THE IDEAL MEDICAL JOURNAL.

For the purpose of medical men in actual practice the ideal professional journal is that which aims consistently at giving practical everyday help as well as academical discussion. The Practitioner is well entitled to distinction in this respect, and it is significant that subscribers very commonly take the trouble of writing to express appreciation of its usefulness and help. Its contributors include the most eminent members of the profession, and each month it may be taken up with the confident expectation that it contains the cream of current theory and practice in medical science. A standing feature, and one especially appreciated, is the section entitled "Practical Notes." It deals with familiar ailments—the symptoms, the most approved remedial treatment, the sequelæ to be guarded against, and so on. The Practitioner is produced with particular care, being printed in large, clear type which precludes the possibility of eye-strain, and provided with excellent illustrations when the occasion requires. Even from this cursory description it will be obvious that The Practitioner is not only specially valuable for binding and keeping as a reference work, but in every respect a perfect and, consequently, indispensable medical journal.

GENERAL MEDICAL COUNCIL NOTICE

IN REGARD TO ADVERTISING AND CANVASSING BY REGISTERED MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS.

The General Council on December 1st, 1905, passed the following resolution:—

WHEREAS it has from time to time been made to appear to the GENERAL MEDICAL COUNCIL that some Registered Medical Practitioners have, with a view to their own gain and to the detriment of other practitioners, been in the habit of issuing or sanctioning the issue of advertisements of an objectionable character, or of employing or sanctioning the employment of agents or canvassers, for the purpose of procuring persons to become their patients: AND WHEREAS in the opinion of the COUNCIL such practices are contrary to the public interest and discreditable to the profession of Medicine: THE COUNCIL HEREBY give notice that any registered medical practitioner resorting to such practices thereby renders himself liable to be charged under the 29th section of the Medical Act, 1858, with 'infamous conduct in a professional respect,' and if after due inquiry he is judged by the COUNCIL to have been guilty of such conduct the COUNCIL may, if they see fit, direct his name to be erased from the Medical Register.

WRIGHT'S COAL TAR SOAP.

“This well-known soap has now been before the medical profession and the public for more than forty years. Improvements have been made from time to time, and the soap is now a milled one—the softest and most pleasant to use. The actual tar-bodies contained in it, prepared from liquor carbonis detergens, are of a complex character. On analysis we find the tar-bodies amount to a little over 5 per cent., and consist principally of cresylic acid. Combined as they are they exert an antiseptic action equal to a soap containing 15 per cent of pure phenol, but without its irritating effect. For the tender skin of children only a standard article like Wright's Soap should be employed, and as almost all makers of soaps claim antiseptic properties whether they exist or not, the knowledge of a standard soap possessing uniform antiseptic value and at the same time pleasant and free from any irritative properties, cannot be too widely spread.”

IRISH WHISKY.

(DUNVILLE & CO., ROYAL IRISH DISTILLERIES, BELFAST, and 239 & 241, SHAFTESBURY AVENUE, LONDON, W.C.)

"Two specimens submitted to us for examination proved to be good typical Irish Whisky. The analysis of the 'Special Reserve' was as follows:—Extractives, 0.20 per cent.; mineral matter, nil; alcohol, by weight 89.80 per cent., by volume 47.13 per cent., equal to proof spirit 82.59 per cent.; and acidity reckoned as acetic acid, 0.02 per cent. The specimen marked 'V.R.' gave the following results on analysis:—Extractives, 0.12 per cent.; mineral matter, nil; alcohol, by weight 40.30 per cent., by volume 47.67 per cent., equal to proof spirit 83.54 per cent.; acidity reckoned as acetic acid, 0.01 per cent. Both specimens were remarkably free from the ordinary impurities of Whisky, they contained practically speaking, no extractives and no sweetening matter, while they were without any appreciable degree of acidity. The flavour is characteristic of Irish Whisky 'smooth,' and delicately malty, and the colour somewhat pale.

A Case of BUILDING UP

—, Co. Donegal, June 26th, 1905.

"Dear Sirs,—It is with much pleasure that I have to inform you that the last two bottles of SCOTT'S EMULSION completed the cure of my little patient of three years old. She is now as strong as any child of same age, and can run about the whole day. I am quite confident that were it not for her taking the SCOTT'S EMULSION she never would have had strength to walk. A more weakly infant I never saw in all my practice of forty years. I have recommended the Emulsion to a great many people who have delicate children, as from experience I consider it the best tonic, and they get very fond of it. You are quite welcome to make use of my experience of your Emulsion in any way you like."

