THE PRACTITIONER :

A Journal of Practical Medicine and Surgery.

Edited by MALCOLM MORRIS.

The new Series of "THE PRACTITIONER" is now entering upon its fourth year of publication. As its name imports, it is intended to be distinctively a Journal for the Practitioner, and the scientific material is carefully selected with a view to giving information that will be directly helpful to men in the difficulties and emergencies of daily practice. With the object of increasing its usefulness in this respect, arrangements have been made for the publication of SPECIAL CLINICAL REPORTS from the London Hospitals and Clinical Lectures by leading teachers throughout the Kingdom.

Another novel feature will be a monthly summary of Pharmacological Progress, which will enable the busiest practitioner to keep himself with the least possible trouble fully informed of every addition of any value that is made to our means of treating disease.

"THE PRACTITIONER" will in other respects retain the character and special features which have earned for it a recognised place in medical journalism.

Original articles will be contributed by men of the highest eminence in the several departments of medicine.

Events of interest to the profession occurring in any part of the world will be discussed with perfect independence.

Critical reviews of the progress of the medical sciences will be contributed by competent writers.

Each number will contain A Medico-Literary Causerie on some subject of historical, literary, or social interest; a short life, with artistically executed portrait of a Hero of Medicine; a special article on Public Health; Reviews of Books; Pharmaceutical Novelties; and Practical Notes.

Important to the Medical Profession. A New Work on Diseases of Animals:

INFECTIVE DISEASES OF ANIMALS.

Being Part I. of the Translation of the recently published 4th Edition of Friedberger and Froehner's "Pathology of the Domestic Animals."

Translated and Annotated by Captain M. H. HAYES, F.R.C.V.S., Author of "Points of the Horse," &c., Dr. G. NEWMAN, D.P.H., and others. In 2 vols. medium 8vo, 12s. 6d. each vol., sold separately. When completed the Work may be had, 2 vols. in 1, 25s.

Note.—Owing to the fact that the infective diseases of animals can in many cases be communicated to man, and that their occurrence in our meat and milk producers is a serious question of public hygiene, the present portion of this translation will appeal to doctors as well as to veterinary surgeons. The second part, will of course more particularly concern the veterinary profession.

"Abounds in practical hints and suggestions..... Very practical and excellent little book."—Quarterly Medical Journal. "Should be widely read by surgeons, students, sisters, and nurses..... Should be read by all dressers in surgical wards, and many operating surgeons might glean from its pages facts which it would profit them to know."—Med. Press. "This book is the simplest and best of its kind which has yet been written by any English author, and one which every student ought to read."—Birmingham Medical Review.

"Forms an excellent guide for the practitioner or the student."—British Medical Journal.

"It is a practical treatise founded on vast clinical experience. The illustrations are excellent and helpful, the text is clear and concise, and the work as a whole is as complete and trustworthy as we could desire. We recommend it strongly to practitioners and students alike."—Medical Press and Circular.

"It is refreshing to get away from the usual recurring quotation of German authorities."—American Journal of Medical Science.

SQUIRE'S COMPANION

TO THE

BRITISH PHARMACOPOEIA.

"The contents extend far beyond the limits of the Pharmacopoeia, as a very large number of unofficial drugs and preparations are considered with the same care and minuteness as the others."—British Medical Journal, June 16, 1894.

"It is considerably ahead of the average text books, and affords a valuable standard of reference to those who are anxious to keep pace with pharmaceutical advances, the allusions relating in many instances to current literature bearing the date of the present year."—Lancet, March 24th, 1894.

"The present edition has evidently been revised with the greatest care, of which evidences are to be found on almost every page. Altogether, the improvements are so great that many of those who already possess the work will find it worth while to have the new issue."—Practitioner, June, 1894.

"As representing the actual condition of pharmaceutical practice in the United Kingdom, the work has, however, long since far out-grown the latest edition of the Pharmacopoeia, to which it was originally intended to serve as a companion, and, as containing a store of valuable information, it may now be regarded as in many respects anticipating the next issue of that authority. Few statements as to which any doubt existed have been adopted without careful examination."—Pharmaceutical Journal, June 16, 1894.

"No man who has the faintest aspiration to be in the van of pharmaceutical progress can afford to ignore the claims this exact and comprehensive epitome of pharmaceutical information has to a place at his elbow."—Chemist and Druggist, March 24, 1894.

sisting the jerks and shocks caused by riding driving, rowing or jumping. Warranted for five years.

Sent by Registered Post,
Price £3 17s. 6d.
Abroad 2/6 extra.

IMPORTANT.—For recording time in fifth parts of seconds up to 30 minutes. Pressing the button at top, the large centre seconds hand starts revolving and recording the seconds in fifth parts (independently of the ordinary watch movement), and working automatically upon the small minute dial at top, causes the small hand to register a minute each time the large centre seconds hand reaches Zero (300). Pressing the button a second time, both those hands come to a dead stop (without interfering with the time part of the watch), thus registering to the fifth part of a second the exact time that has elapsed. Pressing the button a third time, both the centre seconds and minute recording hands fly back to Zero, and are ready to start again.

Medical Opinions

are invariably—and rightly—respected, since they represent the conclusions at which trained and cultured intellects have arrived. People generally recognise that Medical Experts, long accustomed to habits of observation, form their judgments upon substantial grounds, after carefully investigating every feature, both great and small, which the subject under consideration may present. They are totally unsusceptible to side-lights which frequently influence the lay mind, being guided in their conclusions almost entirely by facts actually in evidence. Such opinions are truly most valuable and are rarely advanced except in connection with matters medical, and when they are extended to subjects outside their profession they are entitled to the most respectful and earnest attention. Below will be found a few specimens of the unsolicited opinions of some well-known professional authorities.

The British Medical Journal of Sept. 26th, 1894 (p. 707) says: The "M.D." Watch is made by Mr. H. White, of 104, Market Street, Manchester, and is specially designed for the use of medical men, by whom it will be found very useful. It is an excellent watch, and, considering its quality, remarkably low priced.

GLASGOW.

2, GREENFIELD ST., GOVAN,

GLASGOW, Oct. 1st, 1897.

DEAR SIR,—Kindly forward one of your 18-ct. Gold Hunters, No. 721 (£12 10s.), also 18-ct. Albert and Locket, etc., etc. Please find cheque enclosed for above. The lady's watch and albert previously supplied have given the greatest satisfaction, and as this is the fourth order within two years, you can believe I am thoroughly well pleased with the goods supplied.

H. WHITE, Esq.

Yours very truly, J—W—R—.

NORTH OF ENGLAND.

DEAR SIR,—As advised I am forwarding to-day the "M.D." Watch I bought from you two years ago. It has given every satisfaction and no one could possibly desire a better.

H. WHITE, Esq.

Yours truly, H. W.

WEST OF ENGLAND.

Dr. J. G. McL., writing from Stonehouse, Gloucestershire, under date Sept. 30th, 1897, states:—"I am sending a watch for correction, please, etc., etc. The watch I obtained from you a few years ago is giving me every satisfaction."

Mr. H. WHITE.

EVERY MEDICAL MAN SHOULD HAVE A GOLD WATCH.

His social status renders in necessary. By purchasing from H. WHITE Medical Men are brought face to face with the actual producer probably for the first time. For many years H. WHITE has manufactured for the trade exclusively, until recently, finding the accumulation of bad debts too onerous and harassing to render business profitable, he now supplies the public direct. Every reader may easily effect a saving of from 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. upon their watches and jewellery in buying direct from H. WHITE, whose watches are worn by thousands of delighted wearers in all parts of the civilised globe.

