A Handbook for Students

By ERNEST CLARKE, F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to the Central London Ophthalmic Hospital;
Ophthalmic Surgeon to the Miller Hospital.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Lancet.—"A trustworthy guide for the student or the practitioner, and will enable him to thoroughly understand the principles on which errors of refraction and defects of the ocular muscles should be treated. The symptoms and diagnosis of myopia are particularly well given."

Medical Press and Circular.—"The preface of this excellent handbook contains the keynote of the whole book: 'I have tried to make the following pages . . . essentially practical.' Whether the average medical student can afford time to peruse this book or not, he, at all events, may know that by possessing it he has a plain practical guide to the refraction of the eye . . . which we can thoroughly recommend to students, specialists, and general practitioners."

Edinburgh Medical Journal.—"The preliminary chapters dealing with elementary and physiological optics are particularly well written, the chapter on accommodation and convergence deserving special praise. Its existence is justified by the freshness with which the subject is treated, by its all-round excellence, and by its conciseness and lucidity. It is certain to meet with much acceptance."

SECOND EDITION OF ## THE OPERATIVE SURGERY OF MALIGNANT DISEASE.

By HENRY T. BUTLIN, F.R.C.S., D.C.L.

Surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, &c., with the co-operation of JAMES BERRY (the thyroid), W. BRUCE CLARKE (the kidney), ALBAN DORAN (the ovary and uterus), PERCY FURNIVALL (the stomach, intestine and rectum), WALTER JESSOP (the eye), and H. J. WARING (the liver and gall-bladder).

With 12 Engravings, 8vo, 14s.

J. & A. CHURCHILL.

"There are few recent books more important, there are none more interesting to the surgeon and the general practitioner than Mr. Butlin's new edition of his work on the Operative Treatment of Malignant Disease. . . . Every practitioner in the country should consider it his duty (one can answer for it that it will certainly be his pleasure) to read, to study, to remember, to act upon, the teaching conveyed in this work."—BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL.

"Comparatively few treatises dealing with this very important subject (tumours) exist, and the two which lie before us are merely re-editions of works which had previously gained an enviable reputation. Mr. Butlin's book on the Operative Surgery of Malignant Disease re-appears after an interval of twelve years, and the changes which have occurred in that period are so great that he has been forced to ask the collaboration of several other surgeons to undertake the representation of special organs."—PRACTITIONER.

"The work, taken as a whole, is good, and the advice given is derived from actual experience and observation, the book differing materially in this respect from a number of contemporary works in which conclusions are drawn from a collation derived from numerous works. The book will be found most useful and instructive and well worth adding to one's library."—NEW YORK MEDICAL JOURNAL.

(Seventeen International Prize Medals Awarded for General Excellence.)

In the treatment of all diseases caused by an excessive secretion of uric acid in the blood—uricemia, lithemia, etc., the arthritic deposits of gout and rheumatism, calcareous deposits in the kidneys or bladder, and in other conditions directly due to or closely allied to any of the above diseases—Lithia will be prescribed with great service.

Lithia is also used to advantage in Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Its superior alkalisng properties in these latter maladies make it a much prescribed remedy at the hands of physicians. Such authorities as Garrod and Bartholow will at once commend Lithia to the profession.

The indefinite, varying amount of Lithia in natural lithia water induced us to present this valuable remedy in 3 and 5 grain effervescing tablets, so that the prescribed dose will always be the same. The superiority of this form of taking lithia in preference to natural lithia water is so apparent that further comment is unnecessary.

To make fresh, sparkling lithia water of KNOWN strength, dissolve one of W. R. WARNER & CO.'S LITHIA WATER TABLETS in a glass of water.

The tablets contain three or five grains Citrate of Lithia, so that a definite quantity of soluble Lithia is administered in a pleasant form, besides having fresh water with each dose, presenting a therapeutic value of higher standard than the various Lithia spring waters. This is a scientific preparation of the highest standard.