A Combination of FRY'S Pure Cocoa and

ALLEN & HANBURY'S Extract of Malt.

THE value of Extract of Malt as a nutritive and restorative agent for delicate and exhaustive constitutions is now fully acknowledged by the Profession, the Extract being rich in muscle and fat-forming elements. It promotes, moreover, in a special and peculiar manner, the solution and digestion of all farinaceous foods, and is therefore a valuable remedy in those diseases which arise from an imperfect assimilation of these substances. The presence of the active and valuable constituents of the Malt, unimpaired and in a concentrated form, is secured in ALLEN & HANBURY'S Extract by a very careful selection of the Malt used, and the greatest attention to the temperatures at which the processes of the mashing and subsequent evaporation in vacuo are carried out.

An ordinary portion contains more of the active properties of Malt than a pint of the best ale or porter.

The combination, therefore, of ALLEN & HANBURY'S Extract of Malt with FRY'S Pure Cocoa Extract supplies to Invalids and all those possessed of weak digestive powers a delicious, refreshing and invigorating beverage for breakfast, luncheon or supper.

Both of its constituents being highly concentrated, the MALTED COCOA is economical in use, and possesses highly nutritive properties, and on this account can be recommended with great confidence to the public.

Members of the Profession are cordially invited to write for samples to J. S. FRY & SONS, Limited, Bristol.

Invalid Bovril

is quite distinct from ordinary Bovril, and more highly concentrated. For patients who object to Bovril on account of its salt flavour, Doctors might order INVALID BOVRIL, which is unseasoned, and can be obtained from any Chemist.

Not Tea—but Rosin

It used to be said it was the tea that turned the complexion yellow. Was it not rather the rosin in the Soaps used? Excepting palm soap, all yellow and transparent soaps contain rosin, (all green soaps are coloured with chlorophyl, except olive oil soaps). Rosin wastes and stains and is bad for woollens and laces as well as for the skin.

HOPKINSON'S LIQ. COLCHICINÆ SALICYLATIS. Lumbago & GOUT & Rheumatism

"For the treatment of that elusive condition called gout no drug is so uniformly successful as colchicum. Every practitioner knows that success is not invariable, and, we think, for reasons not so obscure as may be imagined. In the first place the corm, or seeds, does not contain a constant proportion of alkaloid, and the method of extraction is not always equally efficient. No doubt standardisation will improve matters in the future, but we think the best means of securing the proper action of the drug is to administer the active principle—the alkaloid-colchicine. Hopkinson's Liquor Colchicinæ Salicyl contains $\frac{1}{2}$ of a grain of the salicylate of colchicine in a drachm. This is not a mixture of salicylic acid with the alkaloid, but a definite chemical compound GIVING RESULTS MUCH MORE CERTAIN THAN THOSE OF ANY PREPARATIONS OF COLOCHICUM. For gout, chronic rheumatism, and rheumatoid arthritis it is a valuable acquisition, especially as it does not interfere with the action of the kidneys and liver, and does not produce any depressing effect. The liquor is a convenient and elegant preparation.—Medical Review."

It is impossible to get the same results with Colchicum Wine and Salicylic Acid.

Sold in 1-lb., $\frac{1}{2}$ -lb., $\frac{1}{4}$ -lb. and 2oz. Bottles. Price 18s. 8/6, 4/6 and 2/6 each.

HUMANIZED MILK, KOUMISS, &c., &c.,

And other Preparations of Milk for INFANTS and INVALIDS.

Examined, Passed and Exhibited by the INSTITUTE OF HYGIENE, 34, Devonshire Street Harley Street, W.
where they can be seen and their merits explained.

Absolutely Pure.

Uniformly Free from Poisonous Contaminations.

Arsenic, Antimony, Copper, Silver and Tellurium.

all exist naturally in commercial Bismuth. But Lead is used as an adulterant to the extent of 8 or 10 per cent., and is doubtless the cause of those obscure cases of lead-poisoning that occur in patients under treatment with Bismuth, and which have been reported in the Medical Journals.

The calamity of Lead-poisoning, and that known as "Bismuth-Breath"

will not befall the Patient treated with

SCHACHT'S LIQUOR BISMUTHI

Invented and Introduced to the Profession by Mr. G. F. SCHACHT in 1855.