The "M.D." Send £4 17 8 to H. WHITE, and he will mail to you per return insured post, safely packed, and at his own risk, a magnificent 4-PLATE KEYLESS LEVER CENTRE SECONDS, fitted in strong 14-CARAT GOLD Case (stamped), with thoroughly well finished LEVER Movement, full jewelled, fitted with a CHRONOMETER Balance, and BREQUET Hair Spring, Sunk White Dial divided into fifths of seconds, Gold Hands, and Crystal Glass. Plain case upon which an elegant monogram can be splendidly engraved for 5s. extra. A superb watch, equal in appearance as a timekeeper to watches sold by many firms at £15 or £20. Supplied by the Maker at nearly half the retail price. Truly worth £8 8 0.

A Superior Watch is also supplied in 18 Carat Gold Cases at £7 15 0.

Warranted for Seven Years. Money refunded in full within ten days of purchase should any cause for dissatisfaction arise,—impossible.

The above watch sent, carriage paid, securely packed, at H. WHITE's own risk, to any part of the United Kingdom on receipt of remittance (Cheque, Draft, P.O.O., or Note). Sent for inspection upon receipt of reference—medical practitioner preferred.

Foreign Orders receive careful attention from a member of the firm. Insured postage abroad, 2/6 extra British Possessions; others, 5/-. Sent at our own risk, specially well packed.

A Guide Book full of useful information concerning Ladies' and Gentlemen's Gold and Silver Watches, Jewellery, &c., will be sent gratis and, post-paid, to every reader mentioning "British Medical Journal." Write for one to-day, it may save pounds!

Cadbury's Cocoa

"The Standard of highest purity."

THE LANCET

Absolutely Pure, therefore Best.

In drinking Cocoa, care should be taken to have the pure article only, as many so-called "pure" cocoas contain added matter which is not only unnecessary, but often positively harmful. CADBURY'S is a perfectly safe and reliable Cocoa, containing all the full nourishing properties of the Cocoa bean, without any foreign admixture whatsoever. As a sustaining, strength-giving beverage, and a nourishing food, CADBURY'S Cocoa fulfils every requirement.

Radnor

The Canadian
Table Water.

On the lands of the Canada Iron Furnace Company at RADNOR, QUEBEC, a Natural Spring, throwing up 20,000 gallons per day of pure, delicious Water, was discovered in 1894. The Medical profession of the Dominion have found this pure, sparkling Water, A PERFECT BEVERAGE FOR DAILY USE, for Analysis proves it to contain the valuable salts, so important in cases of Acidity, Constipation, etc., without affecting its flavour and suitability as a Table Water.

"A purely Natural Water, brilliant, pleasantly sparkling, and delicate to the taste."—The Lancet.
"RADNOR" mixes perfectly with the most delicate Wines and Spirits, without affecting flavour.

It will be found unequalled in combination with Milk, Syrups, etc.

Bottled only at the Spring under the most careful supervision. Surrounded by the Pine Forests of the Laurentian Mountains, the purity of the Spring is guarded by its complete isolation. Agents in Great Britain, from whom supplies and all particulars can be obtained:—

THE CANADIAN PRODUCE AND CONSIGNMENT COMPANY, 18, Swinburn's Lane, LONDON, E.C.

OR FROM THE ARMY AND NAVY AND OTHER STORES.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE BRITISH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, in his Presidential address delivered at the 65th annual meeting of the Association in Montreal, August 31st, 1897, said: "RADNOR bids fair to become a rival of the celebrated Apollinaris Water to which it is preferred by many."

ANALYSIS:—

By J. T. DONALD, M.A., Professor of Chemistry, Medical Faculty Bishop's College, Analytical and Consulting Chemist.

Chloride of Sodium ...	14.354	Carbonate of Iron ...	Traces.
Bicarb. of Sodium ...	1.897	Sulphate of Sodium210
Bromide of Sodium080	Carbonate of Lime ...	2.940
Chloride of Potassium211	Silica145
Sulphate of Magnesia ...	1.282	In 10,000 parts of water, 20.889

"The analysis shows that Radnor Water is of the same class as Seltzer and other German Waters, and that it contains the valuable ingredients in such proportions that its use as a table water overcomes constipation and acidity of the stomach in a gentle and pleasant manner. That Sodium Chloride is naturally present, instead of being artificially added is most important. And it must not be forgotten that the valuable Sodium Bromide, which is entirely wanting in the German Waters exists in appreciable quantity in the RADNOR WATER, making it a most desirable tonic."

PRESCRIBED BY THE MEDICAL PROFESSION SINCE 1878.

IMPORTANT POINTS re BEEF JUICES.

(a) NUTRIENT VALUE.

It is not possible to give uncooked beef juice an added flavour a cooked meat taste or any other artificial flavour, without detracting very largely from its nutrient and therapeutic value, and rendering it unfit for use in a great variety of treatment where BOVININE is constantly and successfully employed.

(b) TASTES DIFFER.

Beef juices with added flavours may possibly suit the taste of a few patients for a time, but are soon tired of, and if their use is continued become positively repulsive to the invalid, and to quote medical opinions, often seriously derange the stomach.

(c) NEUTRAL TASTE.

BOVININE is neutral in taste and may be given in any vehicle (not incompatible with a preparation so rich in albumen) to suit the individual. The practitioner is thus enabled to please the most exacting and capricious taste, and give his patient a pure and unadulterated beef juice, in all its simplicity and vitality, and in the most concentrated form yet presented.

(d) RANGE OF USEFULNESS.

The various methods of employing BOVININE are as follows:—
Internal Administration—Rectal Feeding—Topical Application in the treatment of Indolent Ulcers—Skin Grafting—Sponge Grafting—Erysipelas—&c. No other known nutrient has the same range of usefulness.

See the following reports from Sir CHARLES CAMERON and Professor TICHBORNE:—

SIR CHARLES CAMERON'S Analysis:—

DUBLIN.

I have analysed a specimen of Nourishing Dublin Stout, submitted to me for that purpose by The Mountjoy Brewery, Dublin. I have never examined a specimen of Porter in which the solid or nutritive constituents were so abundant as in the case of this Stout. It contains Ten Per Cent. of its weight of solid matter, or nearly the amount of solids contained in milk. Its flavour is good, and it is Remarkably Free from Acidity.

CHARLES A. CAMERON,
Professor of Chemistry, College of Surgeons, Dublin.

PROFESSOR TICHBORNE'S Analysis:—

DUBLIN.

I have examined and analysed for several years the Stouts brewed by The Mountjoy Brewery, viz.: Single, Extra, and their speciality known as Nourishing, or Crown Stout. The gravities of all these Stouts are very high, as proved by my analysis. The Crown or Nourishing Stout gave me one of the highest gravities I have ever seen in Stout. They are all of first-class quality. The Nourishing Stout being exceptionally fine, and owing to its strength and purity is a most valuable food for invalids. They are all brewed from Malt and Hops only, the water used being the best brewing water the City of Dublin affords.

Extract of Pinus Canadensis.

DARK. WHITE.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES:—NON-IRRITATING MUCOUS ASTRINGENT.

A Most Valuable Remedy in all Diseases of the Mucous Surfaces Requiring an Astringent.

INDICATIONS.—Albuminuria, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Night Sweats, Hæmorrhages, Profuse Expectoration, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Leucorrhœa and other Vaginal Diseases, Piles, Sores, Ulcers, Burns, Scalds, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, &c.

When used as an injection, to avoid Staining of Linen, the WHITE Pinus should be used.

To increase its astringency, the WHITE Pinus also contains five grains each of chemically pure alum and sulphate of zinc, and should be used ONLY as an injection and externally to PREVENT STAINING. In all other cases the Dark Extract should always be used.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

As an Internal Remedy in Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Night Sweats, Hæmorrhage, or Profuse Expectoration: Mix one part of the Extract with five of warm water; let it cool, and take a teaspoonful of the solution every three hours or oftener, as the case may require.