THE LANCET (August 6th, 1887, p. 265) states that "the sodium compound does, in fact, agree better (than the potassium salt) with some stomachs." Per Bottle, 3s. 6d.

"I have used Effervescing Bromo-Soda very extensively, and can cheerfully recommend it to my professional brethren. The addition of the grain of Caffein Hydrobromate to the thirty grains of Sodium Bromide I think a most happy idea. I recommend your Bromo-Soda because I have used Sodium Bromide for years, instead of the Potassium Bromide. Sodium Bromide is not a foreign salt in the system, is much less depressant, can be used where the heart is extremely weak, and does not impair the integrity of the muscular tissue; does not cause bad breath, neither does it cause acne, nor impair pharyngeal sensibility. It is much more palatable, and has the happy faculty of agreeing with the stomach, where the corresponding Potassium Salt often gives us so much trouble. I find Effervescing Bromo-Soda very valuable in cases superinduced by overwork of a mental kind; in fact, at times, when overworked, I have refreshed myself with a little water."—J. K. ## KOND'S Euonymised Cocoa

What is it?

A delicious Beverage, taking the place of Tea, Cocoa, or Coffee.

Why take it?

Its use is attended with a marked increase of appetite and rapidity of digestion; all feelings of heaviness after meals disappear; the complexion improves, and an increase of the natural flow of bile takes place. It is not aperient, except in repeated doses, but the increased activity of the liver is valuable in removing constipation. It is used in stomach or liver disorders, alcoholism, slow digestion, overwork, depression, loss of appetite, in cases where tea and coffee are not desirable, sedentary habit of life, gout, rheumatism, and biliousness.

Euonymised Cocoa can be freely taken by those unable to take ordinary Cocoas.

The Euonymin, which is the most valuable liver stimulant yielded by the vegetable kingdom, is taken in the form of a hot infusion in a delicious beverage. Its action in this form is incomparably more direct and powerful than when taken in any other form. The most fastidious person takes this preparation with zest, and the stimulating effect on the liver and digestion is immediate and marked.

Analysis of FELIXIR,

The fine pure Spirit just introduced by BOOTH'S DISTILLERY, LIMITED.

From the BRITISH ANALYTICAL CONTROL:—

"The British Analytical Control hereby certifies that the results of the analysis of a sample of Felixir submitted by Messrs. BOOTH'S DISTILLERY, LIMITED, are as understated:—

Absolute Alcohol (by weight) ...	...	...	89.30 per cent.
Absolute Alcohol (by volume) ...	...	...	46.59 "
Proof Spirit ...	...	...	81.64 "
Total Extractives (including sugar) ...	...	...	0.21 "
Sugar ...	...	...	0.15 "
Total Free Acid (as Acetic Acid) ...	...	...	0.023 "
Esters (as Ethyl Acetate) ...	...	...	0.018 "
Higher Alcohols ...	...	...	0.0078 "
Aldehydes ...	...	...	not detected.

The sample is practically free from sugar, the amount being so small as to be negligible.

The free acids and esters are present in similar quantities to those found in well-matured spirit. The low figure for higher alcohols proves the practical absence of "Fusel Oil."

Aldehydes to which the deleterious effects of new and raw spirits are now attributed were not detected.

The analytical results show that Felixir is free from all harmful substances, and that it possesses the characteristics of a pure, "dry" and well-matured spirit.

This Certificate is granted by the Analytical Control, the Consulting Scientific Staff being:—

ANTIPHLOGISTINE

57, Laight Street,
NEW YORK.

110, Cheapside,
LONDON, E.C.

Is an excellent application for all forms of inflammation and congestion. It is a perfectly harmless, soft and pliable, non-irritating, non-toxic soothing and antiseptic poultice and surgical dressing, always ready for immediate use, possessing hygroscopic, nutrient, exosmotic, endosmotic, and indirectly anodyne and hypnotic properties, and is acknowledged by most of the Physicians in the United States, and largely in the United Kingdom, where it has been used extensively for some time, to be the very best local treatment for:—

PNEUMONIA.

