but has inherent disadvantages.

The effect of sub-lingual tablets is good but very short, and does not change the odds.

Developments have been made employing the use of slow release mechanisms, affording the patient longer relief.

Until recently, in vitro release has lasted up to 2 hours only!

Now one Nitrocontin tablet will give relief for up to 10 hours! This means that after adjustment, a true b.d. dosage will give the patient 24 hour prophylaxis.

Heartening news at last for your anginal patients. 1. Ikram H, Curr med Res Opin, (1976), 3, 719.

ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE WITH PROFITS

MALE LIFE AGE 35 NEXT BIRTHDAY
GROSS OUTLAY - £25 PER MONTH

INVESTMENT An Endowment Assurance, with participation in profits, is a far more rewarding form of saving than many people imagine. "Profits" added to the policy from time to time are completely free from Capital Gains Tax liability and once added, cannot subsequently be reduced. In these respects, the Endowment Assurance is superior to forms of investment linked with the fluctuating value of equities. Many Life Offices also pay a Terminal Bonus reflecting the growth of the underlying investments during the term of the policy. Such a bonus would be in addition to the Reversionary Bonus referred to above and shown on the graph.

The graph illustrates the relationship between cost and benefits assuming the current rate of income tax relief on the premiums and the present reversionary bonus rates are maintained.

PLUS Life Assurance for the full sum assured throughout the term of the policy.
PLUS accrued bonuses on prior death.

The Astute Physician

How to Think in Clinical Medicine

by Professor JOHN H. TYRER and Dr. MERVYN J. EADIE.

1976 viii+200 pages US $11.25/Dfl. 29.00 ISBN 0-444-41425-8
Paperback

This book discusses how to think in order to learn and practise clinical medicine effectively. Intended to complement standard textbooks, it will help the student improve his methods of dealing with the information obtainable from both patients and textbooks. A primary theme is to demonstrate that evidence (obtained from the patient by the clinician), knowledge (possessed by the clinician) and reasoning (by the clinician) are the three indispensable elements upon which rests diagnosis of any disease in a particular patient. Diagnosis naturally leads to other aspects of patient management - treatment and prognosis - which also involve similar principles of thinking.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHEME
FOR GENERAL PRACTICE
Bournemouth

Applications are invited from post-registration graduates for a Senior House Officer grade post in a three-year Vocational Training Scheme commencing on the 1st June, 1976. This Scheme commences with an initial month and concludes with a final 11 months in General Practice with an approved trainer.

The hospital posts will be for six months each in Chest Medicine, Obstetrics and Gynaecology and Geriatrics (in an active short-stay unit). There is a six months elective period during which there will be opportunities for gaining experience in other specialties. The Scheme is recognised for the M.R.C.O.G. and the D.(Obst.)R.C.O.G. and on completion of the appointment the holder qualifies for the Vocational Training Allowance paid to principals in the National Health Service.

Included in the Scheme is a Day Release Course at Southampton and Winchester and arrangements can be made for interested candidates to visit the hospitals and the Practice involved in the Scheme. The hospital posts are resident and single accommodation is available. Married accommodation may be available according to supply and demand, which will vary from time to time.

Forms of Application and full details of the appointment may be obtained from the Administrative Assistant (Medical Staffing), Central Administrative Offices, Royal Victoria Hospital, Shelley Road, Bournemouth, to whom completed forms should be returned as soon as possible. Telephone enquiries to Miss I. Stark, Bournemouth 35201, Ext. 234. (28727) 21

The Unit is actively involved in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching as well as research in Runcorn New Town, Cheshire, and the teaching staff at present consists of the Director in General Practice Studies and three Senior Lecturers all appointed by the University at consultant grade.

The successful candidates will be expected to take an active part in all aspects of a general practice based in a health centre and at the same time will be given the opportunity to work in that part of the practice centred in the new District General Hospital. The service commitment as well as experience in teaching and research will be under the supervision and guidance of the Senior Lecturers. Experience in Occupational Medicine will be offered in local industrial units under the supervision of the medical officers to these units who are part-time lecturers. The course will be based on the syllabus for the diploma of the M.R.C.G.P. and there is the possibility of these posts becoming part of a three year vocational training scheme. Unfurnished accommodation may be available.

Further details may be obtained from the Director of Studies in General Practice, School of Community Health, University of Liverpool, P.O. Box 147, Liverpool L69 3BX, to whom applications should be submitted. (H11373) 21

Medical Officer

NATIONAL COAL BOARD

South Nottinghamshire Area

Due to promotion a Medical Officer is required to act as Deputy to the Head of the Medical Department at Area Headquarters, Bestwood, near Nottingham.