For Leucorrhœa and other Vaginal Diseases: Dissolve a teaspoonful or two in a pint of warm water and inject twice a day; in obstinate cases a stronger solution should be used.

For Protruding or Itching Piles: Mix one-fourth of glycerine and apply as often as convenient.

Fissures of the Anus, Ulcers, Burns or Scalds: The Extract should be applied in its full strength.

For Catarrh: Dissolve a teaspoonful or two of the Extract in a pint of warm water, and inject into the nostrils, using a nasal douche, twice a day;

For Sore Throat: Dissolve a teaspoonful of the Extract in a half-pint of warm water, let it cool and apply as a gargle, repeated during the day.

For Gonorrhœa or Gleet: Mix one part of Extract with seven of water; inject three or four times a day.

Put up in 12 oz. Bottles only. Price, per bottle, 7s.

LIFEBUOY

Royal Disinfectant SOAP

A DOCTOR'S OPINION.

TWYFORD, BERKS.

March 31st, 1896.

Dear Sirs,

We cannot overrate the value of cleanliness of person, that is of clothes and body. The bath, whether it be the daily cold tub, the evening warm bath, or the weekly Turkish, does far more than most people would believe. To avert sickness and maintain the body in health, such a soap as Lifebuoy Soap is beyond all praise, its softness and purity must commend it to all.

Dear Sirs,

I think it right that you should know I used your Lifebuoy Royal Disinfectant Soap for patients' clothing and rooms, extensively throughout the late epidemic. I never travel without it, and have found it invaluable. The more I use it the better pleased I am.

Lactopeptine

is the most active combination of digestive ferments ever brought before the Medical Profession. It is an entire digestive, capable of digesting all human aliment.

No Pepsin or "peptic compound" in the market has anything like the evidence of established professional confidence and acceptance (extending over more than twenty years) which LACTOPEPTINE possesses.

The testimony of the Medical Profession confirmed by the unanimous opinions of the Medical Journals of the whole world prove LACTOPEPTINE superior to all other digestive remedies whatever.

“APENTA”

THE BEST NATURAL APERIENT WATER.

Bottled at the Springs, Buda Pest, Hungary, under Eminent Scientific Supervision.

CONCLUSIONS { from clinical observations on the action and value of APENTA WATER in obstinate constipation by Professor W. S. BOGOSLOWSKY, Director of the Pharmacological Institute of the Moscow University, etc., etc.:—

“Systematic treatment with APENTA WATER is especially indicated for constipation produced by Atony of the bowels, and APENTA possesses without doubt this advantage over other aperients, that its use does not give rise to subsequent constipation.

“By suitable doses of this water the bowels act freely and considerable quantities of bile are evacuated. The action of APENTA WATER is more gentle than that of the bitter waters most known with us because it contains less calcium sulphate and no magnesium chloride. It is probably due to this circumstance that the crampy pains generally observed when aperients are employed, are entirely absent in the case of APENTA.

“The efficiency of APENTA as a remedy for the systematic treatment of obesity in general is clinically established.”

A new peptonised food has recently been introduced into this country by Liebig's Extract of Meat Company, Limited, which satisfactorily combines all the essential qualities of Invalid Diet—it is highly nourishing, easy of digestion and palatable. Of

PEPTARNIS

The Lancet of 11th October, 1895, says: "If reference be made to the analysis it "will be seen what a powerful food this Liebig's new beef peptone is. HALL'S WINE

AN ANTIDOTE FOR DIPSO MANIA.

Two cases of Dipsomania having been successfully treated with this preparation the proprietors of "HALL'S WINE," wish to call the attention of the Medical Profession to the facts of each case with a view of giving the wine an extended trial.

The first case was that of an elderly lady taking an average of three bottles of brandy weekly and who had suffered from Dipsomania for several years. The same quantity of "HALL'S WINE" was substituted for brandy and the doses gradually diminished until one bottle per week was sufficient. The patient regained appetite, increased in weight, and obtained sleep.

The other case, a lady having taken Morphia eventually substituted large quantities of brandy. "HALL'S WINE" was given as in first case. She is now quite cured both of Dipsomania and Insomnia from which she suffered; she has also discontinued taking the wine regularly, an occasional glass when feeling nervous being sufficient to keep her in good health.

The late Dr. Richardson, who treated the first case, stated that he found the coca in two ounces of "HALL'S WINE" as stimulating as the same quantity of brandy, but without the evil after-effects of alcohol.

To thoroughly test the value of this remedy, the Proprietors will for a limited period supply a bottle of "HALL'S WINE" free to Medical Men wishing to try the effects in suitable cases.

FERRATIN

The Ferruginous Element of Food.

FERRATIN (Ferri-albuminous Acid) is the only Iron preparation corresponding with the Iron compound which is ingested with food, and which is found stored up in the tissues, especially in the liver, as a reserve material for the formation of blood.

FERRATIN is thoroughly assimilated by the human organism, and does not in any way interfere with the digestive functions.

FERRATIN does not affect injuriously either the stomach or the teeth.

FERRATIN stimulates the appetite.

The Lancet :—"The constitution of Ferratin is sufficient reason for believing it to be of the greatest service in Anæmia and other conditions of blood impoverishment in which iron is indicated, and we are hardly surprised to learn, on this score also, that excellent clinical results of its use have been recorded."

British Medical Journal :—"Far superior to Blaud's formula, which is considered the best of artificial combinations."

M.D., M.B., C.M., writes :—"I have made use of the sample Ferratin, and can subscribe to the good qualities you claim for it. It is rapid in its effect on the blood—more so than any preparation of iron I have tried—does not irritate the stomach, indeed it appears to promote and strengthen digestion, and, as far as I have had experience of it, does not produce constipation, which often is a serious trouble during the administration of Iron. Ferratin, in short, has in my hands answered fully to all that is claimed for it."

"Does not depress the Heart."

ANTI-KAMNIA $(C_N H_{2N-6})$

PROF. H. E., A.M., M.D.,

Fellow of the American Academy of Medicine, points out one or two important facts in regard to ANTI-KAMNIA. He says:

"Antikamnia possesses no merit as a preventive of pain; its action is nil until the pain begins.

"Antikamnia, when given in five-grain doses every ten minutes until grs. xxx. have been taken, produces no effect whatever in a healthy person. As my investigation concerned its action under pathological conditions, I did not inquire further into the question how much more than thirty grains might be administered to a healthy person without any deleterious effect.

"The action of Antikamnia as an analgesic begins the moment an individual is attacked by pain, and here a great number of observations has established with me the following rule for its administration to adults:

"As early as possible after the pain has developed—if possible, immediately after—Antikamnia grs. v. are taken; from three to four minutes later, if the first dose has no, or but little, effect, the same dose is repeated and again three or four minutes later, provided again the effect nil or not sufficient, this dose is administered the third time. Then I let the patient wait ten minutes; if by the end of that time the pain be greatly ameliorated but a trace of it still present, a fourth dose of gr. v. then (i.e., ten minutes after the third) given will generally stop the pain completely."

Prof. E's observations have been confirmed and reinforced in England by Mr. A. W., L.R.C.P. & S., &c., and Mr. R. J., L.R.C.P. & S., &c. See MEDICAL REPRINTS, Jan. 1896.

OPPOSED . . .
TO PAIN.

The American antipyretic, anodyne, and analgesic is in combination of Coal-Tar derivatives of the series $C H_{2N-6}$, into which the amines have entered, forming the various amido-compounds.

It has, in contradistinction to other coal-tar products, a stimulating action on the nerve centres and the vital functions, especially the cardiac system.