PLEURISY.

INFLAMED GLANDS.

SPRAINS.

BRUISES.

BOILS.

BRONCHITIS.

ERYSIPELAS.

PERIOSTITIS.

SYNOVITIS.

FELONS.

CHRONIC ULCERS.

And for all other cases where inflammation or congestion is present, and a local medicine is indicated.

"The vehicle is a very pure clay or silicate, according to our analysis. The preparation may be used with advantage as an external application in inflammatory conditions. 'ANTIPHLOGISTINE' maintains a moist condition of the tissues, and exerts a soothing effect, while on account of its marked antiseptic properties it may be used in the treatment of open wounds and ulcers."—THE LANCET, page 62, June, 1902, and June 6th, 1903.

"We would urge our medical friends to give it a careful trial, as we have satisfied ourselves by analysis that the composition corresponds with the ingredients stated in the excellent pamphlet that is issued by those who are responsible for its production."—THE MEDICAL PRESS AND CIRCULAR, September 3rd, 1902.

"'ANTIPHLOGISTINE' will well repay a trial."—TREATMENT Laboratory Report.

"In practice this basis is proved to be very comfortable to the patient, and highly efficacious in the treatment of indolent ulcers and acute inflammatory conditions. 'ANTIPHLOGISTINE' is a very elegant preparation and skilfully combined; it is spread on the skin like gelatine and zinc pastes, and can be readily peeled off after it has completed its work."—THE HOSPITAL, September 27th, 1902.

"Under this name a substance has been introduced which differs in character and physical properties from any of the external applications at present employed. . . . We found that when applied to a swollen knee-joint or to an oedematous limb it formed a firm but flexible support, and that its qualities in this respect were excellent. On removing the dressing after 24 hours we found, in the case of oedema of the limb (gouty), decided diminution of swelling and the bandages round the dressing were very moist. We found practically no increase in weight in the material itself, showing that it again exudes the fluid it takes up. This is distinctly an advantage, as the dressing peels off perfectly clean instead of being a deliquescent mass, which would otherwise be the case. We consider that such a material has distinct uses in medical and surgical practice and deserves an extended trial."—THE MEDICAL ANNUAL, 1903.

"Our readers will remember that we reported on this excellent preparation in our issue of April 11th last. Medical men who wish to give it a trial will be supplied with a free sample on forwarding address and 1s. to defray carriage to the London office of the Company."—THE GENERAL PRACTITIONER, September 5th, 1903.

———, M.R.C.S., L.S.A., Brixton, London, S.W., writes on August 30th, 1903:—"Having used 'ANTIPHLOGISTINE' with great advantage in many cases, I can speak most highly of its remedial properties."

———, L.K.Q.C., P.I., L.R.C.S., Romford Road, Essex, writes under date September 9th, 1903: "Gentlemen, I am much pleased in adding my testimony to the excellence of 'ANTIPHLOGISTINE,' having used it in several cases of Pneumonia, two of which were double, with the most favourable results; also, in a case of Carbuncle of the upper part of chest and shoulder; I ordered 'ANTIPHLOGISTINE,' which speedily removed the slough and restored the part to its normal condition. I may add that the gentleman, a chemical manufacturer, carried out the instructions thoroughly, and was greatly surprised as to its marvellous excellence. I may add that I have used it in many cases of Cellulitis with excellent results, therefore, I think all medical men ought to know of its great value in all forms of inflammation, and, therefore, give my testimony to its great value for the benefit of my medical brethren. I have the greatest confidence in it for all forms of inflammatory trouble."

"HÆMATOGEN"

(Purified and concentrated Hæmoglobin, flavoured with chemically pure glycerine and wine, in the proportion of four ounces of glycerine and two ounces of wine in each pint.)

