MARCH NUMBER NOW READY.

"The publication of the 'London Medical Record' is an important event in the medical literature of Great Britain, and constitutes a great element in progress."—PROFESSOR SANDERSON, F.R.S., Address to the Brit. Med. Association, 1872.

THE LONDON MEDICAL RECORD:

A MONTHLY Abstract of the Medical Literature of the World for the daily use of busy practitioners, with copious bibliographical references.

Compiled by a Staff of upwards of Ninety Hospital Medical Officers and others from 250 Serial publications.

The New Sydenham Society has abandoned its Biennial Retrospect in favour of the LONDON MEDICAL RECORD, and since its extensive adoption into professional favour, The Abstract of Medicine, The Medical-Chirurgical Review, and The Doctor have been discontinued. To make the LONDON MEDICAL RECORD still more valuable as a Systematic Summary and Review of Medical Knowledge, extensive Bibliographical Improvements and Additions have been introduced in the present number, and will be carried out throughout the year.