It occurs in micro-crystalline powder, and is perfectly white in colour; of a slight pungently bitter taste and alkaline reaction. It is moderately soluble in water, more freely with glycerine sparingly added, and freely soluble in brandy, whisky, or wines, according to their alcoholic percentage. In liquid prescriptions, however, simple elixirs offer the best vehicles.

ANTI-KAMNIA should not be dispensed, however, in any vehicle of acid reaction. It can be readily given in tablets, as well as in powder (dry on the tongue) followed by a swallow of water or wine.

Dose for adults 5 to 15 grains; for children in proportion. As a pain reliever in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., ANTI-KAMNIA acts with safety, certainty, and celerity.

EDINBURGH MEDICAL JOURNAL says:—

"This is one of the many Coal-Tar products which have lately been introduced into medicine. . . . In doses of three to ten grains it appears to act as a speedy and effective antipyretic and analgesic."

THE illustration given below is a reproduction of the results obtained by testing a series of twenty-five pills from a dozen different makers.

“Nineteen of these pills were knocked into the board with a blow of the hammer and without crushing, or apparent damage. Surely no comment is needed on the solubility of a pill, whether coated or uncoated, which is sufficiently hard to penetrate a board.”—Journal of Medicine and Science, September, 1897.

The Chemist and Druggist, May 29th, 1897, gave a note of warning in the paragraph following:—

“Some factory-made coated-pills were taken by a patient. After a few days 8 of these pills reappeared, having apparently passed through the body unchanged. The pills were discontinued; but for days they continued to make their reappearance. This naturally annoyed the prescriber, and rendered the position of all concerned rather an ignominious one.”

We find in old writers on medicine and pharmacy, frequent reference to an economical contrivance called the

which was once in great vogue. This was made of metallic antimony, and was said to purge as often as it was swallowed.

It can readily be imagined how solid metallic pellets can pass unchanged through the body, but, when modern pills claiming to be produced on scientific principles, and to act by the disintegration and consequent absorption of their constituent parts—can be knocked into a board, as in the illustration—and survive the peristaltic storms of the intestinal canal, surely it is time to ask the question, Has the art of pill-making progressed as rapidly as other branches of pharmacy?

A further question for consideration is the position which hold in modern pharmacy. As is well known, compressed tablets were introduced to eclipse the pill and mixture, and to facilitate medication. They certainly have facilitated medication, as the public are now enabled to obtain tablets of the most potent drugs at popular prices, with the result, as every physician is well aware, that much indiscriminate self-dosing goes on. Further, when such insoluble substances as Phenacetin, Quinine, Salol, etc., are sold in tablet form, is it to be wondered at that such cases as the one given below are of frequent occurrence :—

“ A case was mentioned at a recent meeting of The Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society, where a lady had been swallowing a certain drug without the expected benefit, and it turned out that the compressed pellets had been passed undissolved.”—British Medical Journal, July 17th, 1897.

Now from the instances quoted, is there any doubt that pills and compressed tablets vary considerably in their essential qualities, and does it not seem feasible that a form of medication such as the

and Bipalatinoid

OPEN.

OPEN.

(where the drug is simply enclosed in the soluble glycerine jujube coating which opens within a few minutes of reaching the stomach) possesses many advantages over the pill and compressed tablet, with their risk of non-disintegration, consequent non-absorption, and diversity of results.

Apart from the obvious advantages which this form of medication offers, we beg to submit for consideration, the fact that it is entirely of English invention and manufacture, and therefore possesses an additional claim to the consideration of English physicians.

Special Notice respecting

Allen & Hanburys'

"Perfected" ^{Cod-} ^{Liver} Oil

ALLEN & HANBURYs desire to bring to the notice of the Profession a very important improvement in their "Perfected" COD-LIVER OIL.

If judged by the increasing popularity this preparation has enjoyed amongst Members of the Medical Profession since its introduction nearly twenty years ago, it might be supposed that little room was left for any further improvement in the methods adopted for its production. Slight modifications have, however, from time to time been introduced, each of which has increased the claim of this Oil to the title "Perfected." Not until quite recently, however, was the latest, and by far the most important, improvement effected, whereby the Oil is not only rendered far more nearly tasteless than at any previous period, but it leaves the mouth so perfectly clean that no trace of the Oil remains a few moments after it is swallowed. It is absolutely free from all oxidation products, is very easily assimilated, and is the only Cod-liver Oil that does not "repeat."

ALLEN & HANBURYs are constantly receiving fresh evidence that their "PERFECTED" Cod-liver Oil can be borne and digested when other Cod-liver Oils are found to upset the digestive system.

In order to afford Members of the Profession the opportunity of judging for themselves the quality of this Oil, ALLEN & HANBURYs will forward a bottle, carriage paid, to any medical man who will write for a specimen of this their "Perfected" Oil of 1897.

ALLEN & HANBURYs desire to state, as emphatically as possible, that their "PERFECTED" Cod-liver Oil is NEVER supplied in bulk to be bottled by retail dealers, and that no Cod-liver Oil represented as being their "Perfected" is genuine unless sold in their original capsuled bottles and bearing their Signature in white across the label, and their Trade Mark—a Plough. Frequent misrepresentations have involved disappointment both to doctor and patient and necessitated legal proceedings against the vendor.

The "Allenburys"

Throat Pastilles.

SOFT. DEMULCENT. PALATABLE.

THESE PASTILLES have now for many years been employed by the Faculty in the relief of Throat Affections. Their form enables them to be more easily sucked than the ordinary hard lozenge; while the Pâte de Jujube from which they are manufactured is particularly palatable, soluble, and demulcent in its action.

Owing to the accumulated prescriptions and suggestions of Physicians and Specialists on the throat, ALLEN & HANBURY'S are enabled to manufacture upwards of fifty varieties to meet various morbid conditions. Each variety has a specified number in the List, where the prescriptions are quoted in full. The following are examples of the Pastilles in very general use.

In prescribing it is only necessary to add the letters A. & H., these being registered as a Trade Mark; thus—Tannin Pastilles A. & H.

No. 11. Chlorate of Potash. 1 grain in each.

Better than the B.P. form.

„ 14. Tannin. 1 grain. Same strength as Tannic Acid B.P. lozenges.

Both exceedingly useful in the administration of an unpalatable drug.

„ 27. Compound Eucalyptus.

(Red Gum, Chlorate of Potash, and Cubebs). A valuable astringent.

„ 29. Compound Rhatany and Cocaine. Ext. of Rhatany grain 2, Cocaine Hydrochlor. grain 10th.

A very efficacious astringent and anodyne.

„ 38. Cocaine, Chlorate of Potash, and Borax.

Especially useful for the tickling of a slightly relaxed throat.

„ 44. Menthol and Cocaine. 10th of a grain of each in a Pastille.

The antiseptic and stimulating action of the Menthol, combined with an effective Anodyne.

„ 45. Menthol & Rhatany. 10 of a grain of Menthol in a Pastille.

Stimulating, antiseptic, and mildly astringent.

„ 48. Tannin, Cayenne, and Black Currant.

Is far more palatable and efficacious than the ordinary lozenge.

SYR. HYPOPHOS. CO., FELLOWS

CONTAINS THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS of the Animal Organization—Potash and Lime;

THE OXIDISING AGENTS—Iron and Manganese.

THE TONICS—Quinine and Strychnine;

AND THE VITALISING CONSTITUENT—Phosphorus: the whole combined in the form of a syrup, with a SLIGHTLY ALKALINE REACTION.

IT DIFFERS IN ITS EFFECTS FROM ALL ANALOGOUS PREPARATIONS; and it possesses the important properties of being pleasant to the taste, easily borne by the stomach, and harmless under prolonged use.