AN ENERGETIC BLOOD FORMER, rich in organically combined iron, it has no equal as a nourishing and strengthening food for children and adults suffering from debility of any kind.

UNSURPASSED AS A TONIC FOOD FOR CHILDREN.

"HÆMATOGEN" contains: (1) Perfectly pure Hæmoglobin which has been sterilised and freed from the bacteria circulating in the blood, (2) the whole of the salts present in fresh blood, among which the phosphates of potash and soda are of the first importance, and (3) the valuable albuminous constituents of the serum in a concentrated and purified form, without any trace of decomposition. It is not predigested, for artificial digestion, whether it is accomplished by the action of acids and pepsin or by heat, is quite different from the natural process. It has been proved by Professor Voit of Munich, Professor Neumeister of Jena, and Professor Cahn of Strasbourg, that peptones, albumoses, and peptonised preparations are not by any means absorbed directly, and many observers have found that they are apt to produce diarrhoea. There is no doubt that artificial digestion brings about the decomposition of substances which are of the highest importance for building up the tissues of the body. This is strikingly shown by the great success of "Hæmatogen" in cases of Rickets, Scrofula, Wasting Diseases of Childhood, &c., in which not only peptonised preparations, but cod-liver oil, iodide of iron, &c., had been employed without any benefit.

SOME RECENT MEDICAL OPINIONS:—

"LONDON, S.E.
"I have found "Hæmatogen" very useful in cases of Anæmia where the ordinary forms of iron fail to act, and I prescribe it frequently.
"———, M.D."

"BRIGHTON.
"I have given your preparation in acute Gastric Catarrh and Anæmia with good results. I know of no better Hæmatonic for young persons suffering from Anæmia and Neurasthenia, and shall continue to prescribe it where indicated.
"———, L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S. Edin."

"LONDON, S.W.
"I am using "Hæmatogen" regularly, and find it most useful in cases of infantile wasting.
"———, L.R.C.S.I. & L.M."

"BIRMINGHAM.
"I have come to the conclusion that there are few organic extracts of much reliability. Cod Liver Oil and the preparation of Hæmoglobin known as "Hæmatogen" are, however, exceptions upon which I know I can depend in proper cases.

FRACTURED PATELLA

A walking splint for use after union of the upper and lower fragments.
The steel joints at the sides are so made that the degree of bending at the knee-joint can be gradually increased. In case of a slip the knee cannot bend more than is allowed by this adjustable stop, and thus prevents over-stretching of the newly-formed ligament. To assist extension of the limb a strong elastic band joins the upper and lower part of the splint. This also is adjustable, and greatly assists the
weakened quadriceps muscles in walking; as used at Guy's, the Middlesex, and St. Bartholomew's Hospitals. In the usual form, for twelve months' use, the splint
is about 12 inches long,
but for permanent disablement it is better to carry a light support to the heel of the foot.

£3 3s. to £5 5s.

FRACTURED PATELLA. — Surgeon-Major Johnston's (I.M.S.) Splint.—Hitherto the splint used during the treatment of fractured patella has rendered horse exercise almost impossible, and especially hunting. The new splint in no way covers the knee, so that the
is felt as if no
The hinge of the permit, without strain, of the alteration in the plane of the leg during extension or flexion. On each side of the joint are two brass checks which limit flexion, and by the use of a file may be altered to allow of complete flexion. It is found advisable not to allow the possibility of the patient being able to alter the adjustment, hence the preference to fitting the stops rather than adjusting by a screw. As the apparent length of the under surface of the thigh becomes shorter in flexion the thigh plate slides upon the hinged support at the back through a flattened sleeve. In the woodcut the knee is semiflexed, but as the checks are adjusted the joint can be bent to a right angle. The weight of this splint is a little over a pound. Made to order only. Price £4 4 0.

BAUMOL SOAP IN MEDICAL PRACTICE.