The range of occupational hazards in the coal industry is wide. It is, therefore, the Board's firm policy progressively to improve the working environment. The Medical Officer's role in this work is a challenging one, calling for competence both in clinical and preventive medicine, while research is carried out in collaboration with the Institute of Occupational Medicine in Edinburgh, the industry's research centre for medical and allied problems.

At Bestwood, a multiphasic health screening centre has been opened recently in order to provide screening facilities for entrants to the industry.

Interested applicants should preferably be under 35 years of age, be fully registered practitioners in the U.K. and have had good all-round medical and surgical experience. It would be expected that after training the successful candidate would obtain the Diploma in Industrial Health or some higher qualification.

Salary on appointment is expected to be not less than £7000 but will depend on age and experience.

Training in Clinical Pharmacology

A good career prospect depends upon higher medical training and experience. A training in clinical pharmacology and therapeutics can offer medical career prospects in several directions: as a physician with drug research expertise (a very important asset to any hospital), in the pharmaceutical industry (where the demand for drug research expertise is insatiable), in a department of clinical pharmacology (an expanding faculty).

A pharmaceutical company with a record of original scientific and medical research invites applications for a trainee Fellowship in Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics. The Fellowship will be tenable for three years. The first year will be spent at academic centres of excellence, doing clinical pharmacology research in connection with one or more topics of clinical interest. The Fellow will spend the second year in the company's clinical pharmacology unit, participating in the development of a new philosophy of drug discovery. During this time, a Fellow wishing to embark upon a career in industry will be able to attend the A.B.P.I. diploma course in pharmaceutical medicine. The third year will consist of mainly clinical work in a university department of therapeutics.

It is anticipated that this will be a recognised course of higher medical training. Applicants should be at registrar or senior registrar level (or equivalent), and remuneration will be based upon this. For candidates intending a clinical career the M.R.C.P. would be advisable. Previous experience in clinical pharmacology and therapeutics is not necessary. The Fellowship is already on-going, and the next vacancy will arise in October 1976. Full details are available on request.

Please apply with personal and career details to Position No. AL119 Austin Knight Limited, Station House, 33/35 London Road, Leicester, LE2 0PB.

Applications are forwarded to the client concerned, therefore companies in which you are not interested should be listed in a covering letter to the Position Number Supervisor.

Group Medical Adviser

Mardon Packaging International wish to appoint a successor to their present Group Medical Adviser who retires later this year. The appointment is based in Bristol and is accountable to the Chairman and Managing Director for developing policy guide-lines for the Group's UK subsidiary companies, comprising some 12,000 employees. He/she will have a direct medical responsibility for the Bristol based companies and be responsible for medical services in the remaining companies.

Candidates must be fully registered medical practitioners in the UK and previous industrial medical experience and a higher qualification in this field would be an advantage, although suitably qualified candidates will be given the opportunity to take the Diploma in Industrial Health.

Salary will be negotiable but will not be less than that recommended by the B.M.A. for Senior Medical Officers. There is a Contributory Pension Scheme.

Please write with full career details to:

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

MEDICAL JOURNALISM

MEDICAL EDITOR

An unusually interesting opportunity exists for a South London doctor to become involved in medical publishing on a part-time basis.

Modern Medicine, the monthly journal which sums up for G.P.s. what's happening in all areas of medicine, plans to move its offices to south/south east London later this year. This move requires the appointment of a new medical editor whose primary responsibility will be to ensure that the journal is correctly orientated toward the information needs and interests of G.P.s. In originating ideas for articles and in assessing the relevance and value of submitted work, he or she must be able to judge material on the basis of its appeal right across general practice, rather than simply in terms of personal interest.

The medical editor's day by day involvement is flexible, but will probably involve one or two afternoons each week in the editorial office, plus a few hours at home reading and editing articles for future publication.

Modern Medicine has the benefit of a U.K. advisory board of 25 prominent doctors representing both general practice and specialist medicine. It is also well connected internationally, being part of the world's largest medical publishing network. Editorial, design and production skills are all in-house, under the control of the full-time managing editor, so the medical editor need not become involved in technical or administrative details of the editorial operation.

A monthly retainer will be negotiated commensurate with the responsibility of the job. Full re-imbursement will be made for travelling and other expenses.

For further information, please write or telephone the publisher, Bob Findlay, or the managing editor, Chris Edwards, at Modern Medicine, 20 Southampton Place, London WC1A 2BP. Tel: 01-405 1496.
