

Sutures in Ancient Surgery

Phazes
of Baḡdad

in the IXth century, is said to have employed the strings of harps, made from strands of twisted sheep gut, as sutures and ligatures.

The discriminating surgeon of today supplements his technic with

D&G Sutures

Send for interesting new booklet of complete information

C.F. THACKRAY
Distributor of D&G Sutures

Great George Street, Leeds — 119 High Holborn, London, W.C.1

BRANDY
for ILLNESS means
MARTELL

A Necessity
in
The Hospital
The Nursing Home
The Sick Room

Invaluable
to
The Physician
The Surgeon
The Patient.