IT HAS GAINED A WIDE REPUTATION, particularly in the treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Chronic Bronchitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs. It has also been employed with much success in various nervous and debilitating diseases.

ITS CURATIVE POWER is largely attributable to its stimulant, tonic and nutritive properties, by means of which the energy of the system is recruited.

ITS ACTION IS PROMPT; it stimulates the appetite and the digestion, it promotes assimilation, and it enters directly into the circulation with the food products.

The prescribed dose produces a feeling of buoyancy, and removes depression and melancholy; hence the preparation is of great value in the treatment of mental and nervous affections. From the fact, also, that it exerts a double tonic influence, and induces a healthy flow of the secretions, its use is indicated in a wide range of diseases.

NOTICE—CAUTION.

The success of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites has tempted certain persons to offer imitations of it for sale. Mr. Fellows, who has examined samples of several of these, FINDS THAT NO TWO OF THEM ARE IDENTICAL, and that all of them differ from the original in composition, in freedom from acid reaction, in susceptibility to the effects of oxygen when exposed to light or heat, IN THE PROPERTY OF RETAINING THE STRYCHNINE IN SOLUTION, and in the medicinal effects.

As these cheap and inefficient substitutes are frequently dispensed instead of the genuine preparation, Physicians are earnestly requested when prescribing the Syrup, to write "Syr. Hypophos. FELLOWS."

As a further precaution, it is advisable that the Syrup should be ordered in the original bottles (4/- or 7/-); the distinguishing marks which the bottles (and the wrappers surrounding them) bear, can then be examined, and the genuineness—or otherwise—of the contents thereby proved.

NOTES ON SOME RECENT THERAPEUTIC AGENTS.

DERMATOL.

SINCE the first communication on Dermatol, appearing in No. 24 of the Berlin Klin. Wochenschrift, 1891, many reports on the new remedy have been published both at home and abroad. Further investigations in various directions seem to have established not only many of the early claims made for Dermatol, but have also indicated fresh fields of usefulness for it.

The physical characteristics of Dermatol are now well known. It is a fine yellow powder, unaltered by exposure to light and air, insoluble in ordinary reagents, free from taste, and entirely without odour. The latter property is especially esteemed by patients on whom the employment of strong-smelling antiseptic powders like Iodoform would entail serious inconvenience. The insolubility of Dermatol prevents its absorption, and therefore it never produces any toxic action whatever. Nearly all the writers in the medical journals remark specially upon the absolute freedom of the remedy from toxic properties, even when employed in large quantities under conditions most favourable for absorption.

A further characteristic of Dermatol is the absence of irritating properties. The unpleasant symptoms that sometimes follow the use of dressings such as Iodoform, Corrosive Sublimate, etc., are never observed with Dermatol. Dr. Bluhm (Therap. Monatschrift) has tested its bactericidal power upon twelve different kinds of bacteria, comparing the results with those obtained from Iodoform, and finding the polyseptic action of Dermatol far superior to that of its repugnant predecessor.

It is more especially indicated as an absorbent, antiseptic powder for the treatment of fresh surgical wounds, slight accidental cuts, or old non-purulent wounds. When applied as a dusting powder it rapidly absorbs the secretions from wounds of these types, and forms a very hard, dense, and closely adherent crust, hence it proves extremely useful in all cases in which astringent and drying effects are desired. It has been reported valuable in crushed and lacerated non-septic wounds, burns, and scalds, and in large crural ulcers. Before the introduction of Dermatol it was impossible to close a sewn rectal or fistular wound with any degree of security. Now, this valuable chemical forms a protective crust in a short time, under which primary healing progresses.

In gynecological practice it is attracting a great deal of attention, in view of the report presented to the Bonn Gynecological Congress. Remarkably satisfactory results were reported to have been obtained by its use in the treatment of laparotomy wounds, prevalent carcinomata, myomata, deep-seated tuberculous peritoneal abscess, and in infectious catarrhs of vagina, cervix, or endometrium. This report referred to, after calling attention to the superiority of Dermatol over Iodoform, concludes: "Dermatol is absolutely unirritating, powerfully antiseptic, astringent, odourless, stable, and non-hygroscopic."

In dermatological practice it is highly recommended in the form of a 10 per cent. ointment with Lanoline for eczema in children, intertrigo mammae, and intertrigo ani. It has been tried with excellent results as a dusting powder in dysidrosis of the hands and feet, in balanitis, in operations for phimosis, and, in alternation with antiseptic and stimulating remedies, in the treatment of bubo. For burns the 10 per cent. Lanoline ointment above mentioned is highly recommended.

Dermatol has been used with excellent results in otitis media suppurativa, otitis externa, and in a large number of cases of chronic middle ear suppuration. The secretion was quickly reduced in quantity, and "most of the cases ceased suppuration after a few insufflations." In otitis externa it was employed (Therap. Monatshefte, 1892, No. 12) with excellent results. After two to five applications of the powder the aural cavity was dried, the swelling reduced, and the eczema healed. When used to check a purulent aural discharge, insufflations should be alternated with irrigations with an antiseptic solution, such as that made by dissolving a "Soloid" of Iodic-Hydrarg. in a pint of water.

In ophthalmic work it has been used in the after treatment of operations, and Dr. Werther reports successful results with Dermatol in phlyctenular inflammation of the conjunctiva in scrofulous children. It is an advantage that Dermatol can be employed for scrofulous patients simultaneously with potassium iodide, which is contra-indicated in conjunction with calomel.

Dermatol is supplied to the Medical Profession in 1-oz. tins at 1s. 2d. each. For the internal administration of "Tabloid" Dermatol, 5 gr., is recommended as most convenient for administration, and is supplied to the medical profession in bottles of 24 and 100 at 8d. and 2s. per bottle.

FERRIPYRIN.

Ferripyrin is a combination of ferric chloride and antipyrin first suggested as a hæmostatic by Dr. Witkowski, of Carlsruhe, in the Therapeutische Monatschrift, of February, 1895. It is an orange-coloured, readily soluble powder which is absolutely non-irritating and non-destructive to tissues. Investigations as to its practical usefulness confirm the advantages it possesses over ferric chloride. Amongst these may be mentioned its applicability in powder form, its non-corrosive, and particularly its simultaneous analgesic action, due to its relation to antipyrin.

Topically Ferripyrin may be applied by insufflation or in solutions of from 1 to 16 per cent. By the mouth the average adult dose is 8 grains, 3 to 5 grain doses being administered to children. It is supplied to the medical profession in 1 oz., 4 oz., 8 oz., and 1 lb. tins, at 2s. 10d. per oz.

PHENOSALYL.

A clear, syrupy liquid, consisting of a mixture of Benzoic, Salicylic, and Carbolic Acids, melted together and dissolved in Lactic Acid. It possesses a considerably higher bactericidal power than carbolic acid. It is used by Dulong in the sterilisation of instruments, gauze, and of blood, urine, and saliva. It kills the bacteria of pus after one minute's contact, but does not irritate the skin, nor has it any corrosive action on instruments. Supplied to the Medical Profession in 2-oz. bottles at 10d. per bottle.

The whole of the above are produced by the Farbwerke, vorm. Meister, Lucius, and Brüning, Höchst-am-Main, and specimens may be had, as well as literature bearing on these and other new remedies, upon application to the Agents,

EXCERPT FROM

A Study of Some Infant Foods in Comparison with Human Milk.

BY R. H. CHITTENDEN, PH. D.,
Professor of Physiological Chemistry at Yale University.

[Reprinted from The New York Medical Journal, July 18th, 1896.]