Dose—One drachm diluted : equivalent to a full dose of the Trisnitrate.

Mr. Charles Ekin, F.C.S., writing of the prevalence of contaminations in commercial samples of Liquor Bismuthi says: "It must be confessed that the Bismuth preparations of the Pharmacopœia, as at present met with in commerce, are far from satisfactory. It is only just, however, to Mr. Schacht, of Clifton, the inventor of the fluid preparation, to say that the Liquor as prepared by him is invariably free, not only from silver, but also from copper, antimony, and arsenic; and that in HIS, prescribers have, at all events, one preparation that they may at all times depend upon."

N.B.—The value of these opinions has been generally admitted by the Profession during an experience of nearly fifty years. The manufacturers therefore hope, both for the security of the Patient and the satisfaction of the Prescriber, that their Professional Friends will be careful to order—

Liquor Pepticus

(BENGER)

A CONCENTRATED AND EXCEEDINGLY ACTIVE FLUID PEPSINE.

Dose: One or two tea-spoonfuls in a wine-glass of water, wine or weak spirit and water, as a digestive, with meals. It is without disagreeable taste.

Retail Price, 4-oz. bottles 3/-; 8-oz. 5/6; 16-oz. 10/6.

From the Address of Sir WILLIAM ROBERTS, M.D., F.R.S., &c., at the Northwich Meeting of the British Medical Association.

"Those of you who from past experience have lost faith in Pepsine may be encouraged to try again the more active preparations which are now within our reach. A Liquor Pepticus, prepared by Mr. BENGER, is a digestive agent of extraordinary power."

The MEDICAL TIMES AND GAZETTE says:—

"The 'Liquor Pepticus (Benger)' is singularly free from all disagreeable smell or taste; is clear and bright; and is a remarkably active Fluid Pepsine. It is worthy of all praise as a skilled preparation, and its high value as a digestive agent has been well proved by large experience."

Benger's Essence of Rennet.

(CURDLING FLUID.)

Bottles 1/- and 1/9 each.

This is most strongly recommended for making delicious and wholesome Junket or Curds and Whey. The process is very simple. A pint of milk is warmed and a tea-spoonful of the Essence added. In five minutes the dish is ready for use. A shilling bottle is sufficient to make 32 pints.

Dr. HENRY ASHBY, Physician to the Manchester General Hospital for Children, says in the "British Medical Journal":—

"Mr. BENGER has recently prepared an exceedingly active and reliable curdling fluid, which I have put to some crucial tests, and I believe it will be found very useful in preparing whey, and will supersede the use of Rennet, or any of the essences."

To be obtained from all the leading Chemists, etc., or of BENGER'S FOOD Ltd., Otter Works, Manchester.

COUGHS AND RESPIRATORY AFFECTIONS.

To effect the relief—cure of the several varieties of Cough and the Acute and Chronic Affections of the Respiratory Tract, the physician now, almost instinctively, prescribes

GLYCO-HEROIN (SMITH).

The value of this preparation in the treatment of Coughs, Bronchitis, Phthisis, Pneumonia and kindred disorders is not a thing that is to be established; it has already been established to the complete satisfaction of the medical profession, for whose use it is expressly designed.

As the employment of this preparation becomes more widespread, confidence in it becomes more deeply entrenched. For that reason Glyco-Heroin (Smith) has not stood, and never will stand in need of spectacular exploitation. The preparation will continue to bear with dignified modesty the encomiums of the medical profession and remain within the sphere to which it belongs.

"LIQUID PEPTONIDS."

Prepared from BEEF, MILK, and GLUTEN, Sterilised and Pre-digested.

"LIQUID PEPTONIDS" is eminently Palatable and Assimilable.

"A liquid preparation of pre-digested proteid from both animal and vegetable sources.

"The analysis showed the liquid to be a strong solution of—

1. Albumoses.
2. Peptones Proper.
3. Albuminates, together with valuable mineral constituents concerned in the process of absorption.

"Experiments proved the liquid to be highly dialysable, and thus, when taken, it affords at once a source of nitrogen which is immediately absorbed by the blood. This quality renders it of the highest value in cases of extreme exhaustion, wasting diseases, and in all conditions of the body marked by feeble nitrogenous metabolism.

"The flavour of the Peptonoids is very pleasing, and it is a preparation of the utmost scientific interest and practical value in sustaining life, when all other means have failed, and in aiding the digestive organs to regain their functional activity.

THERAPY.

