Are you using your loaf?

Consider a few simple facts

Bread is a valuable source of protein, calcium, iron, the B Vitamins (Niacin and Thiamin) and energy.

Bread supplies, in the average daily diet in Great Britain, 16.1% of the protein, 12.8% of the calcium, 18.3% of the iron, 14.7% of the niacin, 22.2% of the thiamin and 14.2% of the energy according to the government's latest published National Food Survey (1973).

All this from a food which, in the past, has largely been thought of as a 'filler'.

100 grams of white bread (28oz loaf) provides 7.8g protein, 92mg calcium, 1.8mg iron, 0.18mg thiamin, 1.7mg niacin and 243 calories.

Compared with cheese, milk, eggs, meat, fish, potatoes and butter, bread is the housewife's bargain protein.

In Great Britain a 28oz standard loaf provides 61.6 grams of protein and costs about 18p. The same amount of money will buy (April 1976) 5.5oz cheddar cheese (39.6g protein), 2.1 pints of milk (37.8g), 4.8 standard eggs (32.6g), 4.2oz stewing beef (23.1g), 4.8oz fresh cod (24.5g), 1lb 8oz old potatoes (14.4g), 8.2oz butter (0.8g).

This, from a food which, all too often, the housewife thinks of as a mere accompaniment to a more 'important' food.

Prices based on Department of Prices and Consumer Protection information, and local enquiries. Source of nutritional value: 'The Composition of Foods' by R. A. McCance and E. M. Widdowson - H.M.S.O. 1967.

The protein in bread is a valuable part of your diet.

A common belief is that the protein in bread is not really valuable, especially in contrast to animal protein.

Most people in the U.K. derive their protein from a mixture of animal and vegetable sources, and seldom eat one type of protein on its own. And, says modern nutritional knowledge, this is just as it should be because any relative shortage of individual essential amino acids in bread's protein is more than made good by an abundance in the animal protein. If you get a reasonable proportion of your protein from bread and a reasonable proportion from animal sources (as for instance, when you eat a ploughman's lunch of bread and cheese, or an egg on toast or a meat sandwich), you get a combination which is just as good and effective as most animal proteins alone.

Bread is an important part of any weight-watchers diet

Usually the first thing a slimmer 'elbows' from his or her diet is bread. The popular belief is that bread provides little real value in the diet and that it is highly fattening. Its nutritional value has already been made clear above. In calories 1oz of bread provides 69 calories compared with 226 calories from 1oz of butter, 120 calories from 1oz of cheddar cheese and 40 calories from 1oz of fried cod. Bread comes out reasonably well in the scorecard, being neither high nor low, and much the same as lean beef (64 calories per ounce). Yet lean beef is usually put high on a slimmer's list of priorities.

This is just another example of how the real facts about bread differ from the commonly-held beliefs.

Bread, more than most other foods, suffers from old concepts which do not stand up to new facts.

Shouldn't you use your loaf - and help guide other people to use theirs?

Bread is still the best food value in Britain

NEW INDICATION FOR HYCAL.

It's not just a highly concentrated carbohydrate, but it's also demineralised which helps you cope with cirrhosis of the liver.

HYCAL has been recognised as the most highly-concentrated, readily assimilable source of carbohydrate.

Its concentrated glucose syrup content is more palatable than other energy sources. HYCAL also comes in flavours of lemon, orange, raspberry and blackcurrant. A unique feature in itself.

More than that, HYCAL is demineralised. This means it contains a minimum level of electrolytes, such as potassium and sodium, which may be contra-indicated in cases of cirrhosis of the liver as well as renal failure.

This makes HYCAL ideal for patients with cirrhosis of the liver, for whom a low sodium diet is essential.

The Borderline Substances Committee accepts that HYCAL can be regarded as a drug for just such cases.

HYCAL has won the approval of the medical profession on its merit, not just as a food, but as an essential aid in the treatment of not only renal failure, but now cirrhosis of the liver.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

You can use a diuretic which is almost as fast and controlled as Burinex* K.

But it is significantly more expensive!

You cannot obtain one with the convenience of built-in slow-release potassium with simple o.d. dosage.

Unless of course you prescribe Burinex K.

And by the way—it's a subtle combination where the diuretic effect is virtually complete within 3 hours, yet the potassium is released over 5 hours just to ensure that any potassium loss is carefully replaced.

Burinex K is recommended for the treatment of C.C.F.

... But of course the decision is yours.