"That there is no special difficulty in modifying cows' milk so that it will resemble human milk, both qualitatively and quantitatively, is clearly apparent from the analytical results shown in the table:—

	Human Milk.	Milk Modified with Peptogenic Milk Powder.
Specific Gravity - - - -	1031	1032
Water - - - -	86.73	86.03
Total Solid Matter - - -	13.26	13.97
Inorganic Salts - - - -	0.20	0.26
Total Albuminoids - - -	2.00	2.09
Soluble Albuminoids - - -	2.00	2.09
Fat - - - -	4.13	4.38
Milk Sugar - - - -	6.93	7.26
Reaction - - - -	alkaline	alkaline

"Cows' milk, modified by the addition of water, cream, and Peptogenic Milk Powder, offers a product containing to the full extent all of the proximate principles present in human milk and wholly free from extraneous admixtures. The proportion of solid matter, fat, albuminoids, carbo-hydrate, and inorganic salts corresponds as closely as one could ask with what is considered as the average chemical composition of human milk. Further, the process of modification takes into account the radical difference between cows' casein and human casein, and affords a method by which the former can be modified to a closer resemblance to the latter without the addition of any substance that will permanently interfere with the purity of the final product.

"The general resemblance of milk modified by the Peptogenic Milk Powder to the infant's natural supply is a very striking one."

PEPTOGENIC MILK POWDER. Originated and manufactured by FAIRCHILD BROS. AND FOSTER, NEW YORK. Supplied in 1/2 lb. and 1 lb. bottles, at 1s. 9d. and 3s. 4d. each. Specimen and pamphlet upon request to BURROUGHS WELLCOME AND Co., Snow Hill Buildings, London.

'Emol-Keleet'

Referring to this product, the Lancet says:—"On account of its remarkable velvety smoothness it should possess a unique value as a dusting powder in cutaneous diseases, etc., and for allaying irritation. We have not examined a more unctuous earth." 'Emol-Keleet' has proved successful for drying weeping surfaces when all other powders have failed. It is also of great service as a diluent for powerful antiseptics.

In boxes, at 9d. each.

Menthol Snuff

Contains menthol, ammonium chloride, cocaine (1/6 per cent.), camphor and lycopodium. Its marked local anæsthetic, vascular stimulant, and antiseptic properties suggest its employment in conditions of the nasal mucous tract difficult of treatment by ordinary means. Menthol Snuff is supplied in handsome metal boxes, which are convenient for the pocket.

Two sizes, 5d. and 8d. each.

The Perfected Wyeth Beef Juice

may be relied upon as a tonic food in sickness or convalescence. The British Medical Journal describes it as "a good model of what such preparations should be." It is a perfectly palatable concentration of the entire nutritive and stimulating elements of the best beef.

In bottles, 2s. 10d. each.

'Hazeline' Cream

In this cream the anodyne and styptic properties of 'Hazeline' are associated with the emollient qualities of 'Lanoline.' It allays irritation of the skin, and is extremely useful in keeping the integument soft and supple and in preventing the uncomfortable conditions arising from exposure to biting winds or severe frost.

A most powerful absolutely NON-POISONOUS and NON-IRRITANT ANTISEPTIC, DISINFECTANT & DEODORANT

Dr. E. KLEIN, St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, reports on the result of his recent bacteriological researches with Chinosol, as follows:—"I submitted the most resisting organisms, such as Staphylococcus Pyogenes Aureus Coli Bacilli and Spores of Anthrax, all in most vigorous and virulent condition, to a Chinosol Solution, and after FIVE MINUTES contact found that Staphylococcus and Coli Bacillus were killed in a Chinosol Solution of 1:150, and Spores of Anthrax in a solution of 1:100." Dr. Klein, from these results, pronounces Chinosol, with its other valuable properties, such as perfect harmlessness and ready solubility, far superior to ABSOLUTE PHENOL.

Dr. KLEIN'S report in extenso sent free to the Medical Profession.

CHINOSOL THUS STANDS AT THE HEAD OF ALL KNOWN ANTISEPTICS AND DISINFECTANTS.

THE LANCET, July 3rd, 1897:—"A year ago we expressed the opinion that Chinosol would become of special service as an antiseptic disinfectant and deodorant. Since that time it has been somewhat extensively employed with excellent results."

GUY'S HOSPITAL GAZETTE, May 9th, 1896:—"The report which we have of its use at Guy's is decidedly in favour of Chinosol, and bears out what has already been stated as to its superiority over other antiseptics."

MEDICAL PRESS AND CIRCULAR, August 4th, 1897:—"Chinosol is pre-eminently a safe antiseptic and deodorant, and its use does not entail any danger either to tissues or to life. We anticipate for this product and its preparations a wide and well-served success."

BRITISH GYNÆCOLOGICAL JOURNAL, August, 1897:—"After some months' trial of Chinosol in obstetrics and gynæcological work, we are in a position to speak in complete endorsement of the claims put forward for this antiseptic. Many of its characteristics make it peculiarly suited for gynæcological practice."

Dr. MACNAUGHTON-JONES writes, in the EDINBURGH MEDICAL JOURNAL, October, 1897, on Treatment and Cure of Ulcer of the Nose: "Chinosol Solution I have used as a disinfectant for a variety of purposes. I found it, in the proportion of 1:600, a most valuable antiseptic in this case, and nothing answered so well to keep the sore healthy and clean, while it decidedly encouraged the healing process."

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Is Manifestly The Standard Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

We say "manifestly" because it has more generally the indorsement of the medical fraternity than has any other preparation of cod liver oil.

Physicians have found by personal observation that it is a reliable emulsion—probably Scott's Emulsion is prescribed more often than all other forms of cod liver oil combined.

To tell physicians who have prescribed it why this is so, is unnecessary—to those who have never given it a test, we shall be pleased to deliver a sample free.

CONTREXÉVILLE

GOUT, GRAVEL, DIABETES, ARTHRITISM

The Contrexéville Mineral Water (Pavillon SPRING) is a diuretic and laxative, a tonic, a stimulant, and aid to digestion. — It acts upon the secret mechanism of nutrition, as is proved by its influence in checking the production of uric acid and glucose: it favourably modifies those morbid processes of biological chemistry which result in the accumulation of uric acid in the blood, inducing the phenomena of gout. — It facilitates the elimination of urinary deposits, by contracting the ducts containing them and increasing the quantity of liquid by which these vessels are flushed. — It assists the cicatrization of the inflamed mucus of the urinary organs, and helps to restore the normal acidity of the urine; facilitates the flow of the bile, by causing contraction of the biliary ducts and the expulsion of calculi; and is invaluable in the treatment of congestion of the liver.

GLYCERINE PASTILLES OF PHENACETIN AND SULPHONAL.

Prepared by GEO. CURLING, WYMAN & CO., 58 and 59, Bunhill Row, E.C.

Each Phenacetin Pastille contains 5 grains of the remedy, and each Sulphonal Pastille 10 grains. Put up in Boxes of 3 dozen. Price of Phenacetin Pastilles, 1/9 per box; Sulphonal Pastilles, 2/.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL PAPERS:

The British Medical Journal says:—"GLYCERINE PASTILLES. Pastilles or Lozenges containing medicinal substances are convenient for patients as regards portability, and, when they are made palatable, are easily taken. Messrs. G. CURLING, WYMAN & Co., 58 & 59, Bunhill Row, London, E.C., prepare Sulphonal and Phenacetin in the form of a rose-scented, oval, soft, jujube-like Pastille, which will be found a pleasant method of administering these insoluble drugs."

The Lancet says:—"Glycerine Pastilles of Phenacetin and Sulphonal (CURLING, WYMAN & Co., 58 & 59, Bunhill Row, London, E.C.). These Pastilles consist of soft gelatin lozenges containing a definite dose of the medicaments indicated. They are offered as a convenient and palatable means of administering these drugs. The material is readily soluble, and serves as an easy aid to swallowing the measured quantity of the medicament incorporated with it."