Extract from a Paper read before the Medico-Chirurgical Society of Edinburgh:—

Messrs. Duncan, Flockhart & Co. have prepared a soap which is certainly superior to any superfatted soap which I have tried. This, registered as 'Baumol Superfatted Skin Soap,' is made of the purest fat, contains no cocoa-nut oil, nor any objectionable ingredient, and is not only perfectly neutral, but is superfatted to the extent of 3 per cent. It will be found to keep well, to be most pleasant in use, reasonable in price, and for all toilet purposes perfect; but 'it won't wash clothes.'

From the "Edinburgh Medical Journal," December, 1891:—

"We have submitted Duncan, Flockhart & Co.'s Baumol Soap to the most powerful tests, and have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that it is incomparably the best soap we have ever used. It can be confidently recommended as unsurpassed for the surgery, for shaving, and general toilet use."

LISTERINE.

THE BEST ANTISEPTIC FOR BOTH INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

The word LISTERINE assures to the Medical Profession a non-poisonous antiseptic of well-proven efficacy; uniform and definite in preparation, and having a wide field of usefulness.

On account of its absolute safety, LISTERINE is well adapted to internal use and to the treatment of Catarrhal Conditions of the mucous surfaces.

An interesting little brochure, entitled:—

“The Treatment of Diseases of the Respiratory System.”

will be mailed to your address, upon application.

LISTERINE has established an enviable reputation in the general antiseptic treatment of disease of every character, thorough clinical test having demonstrated that no other one antiseptic is so well adapted to the general requirements of the Physician and Surgeon, for both internal and external use, as this carefully-prepared formula of essential oils, ozoniferous ethers, and benzo boracic acid—all antiseptics and chemically compatible.

LISTERINE promptly destroys all odours emanating from diseased gums and teeth, and will be found of great value when taken internally in teaspoonful doses, to control the fermentative eructations of dyspepsia, and to disinfect the mouth, throat, and stomach.

The gratefully stimulating properties of LISTERINE assist in the effective anti-fermentative and antiseptic influence which this preparation exerts upon the stomach and duodenum, and will aid in a remarkable degree in overcoming the distressing symptoms of that class of disorders produced by the fermentation of food, the decomposition of organic matter, the endo-development of fetid gases, and the presence or attack of low forms of microzoic life.

THE LANCET, writing of two special analyses, the first an analysis of Special Invalid Bovril and the second one of a good home-made beef-tea, remarks that "in considering the question of relative nutriment, regard must, of course, be paid to the amount of water employed in preparing beef-tea," and says very forcibly, that "all things being equal, the Invalid Bovril yielded, according to the analysis from THE LANCET Laboratory, a much higher proportion of nutrient substance than the ordinary beef-tea."

Safeguarding the patient against colds and chills is an important problem for the physician at this time of year. Wyeth Beef Juice solves the problem. It is a tonic restorative food which has no equal. Half to one teaspoonful in water, milk or other cold fluid increases the vitality and the resistive power of invalids and convalescents in a remarkable degree. It is the concentrated nutriment of beef and is assimilated at once.

GATHERING THE MANDRAKE, FROM AN
MS. OF THE XII CENTURY.

The Greeks gave the Mandrake the name of 'Circeum', derived from the witch Circe, and believed that an evil spirit dwelt in the plant. When uprooted, it was said to utter such frightful shrieks that no mortal man might hear them and live. Theophrastus thus describes the method of gathering:—

"Let ye mandrake be circumscribed three tymes wyth a sworde whyle another cutte it down towards ye west. Let them also dance round it ande talk manie things."

'Saxin'

. . . . . Gr. 1/4.

'SAXIN' is harmless in cases where sugar is contra-indicated. It enables the physician to gratify the patient's taste without prejudice to the treatment it is necessary to adopt.

'Saxin' is about 600 times sweeter than sugar. Each quarter grain is equivalent to an ordinary lump of sugar. It is so delicately sweet that it pleases the palate of the most fastidious. In these and other respects it is superior to other sweetening agents.