"Bronchial Sedative" is a good preparation for the treatment of bronchial irritation accompanied by annoying cough. Ammonium chloride is a stimulant expectorant of value, as is also tolu. The former is of great service in the treatment of bronchitis when the secretion is scanty and thick and the patient feeble. Glycyrrhiza is emollient and demulcent to the bronchial and laryngeal mucous membrane.

THERAPY.

Manaca possesses anti-arthritis, anti-syphilitic, purgative and diuretic properties, and it enjoys great favour in Brazil and elsewhere as a remedy in rheumatic affections. The combination of this noted alterative and anti-rheumatic with salicylates may therefore be expected to produce an elixir of peculiar value.

THERAPY.

Cascara Sagrada was introduced by us to the notice of the medical profession nearly thirty years ago (1877), and it has since been adopted by nearly all the pharmacopœias throughout the world. It is now universally recognised as the tonic laxative par excellence, and as a sovereign remedy for habitual constipation and biliousness. The chief objection to it has been its extreme bitterness, but this has now been overcome in Cascara Evacuant, which presents, wholly unimpaired, the laxative bitterness principle of the drug.

Hemaboloids

does not copy, but takes advantage of the "tactics of nature."

When the inert metallic iron of the soil is appropriated by the vegetable, it is converted into an organized iron-proteid compound. Nature thus provides the normal iron supply of the blood.

Hemaboloids consists largely of the iron bearing nucleo-proteids of richly ferruginous vegetables, (plus a synthetic iron-compound to neutralize the sulphur compounds in the bowel) and readily assimilable albuminoids. The ideal, natural food-iron for Anemia and general Innutrition of the Blood.

Dose:—One tablespoonful 3 or 4 times a day.

In the more obstinate forms of blood poverty prescribe Hemaboloids-Arseniated (with Strychnia).

VIROL

With Milk in the Feeding Bottle.

Before being fed on Virol.

After five weeks fed on Virol.

9½ POUNDS GAINED IN FIVE WEEKS.

The above are photographs of a child admitted into a London hospital on the 2nd of February, 1903. The first photograph was taken on 3rd February. The child then weighed 20 lbs. 9 ounces. The second photograph shows the same child on the 9th of March, 1903—that is, five weeks later—when it weighed 30 lbs. 2 ounces.

The case was one of extreme malnutrition, the child being so weak that it could not stand, and refused ordinary diet. However, a mixture of milk and Virol was retained. The child showed immediate and steady improvement under this treatment, which was continued during the said five weeks, when it was able to be discharged perfectly recovered.

GLYCERINE EXTRACT OF RED BONE MARROW

IN THE TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS.

"Of late I have been using RED BONE MARROW (Armour & Company) in place of the Malt and Cod Liver Oil. It is pleasanter to take and of easy assimilation, and its effects are quickly apparent. All tuberculous patients soon suffer from anæmia, and by promoting the development of red blood corpuscles, cell resistance to the tubercular organism is increased. It is by nutrition and oxidation that the progress of disease is arrested, our aim being to improve the resisting force of the body. The importance of this remedy was first impressed upon me while treating some soldiers suffering from malarial cachexia. Where tissue changes and waste with their resulting anæmia are progressing rapidly, RED BONE MARROW is a valuable remedy, due to the ease with which it is assimilated, and its retention by delicate stomachs."

TONSIL CLAMP.

This forceps was made at the suggestion of a medical man to serve as a clamp to control hæmorrhage after operations on the tonsils, the idea being that a piece of lint soaked in solution of suprarenal gland should be wrapped round one blade, which is then introduced and placed over the bleeding surface, and counter pressure obtained by closing the other blade, protected by plain lint, on the outside of the cheek. The instrument has been made so that the first step of the ratchet is caught when the blades are separated to about the extent required by the thickness of an average cheek, but by closing the forceps completely the ends come firmly into contact making it useful as a tongue forceps in addition to its main purpose as a tonsil clamp.

Extract from THE LANCET, September 30th, 1905.