All authorities are now agreed that whisky is the most wholesome of spirits. Taken in moderation, it increases appetite, and aids digestion by exciting the glands of the stomach to pour forth the juice necessary for the assimilation of the food. It also gives strength to the heart, and by making the circulation more active, ensures a large supply of pure blood to all parts of the system. There has been much futile debate as to whether whisky is a food or not. This is a dispute about words rather than things, for even if whisky does not actually build up tissue, it is certain that it prevents tissue waste. Whisky in short is an excellent stomach tonic and general stimulant, and a powerful restorer of nerve force. It is especially useful to sufferers from nervous exhaustion, and many an over-worked professional man would be saved from premature breakdown if he would take a moderate daily dose of a pure, sound, mellow whisky, like

THE PHONENDOSCOPE.

Invented by Professors BAZZI and BIANCHI.

The above is a combination of the principle of the Phonograph and the Double Stethoscope, and by its use in auscultation the various sounds in the human body, whether natural or morbid, are intensified and rendered more distinct. Most of the normal and abnormal sounds of the heart and lungs can be easily detected through the clothes of a person in ordinary dress. This instrument has proved itself to be of the greatest value to the physician and surgeon in helping to elucidate obscure points of diagnosis.

REDUCED PRICE, 15/- Post Free.

"Dr. ——— encloses cheque and wishes to say that he finds the Phonendoscope an immense help in auscultation. Lung sounds and heart murmurs are heard with great distinctness, and much time is saved to the general practitioner."—Letter received March 19th, 1896.

NOTE.—Jan. 1st, 1897.—We have sent this instrument to all parts of the world, and it is universally approved.

OPERATING TABLE.

(PROVISIONAL PATENT.)

Operating Table, in iron, nickel-plated, fitted with screw gearing for raising the top either horizontally to the extent of eleven inches or obliquely into the Trendelenberg position for abdominal section. The head and foot pieces can be fixed in various positions by means of quadrants and clamps. Through the agency of an easily-worked foot-lever the whole Table can be lifted from its legs on to wheels in order that it may be moved from place to place.

Beneath the top bars is a hot-water tank having a concave top, which is pierced in the centre by a tube for carrying off fluids during irrigation of wounds, etc.

ASEPTIC TABLE BRASS

With two movable, plate-glass shelves, for instruments, etc.

DR. FISHER'S PATENT FLEXIBLE KNEE-CAP.

The above is considered the only Knee Cap made which allows free action of the joint, while at the same time keeping up the requisite pressure.

The front is constructed of nickel-plated fine steel wire, and meshed in a manner to contract and extend with the motion of the knee, but fixed from side to side. It is lined with soft felt. The top and bottom straps are merely for the purpose of keeping the knee-cap in position, but the middle portion is made of soft buckskin, divided into two straps which buckle on the outside. It is cool and light, adding scarcely any size to the joint, and it is calculated to wear for a considerable time.

In ordering, give circumference of centre of knee, also four inches above and below the same, and state for which knee.

PRICE 30s.

DR. FISHER'S (IMPROVED) BOW-LEG SPLINTS.

These Splints have been in use during the last nine years with very great success. Directions for measurement and application: Give height from ground to centre of knee, and state age of child.

Should the Splints not fit well below the knee, calf, or ankle, warm the part gently before the fire till it bends freely, then mould it on the leg and hold it in position until it has set. The success of these Splints depends a good deal on keeping the centre strap as tight as possible without causing inconvenience. They may also be worn as a support for weak ankles only, in which case it should be stated on which side of the foot the child is inclined to walk. Light boots should always be worn.

Per pair.

ALLEN'S REVERSIBLE CATHETERS & BOUGIES (ASEPTIC) Patent.

The chief peculiarity of these Instruments is that both ends can be utilised, so that one bougie or catheter is made to do, to a certain extent, the work of two. The two ends may be made of the same or of different shape and size, according to the requirements of the surgeon. An important feature of the catheter is that the portion beyond the eye is solid, whereby the cleansing of the interior is much facilitated.

Both Catheters and Bougies are made Olive at one end and Cylindrical at the other, and a different gauge at each end—thus the olive end will be 9, and the cylindrical end 10. The following sizes are stocked, 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8, 9-10, 11-12.

PRICES:—Catheters, 3/6 each; 36/- per dozen; at 30/- per gross. Bougies, 2/6 each; 27/- per dozen; at 24/- per gross.

SCROTAL HERNIA.

The apparent hopelessness of treating Neglected Hernia prompts me to lay before the Profession one or two typical cases.—C. R.—was sent to me by one of the surgeons of University College Hospital, with directions to make him a "bag to carry the scrotum." He was a strong, healthy man of about forty, weighing seventeen stone, a captain in the mercantile marine, from which he had been obliged to retire. I found the scrotum about the size of a child's head. The hernia, after considerable difficulty, I reduced, and expressed my opinion that I could retain it. Of the possibility of such a result the patient as well as his surgeon were very incredulous; but the latter observed, "Pray do what you like." After considerable trouble, I am pleased to say the whole mass was retained, and without the usual discomfort. In about a year the patient resumed his usual occupation, and the hernia now gives him no trouble. He was, some two years since, shot out of a dogcart with great force, breaking several bones and sustaining very serious injuries; but the truss, under this severe trial, effectually prevented any injury as regards the hernia.

INFANTILE HERNIA.

I give the history of a most interesting case under the charge of a medical gentleman at St. Helens, Almondbury, Yorks. This gentleman, writing to me about another case, says: "I would like you to make me a truss for a very bad case of congenital inguinal hernia (right side) in a child one year and eight months old; it is very bad indeed, the scrotum reaching nearly to the knee." This was written in May. In June following the same gentleman writes: I applied the truss to the child, and am glad to say that it is in every respect a perfect success. The truss has been worn now for eleven days, and the hernia is not come down in the least. The child has had at least half a dozen trusses before and none of them have ever kept the hernia up more than half an hour or so. I will write in a month or so and let you know how the hernia is getting on. The mother of the child had been told by two doctors before she came to me, that the case was quite hopeless of ever being cured." The same gentleman writes in August: "The truss you kindly sent me has answered far beyond my expectations. The child had a very bad form of inguinal hernia; the scrotum looked just like an inflated bladder, and extended down further than the knee. He had been under the care of five separate medical men before I saw him, four of whom had ordered trusses, the hernia coming down a few minutes after the application of each. I applied the truss you made me on the 28th May, and the hernia has never since protruded in the least (August 19th, just about three months); it does not now come down on taking off the truss. I have mentioned the case at the local Medical Society held at Huddersfield, and intend, when you send the new truss, to show the child with it on and read a paper on the case.

HANNAH'S

COMBINED BED PAN AND BATH.

This invention consists of a Metal Shoe with Padded Cushion, into which a special form of Earthenware Slipper Pan or Bath can be introduced, the object being that, when once the patient is lifted on to the cushion, any number of these earthenware receptacles can be used without disturbing the patient.

Many cases will at once occur to doctor or nurse in which great advantage would result from this arrangement.

The Earthenware Pans are much lighter and smaller than the ordinary kind, great strength not being required, as the patient does not rest on them, but on the Padded Metal Shoe.

The benefit thus gained to the patient and the nurse is very great, as there is much less need of movement, and the pans are so much lighter to handle.

Price complete, 12s. 6d. Extra Pans, 3s. 6d. each. (Usual Discount).

Capt. T. TYSON, Secretary of Kimberley Club.
ARNOLD H. WATKINS, Esq., M.D.
GARDNER F. WILLIAMS, Esq., General Manager De Beers Consolidated Mines, Ltd.