Supplied to the medical profession in bottles of 100, 200 and 500, at 8d., 1/1 and 2/6 per bottle.

Menthol Snuff (B.W. & Co.)

When the local action of menthol, ammonium chloride, camphor and a trace of cocaine (1/6th per cent.) is desired, Menthol Snuff (B. W. & Co.) is the most efficient preparation and at the same time the one which the patient will use with the necessary regularity.

In view of inferior imitations it is necessary to specify "Menthol Snuff (B. W. & Co.)."

Substitution.

What is the Remedy?

The Lancet, August 8, 1903, says:—

““Substitution” is a very great modern evil, and those who encourage this practice and thrive upon it should be punished very severely and sufficiently to act as a deterrent to the continuation of it. The creed of the substitute-monger is always that the substitute is better than the real thing.”. . .

The British Medical Journal, August 15, 1903, says:—

“In this country, the difficulty of obtaining by purchase precisely those commodities, especially foods and drugs, which we may wish to buy, and the uncertainty of the legal processes by which we may from time to time endeavour to enforce our reasonable desire to be supplied with an ‘article of the nature and quality demanded,’ have unfortunately been brought home to us by long and painful experience. Nevertheless, to the mind unfamiliar with legal subtleties, some degree of surprise, and perhaps even irritation, is permissible when we see the ease with which the enterprising trader often succeeds in evading what the layman regards as the most unmistakable definitions of his requirements.”

To Prevent Substitution.

When the products of Burroughs Wellcome & Co. are desired—
Written prescriptions for original bottles are safer than verbal orders.

Kindly inform us of any cases of attempted substitution.

"A distinct advance on Easton's Syrup."—The Lancet.

Bynin Amara.

COMPOSITION.

Quinine Phosphate ...	1½ grains.
Iron Phosphate ...	2 "
Strychnine Phosphate ...	⅛ "
Bynin, liquid malt ...	1 ounce.

Dose for Adults.—One tablespoonful suitably diluted.

BYNIN-AMARA is an analogue of Easton's Syrup, in which the sugar is replaced by an active Malt Extract. This affords a far better vehicle than syrup, as it is actively digestive and nutritious, and there is not the likelihood of the sugar crystallizing out, and carrying down in the crystal the alkaloidal principle.

As a digestive tonic therefore BYNIN-AMARA is not only safer to take than Easton's Syrup, but is of greater value both in aiding and strengthening the powers of assimilation.

It has been found very effective in neuralgia and similar nerve troubles.

A Sample Bottle will be sent free to medical men on request.

A perfect combination of Malt Extract and Cod-liver Oil."—British Medical Journal.

BYNOL.

The "PERFECTED" Malt and Oil.

BYNOL has been found very beneficial in the modern form of treatment where super-nutrition, combined with increased capabilities of digestion, plays so important a rôle. It consists of two essential foods in a very concentrated form, viz., soluble nitrogenous elements and fat, the latter being in a very easily assimilable state. There are present also soluble phosphates and an active digestive amylolytic ferment diastase, which promotes the digestion of all starchy foods.

In BYNOL the Malt Extract and Cod-liver Oil are so intimately combined that globules of the Oil are not perceptible even under a microscope, and all taste of Cod-liver Oil is entirely overcome.

BYNOL is one of the few preparations of Cod-liver Oil which may be safely exhibited when the digestive powers are impaired.

BYNOL is of an agreeable nutty flavour, readily taken by invalids, and relished by children as a sweetmeat. It is of great value to the thin and weakly, especially during the winter season.

In white Jars only, as figured.

SAMPLES will be sent FREE to Medical Men on request

The "ALLENBURYS" COD-LIVER OIL.

(Hitherto known as Allen & Hanburys' "Perfected" Cod-liver Oil.)