Catch forceps for securing and everting the edges of the peritoneum in celiotomy often get inconveniently in the way. I showed at the British Gynaecological Society some time since, a clip with a small weight attached which I had been in the habit of using. Subsequently, I had a very small forceps made for the same purpose. I have now, however, a holder which has been made for me, and it answers admirably. Like the original little appliance, it is constructed on the principle of some forms of tie clip. It is hand made. The edges are very finely serrated; it is light but very strong, and maintains a firm hold of the peritoneum without any laceration or injury. The small weight is made of lead, and is sufficiently heavy when allowed to fall over the side of the abdomen to evert the peritoneal edge well. The wire I use for attachment to the clip is bronze-aluminium, and as the whole appliance can be sterilised, is most convenient. It can be attached and freed in a moment. By this means the peritoneum can be held well up at either side, and out of the way. Incidentally, I may add that the holder can be used for catching other structures than the peritoneum.

The appliance can be had of Messrs. ARNOLD & SONS, West Smithfield, London, E.C.

NEW CHLOROFORM DROP BOTTLE WITH REVERSIBLE STOPPER.

PRICE complete in pull-off Leather Case, 4/9.

Extract from MEDICAL PRESS AND CIRCULAR, May 10th, 1905.

The above illustration shows a new form of Chloroform Drop Bottle, introduced by Messrs. ARNOLD & SONS, which possesses certain advantages over those at present in use. It is of simple construction, no screws or washers are used, the tightening of stopper is solely effected by a careful grinding into the neck of the bottle. The stopper is made of galalite, a new patent composition which, being light in weight and clean, is not affected by chloroform or ether. The metal air funnel passing through the centre of stopper and terminating in a curved metal tube inside the bottle is so adapted that either a free flow of the anæsthetic or a discharge in single drops only, can be produced; this, by raising the finger from the funnel or by holding it pressed on same. In the latter instance the air current gets interrupted with the result as described. By reversing the dropper the opposite end of stopper serves to close bottle hermetically. Thus a supply of chloroform is readily at hand whenever required.

Extract from BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL, May 13th, 1905.

The annexed illustration represents a new form of Syphon which has been brought out for use with the Ethyl Chloride prepared by Dr. THILO, of Mainz. The purity of this preparation is guaranteed by Dr. Bein, the Government Analyst at Berlin, and it is said to be so complete that the liquid is suitable for the production of either general or local anæsthesia, no unpleasant after-effects being produced. With the syphon illustrated a suitable spray can be produced without any necessity for slanting the bottle, or other awkward movement. The large curve at the top serves to prevent the bottle rolling if hastily replaced on the table during use. These bottles can be refilled. Thilo's Ethyl Chloride is also supplied by the sole agents, Messrs. ARNOLD & SONS, of West Smithfield, in ordinary 50-gram tubes with screw tops.

OPERATING TABLE.

The advantages of this Table over all others are:—

Extreme simplicity of action.

Trendelenburg position is obtained by simply depressing the long lever on side of table, and is automatically fixed at any point, also immediately released when desired.

All rack or screw adjustments are eliminated.

By moving the lever under the head-piece the latter can be raised or lowered to any angle, and is automatically fixed at any point.

The same movements
govern the foot or leg rests.

The top of the table is sloped so as to direct all fluids into the douching funnel.

The third wheel at head of table is fitted with best ball-bearings to ensure easy running, and is put in or out of action by Allen & Han-burys lever and eccentric joint.

Hot water containers are slipped in or out just under the top of table. These heating tins not being in contact with the patient,
there is no danger of burning.

All joints are screwed,
braced and fixed into solid
"L" or "T" pieces.

Guaranteed for twenty-five years, and will look quite as new at the end of that period.

TO MEDICAL MEN.

THE attention of medical men who have extended practices has always been turned towards the automobile movement. None better than they can appreciate the benefit of accelerated journeys, the rest to brain arising from the exhilaration of motor-driving, and the "Ever Ready" servant a good motor car is, costing nothing when at rest. To these we would direct attention to the new "DOCTOR'S VICTORIA" recently introduced by us as being the highest form of mechanical comfort. A folding glass shield and leather hood converts the car at will into practically a closed brougham, renders the driver immune from dust and rain. An enclosed boot is provided at back with 3 drawers for small instruments, while the remaining receptacle receives the largest sized cases of instruments, and is absolutely waterproof.

The Reliable Cars.

A. H. Reed, Esq., 1, Victoria Gardens, Broadstairs, writes:—"I have now driven the car slightly under 40,000 miles, with the greatest success. . . . The motor runs merrily month after month; a new plug occasionally and keeping the trembler contacts clean is practically all that is required. I work the car hard, and am out in all weathers and over all kinds of roads. I can only say in conclusion that it would be hard to find a more reliable car. So far she has never failed me, and everyone about here envies my freedom from breakdowns."