Bankers:—THE STANDARD BANK OF SOUTH AFRICA, LTD., Kimberley; and 10, Clement's Lane, London, E.C.

Kimberley is situated on the high inland plateau of South Africa, 650 miles from Cape Town; height above sea level, 4,100 feet; rainfall, 18 inches per annum. The period of sunshine during the year is very great, and is not exceeded in any other part of the world.

Easy rail communication with Cape Town. Dining and Sleeping Saloons.

Kimberley, in addition to being the site of the South African Diamond Mines, and possessing in this respect a peculiar interest to visitors, has an excellent Club, Public Library, Theatre, Golf-links, Tennis, Cricket and Football Clubs, &c.

The Sanatorium, which is situated half-a mile from the town, is on the tram line which runs between Kimberley and Beaconsfield, stands in some seven or eight acres of ground on the brow of a hill overlooking the latter township and the neighbouring Free State Hills, and possesses every comfort to be found in a first-class hotel. Spacious dining room, drawing room, ladies' morning room, about thirty bed rooms, several of which can be placed en suite if desired, smoking and billiard rooms, and well laid out tennis and croquet grounds. It will be found to be cool in summer, well warmed in winter, and provided with excellent sanitary arrangements.

The building and appointments are those of a first-class hotel, and are not intended for the reception of cases of advanced disease, but only of those early and curable cases for which the climate has proved so beneficial.

The Institution is in no way a business speculation, and the scale of prices charged is fixed on the basis of allowing the Committee to secure to visitors a first-class cuisine with thoroughly good attendance; there being absolutely no capital charges to repay, all that is required is to make the Institution self-supporting.

Those desirous of engaging rooms should apply to the Secretary, Kimberley Sanatorium, sending Bankers' references and stating requirements.

Tariff will be at the rate of 15s. to £1 per diem, according to rooms selected, with special rates by the week or month.

THE YARROW HOME FOR CONVALESCENT CHILDREN. BROADSTAIRS.

Established and endowed for 100 well-mannered children of respectable and educated persons who are unable to afford the entire cost of a change of air at the seaside for their convalescent children.

Boys from 4 to 14 years and Girls from 4 to 16 years are admitted irrespective of nationality or creed.

A charge of 5s. per week is made for each child.

This Home is equally available in Winter and Summer, the Building throughout being heated and ventilated upon the latest scientific principles. The spacious Play Rooms are fully equipped for recreation.

The Building stands in 10½ acres of ornamental grounds, with large sheltered garden and shrubberies, and faces the sea.

The Home is under the management of a highly experienced Matron. A Medical Officer and Certificated Nurses form a part of the Staff.

Full Particulars and Forms of Application for Admission may be obtained on application to Mr. T. F. MYERS, Secretary, at the LONDON OFFICES 73A, QUEEN VICTORIA STREET, E.C.

Head Master.—REV. T. N. HART SMITH, M.A.; late Scholar of Exeter College, Oxford; formerly Assistant Master at Marlborough College.

Secretary.—J. BERNARD LAMB, Esq.

Bursar.—W. D. CROSSLEY, Esq.

The foundation consists of 50 boys, chiefly necessitous orphans of Medical Men, and is mainly supported by voluntary contributions: foundation scholars have the same privileges as the other boys, and have none but a few voluntary expenses.

In addition to the 50 Foundation Scholars in the College, there are 9 presentations for female orphans of medical men, and one open to those not orphans, in connection with the College, at the School of St. Anne's Society.

There are 50 Pensioners. All these now receive annuities of £30, with the exception of a few still occupying rooms in the Asylum, who receive £21. The Council were enabled to increase the pensions of those not residing in the College, owing to a munificent legacy from the late Dr. T. A. Bowen, of Melbourne. There are also 9 Pugh Pensioners who receive £30 a year each. Pensioners must be legally qualified medical men who have been registered Medical Practitioners for 5 years, or the Widows of such.

Three Morgan Annuittants receive annuities of £20 each. They must be daughters of medical men and must possess the same qualifications as those required from widows who are Pensioners. The Council appeal alike to the profession and the public not to allow the College to languish for want of funds. It is not only a Benevolent Society giving help to the aged and disabled, and doing inestimable good to the children of those medical men who, from death or other misfortunes, have been unable to provide for their families, but it is also a great Educational Institution by which the whole profession is benefited; and as such it is entitled to the support, in the first place of medical men, and afterwards of all those who are sensible of their obligations to the medical profession.

The Pensioners and Foundation Scholars are elected by the Governors, voting by ballot, and having votes in proportion to the amount of their contributions. The Elections take place every May. Donors of Ten Guineas, in not more than two payments, and collectors of Twenty Guineas, are life Governors of the College. Subscribers of One Guinea annually are Governors during the continuance of their subscriptions. Contributions of a less amount than One Guinea are most welcome.

Annual Subscriptions are payable in advance on the 1st of January in each year and must be paid before the elections in order to entitle the Governors to vote. All drafts and orders should be crossed for security to "Barclay & Co., Ltd., Goslings Branch."

Any information regarding the Institution will gladly be communicated to parties addressing enquiries to the Head Master, to the Bursar (for school business) at the College, Epsom, or to the Secretary, at the office, 37, Soho Square, W.

"Allenburys" Foods

FOR

Infant Feeding

A PROGRESSIVE SERIES OF FOODS.

The Foods constituting the series described below are not interchangeable, but should be used in succession as indicated. Perfectly sterile in themselves, they are best given with the "Allenburys" Feeder, which is capable of easy and complete sterilization, thus presenting a physiologically accurate diet, free from all fear of contamination by the products of decomposition.

"Allenburys" Milk Food No. 1

Affords, when prepared for use, a correct substitute for human milk. It is manufactured from fresh cow's milk, so modified as to present all the constituents of human milk in their true relative proportions. Being in a desiccated and sterilized form, it requires only the addition of boiled water to obtain a pure and sterile food suitable for infants during the first three months of life.

"Allenburys" Milk Food No. 2

Is identical with No. 1, with the addition of small quantities of maltose, dextrine, and soluble phosphates derived from the digestion of whole meal with Malt Extract. These ingredients are a valuable adjunct to the increasing needs of digestion, yet the Food is readily and easily assimilated, there being no unconverted starch present. The No. 2 Food is designed for children between three and six months of age.

THE

"Allenburys" Malted Food, No. 3,

USUALLY KNOWN AS

Allen & Hanburys' Malted Infants' Food,

Is not a milk, but a purely farinaceous Food, prepared by improved methods after Baron von LIEBIG'S formula. The basis is fine wheaten flour, which has been thoroughly cooked and partially digested by an active Malt Extract, so that a large proportion, but not all of the starch has been converted. It is particularly rich in soluble phosphates and albumenoids.

This Food should be given from six months and upwards. For the first month or so after the change of diet it is generally advisable, instead of using cow's milk, to employ the "ALLENBURYS" MILK FOOD No. 1 or No. 2 in preparing it. The demand on the child's digestive organs is less abrupt, and a humanized milk is used in place of the more indigestible cow's milk. This precaution is specially recommended in the case of delicate children.

The "Allenburys" Feeder.

This bottle has the nipple at one end and a valve-stopper at the other, so that, both being removed, it can readily be cleansed under the tap. The valve admits air behind the column of milk, thus avoiding the swallowing of air and the resulting wind-colic; while the rubber nipple is easily detached, and can be turned inside out. The bottle is graduated approximately in ounces. Price 1/- each.

The "Allenburys" Thermometer, in nickel case, as figured, is provided for determining the right temperature at which the Foods should be given, and for general Nursery use. 1/- each.