I. It is absolutely PURE.

To ensure this, it is prepared at ALLEN & HANBURYS' own factories in Norway. Absolutely fresh and selected livers of the cod-fish only are used. Ordinary oil is often made from the livers of ling and other fish, and little or no care is taken to reject stale and decomposing livers, from fish dying in the nets.

II. Being pure, it is readily assimilable, and consequently of full therapeutic value.

It is tolerated by the most fastidious and sensitive stomachs, and is the only oil which does not "repeat."

III. All nauseous and irritating oxidation products which occur in ordinary oil are eliminated.

This is accomplished partly by the fact that the livers used are in perfect condition and partly by the adoption of ALLEN & HANBURYS' special process of manufacture.

III. It is nearly tasteless, and does not cause unpleasant eructations, but has "almost the delicacy of Salad Oil" British Medical Journal.

The disagreeable taste of the ordinary oil is caused by oxidation and the presence of deleterious impurities.

The "ALLENBURYS" Cod-liver Oil is ONLY supplied in the original capsuled bottles and cartons as figured.

The Allenburys' Foods.

The great success attending the use of the "Allenburys" Milk Foods is in great measure due to the following important facts:

1. Their similarity in composition to human milk; the constituents being in the same relative proportions.

Mixed with water according to the directions, a humanized milk is provided.

2. The readiness with which they can be digested and assimilated by the infant. The Milk Foods being as easy of assimilation as maternal milk, and much more so than ordinary modified or diluted cow's milk.
3. The provision of the fresh and anti-scorbutic elements of diet, which is amply secured by following the simple directions accompanying each tin.

Benger's Food

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED Health Exhibition, London.

NOTICE TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

BENGER'S FOOD is not a Malted Food, and it does not contain dried milk, which is a very poor substitute for fresh. It consists of a specially finely ground, nitrogenous, wheaten meal, cooked and impregnated with a suitable proportion of the fresh, natural digestive principles of the pancreas. When mixed with warm new milk or milk and water, as directed on each tin, these digestive principles not only render the farinaceous elements of the Food soluble (as in malted foods), but further, reduce the casein of the milk to a condition similar to that in which it exists in human milk, so that hard indigestible masses of curd cannot be formed in the stomach. BENGER'S FOOD forms a delicate and delicious cream, rich in all the elements necessary to maintain vigorous health. It is enjoyed by Infants, Invalids, Convalescents, and the Aged.

The Lancet describes it as "Mr. Benger's admirable preparation."

The London Medical Record says:—"It is retained when all other foods are rejected. It is invaluable."

The British Medical Journal says:—"Benger's Food has by its excellence established a reputation of its own."

The Illustrated Medical News says:—"Infants do remarkably well on it. There is certainly a great future before it."

A Government Medical Officer writes:—"I began using your food when my son was only a fortnight old, and now (five months) he is as fine a boy as you could wish to see."

From an eminent Surgeon:—"After a lengthened experience of Foods, both at home and in India, I consider Benger's Food incomparably superior to any I have ever prescribed."

“‘Maltine’ Plain is both a nutrient and a digestant of great value, and forms an almost perfect substitute for Cod Liver Oil; though the palate too fastidious for ‘Maltine with Cod Liver Oil’ must, we imagine be very difficult to find. ‘Maltine with Cascara Sagrada’ is, we can testify, both clinically effective and agreeable to take.”—QUARTERLY MEDICAL JOURNAL, November, 1902.

“MALTINE” WITH COD LIVER OIL

is preferred by Fastidious Patients to other preparations of cod liver oil. # EMOL (TRADE MARK.) KELEET

A Remarkable Discovery for Skin Treatment.

EMOL-KELEET is a purified, natural emollient, absorbent dusting powder, of impalpable texture, as soft as down to the touch. It in no way resembles the ordinary and unstable compound astringent or starchy absorbent powders.

Emol-Keleet was brought specially to the attention of the profession at the meeting of the British Medical Association, at Newcastle-on-Tyne, when an exceedingly interesting paper was read during the session of the Dermatological section by the President. The interest aroused by the therapeutic notes given in his paper by this distinguished authority on skin diseases brought Emol-Keleet prominently into view, and a brief recapitulation of the points of the paper referred to may be useful.

It was shown that as dusting powder Emol-Keleet is therapeutically superior to any previously known. When placed upon the tongue—one of the simplest and yet most severe tests as to utter impalpability—there was an entire absence of any sensation of grittiness.

It was noticed also, that when a teaspoonful or so, was added to a basinful of hard water it effected an immediate softening influence. Used in this manner with warm water, Emol-Keleet act as a natural soap, cleansing the skin and leaving it soft and smooth. This suggested the idea of incorporating it with a pure neutral soap. EMOL-KELEET soap is prepared under the highest medical and chemical supervision. It is especially good for children and those with sensitive skins.

Used as a dusting powder, Emol-Keleet was found to possess anti-pruritic properties, and relieved very markedly any itching of the skin. The absorbent qualities of Emol-Keleet, with its mild astringent tendency, stamp it as a perfectly harmless and absolutely unequalled dusting powder.

It is also incorporated with Soap as a Shaving Stick.

THE LANCET of January 6th, 1894, in its Analytical Report, states:—"The above preparation, therefore, which contains no free iodine, but which yields it in full quantity on the slightest provocation, is calculated to lead to more extended application. It certainly deserves trial."

THE BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL of August 29th, 1896, in its Analytical Report, states:—"The wine contains no free iodine. It is very pleasant to the taste, and no doubt would be very effective in cases where iodine and iodides are indicated."

NOURRY'S IODINATED WINE is not advertised to the public. It owes its success entirely to the Medical Profession.

DIURETIC, TONIC, DIGESTIBLE - BEFORE AND AT MEALS

The Contrexéville Mineral Water (Pavillon SPRING) is a diuretic and laxative, a tonic, a stimulant, and aid to digestion. — It acts upon the secret mechanism of nutrition, as is proved by its influence in checking the production of uric acid and glucose: it favourably modifies those morbid processes of biological chemistry which result in the accumulation of uric acid in the blood, inducing the phenomena of gout. — It facilitates the elimination of urinary deposits, by contracting the ducts containing them and increasing the quantity of liquid by which these vessels are flushed. — It assists the cicatrization of the inflamed mucus of the urinary organs, and helps to restore the normal acidity of the urine; facilitates the flow of the bile, by causing contraction of the biliary ducts and the expulsion of calculi; and is invaluable in the treatment of congestion of the liver.

THE IDEAL BOTTLE

FOR SPECIALITIES & PREPARATIONS.
A New and Registered Design. Attractive, Elegant, Practical.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS SHOW THE ARCHING OF THE SHOULDERS FORMED BY THE OCTAGONAL SHAPED SIDES.

MADE IN ENGLAND.

The IDEAL BOTTLE has been designed and is made by the Manufacturers of the Practical Poison Bottle in response to suggestions made by several leading Pharmacists who have expressed the desirability of a new shaped bottle for special preparations.

The IDEAL BOTTLE will fill a long-felt want for a suitable container for Specialities and other preparations, for which an attractive and distinctive bottle is required.

The IDEAL BOTTLE incorporates the old round-shouldered pattern, which has been found to be one of the most generally useful shapes. The specially shaped body very greatly improves the appearance of the bottle, at the same time prevents it rolling when laid on its side.

The IDEAL BOTTLE is supplied in White Flint, Actinic Green, and Amber Glass, in all sizes up to 20 ounces, both plain and stoppered.

The IDEAL BOTTLE can be produced as cheaply and therefore is obtainable at the same prices as an ordinary bottle.

The IDEAL BOTTLE can be obtained from any of the leading Wholesale Houses.

BY ROYAL WARRANT TO HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
